Unadilla, N. Y., (Special)—One of cur substantial men here, Fred J. Joyce, recently made a $2.50 investment, and considers the results worth $500 to him. For over fifteen years Mr. Joyce was an inveterate smoker, and the tobacco-habit gained such a hold on him that it affected his nervous system and made it impossible for him to quit. Upon realizing the loss of health and money which threatened him, he made many unsuccessful attempts to break himself of the life-sapping habit, until on a chance he took No-To-Bac, the great cure which has saved over 300,-000 tobacco victims. Two boxes completely cured Mr. Joyce, and he has no desire for tobacco now whatever. When he attempts to smoke it makes him as dizzy as when he first acquired the habit. He now is in the very physical condition, and $500 would not tempt him to use tobacco again.

CLAIMS MADE AGAINST THE WILSON BILL.

He Says the Decrease in the Value of Farm Animals in Two Years Has Been

$664,000,000-A Plaint From the Wool

Growers-Senator Vest Denounced in Strong Words.

A Bitter Arraignment. WASHINGTON, Jan. 24. - Senator Warren of Wyoming addressed the Senate to-day on his resolution calling attention to the shrinkage in the number and value of farm animals and requesting the finance committee to report appropriate legislation. The Senator attributed the shrinkage to the Wilson bill, which, he declared, had caused a loss of $664,000,000 to the American people in live stock in two years. The talk that wool growers were more prosperous under free wool was preposterous. The elections of 1895 indicated that after 1896 a corporal's guard only of the faithful would be left to mark the spot "where once stood a triumphant, rampant Dem-ocracy fighting under the unpatriotic black flag of Wilsonism—the emblem of protection to foreign industries and distress to our own left the McKinker doo'" said Mr. Warren, "your own Wilson bill has certainly been a conspicuously stomach trying 'Jonah.'"

The result of Republican and Democratic tariff policies Mr. Warren summed up by saying that United States live stock interests had thrived under Republican rule and had de-creased always, both in numbers and value, under Democratic administrations. As corresponding with our own great national shrinkage, he pointed out an immense increase in the busitions. ness of foreign countries in our mar-kets and that, while sneep of the United States are worth little more than one-half what they were two years ago, the wool exportation from England to America in 1895 was nearly triple that of 1894.

Mr. Warran in strong language denounced Senator Vest for excoriating the Supreme court for reversing the precedent in the income tax cases and precedent in the income tax cases and then himself (Vest) glorying in the fact that the economical law of a tariff on wool had been, after eighty years, overturned by the Wilson bill, that crowning infamy that the Senate first pitied then endured then embraced. He closed by urging a change in the un-American policy to stop the golden drain by the collection of gold for

A resolution by Mr. Perkins of California was agreed to, requesting the secretary of the interior to furnish information as to the extent of the illicit traffic in liquor in Alaska and to

Debs for an alleged con-tempt of court, and who shall report to the Senate and recommend such legislation as may be necessary for the enforcement of the law and protection of citizens from arbitrary and oppressive excess of judicial power."
Mr. Call said he would call up the resolution to-morrow.

It was disclosed at this point that the Pugh resolution for the payment of bonds in silver had lost its parliamentary status yesterday and was at the foot of the calendar. Mr. Pugh protested that this was contrary to his understanding. Mr. Hill said Mr. Pugh had been warned of this. "I deny that statement," said Mr.

"The senator is simply denying the record," answered Mr. Hill, pointing out how the resolution had lost its place of precedence before the Senate. He added: "The senator (Pugh) walked straight into the opening.'

Pugh.

"I can easily be trapped," responded Mr. Pugh, "by such skillful means as those adopted by the senator from New York."

Mr. Pugh sought to get his resolu-tion restorsd, but Mr. Hill objected to each move, causing much amusement.
Mr. Pugh finally gave notice that he would move to morrow to restore the resolution, adding: "The senator from New York will not be able to avoid going on record on that resolution.

Mr. Warren was then recognized and delivered the speech given above.

