Murphysboro, Ill., June 1.-Douglas Henderson and Frank Jeffrey were hanged here at 8:17 o'clock this morning for the murder of James Towle at Carterville last winter. Henderson mounted the gallows moking a cigar, tor. Before the black cap was drawn over his face he made this little speech; "Gentlemen: I am here to tell you good-bye. I hope I shall meet you in heaven. I want to warn you all to keep out of bad company."

His voice was very strong and clear. Jeffrey was not so cool and showed signs of nervousness, but both mounted the scaffold without effort. Jeffrey also spoke, saying: "I am going to die for a crime I never committed. I never done

The preparations for the execution were then quickly completed, the trap sprung and in twelve minutes the condemned men were pronounced dead. Jeffrey's neck was broken, but Henderson died of strangulation. The bodies were sent to Carterville, the home of the men, where they were buried.

MONOR DEAD HEROES.

G. A. R. and Ex-Confederates Join in Decorating Graves.

City of Mexico, June 1.-Very impres sive Decoration Day services were held here at the American Cemetery over the graves of American soldiers who fell in the Mexican war, or who have since dled in this capital. The portals of the cemetery were decorated with the American flag entwined with flowers and evergreen. The procession of G. A. R. and ex-confederates wended its way through the gates to dirge music by the Mexican Artillery band. The services were held this year at the grave of Francis de Gress, who died at Rin-conada, Vera Cruz. Commander Mordough opened the ceremonies and was followed with prayer by the chaplain, Rev. W. T. Sloan. Rev. A. R. Alexander then dressed the grave with a profusion of flowers. "America" was sung and the ceremonies closed with the memorial address by Rev. W. C.

GOV. MORTON'S ILLNESS.

Chauncey Depew Says It May Take Him Out of the Presidential Field.

New York, June 1.-Chauncey M. Depew was much affected when he heard of Gov. Morton being overcome by the heat. He was asked whether it would have any effect upon Gov. Morton's presidential aspirations.

"It may have," said Mr. Depew. "In deed, it probably will. The case is very analogous to that of Mr. Blaine, who had a sunstroke, if you will remember, in 1876 on Pennsylvania avenue, Wash ington, and that sunstroke was the be ginning of all his physical troubles. Before that he had been a strong and vigorous man. I hope that this will prove to have been nothing but a slight weakness brought on by the heat, but at the governor's age it may prove serious.

BICYCLE RACE A FRAUD.

Serious Situation of Affairs in the Evanston Road Race.

Chicago, June 1.-The shadow large, ugly looking cloud of scandal is already beginning to creep over the shimmering laurels of some of the earlier finishers in the Chicago road race yesterday and it is asserted that after the cloud bursts some of the aforementioned laurels will find themselves badly wilted.

It is now claimed that only thirty-one of the first hundred to finish, among whom was the winner, Homer Fairmon, were noted as having passed the limit mark at Evanston, and that no note was ever made of the other sixtynine men at that point. Investigation in regard to these men is being pushed today and it is claimed that developments of an interesting nature will be made public tomorrow.

Decoration Day Honored in France. Paris, June 1.-In honor of Decoration day and at the request of Post No. 140 of the Grand Army of the Republic of New York, Gen. J. MONUMENT TO BUSK

Dedicated by the Wisconsin Grand Army of the Republic at Viroqua.

Viroqua, Wis., May 31.-The monument erected to the memory of the late Jeremiah M. Rusk, President Harrison' secretary of agriculture, was dedicated this afternoon with imposing ceremonles conducted under the auspices of the Grand Army. The dedicatory address was delivered by Col. John C. Spooner. Gov. Upham and all the state officers and many United States senators and congressmen, together with delegations representing every post of the Grand Army in Wisconsin, were present. The monument itself is a fitting men orial to the honest and rugged hero who lies beneath it. It consists of a plain pedestal, surmounted by a shaft thirty-three feet in height. A tablet at base bears a brief epitome of the life of the late soldier-statesman, while a bronze shield attached to the lower part of the shaft is inscribed with th sentence, "Non sibi, sed patriae" ("Not for himself, but for his country"). The crowd attracted by the occasion is quite unprecedented in this secluded little hamlet, and is a striking evidence of the love and esteem in which Mr. Rusk was held by all who knew him.

IMPORTANT ISSUE SETTLED.

