The State Fair.

The Nebraska state fair was a decided success, both in the matter of exhibits and attendance. If any body had any doubt about this a visit to the grounds was sufficient to dispel the doubt. The weather for most part was not all that could have been dewas not that that the attendance went considerably beyond the record, and would undoubtedly have been much greater had not heat and dust interfered. Forty thousand people are credited with being on the grounds Wednesday, and at least 10,000 in ad-dition to this number on Thursday. There was a lack of means of trans portation, the dust was not properly laid, and some other things were left undone that should have been attended to. The managers have gained exyear to have all matters arranged and carried out in a satisfactory way.

The agricultural exhibit was the best

The agricultural exhibit was the ever seen in Nebraska, and this is saying a good deal when it is considered how many splendid exhibitions the state has held. All the various departments were full to overflowing, evidence was present on every hand that Nebraska is not only a productive state, but that her citizens take pride and satisfaction in making it known to the world. Counties vied with coun-

Bands innumerable wrought enchanting music on all sides, and the parades arranged for the various evenngs were up to expectations and drew nundreds of thousands of sightseers. The Nebraska state fair for 1895 passes into history as one of the most successful ever held, and if there was any thing lacking the experience that has been gained will enable the managers to provide it in 1896. The fair has advertised the state's resources in a manner that will bring good fruit in great abundance in coming years.

Prosperity That Is Now in All Sections of the Country.

Washington, Sept. 23.-The easy assurance and confidence of the treasury officials that there will not be a bond issue and that the treasury gold reserve will not again be seriously depleted is explained by a prominent official, who says that through the good offices of the bond syndicate, promises have been secured from bankers in the principal cities of the country that in upon to place up to $30,000,000 of gold in the treasury in exchange for legal tender. This important matter has been quietly negotiated by Messrs. Belmont and Morgan during the last fifteen days.

fifteen days. The reasons which have led to the action are varied, but all tend to the same end. On the part of the administration it is recognized as good politics to avoid another bond issue and throw the responsibility and necessity for remedial financial legislation upon the incoming congress. It was determined by the president several months ago that there would be no bond issue until after the elections, as an issue previous thereto would have the effect of strengthening the hands of the free silver men and the Populists.

He says that all the waters of the streams in the Big Horn basin were parceled out to members of the "state land ring" by the state engineer and companies have been formed which propose to charge to settlers for water rights $10 per acre which are not worth over $10. Colonel Ross' Explanation of Where $75,000 of Indian Funds Went

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.-Colonel D. M. Ross, of Guthrie, Ok., spent five hours on the witness stand trying to tell what he did with the $75,000 he received from the secretary of the treasury on the well known $3,000,000 payment to the Choctaw and Chickasaw Indians for their shadow claim to the Cheyenne and Arapahoe lands in Oklahoma. Colonel Ross stated that he had paid $10,000 to one Colonel Parsons of Maryland, who has been a member of the state legislature and voted for Gorman, and who is gen-erally believed to be the fine financial manipulator of Senator Gorman in certain western legislative matters. This $i0,000 he paid Parsons was for Parsons himself, as Colonol Ross stated. Then Colonel Ross says he set apart $10,000 for himself, and then he gave Sam Donaldson of Kentucky, who was supposed to have a financial lobby pull in the treasury, $5,000, and the remaining $50,000 he paid to Colonel Parsons in cash, and it is his understanding that Parsons paid it out to certain persons, but not knowing who they were, he can not explain fur-

NO CUBAN RECOGNITION.

The United States Unlikely to Take Any Positive Action at Present.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18 .- Save vague newspaper reports, nothing is known at the state department of the intention of any of the governments of the American republics to recognize the belligerency of the Cuban revolutionists, and it is quite certain that no formal application for such recognition by the United States has been made. It is not perceived here how the insurgents can reap any substantial advantages at this time for such recognition. The only comfort that they would derive would be from the moral effect of an assent by an independent power to the proposition that they had assumed statehood.

As far as the United States is conerned, it took such a pronounced stand in the case of the late Brazilian insurrection that it could scarcely recog-nize the insurgents in the case of Cuba at present without a complete reversal of its position. It has held that, to entitle them to recognition, insurgents must set up a seat of government and maintain it; that they must issue money, and must possess a navy to make effectual any blockade they wish to establish—in short, that they must have an actual defacto government. The state department is not informed that any of these requirements have been met by the Cubans.

POLITICS AND CRIME.

Professor Warner of California Attacks the Present Police Systems.

DENVER, Col., Sept. 18 .- At this morning's session of the national prison congress a paper on "Politics and Crime," written by Amos G. Warner, professor of economics and social science in the Leland Stanford university of California, and read by John N. Dryden of Kearney, Neb., created a sensation. "If the state itself is under the influence of criminals," wrote Mr. Warner, "how can it hope to reform criminals? Setting a thief to catch a thief was an old-time doctrine, but the plan of setting a thief to reform a thief has never yet been defended. The representatives of the state with which criminals are most frequently brought into contact are policemen, police justices, sheriffs, sheriffs' deputies and others only a shade-if at all-better than the criminals themselves. The hope for the cure of criminals largely lies in curative treatment in the early stages. Petty offenders and those on the verge of criminality in the large cities seldom or never get beyond this line of guards, and live more or less in their presence. The police to them represent the state."

DAMAGES FOR LIBEL.

A Virginia Paper Brought to Terms by the American Book Company.

17

A dispatch from Norfolk, Va., says:
"The American Book company of New York has just gained a signal victory in the courts of Virginia and has received an absolute and complete vindication after a long and exhaustive trial by special jury in the Circuit court of this city. The Pilot newspaper of this city, upon the awarding of the courtact for school books to the American Book company, printed a long article paper of this city, upon the awarding of the contract for school books to the American Book company, printed a long article written and prepared by R. E. Byrd, an agent and attorney for Ginn & Co.. of New York, in which it was charged that the state superintendent, had been bribed by the American Book company. The Pilot was immediately sued for libel, and, after a five weeks' trial, which created an immense amount of interest throughout the state, a verdict for punitive damages was recently awarded, and the jury found that the statements made were false and a deliberate libel. Not only so, but the company, upon unimpeachable evidence, was proved to have dealt honorably and uprightly in every particular in their negotiations with the state officials. It was further proved at the trial that no better terms had been made with any other state for school books. In fact, the attorney-general of Virginia stated that the American Book company seemed to throw open their whole business to us.' and after full and complete of Virginia stated that the American Book company 'seemed to throw open their whole business to us,' and after full and complete examination of all the original contracts made with the various states he expressed himself as absolutely satisfied that the prices were the same in all cases and that no discrimination whatever had been made against the state of Virginia. Furthermore he mentioned that none of the statements of the American Book company had been he mentioned that none of the statements of the American Book company had been accepted until every one of them had been absolutely verified by direct reference to the governors of some fifteen states, with whom contracts had been made. This proved conclusivelythat the representations of the American Book company were correct in toto. This celebrated case has thus ended in a complete triumph in every respect for the American Book company, and has shown in clear contrast the clean and business-like methods in which they carry on their great industry as compared with the attempted use of political pulls and misstatements by their opponents."—Chicago Tribune.
