Dr. Gilligan and Real Estate Agent Weekes spent last Saturday in Sioux City, to which place they went on business.

Eastern money to loan on Holt and Boyd county farms. Low rates of interest. WILLIAM FARRIS, Agt. 22-tf. O'Neill Neb.

Spencer Advocate: The Rev. Father Cassidy, as per agreement, was here on Tuesday. He was the guest of William and Mrs. Gallagher. The attendance at church was large.

O'Neill seems to be doing a thriving business in spite of the hard times. The leading merchants say there is but little falling off in the trade thus far and are expecting a good holiday trade.

P. J. Biglin will furnish you all kinds of coal, in carload lots or in small quantities. He can also furnish you with coal oil and gasoline by the gallon or barrel. Get his prices before buying elsewhere. 15tf

We have the largest, best and greatest variety of candies and nuts ever brought to O'Neill for the holiday trade. Sunday schools will do well to look over our stock and prices. Respectfully, 22-tf J. BENTLEY.

While contagious diseases hold the right of way in the city it would be wise for the officers to strictly enforce the quarantine laws. One little ounce of preventive is said by big men to be worth tons of cure.

Does the Smudge not know that as a newspaper THE FRONTIER claims the right to criticize any man that appears in public print? If a man is thin-skinned and his cause unjust he should not intrude upon the people.

Ed Whiting, Henry Storm and John Klocke, the Spencer election board who were arrested for stuffing the ballot box at the recent bond election, had their preliminary hearing before County Judge Skuse last week and were bound over to the district court.

In selecting your Xmas presents remember O'Neill Furniture Company's holiday goods. Rugs, easy chairs, couches, picture frames, center tables, book cases, baby cribs, etc., at prices to suit the times. Come early and make selections. 22-3

A letter from Doc Mathews to THE FRONTIER states that he has taken charge of his new paper, is now settled in the harness, will make "valuable changes" right along and hopes that by January 1 he will have as clean and good a paper as THE FRONTIER. Doc evidently thinks that owing to the extremely long range he can afford to be venturesomely flattering.

John Weekes this week presented the editor with a "Just for Fun" lead pencil. It weighs six ounces, is twelve inches long and loaded. In his presentation speech Jack didn't say that he wished we would write more and clip less, but he did say that the gift would be found useful in writing heavy editorials—this was based upon the theory no doubt that like begets like—and he added further, that if we could not vanquish our enemies by using the legitimate end of the pencil in a legitimate way to use it as a billy and beat their bloody brains out. It does not necessarily follow that we will proceed upon this advice, so keep your seat, Jew.

Heavy unbleached sheeting at the Emporium 5½ cents a yard. Others ask you 7 cents for same thing. 22-3

When you want Gloves and Mittens go to the Emporium. Large line and prices below competition. 22-2

You can save from 50 cents to $1.50 on a pair of shoes at the Emporium during the clearing sale from December 15 to the 22nd. Don't miss this sale.

Valentine Republican: District court adjourned Wednesday. It was a busy session and ably and impartially presided over by Judge M. P. Kinkaid.

Roscoe Coughlin started Tuesday morning for Washington, D. C., where he will remain until spring, when he will return to O'Neill and spend the summer.

It is said that the Baltimore Society ladies are appearing in "living pictures" for "charity's sake." A little charity in this hollow of the ram's horn would not fall of appreciation, would it Billie?

The Thanksgiving ball given in this city Thursday night by the Spencer Orchestra was a very pleasant affair both socially and financially. The music was of a high grade and gave universal satisfaction.

Little Bessie Perry has been quite ill from an attack of scarlet fever, but is now improving slowly. It was reported upon the streets Monday night that she had died, but upon investigation the rumor was found to be untrue.

World-Herald: The Chicago Times refers to Judge Holcomb as being "the youngest governor Nebraska ever elected being only 28 years old." This is an error. When Governor Dawes was first elected it was a serious question if he had reached the age of 21 years.

Dan Davis and Mr. Bitters each lost a valuable horse last Friday night. We understand that Mr. Bitters found his animal the next day about six miles out in the country, where it had been ridden and then turned adrift. Mr. Davis has not found any trace of his yet and believes that some one has unlawfully converted it to his own use.

