W. W. Sackett was in from Chambers yesterday and made a pleasant call at this office. Mr. S. says the whole south country is strong for the republican ticket.

Mrs. M. J. Daley and Mrs. James Coffey, of Park City, Utah, who have been visiting relatives here the past six weeks, left for their home yesterday morning.

Miss Sadie Skirving was the recipient of a pleasant surprise party last evening in honor of her 17th birthday. A very pleasant time is reported by those in attendance.

Moments are useless if trifled away; and they are dangerously wasted if consumed by delay in cases where One Minute Cough Cure would bring immediate relief. HERSHISER & GILLIGAN.

The west bound passenger train was three hours late last night on account of a broken eccentric. The east bound this morning is also three hours late, the cause being unknown.

To heal the broken and diseased tissues, to soothe the irritated surfaces, to instantly relieve and to permanently cure is the mission of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. HERSHISER & GILLIGAN.

Clinton Lowrie left Tuesday morning for Princeton, N. J., where he is taking a course in the celebrated university at that place. He will probably be joined by another O'Neill boy in a couple of weeks.

Sioux City Times, August 31: The Yankton Telegram, the oldest populist paper in South Dakota, changed hands today, Ham Kautzman, of O'Neill, Neb., editor of the Beacon Light at that place taking possession.

John Skirving spent Sunday in Ainsworth where Mrs. Skirving has been visiting friends the past two weeks. John came home Monday morning, Mrs. Skirving remaining in Stuart, where she will visit old neighbors for a few days.

No man or woman can enjoy life or accomplish much in this world while suffering from a torpid liver. DeWitt's Little Early Risers, the pills that cleanse that organ quickly. HERSHISER & GILLIGAN.

Wednesday morning we received a letter from Homer Garretson, who now lives at Worthington, Minn. He informed us that a son was born to them last Monday morning. We hope that he will live to a good old age and be the pride of his parents.

Small precautions often prevent great mischiefs. DeWitt's Little Early Risers are very small pills in size, but are most effective in preventing the most serious forms of liver and stomach troubles. They cure constipation and headache and regulate the bowels.

W. J. Dobbs, J. J. King, J. P. Gilligan, Clyde King, E. H. Benedict and Ed Grady went over to Butte Monday morning to assist the Butte lodge, A. F. and A. M., in conferring degrees upon some candidates. They returned home Tuesday and report having had an enjoyable time.

Judge Kinkaid went down to Ewing Monday morning to perform the ceremony which united Miss Josie Trommershauser and Geo. A. Raker. The judge has made it a practice to decline when asked to tie the nuptial knot, but as it was by request of the bride of course the judge could not refuse.

Certainly you don't want to suffer with dyspepsia, constipation, sick headache, sallow skin and loss of appetite. You have never tried DeWitt's Little Early Risers for these complaints or you would have been cured. They are small pills but great regulators. HERSHISER & GILLIGAN.

County Clerk Bethes has dispensed with the services of his deputy, M. H. McCarthy. The business of the office did not justify Mr. Bethes in continuing the full force of clerks, and of course family ties had more weight, in determining who was to remain, than did efficiency in doing the work in the office.

P. J. McManus returned from Chicago last Saturday evening, where he has been the past three weeks purchasing his fall and winter stock. While away Pat purchased a large stock of clothing which he will add to his already well equipped store, making it one of the best stocked stores in western Nebraska. Judging from the large stock of goods he purchased on this trip, we believe that he thinks the prosperity the republican party promised last fall has arrived. Watch for his announcement next week.

In compliance with a recent order of the railroad company, Agent Dobbs and Operator Gallagher are sporting bran new black silk caps trimmed with gold braid, and with the words "agent" and "operator" in raised gold letters across the front. They are a very neat, tasty cap, and improve the boys appearance greatly—not on the theory that anything would be an improvement, but they add a finishing touch where none was needed. Dobbs is particularly well pleased, because he will never again be mistaken for Joe Meredith.

