The Scott Trial.

In the Scott trial at Butte, Fannie Scott, the little 8-year-old daughter of the murdered ex-treasurer, took the stand. She described in her own language the capture of the party at Parker postoffice, and said she had since seen one of the men who was in the crowd which surrounded the buggy at their home in O'Neill. Witness was dressed the same and had eyes like the man at Parker. Cross-examined, she said that all had muskies on. She was very much frightened. Didn't know Etta was shot until she told her she was. Knew Mullihan had been arrested and was suspected. They masked him in her presence and showed him to her.

Killed by Lightning.

The vicinity about Moorefield was visited by a severe thunder shower. During the storm Mr. T. F. Hartwick, working in a field two miles east of Moorefield, was killed by lightning. A hired man who was standing near him was knocked down by the shock. Mr. Hartwick was proprietor of a lumber yard and a partner in the general store at that place. He was a member of the Ancient Order of United Workmen.

Prominent Farmer Shot.

John E. Haas, a prominent farmer residing three miles south of College View, Lancaster county, was dangerously shot. A young man who works for him on the place found him lying in the barn with the back of his neck and head riddled with bullets. He had evidently been shot while sitting in his barn. He was known to have acquired a considerable sum of money recently. The shooting was doubtless done by some one who was aware of the fact and hoped to get possession of the money. It was done by some one with a knowledge of the place, as the would-be murderer had first entered the house and secured a shotgun that hung upon the wall, with which the shooting was done.

Killed by the Cars.

Henry Hennings, a farmer living east of Louisville, was run over and instantly killed by a Rock Island north-bound passenger train five miles west of that place. Hennings was a prosperous Cass county farmer, about thirty-five years old, and leaves a wife and two children.

For Falsifying Bank Records.

Ex-Congressman Dorsey has been again indicted by the federal court for falsifying national bank records and otherwise violating the banking laws in connection with the First National bank of Ponca, of which he was one of the owners, and which bank has been for months in the hands of a receiver. The ex-congressman was indicted last November, but the indictment was quashed. The federal attorney will take another shy at him with the new indictment. Another new indictment in the case of the Ponca bank has been found against Fay Mattison and Frank M. Dorsey and Ezra Higgins, charging them with falsifying reports to the comptroller, and other violations.

Nebraska Bank Cashier Arrested.

William J. Zirhut, the absconding cashier of the Milligan State bank, has been arrested in the city of Baltimore, and will be brought back to Nebraska to stand trial on the charge of forgery and embezzlement of sums amounting to about $20,000. This does not represent the full amount of the peculations, but it was thought sufficient to secure his conviction.

The Milligan bank was closed by the state banking board about January 30, last, and Zirhut, the cashier, was not to be found, having fled when he saw the crash coming. Since leaving Milligan he has traveled over pretty much the same route that Taylor, the South Dakota treasurer took. It was learned that he was about to visit Boston under the name of Frank Corning, and the chief of police of that city was instructed to arrest him and hold until the agent of the state of Nebraska could arrive with requisition papers. A telegram was received to the effect that the arrest had been made.

Among State Teachers.

Superintendent Marble of Omaha delivered a second lecture before the State institute at Lincoln. He thought the ability to teach did not depend on attendance on a normal school, as there were good teachers who never saw one. The first thing needed was a right kind of spirit, brain, wit, in fact, a head for business. A person could not be a good superintendent unless he was a good teacher, but the one who thought he knew more about it than all the grade teachers about the work of each individual was a humbug. Dr. Norton, who also lectured, opened with the statement that all men have ideas, either high or low. It is the highest privilege of the teacher to replace low ideas with high ones, and to furnish the pupil with an opportunity to reproduce high ideals in a more perfect life.

Died by His Own Hands.

Claus Obermiller, one of the oldest inhabitants of Hall county, and a man of large means, committed suicide by shooting himself. He went into his barn, placed the muzzle of a revolver in his mouth, pulled the trigger and was dead in a few minutes. His wife and neighbors heard the shot and ran out, but Obermiller was beyond aid or speech. He was about 50 years of age. He has several grown children and was worth about $20,000. It is generally supposed that he suddenly grew dispondent over a suit in attachment for $500 brought against him.

EXTREME PENALTY ASKED

PENSION EXAMINER WAITE MAKES A SENSATIONAL PLEA.

