protecting themselves from the encroachment of organized capital. He said that while he and Sargent were personal friends, their differences on this question were as wide as the poles. Sargent was opposed to strikes unless public sentiment was behind them, while he (Debs) believed public sentiment to be a colossal fraud. Public sentiment, he continued, had cost John Brown his life, made Wendell Phillips the victim of assaults because

Phillips the victim of assaults because he had opposed the idea of property in man and had inspired many other cruel wrongs. None of the other brotherhoods had ever made a strike successful unaided by other organizations and many of those inaugurated by them had been complete failures. The Lehigh Valley strike was cited to show their utter incompetency to deal with strikes. The American Railway Union, on the other hand, nine months after its organization paralyzed the country and would have won its fight but for the intervention of the troops and of the courts. His resignation as editor

Debs was visited by many delegates to-day who tendered their support if he would antagonize the re-election of Grand Master Sargent, but he insinuate that any of these men would stop to give him the worst of it?

"He talks about fighting in three months when he knew that this club has shown him that it is impossible for them to bring it off in that time. If he is so anxious to fight me, why don't he come to where I am and he can get all the fight he wants in twenty-four hours notice, or I will meet him country and the state of the state o meet him secretly at once at any place he names and I will show him up plainly. The truth of the matter is that this man hates Americans be-cause they do not consider him as good as they are and because he is not allowed to pose and strut about and be looked up to and worshipped as he is on the other side of the water. When he sails for England he will never return here, and while 3,000 miles away will keep up his wordy war on me and try to persuade the public that he is on the level, when I know his purpose in going to that country is to engage in a fake fight with another broken-down fighter, Slavin. He says he is not an actor and that his theatrical contracts do not interfere with him. No because his attempt to appear on the stage was a dire failure and the managers throughout the country now refuse to book him.

In conclusion, Mr. Peter Jackson, I tell you plainly that I will fight you privately or openly in one week, one month, two months or three months'

time for as much money as you can raise, purse or no purse, in a club, on a barge, in a hack, in a room—anywhere in America."

"Do you find any dissatisfaction in the East over the tariff?"

"I reached Elkins, W. Va., on the day of the Republican congressional convention there," replied Mr. Harri-

As to dissatisfaction concerning the tariff, I found that it existed even in that district. Mr. Wilson, himself, represents Elkins and the surrounding country, you know. The miners throughout West Virginia do not take kindly to the new tariff law. Throughout the East I think there is general and expressed dissatisfaction."

PITTSEURG, Pa., Sept. 13.-The mational encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic opened this morning in the new grand opera house.

Major A. P. Burchfield presented the commander-in-chief a gavel made of wood from Fort Sumter, Appointation, Gettysburg and Libby prison and bound with metal from historic cannon. The wood from Gettysburg was taken from near the spot where the commander-in-chief was wounded and, as he was a prisoner in Libby, has also reminiscent associations. It was paid for by the citizens of Pittsburg. The gavel is inscribed as fol-

"These figures show that the G. A.
R. has reached the beginning of the and and each succeeding year will end, and each succeeding year will show a gradual decrease in our membership. The long continued depression in business has caused many suspensions, and these we hope to regain when prosperity returns, but it will be impossible for us to recruit our ranks as fast as our members are mustered out by death. mustered out by death. During the year the Grand Army has not forgotten the great work of charity and has expended $203,780.10 for relief. While it has lost in membership, the interest in the order has not est in the order has not abated, but

He next took up the pensions matter and de-nied that thousands of pension frauds had been or could be discovered.

REPORTS OF VARIOUS OFFICERS. The report of James F. Meech, adjutent general, shows a decrease of 460 posts during the past year. But, alas, as the war days recede further from the remembrance of the people of the generation of which we form a part, and the sacrifices and sufferings of those days are unknown except by tradition, to those who have since been born, the greatest indifference seems to be shown on the part of our national law makers to part of our national law makers toward those who fought the battles of the union and still survive. In con-sequence, but scant attention is paid to any appeals made for justice to these men. And this will continue to be so-and until too late for our comrades to profit thereby—unless we, as members of the Grand Army Republic become more closely united in a "fra-ternity" which "means something."

THE COREAN TREATY.

Japan and Corea in the Bonds of Amity and Good Feeling.

Washington, Sept. 13.-A telegram was received at the Japanese legation yesterday morning to the effect that an important treaty lad been nego-tiated between Corea and Japan which authoritatively defines the relations of the two countries toward each other and toward China.

The treaty consists of three articles. Article 1 defines the object of the alliance to be the strengthening and perpetuating of the independence of Corea as an autonomous state, and the promotion of the mutual interests of Japan and Corea by compelling the Chinese forces to withdraw from Corea and by obliging China to abandon her claim of the right to dominate the Chinese forces. ate the affairs of that country.

