

SYMPATHETIC JOHN.

...It was either the lots or a judgment against you. O, yes, John, you had some property in Omaha that you desired to Pat Hughes without any consideration, and Pat says without his knowledge and consent even. But you stood in, or the stores would have been attached like that of Hendrix of Atkinson. But who helped you carry this through so successfully? Why, tell, John; of course it was Forger Mike, the legal advisor of the county, the man who is breaking his neck to elect your ticket.

You say you "generally erred through a too sympathetic nature." John, how those words will ring in the ears of Patsy Murphy's little child in years to come when he learns of the way you administered his father's estate. Hagerly as administrator against Mutual Reserve Fund Life Association, in his petition—prepared by your counsel Harrington, says: That on the 31st day of October, 1890, said J. J. McCafferty wrongfully and unlawfully and without the consent or approval of said county court or county judge thereof, as such executor compromised the indebtedness of $2,000 due by defendant to the said estate, for the sum of $800; that he well knew that by said settlement and compromise it was defrauding said estate out of $1,200.

From this petition it appears that you made this settlement over the objection of the widow and her counsel, and if my memory serves me right you resigned or was removed on account of your unlawful and fraudulent acts. Now, John, since you will have to explain a great many things, please be so kind as to explain to the people what you did with the $800; tell them how much you ever paid to the widow and fatherless child. Can you, as a man with a clear conscience, justify your acts and at the same time explain how hard you tried to get the little home on the hill away from the widow and her child? And when you have the time just explain how you settled for the last two years of wire you received from the Baker Barbed Wire Co., of Chicago.

Now, John, after your friends read this, a very small part of your business history, will you have the face to say to the intelligent voters of Holt county that you made an honest disposition of your property and that it was necessary for you to put in wife and father-in-law's name thousands and thousands of dollars to save your family from starvation or public charity? No, John, by your successful manipulation of your property you and they can live in luxury and ease.

You say the bluest act of your life has been standing by the people who want to return the republican party to power through the valley of grog and lying deceit, or Satan's path. Well, I am more surprised at this than anything else you said. These words come with very poor grace from your lips. One word, John: Who is buying and paying for all the beer and whisky that is now being used by your populist friends throughout the county. You must know of this; then how can you support such a ticket? Are you doing it from principle? I would say yes, but for your past record. John, in your next tell the people why you left Illinois. Tell them that you left there behind you as a family legacy two indictments, and for what? A whisky transaction that you can explain better than I. Tell them that you for a time hid in the mountains of Colorado and then sought out the Great American desert and estrioh-like hid yourself in the sands of Holt county. Oh, John, with such a record what can you gain when your past is opened to the public? Will not the intelligence of Holt county brand you as a hypocrite. Well, John, not satisfied with bringing disgrace on yourself you have attempted to bring on an equal with yourself Mr. Biglin, a man who, when he failed, turned over to his creditors every dollar of his property to be sold on the auction block on executions issued on judgments that he confessed. We all know that the property did not pay the debts, and we all know that since that time, hard as times have been, that Mr. Biglin has paid up thousands of dollars of the old debts not only in Holt county, but in sister states, and he not only says to Holt county citizens but to citizens of every state, bring on your claims I will pay you all, not in grave-yard lots at four times their value but in the money of our country. Dear John, I am afraid your creditors will wait long for such an invitation; and with such a record you charge Mr. Biglin with doing business in his wife's name for the purpose of evading his own just debts. Shame John, shame on you! Go out and ask the citizens of O'Neill that have three times made him mayor, if he pays his debts. Go to Chicago, St. Louis or Omaha and ask the men that you owe if Mr. Biglin pays his debts, and one and all will make but one reply and that is that he does and did. Had Biglin handled his property as you have and his little ones might live in a palace home like yours.

You say that you look upon the present administration as the most honest one for years. Yes, no doubt you do. But are the rest of the judges? Will the people of this county put any dependence in what you say? Little do you care who you recommend. Do you remember the recommendation that you, Harrington, made and many more gave to S. H. Elwood to fill him to get a train load of cattle? Now, John, after living in this county for nearly a quarter of a century and being familiar with the workings of the men that ask to be returned to office,

I would rather trust O. F. Biglin in the treasurer's office without a bond than Jim Mullen with a vault full of bonds signed by such men as Harrington and Gallagher. Now, John, a word to the men that you were supposed to catch by your harangue of honesty. Go to the polls on election morning and vote as your best judgment tells you. Vote for the best man. Beware of the professional office-seekers who have lived on the county year after year. Investigate the record of every candidate for yourself before you vote and do not take the word of a McCafferty as to any man's standing; investigate and see for yourself and vote accordingly, and having done so all will be well.