You will buy something for your mother for Xmas, and why not buy something useful. Everything in our line is always useful about the house. No present you can make will be appreciated as well as an easy chair or couch. The O'Neill Furniture Company will make special efforts for you at prices to suit. 22-3

Dennie Lyons went up to the Hot Springs Wednesday night, at which place he hopes to gain relief from an acute attack of rheumatism by frequent plunges in the mineral waters of the celebrated springs. THE FRONTIER sincerely hopes that the treatment may limber up Dennie's joints to a degree exceeding his most sanguine hopes and return him to us as spry as a colt.

Populist Representative-elect John Robertson called at these headquarters Tuesday and inquired if it were a fact that Trom would contest his election. We asked him if any notice had been served upon him, to which he replied in the negative. Bright specimen, this Robertson! Any man who reads a paper, even the Beacon Smudge, ought to know that the time for filing contests expired a fortnight ago, and further, that the man who is contesting must notify the party contested before the expiration of that time. When John gets to Lincoln he will need instruction in everything but filing bills.

The members of the city council went down to Sioux City last Friday to make negotiations regarding the refunding of the water bonds at a lower rate of interest. Nothing was done on that day however, the company holding the bonds requested further time in which to investigate the matter. Those going to the city were: Mayor Dickson; Clerk Martin; Attorney Benedict; Councilmen Merriman, Gatz and DeYarman. The party reports a very pleasant visit and has strong hopes of an outcome that will be advantageous to the city. The thanks of the party are due Mr. Millchrist, one of the interested parties, for a supper at Hotel Garretson. The cost of the trip to the city is nothing.

Contest Withdrawn. EDITORS FRONTIER—Believing, from information furnished me shortly after election, that I was honestly elected and had been defrauded of my rights, I instituted contest against Mr. Crawford, senator elect, but since I have reduced these statements to something like material evidence I do not think I am morally justified in contesting and have today discontinued proceedings. SAM'L C. SAMPLE. O'Neill, Neb., Dec. 5, 1894.

State Irrigation Convention.

To all friends of the state of Nebraska, and the interests of irrigation greeting—The second annual meeting of the Nebraska State Irrigation Association will be held at Kearney Nebraska, on Tuesday and Wednesday, December 18 and 19, 1894, at the Kearney opera house under the auspices of the Buffalo County Irrigation Association. We are earnestly desirous of meeting you, come and bring your friends and neighbors. The ablest experts and speakers on this most important question of irrigation for Nebraska will be present and address you, Kearney will entertain you with her proverbial hospitality. Therefore come and secure the education and information that is most urgently required by the people of our state.

The governor of the state is requested to appoint twenty delegates, the State Board of Agriculture and State Labor Commissioners ten delegates, officers of the State University and the University Agricultural department each ten delegates.

Presidents of all farmers' institutes, granges, agricultural, horticultural and other societies connected with the development of agricultural interests of Nebraska not herein mentioned, ten delegates.

Each sectional State Irrigation Association will be entitled to a delegation of all its officers and fifteen members. Each local irrigation association will be entitled to a delegation of all officers and ten members.

Mayors of cities will please appoint ten delegates, villages five delegates, presidents of boards of trade and commercial clubs five delegates, private and denominational colleges three delegates, and each labor organization three delegates.

A general invitation is extended to all past and present members of congress from this state and all past and present state officials, the present members of the Nebraska legislature and the members now elected, and all county officials now holding office to attend as delegates. Editors of agricultural and irrigation publications will, on presentation of credentials showing their past and present position or occupation be entitled to seats in the convention.

And we hereby extend a cordial invitation to all. Come and give your aid by your presence and efforts, to the most important movement ever inaugurated in our state.

All Nebraska cities are requested to send bids by their delegates for the next annual meeting of this association.

Reduced railroad rates will be obtained on all railroad lines. Remember; Kearney, Nebraska, December 18 and 19 1894. BY ORDER OF COMMITTEE.

A Reverie.