Advocate: We are informed that not long since a young lady called at the post office at Orchard and bashfully inquired of the postmaster if there was a letter for her. "Business or love letter," jokingly inquired the postmaster. "Business," was the reply, accompanied by a flush of deepest crimson. As there was no such letter to be found, she took her departure. She came back, however, after a little and said in faltering accents: "Please would you mind looking among the love letters?"

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Gatz returned Tuesday evening from Columbus, where Mrs. Gatz has been visiting relatives for the past ten days. Fred went down Saturday.

Elmer Williams and family returned from Long Pine Tuesday morning, where Mrs. Williams and the children have been enjoying an outing the past two months.

Elmer Williams turned over his office to R. H. Jenness, the newly appointed receiver, Wednesday morning. THE FRONTIER welcomes Mr. Jenness and family to O'Neill, and hopes that his official career in O'Neill will be a pleasant and profitable one. Mr. Williams has not decided as to what business he will engage in, but we trust he will decide to remain in O'Neill, where he has made many friends during his residence here, but should he desire to seek fortune elsewhere he will have the best wishes of O'Neillites for success.

Mr. James E. Ferrell, of Burnt House, W. Va., has discarded all other diarrhoea medicines and now handles only Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. He has used it in his family and sold it to his customers for years, and has no hesitation in saying that it is the best remedy for colic and diarrhoea he has ever known. It not only gives relief but effects a permanent cure. It is also safe and pleasant to take, making it an ideal remedy for bowel complaints. For sale by P. C. Corrigan, druggist.

Pierce Call: Chas. Hemstreet, of O'Neill, was in town the first of the week looking over the Hammond house and was so favorably impressed that he has made arrangements to buy it. He returned to O'Neill Wednesday to make preparations to move from there to this point. Landlord Hammond expects to dispose of his farm in Pierce county for hotel property in Neola and Tama City, Ia. He has been one of the old landmarks of Pierce, and the Call regrets that he and his estimable wife are to move from among us.

There was a pleasant social gathering at the home of J. M. Daley, ten miles northwest of O'Neill, last Monday evening, in honor of Mrs. M. J. Daley, of Park City, Utah, who has been visiting relatives here for several weeks. There were about sixty invited guests present, a large number going out from town. Dancing, which formed the chief amusement of the evening, was interrupted at 11:30 to partake of a bountiful lunch, and was then continued until a late hour, all seeming reluctant to leave a scene of so much enjoyment, but were finally induced to start by the fear that the rising sun would interrupt the joys of the homeward drive.

Married, at Ewing, Neb., on Monday, August 30, 1897, Mr. Geo. A. Raker to Miss Josie Trommershauser, Judge Kinkaid officiating. The groom is editor of the Ewing Advocate, and is quite well and favorably known throughout the county as an energetic and able newspaper man. The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Trommershauser, of Ewing, and has been one of the leaders of elite society in eastern Holt. THE FRONTIER hopes that the journey of the happy young couple down the pathway of life will be a pleasant one, and that their fondest dreams will be realized.

Dixon Tribune: J. C. Ecker, the editor of this paper, and Richard Wilde, started last Monday evening for the Black Hills country, equipped with mining tools, the necessary articles for camping out, a good supply of fish hooks and lines—we knew he would go fishing—and will prospect for a few weeks, with the anticipation of finding that which is said to be the root of all evil, and, we hope, working off a little of the Klondyke fever which has been consuming them of late. In Mr. Ecker's absence the better half and son will endeavor to dish up the news, trusting that the readers of the Tribune will have all charity for our incapability and be patient until the editor returns.