PIONEER.

SHALL WE HAVE A CREAMERY?

The farmers and business men of the community have long felt the need of a creamery as it is impossible for stores to handle butter with any satisfaction to either. Under the present system the merchant gets all the business derived from the sale of butter and eggs, while with a creamery paying cash for these products the farmer can buy whatever he wants with the proceeds. There is also a great deal less work for the farmer in selling his cream than there is in making and selling butter, and there is no comparison between the two systems when the creamery is properly conducted and the farmers are paid promptly.

While the O'Neill Butter & Egg company paid out to the farmers about $2500 in trade for butter and eggs, the Amelia creamery paid out $10,000 in cash for cream alone. Think of this amount of money brought into one locality where probably $1,000 worth of butter would not have been made if it had to be traded to the stores at 6 to 8 cents per pound, which is all they could have paid during the summer. Many families derived their only support from a few cows and it took the place of the crop which they lost last year.

If the farmers within twenty miles of O'Neill will interest themselves in this matter, they can have a creamery here next year, conducted by a home man who has already made the only success that has yet been made of the creamery business in the county. He will come here provided he gets the proper encouragement and wishes to meet the farmers and business men at a meeting in the court-house, Tuesday, November 12, at 2:30 P. M., for the purpose of discussing the matter and stating his proposition. As this is a matter that interests every farmer and every business man in O'Neill, we hope to see a good large meeting and enough interest manifested to secure the creamery.

We are in receipt of a car load of the finest hand picked apples that was ever in the city. Don't you want a barrel? 16-3 O'NEILL GROCERY CO.

We are handling the old pioneer brands of flour, G. A. R. and White Stratins. No need to guarantee them, everyone knows them; try a 500 pound lot. 16-3 O'NEILL GROCERY CO.

Great rush to the Sullivan Mercantile Company's store; everybody is taking advantage of the great bargains offered by this firm to cash purchasers. Sugar given away at the Sullivan Mercantile Company's store. 14-3

Ladies we have just received a line of the celebrated flexibone molded corsets, acknowledged to be the best fitting and best wearing corset in the market. Try them once and you will wear no other. 16-3 J. P. MANN.

Our trade on cloaks has so far exceeded our expectations that we have just been compelled to place a large second order which we expect to arrive next week. The fact that all our cheap cloaks were made as stylish as our best ones, was the cause of our extraordinary trade this season. If you haven't bought your cloak yet, be sure and see our new ones, if you want a nice stylish garment at a moderate price, we can suit you better than anyone. 16-1 J. P. MANN.

"While down in the southwestern part of the state some time ago," says Mr. W. Chalmers, editor of the Chico (Cal.) Enterprise, "I had an attack of dysentery. Having heard of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea remedy I bought a bottle. A couple of doses of it completely cured me. Now I am a champion of that remedy for all stomach and bowel complaints." For sale by P. C. Corrigan, Druggist.

There is one medicine which every family should be provided with. We refer to Chamberlain's Pain Balm. When it is kept at hand the severe pain of a burn or scald may be promptly relieved and the sore healed in much less time than when medicine has to be sent for. A sprain may be promptly treated before inflammation sets in, which insures a cure in about one-third the time otherwise required. Cuts and bruises should receive immediate attention, before the parts become swollen, and when Chamberlain's Pain Balm is applied it will heal them without matter being formed, and without leaving a scar. A sore throat may be cured in one night. A piece of flannel dampened with this liniment and bound over the seat of pain will cure lumbago or pain in the side or chest in twenty-four hours. It is the most valuable, however, for rheumatism. Persons afflicted with this disease will be delighted with the prompt relief from pain which it affords, and it can be depended upon to effect a complete cure. For sale by P. C. Corrigan, Druggist.

Free Sugar!

TAXPAYERS ATTENTION!—There is no politics in this. For a limited time the Sullivan Mercantile Co. will give away sugar free of charge to purchasers of the following amounts. Any person buying $50.00 worth of goods at our store in one day's purchase and paying spot cash for them will get, free of charge 50 pounds of granulated sugar. Any person or persons buying $25.00 worth will be entitled to 25 pounds of granulated sugar. Persons buying $20.00 will be given 15 pounds of sugar. Persons buying $15.00 worth of goods will get 10 pounds of sugar and persons buying $10.00 worth of goods will get 8 pounds of sugar free of charge.