The following came to us yesterday through the mail, and, while we do not make a practice of publishing anonymous contributions, there is something or other in the sentiment of this reverie that appeals to our sympathy and we give it space. We take it from the tone of the reflection that some young bachelor lately touched the twenty-fifth mile stone, and as he dreamed alone in his quarters over an evening glass, he saw strange things ascending in the smoke of his cigar, took up a pen and nailed to the cross a few of his fleeting, philosophic fancies:

"Twenty-five to-night; a quarter of a century. Roll, ye tidal wave of time, nor pause as ye roll. If man's destiny is preordained, why should he wish the coming of its history to move with snail-like feet? If the hand that shapes his destiny is smooth, soft and soothing as that of a woman's why should he wish to postpone the moment that he might enjoy its pleasures and solacing comforts? If the hand that holds his bodily craft upon its course is calloused, cracked and bleeding and blunders his bark of life into maelstroms and against mountains of ice, why should he pray for delay and torture himself with the fear of encountering the inevitable? The dread in anticipating a calamity is more enervating, more torturous to body and mind than the realization of one's worst fear, so I say to time, rush on with fleetest feet. If you hold pleasure in store for me, let me enjoy it. If you are burdened with sorrow and sighs, let me know it.

"Oh, time, turn not backward this eve in your flight! I would not be a child again just for this night. The past is gone, I would not recall it again. But rather wish the present more slack to its rein. Why sigh for my youth, which has passed into the night? Better await the future and trust that its darkness be bright. 'Tis useless to look backward with eyes full of tears. Far better to gaze forward to a fulness of years. When the world may be kinder and present a roseate hue. When merit receives its reward and the devil his due. Fill up a decanter, a nectar of wine, a sparkling bowl. And 'till sip the kind juice while a quarter of a century gets into its hole: And when its long, wriggling tail is lost to my view I'll turn to the future and await the years, many or few. Be they many or few, let them come on a run. All that I ask is, that their sorrows be sand-watched with fun."

Receipt for a Populist.

Take some worn out democracy. (The Cleveland sort will do.) Of disappointed office itch. Stir in an ounce or two; One pound of pure calamity. Some socialist rot; With just a drop of anarchy. To keep the mixture hot; Now add to these ingredients A tendency to flop. And you'll have that prince of human freaks, A ranting, roaring "pop." —(HURON (S. D.) JOURNAL.

Mr. Ira P. Wetmore, a prominent real estate agent of San Angelo, Texas, has used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in his family for several years as occasion required, and always with perfect success. He says: "I find it a perfect cure for our baby when troubled with colic or dysentery. I now feel that my outfit is not complete without a bottle of this remedy at home or on a trip away from home. For sale by P. C. Corrigan, druggist.

No amount of cultivation can make a thistle bear fruit.

For rheumatism I have found nothing equal to Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It relieves the pain as soon as applied. J. W. Young, West Liberty, W. Va. The prompt relief it affords is alone worth many times the cost, 50 cents. Its continued use will effect a permanent cure. For sale by P. C. Corrigan, Druggist.

Dr. Price's cream baking powder—the most perfect made.

Any one who has children will rejoice with L. B. Mulford, of Plainfield, N. J. His little boy, five years of age, was sick with croup. For two days and nights he tried various remedies recommended by friends and neighbors. He says: "I thought sure I would lose him. I had seen Chamberlain's Cough Remedy advertised and thought I would try it as a last hope and am happy to say that after two doses he slept until morning. I gave it to him next day and a cure was effected. I keep this remedy in the house now and as soon as any of my children show signs of croup I give it to them and that is the last of it." 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by P. C. Corrigan Druggist.

We never worry except when we forget that God is good.

A Household Treasure.

D. W. Fuller, of Canajohare, N. Y., says that he always keeps Dr. King's New Discovery in the house and his family has always found the very best results follow its use; that he would not be without it, if procurable. G. A. Dykeman Druggist, Catskill, New York, says that Dr. King's New Discovery is undoubtedly the best Cough remedy; that he has used it in his family for eight years, and it has never failed to do all that is claimed for it. Why not try a remedy so long tried and tested. Trial bottles free at P. C. Corrigan's drug store. Regular size 50c and $1.00.

The deepest wounds are those inflicted by a friend.

Specimen Cases.

S. H. Clifford, New Cassel, Wis., was troubled with Neuralgia and Rheumatism, his Stomach was disordered, his Liver was affected to an alarming degree appetite fell away, and he was terribly reduced in flesh and strength. Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured him.

Edward Shepard, Harrisburg, Ill., had a running sore on his leg of eight years' standing. Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound and well. John Speaker, Catawba, O., had five large Fever sores on his leg, doctors said he was incurable. One bottle Electric Bitters and one box Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him entirely. Sold by P. C. Corrigan.

The value of gold depends on weight, not polish.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions and positively cures piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25c. per box. For sale by P. C. Corrigan. 28-28