COURT DENIES NEW TRIAL

Fined $250 for Intimidating a Witness in the Van Leuven Pension Investigation—His Appeal for the Highest Sentence Brings Tears to the Eyes of Many Present—The Case Appealed.

CHESCO, Iowa, June 24.—The motion for a new trial in the case of Special Examiner E. F. Waite of the pension department, convicted of intimidating a witness in the Van Leuven investigation, was denied today. The penalty under the law is not to exceed two years in the penitentiary or not to exceed $500 fine.

Before sentence was passed Waite arose and in a quiet but impressive manner asked the court to impose on him the extreme penalty of the law if the court believed him guilty. He prided himself on his good name and the sentence would leave a stain upon it no matter what it might be. Hence he asked of the court either complete vindication or the severest penalty. His appeal brought tears to the eyes of more than one spectator. The court fined him $250. The case has been appealed.

ROME'S ORDERS OBEYED.

Archbishop Kain, Against His Wishes, Promulgates the Secret Society Edict.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 24.—It is stated that the promulgation by Archbishop Kain of Rome's decree, condemning the Odd Fellows, the Knights of Pythias and the Sons of Temperance, was against his wishes. He said to the priests that the decree was effective. He has said on several occasions that he would not promulgate the condemnation of the three societies and he stated that he belonged to the majority of the archbishops who opposed the ban.

Through Mgr. Satolli, the papal delegate at Washington, the archbishop received notice from the pope a few days ago to act at once. He was brief but pointed in his remarks to the priests about the decree and promises. He told them that they must not refuse the sacraments to persons belonging to the condemned societies if a withdrawal from membership meant loss of position or serious temporary injury. He reserved himself the decision of these cases. He directed them to announce to their people at the earliest convenience that the three societies stood condemned in this diocese.

Unions to Indians Illegal.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—About a year ago Thomas W. Potter of Kansas was sent to Cherokee, N. C., as Indian agent and superintendent of the Indian school there. He fell in love with a Cherokee teacher and was married to her, though the laws of North Carolina make intermarriage of whites and Cherokees Indians a penitentiary offense. The matter has been referred to Secretary Smith, but it has become still further complicated by the marriage of Adolph G. Bauer, a leading Southern architect to Miss Rachel Blyth, a wealthy Cherokee orphan of North Carolina.

To Be Tried by Women.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., June 24.—W. C. Stivers, a widower and prosperous farmer of Garrard county, began suit for damages for breach of promise of marriage against Miss Katherine West, a school teacher. He averred that he had proposed and had been accepted and that even the day of the wedding had been set when she refused to marry him. The judge before whom the case will be tried is M. C. Sanfey of the Garrard circuit bench. He says that he will try the case before a jury composed of women. Under the new constitution they are eligible for jury service.

False Reports of Want.

HOLDREGE, Neb., June 24.—A report was sent to the governor Wednesday that 700 people were destitute in Frontier and Perkins counties, and that if food was not sent to them there would be trouble. W. N. Nason of Omaha of the state relief commission, who has just returned from a trip of investigation through these counties, says that he found no destitution that local committees could not attend to. Crops look fine and everyone is hopeful of abundant harvest. The citizens of these counties express great indignation at these false reports.

WILL ROSEBERY RESIGN?

A Crisis Threatened Because of the Liberal Defeat.

LONDON, June 24.—It is the general belief in London that the defeat of the government on the motion to deduct $500 from the salary of the secretary of war because of deficiencies means the resignation of the ministry, the dissolution of parliament and a new election, with probably a return of the Conservatives to power.

The cabinet at once held a meeting and it was believed that the ministers would decide upon dissolution at the earliest possible moment. This, however, was not done, because Premier Rosebery was at Epsom. Later, when Rosebery returned, a second meeting was held lasting until midnight, but again there was no action. A third meeting was held at Lord Rosebery's residence in Downing street, at 11 o'clock this morning. The secretary of war, Mr. Campbell-Bannerman, entered whistling merrily. When a recess was taken for lunch no decision had been reached in regard to resignation.

The ministers met again at 4 o'clock. Then Lord Rosebery started for Windsor. The decision will not be announced until Monday, but there is a strong impression that the premier will present the resignation of the cabinet to the queen.

ELECTRIC ENGINES.

