Upon motion the central committee was empowered to name the delegates to the congressional convention, in case it should be necessary to select the same before the meeting of the next county convention.

There being no further business the convention adjourned.

SPRINGTIME NUPTIALS.

In the town of Burwell, at the residence of M. H. Coffin, April 8, at 10 o'clock A. M., Mr. Walter A. Wyant and Miss Dorthea M. Eisele were united in marriage, Rev. S. Helm, M. E. pastor,

Mr. Wyant is a popular, industrious and steady young man, who, for the past winter, has been head clerk at G. and has a large circle of friends and acquaintances. The bride, better known by name of Susie, is an estimable, talented young lady, whose friends are legion, and who wish her all happiness possible. She is the sixth daughter of W. F. Eisele, ex-supervisor of Conley. The happy couple returned to the home of N. Wyant, fourteen miles from town, where a wedding reception was tendered them. The home was beautifully decorated and full of relatives and friends. The evening was spent in a most enjoyable manner, socially and musically. A dainty and delicious spread of refreshments was served. The tables were made very attractive by the tasteful arrangement of flowers. The bride was attired in a dark blue Tribly suit ordered from Chicago. The entire dress being a profusion of white lace, satin ribbon and butterflies of velvet caught with silver buckles, light slippers and gloves, a wreath of lillies of the valley and tea roses tied with ribbon encircled her head. She carried a white ribboned feather fan. The groom wore the conventional black, white necktie and gloves, with a buttonierre of lillies of the valley. An elegant array of presents were received, to numerous to mention. The contracting parties will go to house keeping in the month of May.

A REPLY.

EDITORS FRONTIER: Pardon me for asking space in your valuable columns for the purpose of answering an article which appeared in the Beacon Light purporting to have been from one Adam Martin, but who has the brazen effrontry to inform me that he was not aware of what was contained therein, having been asked to sign or allow his name to be used in connection therewith by other parties who are probably more interested in attempting to slander my character than appears on the surface.

the lights upon the past deeds of this man Martin, it appears my only recourse since he will allow himself to be dictated to by thieves who use him as a tool, and who sit by and laugh while he attemps

When this scoundrel was accused of stealing onions and tomatoes from Dan McClellan why was the latter refused a warrant by this Black John? Was it because he was a member also of this same thieving gang who are banded together for the purpose of preying upon their neighbors?

This man, who resembles the Africas Ape, and has less brains, was captur by my dogs while monkeying around my smoke house and granary. This is the man they hide behind, who was caught by Mr. Wagner handling his corn under peculiar conditions. This is the poor weak creature, whom the man that writes letters to a weak and helpless deaf and dumb girl hides behind, and is received in the homes or respectable people and who poses as a reformer; who received the appellation of Black John in a house of ill-fame where he borrowed $5.00 and never paid it back. Ye Gods! How long will such characters be allowed to roam on this earth, making innocent people suffer by their cowardly attacks from behind a tree or hole in the ground!

Now Martin, ask your partner, John McAllister, how he got the anvil you speak of, from John McCafferty and mortgaged his team to pay for it. Were you also implicated with this partner in "getting" two breaking plows from S. M. Wagers? Tell the people that you protect him in these things together with your masked pale and cowardly associates. No, you cowardly creature I feel disgraced to see the stars and stripes flying to the breeze in the same country with you and some of your pals who fied to Canada when their presence was needed to protect it. There is no possible danger of you or your associates ever becoming attached to it or the glorious principles which men of honor fought to perpetuate.

In conclusion, have your partners read the letter for you before you allow them to sign your name, or. better still, ask them for me to sign one of their own names to the communication. I promise you I will care for the sneaking covotes as well as I have done for you.

Respectfully, CHARLES WREDE.
