THERE are many methods of curing hams, but the Keeley cured Ham is said to be the most unsatisfactory.

HARRINGTON would make a good anarchist. He has already had some experience as leader of a mob.

J. C. ECKER, at one time editor of the O'Neill Item, is a democratic candidate for representative from Dixon county.

The people of this county should hasten to pay Mr. Harrington the debt of gratitude which the Sun says they owe.

It is no particular credit to L. D. Richards to have it said that he chastised Editor Maupin. Avoiding it is not always right, and the pen is mightier than the dukes.

HOLMES said he really believed that some people saved their bright thoughts, as being too precious for conversation. Upon that theory it might be said that Editor Bryan saves his bright thoughts, as being too precious for publication.

It is reported that A. B. Charde has purchased the Wayne Democrat. We are afraid that A. B. will turn out like Billy Bryan. Red-hot orators are too often cold-storage writers. Financially, we wish Mr. Charde success, but we trust in politics his republican enemies may encompass him around about and bring him nothing but confusion.

If Judge Chapman had held that by strengthening a bond it did not nullify it, would THE FRONTIER have used the same language?—Sun.

THE FRONTIER does not feel called upon to argue a question from an idiotic hypothesis. When we consider that the result was predicted by us a year ago, it looks as though we might be excused for a little self-laudation.

It is somewhat surprising the way the independent party has ignored Shields township. The boys out there have always been loyal to the independent party and always given the ticket a big majority, but they have invariably been ignored in independent conventions, and independent officials having situations to give out have never gone to Shields for a man. In the division of the loaves and the fishes they have been ignored, one official even going as far as Iowa for a clerk.

If your republican party, Mr. FRONTIER, had not made it possible, you would not now be whining and condoning the acts of dishonest officials of your party.—Sun.

THE FRONTIER neither whines nor condones. It has in the past, and will in the future, raise its voice against persecution by scheming legal chysters and political demagogues. "Dishonest officials of your party" is very good. Do you remember, Sun, when a democratic treasurer was short $13,000 in his accounts, and upon the advice of Mr. Harrington settlement was made for $3,000? Do you remember that the bond was valid and the bondsmen well worth the amount? Please do not speak to us of the "dishonest officials" of our party or the "debt of gratitude" the people of this county owe Mr. Harrington.

THE question of declimating our representation in the county congress is being agitated considerably. The plan most favorable seems to be to cut the number of supervisors down to seven or nine. As a business proposition there can be no question but that it would be a good move. The supervisor system is bankrupting the county. The defalcation of Scott, about which we have heard so much, is not a drop in the tub. The cost of the system above that of the commissioner is $50,000 per year. If by returning to the commissioner system we should save half of that amount it would be but a few years until we would be out of debt. It is only a matter of a little time until the voters will awake to a recognition of this fact and jump onto the supervisor system with both feet. Speed the day.

WHEN THE FRONTIER ciphers out where it is at, politically, it will discover that it is on the dunce block.—Graphic.

It requires no expert ciphering to locate THE FRONTIER on the political chart, and if a bold stand for honest politics constitutes a "dunce block," then there we are.

THE North Bend Republican has lately issued a souvenir edition, in pamphlet form, graphically setting forth the virtues of Dodge county in general and North Bend in particular. It is the most artistically written work of the kind that has reached our table for a long time, and there is no doubt but that to the city of its origin it will return a profit of an hundred fold.

CANCELLING the tax receipts of T. A. Thompson, of Sioux City, because the money was collected outside of the state, saved the county in that instance about $6,000, but was it good business policy? Heretofore outside capital has been buying from thirty to forty thousand dollars worth of these taxes, but since the action of the board in the Thompson matter but comparatively little business has been done in that line. Investors say that they cannot afford to take any chances with the Holt county board of supervisors. Forty or fifty thousand dollars for delinquent taxes would come in pretty handy just now and check the downward tendency of county paper.

TOM MAJORS is saying in his campaign speeches that he will, if elected, "make the best governor Nebraska has ever had." This is not complimentary to our ex-governors, to say the least.—Rushville Standard.