Eighty Miles an Hour Made—A Heavy Train Easily Pulled.

NANTASKET, Mass., June 24.—The second trial of electricity as a motive power on the Nantasket Beach division of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad took place last night and the result insures the success of the venture. The trial was with an electric motor especially geared for speed, and the small party of officials who were aboard during the trip state that for three miles on the straight track between here and Hull the locomotive traveled at an average speed of eighty miles an hour. They claim that greater speed could have been attained had it not been for a hot box. Another electric locomotive was attached to a train of three passenger coaches and a heavy steam locomotive, the whole weighing over 175 tons, and easily moved at the rate of speed of a steam locomotive. The starting and stopping was especially prompt. The officials are greatly pleased with the tests.

No Aid From the Police.

CHICAGO, June 24.—The officials of the Sunday observance league called on Mayor Swift today and asked to be protected in their attempt to stop the Chicago-Cleveland ball game to-morrow, but the mayor positively refused to lend any assistance. The league consequently will not be backed by the police, and, if the base ball teams and the spectators desire to resist the raid and throw the raiders over the boundary wall they may do so. The Sabbath league leaders have been warned that trouble is likely to occur in the event of interference with the game, and the raid may be abandoned.

REPUBLICAN LEAGUE.

EIGHTH NATIONAL CONVENTION IN CLEVELAND.

What Was Done on the First Day—President Tracy Delivers the Annual Address and Speaks of the International Agreement on the Silver Question—The Protective System and Blaine's Policy.

Republicans in Conference.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, June 20.—The eighth national convention of the League of Republican clubs convened in Music hall with 2,000 delegates in the auditorium and the galleries filled with visitors.

After prayer by the Rev. S. L. Darsc, Secretary Humphrey read the call, and addresses of welcome were made by Mayor McKisson and Prof. Woodmansee of the Ohio League of Republican clubs. President W. W. Tracy of Chicago then delivered the annual address.

Of the silver issue, Mr. Tracy said: "It is in keeping with the record of the past that the Democratic leaders should strive to take advantage of a sentiment created largely through their own blundering and then go shouting from the housetops their devotion to silver, in the hope that they may through this agitation be saved from oblivion. The facts are the Democratic party never did anything for silver in any of the years it was in power."

"The people of this country want more money but only on one condition, and that is that it be sound and current the world over. There is no question as to which party is to be entrusted with the solving of this problem. The record of the Republican party proves that it has always been in favor of increasing the currency in keeping with the demands of the country, but only on the basis that the purchasing and debt-paying power of a dollar, whether of silver or gold, shall at all times be kept equal."

"The people will be satisfied to leave the solving of the currency question in the hands of the Republican party. They know that in the future as in the past the interests of silver in all its relations to the people can safely be entrusted to the protecting care of that party. This entire question as to the future use of silver will probably be settled by the great commercial nations of the world within a year. Germany and France are seeking bimetalism and England is fast turning in that direction. What the people should do is to bring pressure to bear upon their representatives for the appointment of delegates to an international conference with power to act, and insist upon an agreement and obligation from the nations participating to maintain the ratio as there adopted."

Mr. Tracey closed with an eulogy of the protective system and the American policy of the late James G. Blaine. In his address of welcome President D. D. Woodmansee of the Ohio league expressed regret that Governor McKinley was prevented by his Kansas engagement from welcoming the delegates to Ohio. He desired to say, however, that Governor McKinley would reach the city by Friday evening and at the Hollenden would be glad to greet all and say farewell to one and all.

The secretary announced that there were represented at the convention forty-six states and territories, the largest number ever represented. Among the delegates were a number of ladies, four from Colorado, one from New York, two from Washington and three from Illinois. The latter represented the Woman's league clubs in that state. Those from Colorado lost no opportunity to do mission work in favor of the free coinage of silver.

H. Clay Evans of Tennessee moved to refer all resolutions to the committee on resolutions without debate. An amendment to refer without reading was defeated, as the silver men protested. Mr. Evans' motion prevailed.

The secretary announced that the state delegations should report their members of the committee on resolutions, committee on league work, committee on rules and committee on order of business, time and place, and these committees would meet at 4 o'clock. A meeting of the presidents of state leagues was announced for 9 o'clock to-morrow and at 1 o'clock the convention adjourned till 10 o'clock to-morrow, to give the committees time to work.