Seminary Control Question Disposed Of by United Presbyterians.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 31.—The first part of yesterday's session of the United States general assembly was given to the hearing of reports. The commit tee on education made a favorable report showing that the seminaries have productive endowments of $284,000 and colleges have an invested endowment of $348,000. The question of seminary control was then finally disposed of. The majority report proposed that the general assembly have the veto power and also the authority to remove professors from the seminaries for unsoundness in the faith. There was no serious division on the question and a resolution was passed embodying these propositions. It also provides for the appointment of a committee to negotiate with the synods having control of the theological seminaries with a view to the adjustment of any apparent or alleged discrepancies between their action and their chartered rights.

WASHINGTON DOES HONOR TO THE DEAD SECRETARY.

Funeral Services Held at the White House in the Presence of a Distinguished Assemblage—Remains Now on Their Way to Chicago.

Washington, May 30.—Before 8 o'clock this morning the floral tributes to the distinguished dead began to arrive at the old Pomeroy house, overlooking La-fayette square, now an annex to the Arlington, in which the remains of the secretary of state lay. Only a few pieces, however, ware received there. Most of them were sent to the White House, where the services were to be held. The casket lay in the drawing-room looking out upon the public square. Secretary and Mrs. Lamont, First Assistant Postmaster-General Jones, ex-Secretary of the Treasury Bristow and Mrs. Bristow and a few other intimate friends were with the sorrowing and stricken family. Mrs. Gresham, broken in spirit, exhausted by her long vigils and overcome with grief, was in such a nervous state that her daughter and son prevailed upon her not to undertake the trying ordeal of attending the services at the White House. At 8:30 b'clock, therefore, the doors were all closed, and the stricken family was left alone with their dead. For almost thirty minutes they remained, taking their last leave. Then the bugle commands doated across the square as the horses of the yellow-tasseled cavalry, the lum-bering caissons of the red artillery and the blue-coated foot soldiers, the tary escort, were drawn up into lines along Pennsylvania avenue.

At 9 o'clock the doors to the room where the remains lay were opened, and the family retired to the rear spartments. Mrs. Gresham, in an agon; of grief, was almost carried from the room by her stalwart son, Otto, and was followed by her daughter, Mrs. Andrews, leaning on the arm of Mr. Andrews, and Mrs. McGrain and Capt. Fuller. Mrs. Carlisle and other ladies of the cabinet arrived and offered such words of condolence as they could.

Soon after the carriages, containing the members of the cabinet, began ar-riving. Secretary Carlisle, Acting Secetary Uhl, Attorney-General Olney and Secretary Herbert drove up in the order named. At 9:15 President Cleveland arvived in the White House carriage, accompanied by Col. Wilson. The Presdent looked far from well and ascended the brown-stone steps with some diffi-culty. A moment later Secretary Morton and Postmaster General Wilso rived in their carriages, followed by Secretary Smith on foot. The caske had been closed and the President and members of his cabinet were given no opportunity to view the remains.

At exactly 9:30 o'clock five red-coated trumpeters marched up Lafayette place and stationed themselves outside the line of mounted police to give the signal when the cortege departed. Thirty seconds later the hearse, drawn by two toal black horses, drew up at the door. The president, followed by members of the cabinet in the order of their rank, icting as honorary pallbearers, descend ed the steps and stood with uncovered heads while the eight artillerymen carried the casket with slow and solemn tread between them. The casket was shrouded completely in the folds of the American flag. The stars and stripes could hardly be discerned for the flowers banked upon the casket. The artillerymen walked beside the hearse as it drew away, halting at the corner until the president and members of his official family in their carriages had taken their positions ahead. Acting Secretary Uhl was with Mr. Cleveland, Sec. retary Carlisle was alone and Secretaries Herbert and Lamont, Attorney General Olney and Postmaster-General Wilson, Secretaries Smith and Morton, and First Assistant Postmaster-General Jones and ex-Secretary Bristow followed in the order named. Bishop Hurst, who arrived at this moment in his carriage, followed the hearse; Mr. and Mrs. Andrews, Otto Gresham and Captain Fuller followed. Mrs. Carlisle, Mrs. Lamont, Mrs. Bristow, the wife of the ex-secretary; Mrs. McGrain, Mrs. Gresham's sister, and several other close friends remained behind with Mrs.