Armenian Resolutions in the House.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.-Contrary to expectation to-day's meeting of the House foreign affairs committee did not deal with any of the several important questions before the committee except the Armenian massacre. In response to demands from religious and other organizations, resolutions patterned after those before the Senate were adopted and Mr. Quigg was directed to report them to the House. Nothing was done about Ambassador Bayard's two speeches. The commit-tee adopted the diplomatic and con-sular appropriation bill without changes from last year's allowance.

Quiet Has Been Restored in Transvanl-Impartial Trial for Prisoners.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 24. - The Examiner has received the following telegram from President Kruger in reply to a message asking information as to the status of the American mining men now imprisoned at Pretoria for alleged participation in the upris-ing of the Uitlanders: "Everything is quiet at present. The Americans are in no danger whatever. They enjoy the full protection of the law like any other foreigners, therefore there is no need for protection from the outside against any alleged revolutionary moves. Even if such protection against revolutionists were necessary, which is not so, the Americans are capable to take care of themselves. The government regrets deeply that, whilst almost ail of the Americans took the side of law and order, a very few of them have joined the revolu-tionary, so-called reform committee. These, together with a majority, mostly British, will be tried according to law, and justice will be accorded to all without respect to nationality."

MISAPPLICATION OF THE MONROE DOCTRINE.

It Was Not Intended for the Times in Which We Live and Move Now-Does Not in Any Sense Apply to the Venezuela Controversy-It Was a Mere Measure of Self-Defense.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.-The Senate galleries were well filled to-day in anticipation of the speech of Senator Wolcott of Colorado on the Monroe doctrine. A majority of the members of the Senate committee on foreign relations were present.

After referring to the message of President Cleveland on the Venezuelan question and the appointment of the commission to determine the true aivisional line separating Venezuela and British Guiana, Senator Wolcott said that, under the circumstances, it would ordinarily seem to be the part of wisdom to refrain at present from further comment upon so sensitive and delicate a matter. Continuing, he said; "The remarks

I shall make will be chiefly that the so-cailed Monroe doctrine has been misapplied in the pending controversy; that so much of President Monroc's message as referred to the colonization of portions of America by Eupean powers could have no applicability to any boundary dispute now existing in South America; that the hostility to the extension by European powers of their system to any portion of this hemisphere, as expressed in that message, had especial reference to the systems of government which were based on the divine right of kings and The following answer was received:

'The Queen desires to sincerely thank you and your fellow countrymen for their kind sympathy, which Her their kind sympathy the growth and the sympathy that the sympathy the sympathy that the sympathy the sympathy that which were directed to the overthrow hemisphere or as committing this gov-ernment to maintain the doctrine outside its own borders or except as its own integrity might be affected; that this country is embarking upon a new and different policy from the one laid down by our fathers, and that from 1821 until now, congress has uniformly declined to define the so-called Monroe declined to define the so-called Monroe doctrine or to adopt it as a rule of

There has been much tension for the last few weeks. The letter of the secretary of state to Mr. Bayard was, from a diplomatic point of view, almost incendiary. The President's message glowed with possibilities of war. Members of both Houses of Congress, not to be outdone, followed the President's suggestion as to the appointment. suggestion as to the appointment of a commission with feverish haste. But what the commission is to do or how it is to do it, nobody knows, but we have created it and it stands, as yet more a menace than a guarantee of peace.

"The efforts of the government to fire the national heart have not been unavailing nor was the work at the contract."

unavailing, nor was the work difficult. There is discontent, too, with existing conditions in many sections of the country, and men feel that any change, even war with a foreign country, could not make matters worse, and might bring improvement. There are all over the West and South, men who work on their farms, and find the grain they raise little more valuable for food than as fuel, who know that the railways that charge them for the transportation of their products are largely owned in Great Britain and either prosperous, or if insolvent, are fostered and protected and managed by the federal courts. They also vie w with distrust the close financial relations existing between the bankers of the East and those of London, and they would welcome any event, even war, that would result, as they believe war would result, in destroying these relations and lead us to rely upon our resources alone and to embrace economic policies which would not be dependent on those of foreign countries. Thoughtless and weak and ignoront these views may be but the not familiar with the conditions, or opinions, in many states of the Union.

