The "Jersey Lilly" has secured a divorce and is now looking for a man with a large bank account.

JERRY SIMPSON no longer believes it possible to extract fun out of an attempt to worry Speaker Reed.

D. C. HARRISON, of Emporia, is being mentioned as an available candidate for county superintendent.

The decision in the Nebraska maximum rate law will not be given by the supreme court until October.

The on-the-fence democratic senators are trying to steer the silver democrats up against a bunco tariff game.

The Burwell Masoot says, "If you want to be murdered and have no questions asked, go to Ord." How is it, Bro. Haskill?

The country is with President McKinley and congress in their effort to look after the welfare of American citizens in Cuba.

One of the principal industries of the Kansas populist is defending themselves from charges of dishonesty made by populists.

HENRY BOLLIN, Omaha's defaulting treasurer, has been taken to the penitentiary to serve out the sentence imposed, nineteen years.

Every republican in congress will be found voting for that tariff bill when it has been finally completed, and there will also be other votes cast for it.

In Spain has no better security than Cuba to offer for the new forty million dollar loan she is trying to negotiate, it is not likely that the cash will be forthcoming.

Because a man has a black eye and walks with a limp does not necessarily imply that he tackled the wrong editor in a search for satisfaction, but sometimes it does.

We are a little bit afraid that the Texas youth who murdered three men, two of them brothers of the bride, in order to elope with a girl, will not make a model husband.

The populist state officials stand in with the railroads if they do not with the people. As long as they are in a position to fix the "boys" with passes they have no fears.

The Valley County Times is a new candidate for public favor. The first two copies show that the boys mean business. We wish the Times many kinds of good things.

The republican who thinks the formation of a new party is made necessary by his failure to get office, is a mighty poor republican. This is our opinion of John Wannamaker.

The famous Bill Greene, congressman from the big Sixth, returned to his home at Kearney last week and we presume is telling the boys how he opened the eyes of the down-easters.

"Holt county indignantly resents the charge that she is responsible for another murder in the killing of Frank Cole there the other day. Holt county has enough sins of her own so that people who come in there to be killed should not be counted."—Ord Quiz. Brother Haskill should be a little careful. Anyone living in Valley county should not throw stones at Holt, or any other county.

The democratic program is to drop silver for a time in order to try to elect legislatures, that will send democrats to the senate, in New York, Ohio and Maryland, states which have recorded themselves against free silver.

If Mr. Chapman, the New York stock broker, who has gone to jail in Washington for refusing to answer questions asked by senators who investigated the sugar scandal connected with the passing of the Wilson tariff bill by the democrats, is as smart as brokers usually are he will utilize in some profitable way the enormous lot of free advertising he is getting.

The appointment of E. H. Hemming to the position of chief of detectives of the Omaha police force is a sure indication that the police commission is looking for good men, and not for politicians, for the force. Mr. Hemming has been police reporter for the World-Herald for nearly ten years, and during that time has achieved an enviable reputation for detective ability and faithfulness. His work in the Notson and other cases showed his ability as a detective, and this ability, coupled with his knowledge of criminals and their methods, will enable him to perform the duties of the office with credit to himself and to the entire satisfaction of the taxpayers and citizens generally.—World-Herald.

How about his great (?) detective work on the Barrett Scott case?

It is a noticeable fact that the people who do most of the whining about hard times, hardships of the working classes, low wages paid, the length of working time, etc., are almost invariably those who have the least responsibility upon them and who are the least inclined to take advantage of the opportunities offered for them to advance in whatever line they may be engaged. The men who have families to support and who desire to advance do all that they can to make themselves valuable to their employers, and it seldom that there is any reason for complaint by reason of failure on the part of the efforts made in their interest. In almost all of the troubles between the employers and the employees, the beginning of the difficulty is with those who simply attempt to get the greatest amount of compensation for the least amount of service rendered. When it is considered that in nearly every instance the employer works more hours and at much more arduous tasks than is required of the employee, with the existence of a spirit of fairness on both sides there would never be an occasion for any conflict between the employers and the employed.—South Omaha Sun.

UNREASONABLE COMPLAINT.