While this paper has not set fire to its under garments making defense for Majors, we do not believe that he ever made the statement with which the Standard gives him credit. A FRONTIER reporter heard his speech of acceptance at the state convention, and in the course of his remarks he said that "if elected he hoped to make the best governor Nebraska ever had." In that hope there is nothing uncomplimentary to our ex-governors, and there is no one, we dare say, but wishes the same as Majors. It is but fair to render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's, regardless of race, color or previous condition of servitude.

REPUBLICAN papers of the state are doing Majors no particular good by filling their columns with trash about his former proclivities. Simply because he is a farmer is no reason that he should be governor. The state is full of farmers who would not make good governors, and on the other hand it is full of farmers who would fill the gubernatorial chair with ease, dignity and credit. Let the supporters of Majors be candid and tell the truth: Say that he is a farmer who does not farm, is a man worth two or three hundred thousand dollars and a professional politician. If they wish to add that he is a business man and that he made his money honestly and that they believe he will make an excellent executive it will do no harm. This slogan of "farmer" has been worn threadbare and is no longer soothing to the ear. Nothing is permanently gained by misrepresentation.

If it were not for Attorney Harrington there wouldn't be a brick in the court house to-day—it would all be gone the same as the rest. Mr. Harrington has saved this county from being stolen and carted away to another state, and the wonder is that it was not at the rate the republican officials were plundering. The people of this county owe Attorney Harrington a debt of gratitude far greater than they will be ever able to pay in dollars and cents, regardless of what his fee may be in exposing and bringing to justice corrupt officials.—Sun.

Mr. Harrington is a very nice man—in his own estimation and the estimation of those of his ilk. He is the man that while acting as counselor for one client sold him out to another for $100 and was rebuked by Secretary Chandler in a caustic manner. He is the man that Mrs. Marley says signed her name to a mortgage without her knowledge or consent. He is the man that advised the settlement of a $10,000 county claim for $3,000. Verily, the people owe him a "debt of gratitude." Harrington has, indeed, great interest in preserving the bricks in the court-house. He is one of the dear people from whom Scott stole the money—one of that particular brand that has not paid his taxes since '87. Fine man! and we all owe him a "debt of gratitude."

PHYSICIAN, HEAL THYSELF.
The able young editor of the O'Neill FRONTIER would doubtless be benefitted by a dose of vermifuge, and it is accordingly recommended.—Fremont Tribune.

FROM HIS OWN CAMP.
John Crawford has at last been nominated for an office. At the people's convention of the Thirteenth senatorial district held in this city last Saturday, he was nominated without much opposition for state senator. We think he deserves the nomination as well, perhaps as any man in the district. For the past six years he has been trying to get the nomination for some office from state senator up to township supervisor, and we are glad that his perseverance has at last been rewarded. We congratulate the delegates to the convention on their choice, and can assure them, if elected, that no senator in the state will say less, draw more salary, count more mileage or draw more pay for days that he is absent, than he. By all means elect Mr. John Crawford for state senator and then perhaps he will be content to return home and take a life lease on the office of township supervisor or road overseer.—O'Neill Alliance Tribune.

SENATORIAL SITUATION.

The people of this senatorial district are now face to face with two candidates for the senate, one of whom will be elected. The voters are not only face to face with the candidates—the representatives of two political parties—but they are also cheek by jowl with an important branch of the national government: United States senator.

During the campaign personal feeling, local issues and factional fights should be eliminated, subdued and held in abeyance until after the polls are closed. Much may depend upon the election of senator from this district. His may be the deciding vote in the selection of a United States senator, and the senator so selected may cast the deciding vote in many important questions of national government, so that it may readily be seen that in the situation confronting us rests a great responsibility, and a responsibility that should be met and discharged intelligently. Aside from the election of a United States senator there will be much important legislation in the state senate. Above all we want a state irrigation law, and we want for representative a man that is capable, is interested, and will work to that end. (This applies equally well to candidates for the legislature.)

We want to elect no man that represents the vagaries of the populist party, to say nothing of the personal inadequacy of the independent candidate. What we want is a man of sense and energy—a republican. A man who will vote for a republican United States senator that he may be able to heal the wounds caused by democratic tariff tinkering and butchery. The growers of wool in this district realize this fact more than others, perhaps, and to a man will vote for Samuel C. Sample, of Boyd.
