

THE FRONTIER.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY BY THE FRONTIER PRINTING CO. O'NEILL, NEBRASKA.

OVER THE STATE.

HUMBOLDT'S water works system is about completed.

A CAT recently died in Blair that is known to be 25 years old.

The residence of Edward Frye, West Point, with its entire contents, was destroyed by fire.

REAL estate transfers to the amount of over $21,000 took place in Nance county last week.

RYLAND PARKER, a pioneer and the first county judge of Holt county, died last week, aged 80 years.

THIRTY-FIVE people are ready to join the Baptist church at York as the result of revival meetings.

JAMES BURROWS of Platte Center complains that his wife has deserted him and he wants a divorce.

FRANK BRACE, son of S. C. Brace, a prominent farmer of Valley county, died from an overdose of morphine.

TWO SUSPICIOUS characters were taken in by officers at Grand Island and sentenced to ten days in the county jail.

THERE have been fifty-three conversions at Alda as the result of the revival meetings in the Methodist church.

WHILE William Schoenck, living near Scribner, lay sick of typhoid fever some unregenerate cuss stole a rick of hay for him.

THE saloon of Christian Schomerus at Nebraska City, was closed on an attachment sworn out by the Nebraska City National bank.

THE Fremont volunteer fire department will give an entertainment soon to raise a fund for the benefit of sick and disabled firemen.

GEORGE ALBAUGH, a negro, stole a buggy and two horses from a livery stable in Oxford. A reward has been offered for his apprehension.

THE general merchandise store of J. L. Harman at West Point, was closed by virtue of a chattel mortgage held by the First National bank of that city.

A STOCK company is being organized at De Witt that proposes to build a $5,000 opera house, with a stage that will accommodate the best shows on the road.

THE pipe of a hired man started a conflagration, which destroyed Nels Anderson's barn, near St. James. All the horses were rescued except one old mare.

REV. MR. RICKER of Alma has accepted a call to the pastorate of the Chadron Congregational church and will enter upon his new duties February 1.

IT is the same old story. A stranger secured a team at the livery barn of Charley Cole in Arlington to ride out in the country a few miles to see a friend. "And he never came back."

THE board of commissioners of Lancaster county have called a special election for April 2, at which the proposition to vote $90,000 in bonds to build a new jail will be submitted.

SEPTEMBER 17, at the Nebraska state fair this year, will be called "Pioneer Day." All persons holding certificates of membership in pioneer societies in the state will be admitted free.

A SUIT for $5,000 was filed in the district court of York county, against the Burlington company, by Anthony Yost, for injuries while working as a section hand on the railroad in Illinois.

THE Christian Endeavor society of Fremont is preparing for a neighborhood convention, to be held February 2 and 3, to commemorate the fourteenth anniversary of the endeavor movement.

MRS. MARTIN MARTINSON of Sparta, Knox county, dropped dead while engaged in her household duties. Three little children were with her at the time, but her husband was away from home.

"TEXAS JACK," who has figured in the Dodge county courts as a purloiner of mortgaged goods, and who was brought back from Kansas to answer to these charges, has been acquitted by a jury.

A CALL has been issued for a conference to be held at Broken Bow February 5 for the purpose of forming a new political party. The call suggests that the new organization be designated as the Union party.

THE Indianapolis Courier says that the old settlers of the Beaver valley have great hopes of receiving money this winter for their claims against the Indians. There has been $150,000 appropriated for such claims.

W. K. FOWLER, one of the most highly respected citizens of North Bend, died the other morning suddenly of heart failure. He awoke suddenly of heart failure, saying he had such a good sleep, and was dead in five minutes.

ARCHBISHOP HENNESSY has caused to be read in the churches of this diocese, says a Dubuque (Iowa) dispatch, a letter from the bishop of Omaha detailing the suffering in Nebraska and appealing for assistance.

NEVER in the history of Nebraska City, says the Press, has the ice harvest been so bountiful as the season so propitious for putting it up as this season. As a consequence there will be more ice put up this year than ever before.

MILTON BUCKLIN, the young man employed as a news gatherer on the Columbus Telegram, is very versatile. He sets type, gathers news, collects bills, writes good poetry and occasionally accepts an invitation to preach a sermon.

A BARN on the premises of Mr. Estes in Glenover, Gage county, was discovered on fire by a trio of school boys. The boys promptly went to work and with tubs of water extinguished the flames before much damage had resulted.

HASTINGS has secured a syrup factory. The Smith Sorghum company of Fairfield accepted the proposition of the Hastings citizens and will begin the list of Nebraska to move their plant and erect buildings. They have leased over 1,700 acres of land and employ from 100 to 150 men.

