RUSTLERS Acting in accordance with THE FRON-TIER's suggestion Mayor Biglin last week issued his ultimatum in the Atkinson-Kautzman egging controversy and himself carried the document to Atkinson and laid it before the mayor. The demands of the paper were that the city of Atkinson should pay as indemnity $1,500 for each egg thrown at O'Neill's subject while he was playing for a dance in Atkinson on New Year's eve. In case of a refusual war was to be at once declared and the Connaught Rangers sent out with instructions to destroy the commerce of the city, stampede the herds of her husbandmen in the outlying districts, storm the walls and sack the town.

There was no hesitation on .he part of Atkinson's mayor. He simply asked what was the total amount claimed, and being informed that it footed up $6,000; drew a check for the amount, remarking