"There has never been a doctrine more misunderstood or misapplied than the Monroe doctrine. It is, and ever has been, without recognition by other countries, and has always been refused approval by Congress. President Monroe protested not against despotic governments, but against its forcible extension by the Holy Alliance in this Western world, of which he stood in well grounded fear. Congress had failed to give the Monroe doctrine official sanction and when a congressional resolution respecting Panama was under discussion Congress expressly refused to committ itself to the Monroe doctrine in any form.

"The Monroe doctrine was essentially a doctrine of self-defense, promulgated for our own preservation and for no other purpose. We have made it infinitely more difficult for Great Britain to accept arbitration by our demonstrative diplomacy and volunteer commission; and we are drifting into a position where Great Britain's refusal to arbitrate, and she may lawfully refuse, will be considered as de-manding from us a dignified and earnest protest.

"In my opinion there will be no war. It will be averted, not because our position toward Great Britain in her dispute with Venezuela is tenable, not because by our moderation and wisdom we avert the possibilities of war, but because Great Britain will yield the whole controversy rather than face the horrors of such a war over such a question.

From the few details received it appears that the prince suffered a relapse yesterday, while on board the British cruiser Blonde, on her way to Madeira with the sick man. OKLAHOMA OPPOSED.

The Committee on Territories Flooded With Adverse Arguments.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28. - Chairman Scranton of the committee on territories is receiving such large numbers of communications in every mail adverse to the admission of Oklahoma as suggests deliberately concerted opposition. Many of them from his own State of Pennsylvania, but the whole Eastern coast is abundantly represented. The argument employed in every case is that if the Territory became a State two more silver senators would almost certainly be sent to represent it, and increase by so much the already formidable odds, against which the sound money men have to fight at the north end of the capitol. The same reasoning is used against New Mexico and Arizona. Flynn is combatting it as best he can. Okla-homa, he declared, would be at least a debatable State on the money issue, one which neither side would claim with certainty in advance of a test at the polls.

"Blanche was sick for over three years. She had the care of the best physicians procurable, and no expense or trouble was spared to give her relief. She was so thin that she was fairly skin and bones, her digestion was out of order and she had the most awful headaches. We gave up all hope of her recovery. Her long, thin, listless face made me nearly half crazy, and we did every thing in our power to give her strength and induce her to take am interest in anything.

"One day a friend told me about the Pink Pills, and Mr. Hartness went down town and got three boxes. She had taken about one box, when, to my amazement, one morning I heard her playing on the plano. I could hardly believe it, for it had been over a year since the plano had been opened.

"Soen she began to take short rides on her bleycle, and soon she went singing around the house, our own happy, hearty little daughter once more.

"She thinks nothing of a spin on her wheel over to Mt. Clemens or Pontiac, and is as well as she ever was.

"I had a girl living at our house who was a great sufferer from impoverished blood, and who received instant and permanent relief from the use of one box of the pills.

"If this information can be of any use to help some poor sick one, it is given with the greatest of pleasure."

The proprietors of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills state that they are not a patent medicine but a prescription used for many years by an eminent practitioner who produced the most wonderful results with them, curing all forms of weakness arising from a watery condition of the blood or shattered nerves, two fruitful causes of almost every ill to which flesh is heir. They are entirely harmless and can be given to weak and sickly children with the greatest good and without the slightest danger. Pink Pills are sold by all dealers, or will be sent post paid on receipt of price, 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50—by addressing D

The Quiet Farm Life.

Many complain of the confinement of farm life, and especially at night they must be at home. Statistics show that nine-tenths of the crimes committed in the world are done between sunset and runrise. Blessed rather is the farmer's family, safe from the temptation and secure in the pure influence of home. Let us build our homes, sending forth a moral and religious influence, a spot that will be remembered with pleasure by our children in the years to come, a quiet retreat in which to entertain our friends, a rest for the weary tertain our friends, a rest for the weary traveler and stranger and an honor to the community in which we live, and we can say we have made the farm pay. —Farmers' Review.