MR. SMITH, who resides north of Boxelder pestifolice in Frontier county, died last week from what was supposed to be lung fever. Investigation revealed the fact that it was starvation. When neighbors called they found no provisions, nor scarcely any clothing. A wife and two small children were found in a pitiful condition.

A. G. COLLINS, the agent of the Equitable Insurance company of Falls City, who forged two notes for $400, is now said to be insane. One note for $400 bears the name of Jerome B. Wilcox, a well-to-do farmer in that vicinity.

REV. F. M. CAREY, at one time pastor of Grace Episcopal church in Tecumseh, now of Nebraska City, has written a book on "Freemasonry in All Ages," and sold the copyright to a Chicago publishing company for $16,000.

FRANK WOLSTREHL, a brewery owner of Atkinson, and Julius C. Lucas, the head brewer, indicted for selling beer without stamps, will appear before Judge Dundy at O'Neill and plead that the revenue office was short at the time.

THE large livery barn of Young & Grosbach, at Imperial, was burned with eleven head of horses, one cow, all the buggies and harness and about five tons of hay, nothing being saved. Loss is about $2,000, with $400 insurance on the building.

JESSE FLOWDER and Jesse Williams, two colored soldiers stationed at Fort Robinson, got into a quarrel over Jessie Burnett, a white prostitute of Crawford, and Williams drew a large knife and fatally stabbed Flowder. He died almost instantly.

LAST summer William Holden left York for South Omaha to work in a packing house. It was the time of the strike. From that place he disappeared and has been reported as having been murdered. He has now been located at a little town in Iowa. His family is still being cared for by the charity board.

J. S. HETZEL, capitalist and owner of the Hetzel block at Auburn, dropped dead last week in the store of Thayer, West Indies. He was about town in the afternoon as jovial and happy as ever, and went into the store and complained about being out of breath, sat down in a chair and without another word fell over dead.

J. R. HINCKLEY, a young man who came to Schuyler from the Barbadoes, West Indies, a little over a year ago, went out of town last week leaving a number of creditors to mourn his departure. H. L. Fence, proprietor of the Fogg house, attached his clothing for a board bill of about $80. Hinckley was known to have about $70 when he left.

FOUR important criminal cases will be tried in the district court of Keith county, which convenes last week. They are the State of Nebraska vs. John Pitt for rape, state vs. Charles McAvoy for rape, state vs. Warren Rema for perjury, state vs. John Wilkins, charged with stealing twenty head of cattle from Jesse Campbell last November. There are sixty civil cases on the docket.

C. H. HINCKLEY, who is running a saw mill on J. A. Creighton's farm, north of Waterloo, met with a serious accident which may end in the loss of his left arm. While attending to the mill the wind blew his overcoat around so that it caught on the saw, which pulled him down, and in trying to save himself he threw his left arm across the saw, which cut away a great portion of the muscles, as well as some of the bone.

SUIT has been commenced by the administrators of the estate of Henry Mansfield to secure possession of $25,000 worth of stock in the Farmers and Merchants' Insurance company, which was in the name of C. W. Mosher at the time of the failure of the Capital National bank. Mansfield was the father-in-law of Mosher, and it is claimed that the stock was pledged to him to secure money loaned to Mosher.

PINKIE W. BAKER, aged 60, committed suicide at Wymore by shooting himself through the brain with a 44-caliber pistol. A week ago Baker had his wife sent to the asylum for the insane, and the theory at Wymore then was that the woman had been driven to insanity by brutal treatment and overwork imposed upon her by her husband. Considerable prejudice prevailed against Baker in the community, and he professed to be in fear of his life.

MR. LAMBORN has a bill printed, house roll No. 244, for the creation of a state board of charities and corrections. The principal provision is that the governor shall be authorized to appoint four commissioners, not more than two representing one political party, and not more than one from any one religious denomination, two of which commissioners shall be women, who, with the governor and chancellor of the state university, shall be known as the state board of charities and corrections. These commissioners are to receive no compensation but expenses.

JAMES GARRITY is a laboring man who was tramping westward from Lincoln on the Burlington track the other day. About a mile and a half west of Denton he found a bridge on fire, and almost consumed. It being impossible to arrest the progress of the fire he ran back to Denton where he arrived just in time to enable the operator to catch the east-bound No. 2 at Crete. A few minutes more and the train loaded with passengers would have been too far to prevent a frightful wreck. Garrity was rewarded by the company by being given the job he had been in search of.

THE elevator belonging to the Omaha Elevator company at Barnston, containing about 7,000 bushels of grain, was burned the other day. The fire started in a stable adjoining the building belonging to the company, though from what source is not known. The fire had gained such headway when discovered that the building could not be saved. Two horses in the stable were also consumed.

