A GERMAN "KING OF TRAMPS." Valiant Soldier, He

Hopeless Wreck. A few days ago there was buried in Brooklyn, N. Y., the body of William Heiser, alias "Jumbo," 45 years of age. He was known as "The King of Tramps," and for the past twenty years was one of the most interesting characters of the city. He was the son of the mayor of a town in Germany, and through a money broker was in receipt of an allowance of $100 every three months. Even under the dirt of a tramp he showed his breeding. Tall and commanding in appearance, he was in the habit of reminding all with whom he came in contact that although a tramp he was once a gentleman. Of the thousands who knew him no one could contradict him. Twenty years ago he made his appearance in Brooklyn. It was at the time when lodging houses were atached to the station houses. He was wer about the Bedford avenue station, aleaning and tending the furnaces. Ali attempts to make him talk of his previous life were a failure. His only answer was: "I am a gentleman if I am a tramp." It was his pleasure on receiving a remittance to take his friends out and get them drunk and then pay their fines. Through the money broker it was learned that "Jumbo" gained a gold medal during the Franco-Prussian war, but that having incurred the enmity of the German government he came to this country. Eighteen months ago, on expressing a wish to reform, his relatives sent him $1,000, with which he started in the furniture business, but failed. An officer found him sitting on the steps of the hospital at Bedford avenue and South Third street. He awoke him. "Keep moving," said the officer. Jumbo's reply, "They don't know me any more," was scarcely audible, but he kept moving as best he could. A few $4 FOR A YEAR, $2 FOR SIX MONTHS hours later another officer found him sitting in the gutter. He made an attempt to get up, but fell back unconscious. He was taken to the station house, where he died. Fortunately the regular $100 remittance was received the day after, and he was not buried in the potter's field.

THE MYSTIC THREE.

omething About the Time-Honored

Superstition for the Number. I was reading an article the other day on the superstitious regard for the number three, and it set me thinking. There must be something in it. The third repetition of anything is generally looked upon as a crisis. An article may be twice lost and recovered, but when lost the third time is lost for good. Twice a man may pass through some great danger in safety, but the third time he loses his life.

If, however, the mystic third can be successfully passed all is well. Three was called by Pythagoras the perfect number, and we frequently find its use symbolical of deity. For instance there are the Trinity of the Christian religion, the trident of Neptune and the three-forked lightning of Pluto. In mythology there are the three Fates, the three Furies and the three Graces. Shakespeare introduced three witches. I can remember the old nursery rhyme about the three wise men of Gotham, and the song of the three blind mice whose tails were cut off by the farm-

I have heard of three volume novels, and know that most doctors order their medicine to be taken three times a day. We eat three times a day The Bible speaks of a man being thrice blessed. The old saw-"If at first you don't succeed, try, try again"—gives three trials. Cleveland tried three times for the presidency and succeeded twice. Surely he is not going to brave fate and try

Hard on the Rescue "Charlie Brown-later on the famed Aretemus Ward of literature and I were walking toward the office along toward 1 o'clock in the morning, when we were reporters together on the Connects at Sloux City with all diverging lines, landing passengers in Cleveland Leader," said Gen. Warren P. Edgarton, "when we heard piercing cries from the second story of the house. "'Ah, ha! Beauty in distress!' ejaculated Brown. 'Let's go over.' where the trouble was. We saw a burly fellow fearfully belaboring his little mite of a wife, and I rushed in to do the saving act. Well, that fellow was a whopper. The table was set for a meal, he evidently being some sort of a night-worker, and the first thing he did was to swing me across the top of it, making a clean sweep of the dishes and the hash. Then I was fired under the table and had it overturned on me. Just then as I got a chance to breathe. I looked around to see what Brown was doing for the relief of the country.

"'Time!' he shouted; and as I turned my banged-up head I saw him perched on a chair on the corner, with his watch in his hand, enjoying the situation hugely.

"The ruffian let me up and we two proceeded on our way. The next day after I had the pleasure of reading a vivid account of the fight described by 'rounds' as Brown saw the scrap."-Philadelphia Call.

Tilden Encouraged Young Politicians. Governor Tilden believed in encouraging the aspirations of young men with a taste for political life, and in according to them all the opportunities for honorable party service and dis-tinction that could be put in their way. Every man was to be used, and to be given employment, as far as possible, that would be congenial to him. The party that adopts and follows a theory of politics like this will make bosses impossible, and adherence to such a reasonable theory will add to rather than diminish the number of members of its conventions conspicuous for char-acter and worthy of canadeope. HARD-PAN BUSINESS.

there Was no Sentiment in This Particular Transaction.

He stepped out of a doorway on a city avenue the other night and confronted a pedestrian to say: "Time is money and I will detain you but a moment." "That's right-what is it?" was the

"You have no money for such as

"No, sir-no, sir!" "Because I would make for the nearest saloon and spend it for drink?" "That's it exactly." "But, on the other hand, you are a tumane man and would not see me want for food?" "I might be willing to fill you up at restaurant, but I'm not buying beer for tramps. "Certainly not. We now come to business. To fill me up at the cheapest restaurant in this town would cost you from $6 to $8, as I have eaten nothing for a week. On the other hand, you can buy me off for fifteen cents in cash. Sentiment does not enter into the question. You either pay out at least $6 or only fifteen cents. It's for you to say which. Owing to the hard times you-"

"Here's your fifteen," said the pe-destrian, as he jingled two coins in his palm.

"Thanks-that's business." "But as you have consumed thirty eents' worth of my valuable time I'll replace it in my pocket and send you a bill for the balance. Straight business-no sentiment-good night."

And the tramp watched him out of sight and heaved a long sigh and whispered to himself: "That's a horse on me, and I guess I'd better look around for a saddle or

It was a convivial party, and it had reached that stage where the 'invis-ible spirit of wine' makes itself decidedly visible. One of the party was of the kind that carry well a heavy load, and even when fully cargoed present but few evidences to the eye of such a condition. Another was of exactly the opposite nature, one of those individuals who when in their cups look it, smell of it, and are alternately laughing and crying, aggressive and affectionate. The quieter looked the noisier over while the latter was making an unpleasant exhibition of himself and remarked to a neighbor: "How-hic-how much a drunken drunkard diaguete a sober
