WHAT HE'S GOT.

The Difference Between the Senator and the Congressman.

"Once upon a time," remarked a story-telling congressman, "I happened to be doing some campaign speaking with the senator from my state, and one of our engagements was at a small town considerably off the main highway and at a place where I thought a United States senator would be a nine days' wonder, not to say anything about what a plain member of congress might be.
We were objects of more or less remark, I am free to confess, and I was feeling rather proud of the combination until I happened to overhear a conversation. I didn't intend to listen, but it happened that several women who had come to hear the speaking met in the hall right in front of my door, and of course the speakers of the day were the topic of conversation.
"Which one's the senator?" asked one.
"That un' that's got the whiskers," replied another.
"He don't look like he knowed any more than 't'other," was the next comment.
"I reckon he don't," said the third;
'an' neither one don't seem to have any to spare in case they had to shear it."
"How does he git to be senator if he don't know more'n the congressman?" asked the third.
"Huh!" sniffed the other, "tain't what a senator know that makes him a senator; it's what he's got," and then I made a noise to let them know that they must not be giving away state secrets, and the way they went down the hall was a caution."

Iceland Has the Grip Bad.

According to the latest advices received from Iceland a violent epidemic of influenza is raging at Reykjavik.
No papers have been published for a week, and about ninety per cent of the inhabitants are said to be suffering from the complaint. The high school has been forced to close, all the masters with one exception and almost all the pupils being attacked.

Big Russia.

The smallest of the ten governments, or provinces, of Southern Russia is more than twice the size of Wales, while the largest is little less in area than Scotland. The total area of the ten governments exceeds that of France or Spain, while the population is greater than that of Spain by about 4,000,000.

The Death of Thoreau.

When the forest-haunting Thoreau lay on his death-bed, a Calvinistic friend called to make inquiry regarding his soul. "Henry," he said, anxiously, "have you made your peace with God?" "John," replied the dying naturalist in a whisper, "I didn't know that God and myself had quarreled!"

In London, in the time of George the Fourth, there was an athletic and dashing military man, Major Bracebridge by name and title, who, when he found his power waning, retired to his country house and seldom showed himself in society. Many years later, he had occasion to go up to London, and there met a lady who had known him in his younger years. "Dear me!" she exclaimed, "aren't you Major Bracebridge?" "No, madam," he answered, "but I was once."

There's Always a Reason.

It is an easy thing to account for the wonderful growth of the Daily State Journal recently. Its price has been reduced to 50 cents per month without Sunday or 65 cents with Sunday. The Journal has always been reliable and honest, printing the news without fear or favor. The people of Nebraska realize that they need a paper published at the capital, and when the price of the Journal was reduced the subscription list grew at a phenomenal rate. The Journal is a Nebraska paper through and through.

Chamberlain's Pain Balm to athletes, gymnasts, bicyclists, foot ball players
