CHARLES ATWINE of Pierce has got himself in trouble. He settled there about ten years ago, married and be-came the father of three children, and was highly respected by the citizens of that place. A FEW days ago, while plowing for corn on the Cal Nordyke farm in Pigeon Creek township, Boone county, and on top of one of the highest bluffs, the bones of three monstrous skeletons were unearthed. One of them measared nearly eight feet in length, while the other two were not quite as long. It was taken back to that office by the collector for the Nebraska National bank, the bank having refused to accept it It is easily distinguishable as a counterfeit, being light in weight and of a different color from the real article. The letters are coarse, their edges being rough and uneven. In the wreath which encircles the words "one dime, which encircles the words "one dime," immediately under the letter E in dime, is a blotch of metal, probably having been made by a defect in the die. The milling on the edges of the coin is irregular, and does not quite reach the outer edge of the coin on one face, while on the other it overreaches and cuts into the reverse side of the coin. It is of the issue of 1891.

R. A. REESE, editor of the Kearney Journal and for some time city asses-or, is in trouble. Several weeks ago County Clerk Hormel gave him access to old county warrants that had never been called for or paid, for the pur-pose of publishing the list. Since then the old warrants have been presented to the county treasurer and paid until they now aggregate $260. Last week one of these advertised warrants was called for, and the clerk not one of finding it, ascertained that it had been paid by the treasurer a short time ago. The clerk's suspicions were aroused. and an investigation showed that the old warrants recently paid had been stamped with a false seal and many of them had not been receipted for on the warrant book stub. Others had been receipted for by Mr. Reese on orders, and as the clerk had reason to believe the orders were forgerien he had Mr. Reese arrested for forgery and grand larceny. Later new interest was awakeded by the discovery that several of the warrants had been raised, one from $4 to $40, another from $2 to $12. and so on, making an aggregate of over $90. Mr. Reese was re-arrested but plead not guilty and was bound over.

DELUGE AT HERMANVILLE, MISS

Torrent Rushes Through the City Streets -Great Damage Done.

Hermanville, Miss., May 13.-The cloudburst at this place Thursday did great damage to property, but no lives were lost. The downpour of rain was terrific, rapidly filling and overflowing all streams in the neighborhoor. The town and surorunding country were a sea of surging water. Fences, out-houses, etc., were swept from their foundations, and through the street of the town rushed a raging river five feet in depth. It overflowed many houses, sweeping over the ground floor, and the stock which could not be got up in time had to swim to places of safety. The powers, while discussing so important a financial operation, will not arrive at a decision without consulting London, without co-operation such an enterprise could not be taken.

Gov. Brown Claims a Plot Was Laid to Kill His Son.

Louisville, Ky., May 9.—The Courier-Journal prints the following: "The sensation attending the Gordon double killing is not over by haif. The prosecution will attempt to prove that Arch Dixon Brown's death was due to a plot to assassinate him. Governor Brown has reason to believe that the facts of his son's coming to Louisville on the day of the tragedy and his meeting with Mrs. Gordon were known to a man in Frankfort, who telegraphed to a man in Louisville. This Louisville man, the prosecution claims, notified Gordon that his wife was to meet Brown and 'activeby assisted in a foul assassination.' Mr. James A. Scott, the Frankfort attorney employed by Governor Brown to prosecute the case, said:
"I want to say that Governor Brown never authorized any statement that he would not prosecute the case nor did he over dream of granting a pardon to Gordon, as has been stated. Before deciding on the step Governor Brown took counsel with a number of intimate friends from all over the state. He came to the conclusion that it was due the memory of his son that there should be a full and fair investigation of all the facts. He was convinced that Gordon must have known that his wife was dissipated, reckless and imprudent. Governor Brown and his counsel would shrink from any attack on Mrs. Gordon's character, but would prefer to throw the veil of charity over all her acts, especially as she is dead. The future will determine whether it will be necessary to further blacken the character of Mrs. Gordon in order to show the defendant's thorough knowledge of it. I think the developments will be surprising to some people."

CHINA IN NEED OF FUNDS. Asks Russia and France to Advance Large Loan.

London, May 9.-A dispatch from Shanghai says the Chinese emperor has written to the czar and President Faure asking for financial assistance to meet war expenses and promising to grant special commercial advantages to Russia and France in return therefor.

A dispatch from St. Petersburg to the Times says that the Russian government is satisfied with Japan's reply to the protest of the powers and regards the incident thus far closed. Russia is evidently glad to get out of a very awkward position without haggling as to the particular form of language in which Japan agrees to refrain from annexing the Liau Tong peninsula. The Russian military preparations in the far east have been suspended in accordance with the orders from the war office. LIVE STOCK AND PRODUCE MARKETS