Mrs. JOHN BOOMER, a highly respected lady of Beatrice, was found dead in her bed one morning. The deceased was 69 years old, and had been in delicate health for some months past but attended to her usual household duties the day before she died.

CONSTABLE HOPKINS arrested Abel Nelson of Bart county Tuesday. Last August a warrant was issued for young Nelson, charging him with bastardy. Esther Hill being the woman in the case. Nelson, however, did not present himself for arrest, and was not secured until Tuesday, when he gave bonds in the sum of $500 for his appearance for trial next Monday.

THE Commercial club of Omaha will endeavor to convince the "powers that be" that everything should be run wide open in the metropolis this state fair year. Gambling and prostitution cannot be suppressed, hence they are to be regulated and given a wider field.

LAWS FOR NEBRASKA.

A RECORD OF PROCEEDINGS IN BOTH HOUSES.

Synopsis of Some Bills Already Passed—Text of Others Under Consideration—Beet Sugar Interests—Reduction of Interest on State Warrants—Penitentiary Medical Board—A Measure for Arbitration of Labor Troubles—Encouragement of Canal Building—Miscellaneous Notes.

THE Nebraska Assembly. SENATE.—After routine business the senate on the 27th went into committee of the whole to consider bills on general file, with McKesson in the chair. The first bill taken up was senate bill No. 25, introduced by Hale, providing that all state warrants shall in future draw 5 per cent interest. The committee on revenue and taxation recommended the bill to be passed. The chairman held that the only bill to be considered by the committee was the bill as amended by the committee. He had introduced the bill to the committee on revenue and taxation and recommended the bill for passage with certain amendments. The committee had adopted the report of the committee, and the bill as amended by the committee was passed. The committee agreed to refer the bill back to the senate with the recommendation that it do pass.

HOUSE.—In the house on the 27th twenty-two bills were introduced. Thimble introduced an arbitration bill. It is house bill No. 364, and provides that whenever a strike arises, or differences between employers and employes, an appeal shall be made to the arbitration board. The bill is authorized to empanel seven jurors, who shall try the case in any other equity trial, and render a verdict. An appeal from the verdict shall be made to be construed as contempt of court, and punished accordingly by fine or imprisonment. A bill designed for the promotion of agriculture in the state to make the water right is to be construed as contempt of court, and punished accordingly by fine or imprisonment. It provides that counties can vote bonds in an amount not less than $15,000 nor more than $25,000 for the purpose of sinking the water right in the state. The bill is made lawful for the county commissioners to lease the water so obtained, the purpose of the bill being to develop the water supply of the county for agricultural purposes. In the line of educating feeble children to salaried servants of the public Ricketts introduced an arbitration bill. It is house bill No. 364, and provides that every county shall have a sheriff and treasurer whose fees shall not exceed in the aggregate $1,000 each for judicial and clerical duties. Each county sheriff and treasurer, per annum, shall pay all excess into the treasury. There is an exemption for counties from the payment of the water right, the provision being that the treasurer shall receive $3,000 and shall be furnished county assistants by the county commissioners. The bill was referred to the committee on general file. The substitute for Brady's seed grain note bill had the first reading, but was rapidly developed a strong opposition to the substitute, and a strong preference for the original bill, as proposed by Brady. The latter provides that a mortgagee of a crop when it is in the hands of the substitute empowers him to execute a mortgage on a crop not yet sown. The bill was referred to the committee on general file. The bill introduced by Mr. Burns of Lancaster, the next in line, provides that the Board of Educational Lands and Funds shall cause all the pending bills on the subject of school lands to be reported by the committee on general file. In speaking of the recommendation of the committee to pass this bill, Mr. Burns stated that the bill was introduced at the request of the board of educational lands. In committee of the whole it was amended to pay all moneys received into the treasury for the benefit of the state, and the amendment was passed. The bill was reported back to the committee with the recommendation that it do pass.

SENATE.—In the senate on the 29th senate bill No. 25, Dale's bill reducing the interest on state warrants, which had yesterday been agreed to in committee of the whole, was reported to the senate by the chairman. Reports from standing committees were received and accepted as follows: Senate bill No. 193, a joint resolution and memorial relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between representatives in congress to use all honorable effort to secure the passage of the bill now pending in congress providing for the coding of the lands within the borders of this state, the title to which still remains in the United States. The committee on constitutional amendments and federal relations recommended the passage of the bill, and it was placed in general file. The same committee reported on the bill introduced by Mr. Adams, relating to the relations between