Article 2 binds the Japanese government to carry on warlike operations against China, both offensive and defensive; the Corean government is bound by the article to afford the Japanese forces every possible facility in their movements and to furnish them with supplies of provisions at a fair remuneration, so far as such sup-

By article 3 it is provided that the treaty shall terminate so soon as a treaty of peace shall have been concluded by Japan with China.

Mr. Kurino, the Japanese minister, talked regarding the new treaty be-tween Japan and Corea. "We have nothing but the announcement of the treaty," said he, "but my inference from its terms is that it will prove highly advantageous to Corea. There has existed there, under Chinese auspices, the most corrupt system of government known. The constant intrigues of China there have been a threat to the peace of the East. The Japanese government has desired the settlement of this question only for the peace of the East. It has been entirely without expectation of territorial aggrandizement or exercise of suzerainty of Corea."

LAST HONORS TO THE COMTE.

The Late Head of the French Royal Family Resting in Weybridge Church.

London, Sept. 13.—Crowds of people from Dartford, Buckingham and other places began gathering at daybreak at Stowe house, the English residence of the late Comte de Paris, to be present at the funeral.

The notabilities who went to Stowe house included official or unofficial representatives of nearly all the na-tions of the world and princes and princesses representing nearly every reigning family in Europe.

The family of the Comte de Paris assembled around the bier about 6:30 o'clock and at 7 o'clock the bell of the chapel was tolled, calling the relatives of the dead man to attend mass, which was celebrated by Father Cafferatta, a personal feind. At 7:45 the casket covered with a pall of violet velvet over which the tri-color flag of France was removed, borne to the hearse, on which were six hatchments of fleur de lis and blowing plumes.

Then the princes all in evening dress, took their places according to rank behind the Duc d'Orleans, eldest son of the dead man, who acted as chief mourner.

The funeral train reached Weybridge at noon and the procession marched from the railway station to the old church. The body was met at the door by the Bishop of Southwark in violet canonicals attended by the minor clergy. The religious ceremonies were very solemn and impressive, and after they had been concluded, the casket was borne to the rear of the building where it was deposited in a vault deposited in a vault

BOUNTIES ALL CUT OFF. becretary Carlisle Will Not Pay Any

Sugar Cinims of Any Kind. Washington, Sept. 13. — Secretary Carlisle, although he has not written a formal letter to that effect, authorized the official announcement today that he would not pay any sugar bounty earned but unpaid when the new tariff bill went into effect, August 29. The secretary's refusal to pay these sugar bounty claims will be based up on the clause in the new tariff bill repealing the sugar bounty provision of the Mc-Kinley law, which concludes as fol-lows: "And hereafter it shall be unlawful to issue any license to produce sugar or to pay any bounty for the production of sugar of any kind under said act."

The secretary will write an official letter to Senator Manderson embodying his decision.

NO HIGHER TARIFF.

Senator Cullom Declares That the Old Rates Will Not Be Restored.

Robinson, Ill., Sept. 13.—The Republican campaign in Illinois was formally opened here to-day under the auspices of the Republican state central committee. Senator Shelby M. Cullom delivered his first political speech since his return from Washington. As to the inquiry whether the McKinley law would be re-anacted by the Republican party if it is re-stored to power, he said that his pre-diction was that the McKinley bill would not be re-enacted in its entirety. The law would undoubtedly have been revised by the Republicans had they continued in power, in accordance with their policy in the past, when the changing conditions of commerce or other reasons showed this to be necessary.

ACROSS THE OCEAN ALONE. Captain Freitsch of Milwaukee Arrives in Ireland in Safety.

QUEENSTOWN, Sept. 13 .- The little schooner Nina, with Captain Freitsch the only man on board, arrived here to-day from New York.

The Nina sailed from New York Sunday, August 5. She thus made the trip across the Atlantic in thirtyeight days, remarkable time for such a craft, and only nine days behind the time made by the yacht Valkyrie, when she returned to England from this port. She is a schooner rigged harpie, twenty-seven feet over all. She was brought here by Captain Freitsch from Milwaukee in June last. In shipping circles considerable doubt was expressed as to the ability of the Nina to cross the ocean safely.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.-II. C. Eastwood has tendered to President C. H. J. Taylor his resignation as chairman of the executive committee of the Negro National Democratic league. In his letter he pays his respects to the Afro-American bureau of organization and declares that the "bold and vulgar manner" in which colored officers are being forced to contribute against their will, "is a spectacle so humiliating that it renders negro Democracy to be a cesspool of corruption.

Great Falling Off in Receipts. WASHINGTON, Sept. 13. -The statement of the monthly receipts from customs for the port of New York for the last ten days, practically the first ten days of the new tariff act, shows a total of $3,844,219, as against $8,723,-031 for the preceding ten days. Not one dollar in gold coin or gold certificates was received during the ten days at New York.