The complaint against the republican party because there has not already been a general and complete restoration of prosperity is unreasonable. It disregards conditions which every intelligent man should consider. In the first place it must be borne in mind that the republican party is not in complete control of the government. It controls the executive branch and the house of representatives, but not the senate. No fair-minded man will assert that the party has not endeavored, to the extent of its power and opportunity, to fulfill its promise to the country.

A republican president and house of representatives were chosen last November upon the assurance that the existing monetary standard would be maintained and that there would be a revision of the tariff so as to provide more revenue and give better protection to home industries. That result removed all apprehension regarding the currency. Everybody understands that there is no danger of a debasement of our money during the term of the present administration. Every dollar will be kept as good as gold. The first act of the republican president was to call an extraordinary session of congress to revise the tariff. On the second day of the session a bill which had been framed by the republican members of the ways and means committee was reported to the house and without unnecessary delay it was passed by that body. Were the republicans in control of the senate that measure might now be law and if it were law there can be no doubt that there would be less reason for complaint of the tardy return of prosperity. But the senate not being republican the tariff bill has been resting there nearly a month and its consideration, which will be entered upon today, will certainly be prolonged for another month and possibly for a longer time. Meanwhile importations have been flowing into the country, filling every available warehouse with foreign goods and compelling our own manufacturers to curtail operations at a time when the industries ought to be active.

It is not the republican party that is responsible for this situation. So far as they could a republican president and house of representatives have endeavored to apply what they believe to be a remedy for depression and a means of restoring prosperity and it is not their fault that their policy is not now in force. They have done their duty in responding promptly to the demand of the country, distinctly made in their election, for new tariff legislation and delayed prosperity is not due to any fault or failure on their part. The responsibility rests with those who oppose republican policy and who refuse to regard the plainly indicated will of the people. Besides this opposition to tariff change there is another cause of delayed prosperity. That is the mischievous agitation for so-called currency reform. It is insisted by those who carry on this agitation that the republican party is pledged to a reform of the currency—that is, to the retirement of legal tender notes. For this is all there is to the proposed reform. There is, however, nowhere to be found any such pledge. This agitation operates to increase the conservatism of capital.

But after all, the industrial and business conditions are very much better than they were a year ago. There is more capital invested in productive enterprises and more labor employed. The aggregate of consumption is larger. While, therefore, the situation is not all that could be desired, it is by no means so bad as the unfair and uncandid critics of the republican party allege.—Bee.

Mrs. Anna Gage, wife of Ex-Deputy U. S. Marshal, Columbus, Kan., says:

"I was delivered of TWINS in less than 90 minutes and with scarcely any pain after using only two bottles of 'MOTHERS' FRIEND'."

DID NOT SUFFER AFTERWARD.

Mrs. A. Inveen, residing at 730 Henry St. Alton, Ill., suffered with sciatic rheumatism for over eight months. She doctored for it nearly the whole of this time, using various remedies recommended by friends, and was treated by the physicians, but received no relief. She then used one and a half bottles of Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which effected a complete cure. This is published at her request, as she wants others similarly afflicted to know what cured her. Only One Standard

You and we may differ as to money standards and out of our very differences good may come. But we won't differ as to the merits of one standard emulsion of cod-liver oil. SCOTT'S EMULSION has won and held its way for nearly 25 years in the world of medicine until to-day it is almost as much the standard in all cases of lung trouble, and every condition of wasting whether in child or adult as quinine is in malarial fevers. Differ on the money question if you will, but when it comes to a question of health, perhaps of life and death, get the standard. Your druggist sells Scott's Emulsion. Two sizes, 50 cts. and $1.00. SCOTT & BOWNE, New York.

Something to Know. It may be worth something to know that the very best medicine for restoring the tired and nervous system to a healthy vigor is Electric Bitters. This medicine is purely vegetable, acts by giving tone to the nerve centres in the stomach, gently stimulates the liver and kidneys and aids the organs in throwing off impurities in the blood. Electric Bitters improves the appetite, aids digestion and is pronounced by those who have tried it as the very best blood purifier and nerve tonic. Try it. Sold for 50c or $1 per bottle at Corrigan's.