We have a full line of dry goods just new from the market and bought for spot cash—taking advantage of the cash discount which enables us to give you prices that defy competition. Look at our dry goods and we will surprise you with the bargains in them. We have a complete line of shoes and we can sell them at astonishingly low figures. We will sell you a good plow shoe for $1.15 and our other shoes in proportionate prices. We have hats, caps, gloves and mittens. Come and see them for yourselves and we will guarantee to save you money on any purchase you may make. We have a line of gent's furnishing goods that surpasses anything in that line ever shown in the city and at prices which no other firm can duplicate. We will guarantee to sell you groceries cheaper than any bargain house in Chicago, Omaha or any other city if you will only give us a chance to figure on your bill. Do not buy of us if you do not find that there is money in it for you.

Having had many years' experience in the mercantile business we know where to find the best and cheapest market in the world to purchase our stock in and by paying spot cash we get a liberal discount and are therefore in a position to give you the benefit of that discount on any and every purchase you may choose to make. We have everything you want in the way of groceries, dry goods, blankets, gent's furnishing goods, boots, shoes hats and caps, gloves, mittens, and clothing. We sell all goods for spot cash. Positively no credit will be given to anyone. We pay spot cash and we must have cash for our goods when they leave our shelves. Don't neglect the above bargains. You will save money. We only offer these inducements for a limited time. Come early and get the free sugar.

J. K. Fowler, secretary and treasurer of the Corinne Mill, Canal and Stock Co., of Corinne, Utah, in speaking of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy says: "I consider it the best in the market. When troubled with a cough or could give this remedy a trial and we assure you that you will be more than pleased with the result. For sale by P. C. Corrigan, Druggist.

The Pin Was Found.
From the Dublin Mail. At an entertainment in Dublin a thought-reader boasted that he could find a marked pin hidden by one of the audience. The pin was hidden by a Trinity student in an adjoining room in the presence of the committee, among whom was a confederate. The student, suspecting the man from his looks, slyly took away the pin from his hiding place. On his return to the platform the thought-reader gazed into the hider's face, and putting his hand to his brow, was blindfolded and led the student to the hiding place, but of course could find no pin. He returned, acknowledged his defeat, and looked daggers at his confederate. "Now, gentlemen," said the student, "I'll undertake to say that if this diviner of the human mind will do as I tell him half the audience, without a single hint, will know where the pin is," and turning to the thought-reader, he said: "Sit down." He did so. There was a yell, and jumping up the thought-reader hastily pulled from his coat-tails the marked pin.

No Demand for Him.
"I see that Rastus Pinkley's done got home agin," said one young woman. "Yes," replied the sage of Watermelon Square; "I knowed he was'n gwinter last long when he stahted." "Whab's 'e bin?" "Bin erway settin' up in bus'ness for hissef. I tol' 'im ter go slow, but he wouldn't pay 'tention." "But what wah de bus'ness?" "What wah de bus'ness? W'y dat ar boy he done ter sot hissef' up wif a habber shop in Kansas."

No Levity About Him.
"That young man at the end of the table is an author, isn't he?" asked the observant girl. "Yes," replied the hostess, "you can tell it at a glance, can't you? He doesn't seem amused by the trifles at which all the rest of us laugh." "No. That's just what I noticed. He doesn't seem amused by anything. He just waits till he thinks nobody is watching him and writes them down on his cuff."

Edible Toadstools.
A great many people fall into the error of considering every mushroom of a certain form and shape as being fit for food. In order to show what a grave mistake this is we will say that there are upward of 500 species of fungi, toadstools or mushrooms, and that only 134 of that great number can be safely regarded as edible. In the whole of the United States there are only eight species of fungi that are fit for food and thirty that are deadly poisonous.

Killed While Bicycle Riding.
Miss Carrie E. Stoddard of Chicopee, Mass., was struck by a horse while riding her bicycle and fatally injured, dying a half hour later. The shafts of the sulky struck her in the side, forcing a corset steel into her heart.

REBUILT BY THE DOCTORS.

Very Little of the Original Left of a Minnesota Man.
An odd character is now in Winona, Minn., in the person of George Burns, who has good reason for his eccentricity. He has papers which show that he was head engineer on the steamer City of Savannah, which was wrecked off the coast of Massachusetts on Jan. 18, 1834, while en route from Boston to Florida. He was reversing the levers when the steamer struck the rocks, and he was thrown into the machinery, receiving injuries which crippled him for life. There were 118 lives lost in the accident, and Burns is one of the thirty-seven survivors. For a long while he lay on a cot in the death row of Bellevue hospital, New York. Dr. Hayes Agnew attended his case and removed five ribs from his left side and trephined his skull, using six ounces of silver sheeting for this purpose. He was compelled to wear a plaster paris jacket for four years after the accident. A portion of the lower end of his spine and both elbow joints are gone. One knee cap is on the back of the leg, and his heart is on the extreme right side of his body. He is now 64 years of age and walks very well and has a cheerful disposition. He is a member of the Grand Army of the Republic and served during the war on the gunboat Essex, which was stationed at Cairo during the early days of the rebellion.

