The Atkinson Plain Dealer, in commenting on the Fanton trial, has the following words of praise of Attorney Dickson: "The Fanton trial was concluded Friday, and although the defense did much better than they did in the first case, in their attempt to prove an alibi. the jury agreed in convicting the defendant and returned a verdict of guiliy. Perhaps the most interesting event in the course of trial was the plea made by the defendant's counsel, R. R. Dickson, which was one of the best and most forcible arguments ever made before a jury in O'Neill; no possible trend of testimony that could possibly go toward helping the cause of his client was left untouched, but was magnified and presented to the jury in a convincing manner that added many laurels to the we wrote to Senator Thurston, asking wreath of legal achievements made by that gentleman."

One of T. N. J. Hynes' little boys had a very narrow escape from a frightful accident, and probably death, last Sunday afternoon. He, in company with other boys, was fishing at the mud bridge on the railroad a couple of miles east of O'Neill on the F. E. The boys were sitting on the bridge, which is a couple of hundred feet long, enjoying themselves as boys generally do on such occasions, when suddenly an engine came around the curve from the west. The other boys scampered away out of danger but Master Hynes became frightened and his legs refused to act. On account of deep water under and around official obser the bridge he could not jump off and was in imminent danger when O. F. Biglin happened along. #### TOM CARBERRY ESCAPED.

The motion for a new trial in the case of the state against Tom Carberry came up for argument before Judge Kinkaid last Saturday, but the prisoner pending the review of their cases by the failed to put in an appearance and an investigation disclosed the fact that he had flown, and none knew whither. It by R. R. Dickson, attorney for defend-HE WOULD NOT GO TO JAIL is thought that he left his home at Stuart last Thursday.

His bond of $800 was forfeited. The following-named gentlemen are sureties: Lewis Radcliffe, Miles Greenfield, Joseph Frost and August Allyn.

The court reprimanded the county attorney somewhat for not being ready to argue the motion for the new trial before the other cattle thieves received their sentences. It is thought the long terms given Fanton and Baraey frightened Carberry and was the cause of his lopement.

Every effort is being made to locate the gentleman and return him to the bar of justice to receive sentence.

When the board of supervisors meet they will probably be asked to offer a reward for his apprehension, but judging from their position on the Fanton case, they will not squander much money to get him.

CITY COUNCIL.

The city council met in regular session Monday evening.

A petition signed by about eighty of the citizens of the city was presented asking that the council make arrangements for having the city lit by at least five arc lights. Upon motion the prayer of the petition was granted and five lights were taken at a cost of $6 per light per month.

Upon motion the rules were suspended and ordinance No. 78 was passed. This is the curfew ordinance and provides that children under 16 years of age be kept off the street after 9 o'clock at night. The ordinance takes effect Friday evening.

It was moved, seconded and carried that all dogs running loose after Friday, May 22, without muzzles on be shot. It was also decided to strictly enforce

TO BE REVIEWED.

On May 18, last Monday, the supreme court issued an order in the Fanton and Barney cases admitting the men to bail

The case was presented to the court ants, last week.

The plaintiffs allege error on the part of the trial court, presided over by Judge Westover, in its refusal to quash the panel upon the showing made, and other matters. They also claim that the sentences are excessive and out of pro-portion to the magnitude of the crime.

THE ORDER. Following is the order issued by the court in the Barney case. The order issued in the Fanton case is the same:

court in the Barney case. The order issued in the Fanton case is the same:

This cause came on for hearing before T. L. Norval, one of the judges of said supreme court, upon the application of plaintiff in error, for a suspension of the sentence of the district court of Holt county, pending the proceedings in error in the supreme court, and it appearing that said plaintiff in error intends to have said cause reviewed in said supreme court, and that a petition in error and the transcript of the record are now on file in the office of the clerk of said court for said purpose; and it further appearing that there is probable error in the said record, it is ordered that the execution of said sentence and judgment against said plaintiff be suspended on his giving a bond and recognizance, as hereinafter provided, on or before the 25th day of May, 1896, until the further order of the supreme court. It is further ordered that said plaintiff in error, George L. Barney, be admitted to bail in the sum of $2,500 with good and sufficient sureties that he will appear at the present term of said supreme court and from term to term until this case shall be determined, and abide the judgment and sentence of the court. Said bond to be approved by the clerk of the supreme court, and unless given within the time above stated the aheriff of Holt county will carry the sentence into execution.

T. L. Noswal,

carry the sentence into execution.

T. L. Nozval.

Judge Supreme Court. The consensus of legal opinion here is that error was made by the trial court, and that supreme court will so hold, in which event the cases will come back for new trial.