The funeral procession, preceded by t squad of mounted police, moved slow-ty to the entrance of the white house

The casket, preceded by the president and cabinet, was borne by the artillerymen to the east room, where the serv ice took place. Seats were reserved for the immediate kinsfolk and relatives of the dead man, for the president and Mrs. Cleveland and for the members of the cabinet and their wives. Within this solemn, black-robed circle, stood the standards for the catafalque, resting on a large blac! seal rug. By 10:45 the vast east room was nearly filled. seating arrangements perfect. The remainder of the diplo-matic corps came along very rapidly. Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British am-bassador, with his wife and daughter, oreceded Ambassador Patenotre, who was accompanied by his wife. Then followed the Italian ambassador and Baron von Kettler, who is acting as the German ambassador, with full suites. All of the members of the diplomatic body were apparently in attendance, with the exception of Minister Weckerin of the Netherlands, who is absent from Washington. The members of the supreme court came in singly and were seated on the left of the catafalque Mr. Thurber, the president's private secretary, gave the assistance of his arm to Justice Field, who was very feeble. Just in the rear of the diplomatic body in the center of the chamber were seat ed general officers of the army and navy with their ladies.

The funeral ceremonies were brief and formal, consisting merely of reading the service of the Methodist Episcopal church by Bishop Hurst, the singing of a hymn and the uttering of a orayer. Not a syllable was said beyond

Pennsylvania avenue, from the w navy and state department west of the White House, clear down to the Peace monument, under the shadow of the dome of the capitol, was densely crowded with people on foot and in carriages and through this multitude the cortege slowly moved from the White House to the railroad station. Ten thousand peo-ple assembled at the Baltimore & Ohio station, and as the train bearing the funeral party pulled out of the depot many a tear was shed. President Cleve-land made the imperative stipulation that no newspaper men should go on the special funeral train. Outside of the President, cabinet officers and immediate relatives there was nobody in the party excepting John W. Doane of Chicago, and First Assistant Postmaster General Jones.

BUSHNELL IS NAMED.

Chosen by Ohio Republicans as Candidate for Governor.

Zanesville, Ohio, May 30.—General sa S. Bushnell was nominated for governor by the republican convention yesterday on the sixth ballot. He is a wealthy manufacturer of agricultural implements at Springfield, a member of the firm of Warder, Bushnell & Co. He was chairman of the republican committee six years ago.

The convention was called to order at 3 o'clock by Colonel Joseph C. Boner, chairman of the state committee. Senator Sherman was given a rous-ing ovation when he was escorted into the hall at 3:50 by Congressman Van Voorhis and Judge Grander. He was introduced as temporary presiding offi-cer of the convention and on taking the Senator Sherman was given a rouschair made a stirring speech in favor of a gold coinage and the policy of pro-

At the conclusion of the senator's speech a committee on resolutions was appointed and afterward organized, with ex-Secretary Charles Foster as chairman. The convention then adjourned to 8 p. m. On reassembling the temporary organisation was made permanent. The following names were presented to the convention for the nomination for governor: J. W. Barger, J. Warren Keifer, J. H. Hoyt, George K. Nash, Robert N. Nevin, A. L. Harris, and E. W. Poe. General Bushnell's name was not presented by any speaker. There were 827 delegates in the convention, 414 being necessary for a choice. On the sixth ballot General Bushnell was nominated, receiving 509 votes; Nash, 201; Hoyt, 111; necessary for a choice, 414.

The platform reaffirms adherence to the principles of the republican party as defined by the national convention in 1892, chief among which are: A pro-tective tariff, fair elections, honest money, consisting of gold, silver, and paper, every dollar as good as any other dollar, and all backed by the national faith and honor. On the money question it says:

"We favor bimetallism and demand the use of both gold and silver as standard money, either in accordance with a ratio to be fixed by an international agreement, if that can be obtained, or under such restrictions and such provisions, to be determined by legislation, as will secure the maintenance of the parity of values of the two metals, so that the purchasing and debt-paying power of the dollar, whether of silver, gold, or paper, shall be at all times equal.'

Of the national administration it says: "We denounce the present democratic administration, whose victous and vacillating course has brought us distress at home and humiliation abroad." It declares against free wool and for protection of the sheep industry, favors the construction of the Nicaragua canal, and recommends that Senator Sherman and ex-Gov. Foraker be sent by the republicans of Ohio to the United

The platform concludes: "We pre-sent William McKinley to the Republicans of the nation as a candidate for the nomination for president in 1896, and we pledge him the absolute and un swerving support of Ohio at the next national convention.

"We have heard with great sorrow of the sudden and untimely death of Hon. Walter Q. Gresham, late secretary of state, and we extend to his bereaved family our sympathy and condolence."
The convention then adjourned to 9 o'clock this morning, when the ticket was completed. When the convention reassembled at 9 o'clock prayer was of-fered by Rev. R. Richards of Zanes-Ex-Secretary Charles Foster, chairman of the committee on resolu-tions, presented the platform, which was adopted and cheered as read, especially the resolutions on McKinley and Foraker. General A. W. Jones of Youngstown was nominated for lieutenant-governor by acclamation.