A BIFF AT BIKES.

A Doctor Says Some Pretty Mean Things About the Whirling Wheel.
Dr. Heine Marks, of St. Louis, has taken his life in his hands. He is fighting the bicycle fever. He makes bicycle riders a vast suicide club—suicide to morals and physique—and moves the bridge from under posterity. He says: "To my mind, owing to the excess of exercise indulged in by bicycle riders of to-day, when a man or woman buys a wheel they take the first spadeful of earth from their grave. First, you have a kind of paralysis of the hands from constant gripping of the handle bar, then contraction of the muscles of the legs, contraction of the posterior muscles of the lower limbs and of the inside muscles of the thighs, round shoulders from stooping over, and contraction of the chest. This causes congestion of the lungs, and leads to consumption. Continued violent exercise also leads to enlargement of the heart. Furthermore, with men, rupture, varicocele, hydrocele, follow, and, worst of all, it destroys virility. Take into consideration the abandon between wheel enthusiasts of the two sexes, the long lonely rides, the costuming of the women, calculated to show off their physical charms. With women, constant riding causes trouble to which women are peculiarly heir, and also conduces to immorality."

Had Been Learning.

"Dear little mother!" said the young man who had been away from home for six months, as he opened a letter addressed to him in the well-known handwriting of his maternal ancestor, "I wish she would go out into the world more and enjoy herself. She is such a domestic little body. I'll get all the news now about the last house-cleaning and how the cat and canary are getting along, and all about having the kitchen painted and buying new rugs for the back parlor, and so forth."

Then he opened the letter and read: "Dear Harry: I have just returned from seeing a ball game between our college nine and the team from Miggsville. Our boys were all crippled up. Burnham had a glass arm, Hawkins was almost laid up with a Charley-horse, and Spicer had a game foot. One of the stiffs from Hanksburg had spliced him three days before. But it would have done you good to see how they fell on that Miggsville pitcher. They panted him all over the field for six runs in the first inning, all of them earned, and 'Trick' Jackson made one of the longest hits ever seen on the grounds. It was a corking three-bagger, and if Fudleston had been doing his duty in the coacher's position it would have been a home run. In the fourth inning they knocked the Miggsville twirler out of the box." etc.—Chicago Tribune.

Penobscot Salmon Scarce.
Not for many years has there been such a scarcity of Penobscot salmon at this time of the year. For the last week or ten days hardly a dozen a day have been taken from the down river weirs, says a Portland, Me., special. The salmon in the markets are nearly all from the provinces, and it takes an expert to tell them from the native fish, either in appearance or taste. Seals are unusually numerous in the lower Penobscot this year and are a great pest to the fishermen. They get into the weirs and kill and eat any salmon they find, neatly scooping out all the flesh, leaving the skin only for the weir owner.

The object and prayer of said petition being to foreclose a certain mortgage executed by the defendants William Menish and wife Bridget Menish, to A. L. Ormsby, trustee for W. L. Telford, upon the following described real estate situated in Holt county, Nebraska, to-wit: The southwest quarter of section twenty-three (23), township thirty (30), range twelve (12), west, of the 6th P. M., said mortgage or deed being required to secure the payment of a certain coupon bond or note of $400, dated April 25, 1893, due June 1, 1898, with interest at seven per cent per annum, payable semi-annually, as evidenced by ten interest notes of $4 each, attached to said bond.
Plaintiffs allege that there is now due them upon said note or bond and mortgage the sum of $500, on account of the defendants failure to pay the interest notes on said mortgage, which became due December 1, 1894, and June 1, 1895, also the sum of $50 taxes paid by plaintiffs to protect their security, as well as the sum of $1.75 paid for extending abstract of title, for which sums with interest from this date plaintiffs pray for a decree, that the defendants be required to pay the same or that said premises may be sold to satisfy the amount found due. Plaintiffs also pray that the interest or claim of each of the defendants, if any they have, in said premises, may be decreed to be subject to the lien of plaintiffs mortgage and for other equitable relief.
You are required to answer said petition on or before the 4th day of November, 1895. Dated this 23rd day of September, 1895.
