DR. PRICES' CREAM BAKING POWDER
Most Perfect Made.
A pure Grape Cream of Tartar Powder. Free from Ammonia, Alum or any other adulterant.
40 YEARS THE STANDARD.

New York democracy propose to 'make a dash for the pole.'

A Million Friends.

A friend in need is a friend indeed, and not less than one million people have found just such a friend in Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption Coughs and Colds.

The politician will cut bait when it comes to fishing for votes.

Four Big Successes.

Having the needed merit to more than make good all the advertising claimed for them, the following four remedies have reached a phenomenal sale.

It is surmised the emperor of China has 'that tired feeling.'

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions.

There's Always a Reason.

It is an easy thing to account for the wonderful growth of the Daily State Journal recently.

The Chinese appear to have the call on the cablegram.

There is no medicine so often needed in every home and so admirably adapted to the purposes for which it is intended, as Chamberlain's Pain Balm.

A torpid play with a chilly call—"A Summer Blizzrd."

"I would rather trust that medicine than any doctor I know of," says Mrs. Hattie Mason of Chilton, Carter Co., Mo., in speaking of Chamberlain's Colic Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Every mother should know that croup can be prevented.

The first symptom of true croup is hoarseness. This is followed by a peculiar rough cough. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given freely as soon as the child becomes hoarse or even after the cough has developed it will prevent the attack.

STOPPED SMOKING TO SAVE

But the Procedure Didn't Pan Out as Profitably as He Had Expected.

Xerxes Jones determined to quit smoking, not you know, that it had any baneful influence upon his health.

"Seeing I've quit smoking, I'll put an extra quarter in the collection box to-day," he mused, and in the money went.

Monday, just to please his little wife, good Jones bought a forty-cent box of mixtures and handed it over to his wife with the remark: "No, my dear, it's no extravagance. Just about what I saved on cigars to-day, and we both can enjoy this after tea."

Apparently forgetting this Thursday, the reformer remarked to himself: "There's that new umbrella my wife's been talking about. I'll buy that and charge it up to two weeks' savings on smoke."

LITTLE SKULL OF GLASS.

A Boston Man's Ingenious Device for Preventing Poisoning Accidents.

The unlabeled poison bottle is as bad as the unloaded gun for causing fatalities. Carelessness at home will render useless the utmost vigilance of the drug clerk who relies upon the warning label required by law to be pasted on all poisonous prescriptions.

The bottle is of blue glass, in order that the contents may better resist being affected by light, and it is molded into the shape of a skull, with cross-bones underneath.

ENGLISH ORTHOPEY.

The Work That Is Being Done by a Private Tutor of Foreigners.

In the national capital is a private tutor of English to foreigners who trains them in the idioms of pronunciation with this chain of similarly spelled words: "Though the tough cough and hiccup plough me through."

"Thoo the too coo and hiecoo plo me thro. Thuf the tuf cuf and hiecof pluf me thurf. Thof the tof cof and hiecoof plof me throf. Thup the tup cup and hiecup plup me thrup. Thoo the too coo and hiecoo ploo me throo."

It is not surprising that Voltaire, when he began to study English and learned that ague was pronounced as two syllables and plague as one, should have wished that half of the English had the one disease and the other half the other.

Burning Mountain of Coal.

At Winger, in New South Wales, there is a burning mountain. It is 1,820 feet in height, and is supposed to be a large coal seam which has in some unaccountable way become ignited, and has been burning for many years, certainly long before the advent of the white man in this portion of the colony.

Rather a Knowing Cat.

J. W. Moses, of Megquier Hill, has an unusually intelligent cat, called Isaac, who is very fond of fresh fish. Recently while the cat was lying on the floor a member of the family said to it: "Isaac, do you want us to go a-fishing?" and then added, "If we had a frog for a bait we would go."

Never Touched Him.

A little fellow had been seriously lectured by his mother and finally sent into the garden to find a switch with which he was to be punished.

SCENES AT WATERLOO.

Incidents of the Famous Battle Showing Bravery and Charity.

At the battle of Waterloo a Scotch color sergeant, who had been mortally wounded, fell into a ditch, and one of his comrades, missing the flag, went straight to the ditch where he had seen the Highlander fall.

During the retreat which followed this battle two companies of field artillery stopped under orders near Loissons, at a village a little distance from the main road.

The ax was raised to kill the cow when the artillery men cried with one voice, "What does it signify? We will fancy this is Friday and fast most willingly." They returned the cow to the old woman, and she led it away with tears of joy and gratitude.

A MILLIONAIRE'S CHECK.

Written on a Piece of Board About Eighteen Inches Square.

They were talking about queer checks, drafts, etc., in the bank, and a gentleman from Kansas City, Mo., finally told the following: "I was once employed," he said, "to collect a balance of $470 which was due a well-known building firm of Kansas City from an eccentric old millionaire."

"Just the thing," he said, and with that he picked it up and made a lot of queer-looking marks on it. "There," he said, "take that to my bankers and it'll be all right."

The Englishman in America.

An Englishman, just over, was breakfasting in New York with an American friend when he stated that he would run out and see his brother Harry who lived in San Francisco.