Spalding Grit: It makes us blush with pride to even write about it, but Holt Moses' did you see the score in last week's Grit? "Since 1890 there has been registered in Spalding ninety-six marriages and seven hundred and sixteen births." That's our record. Read it over again, slowly. Think of it—96 m., 716 b.—babies. And there are some who don't believe we can raise anything in Nebraska—measly tallow-faced Yanks who drag out their penurious existence on the stone farms of Vermont and New Jersey, where a real live baby is a curiosity. Ninety-six marriages; seven hundred and sixteen babies! 'Nigh unto a dozen apiece. By Caesar's ghost! marriage is no failure here, and the dry seasons cut no figure whatever, our crop of matrimonial fruit is harvested just as regular—the little dears.

JOHNSON'S CRIST.

LINCOLN, Neb., Sept. 2, 1897.—Special Correspondence: I talked with republicans from all over the state who were here attending the recent republican state convention. From I gathered that the courage of the party as to this year's campaign has risen rapidly during the last few weeks. One of the most trusted leaders said, "for several years there has been actual calamity, locally and nationally. This financial distress was an opportunity for a certain class of office seekers known as calamity politicians. When hard times brought grief and depression to the public mind the professional pessimist could get a hearing, the second rate men could get sympathy and the calamity party could get temporary support on the same principle that the black sheep is always welcomed home and treated kindly when there is a funeral in the family. I am speaking now not of the farmers who went into populism earnestly, believing that it would in some way better their condition, but of the unscrupulous politicians who shrewdly edged themselves into control of the farmer movement, recognizing the farmers' discontent as their opportunity. The republican party redeeming its pledges to the nation, bringing a return of old time prosperity as it promised to do, and the crop conditions being unusually favorable, there is 'no longer a reasonable reason for farmer discontent in this state. With the reasons for discontent removed, the pessimist is out of business, calamity is a lost cause, and the calamity party disconcerted and embarrassed as it never was before."

Another republican said, "The only thing the fusionists can talk to the public this year is the Bartley and Moore defalcation. Privately they will whisper to each other, 'the offices! the offices! We must keep the offices!' This yearning to keep the offices, while it will arouse the calamity office-seekers to desperation, will not interest the farmer voter, except that he will naturally desire to see the public positions in the state filled with men who are in accord with the prosperous conditions. It's an awkward situation when a prosperity-ship is manned by a calamity crew. What will the eastern people think of us if we endorse populism this year? They'll think we are crazy, sure enough."

Among the politicians at the state house I find a general disposition to sneer at eastern opinion. One of them said to me, "It's none of their business what we do in our Nebraska politics. What do we care for their opinion?" But I gather from Nebraska people as I meet them here in Lincoln that they do care for eastern opinion. Not that we are to be dictated to, but we are entering an era of returned prosperity. If through our elections and our public sentiment we show that this state is in accord with the McKinley administration there will be thousands of business men and farmers come here to buy property and live among us, who, if they saw we were maintaining a hostile attitude, were remaining one of the wailing places of calamity, would turn away in disgust. It seems to me the issue will turn on whether we manifest our prosperity or deny it. The bureau of statistics is preparing to prove that the farmers are not prosperous, that they are not paying up their indebtedness, that the crops are not as bountiful as reported, that what seems to be prosperity is only a delusion, is only temporary, and that we are to lapse back into the old conditions of grief and distress.

The governor says, "Our crops are good, but —, we might prosper, if —," and he gets his "ifs" and his "buts" into public view as prominently as possible because he believes that a majority of our people are confirmed pessimists and that by catering to that morbid sentiment he can hold himself and his coterie of flunkies in office even if the state loses what it would otherwise gain, a heavy immigration of new people and an increase in the value of its property.

The fusionists are to fuse with wind as usual this year. The hysterical demonstrations have already begun. As I write these lines the boy orator is setting the prairies on fire at Broken Bow. The World-Herald announces that the people there are "wild over Bryan." There's nothing new in that. It's not the first time they have gone wild at Broken Bow. If that old dreary dreamy-eyed Kem would show up at Broken Bow now they would set the dogs on him, and yet it's only a few short years since they went wild over him. When Old Calamity Kem stood up at Broken Bow in 1890 with tears in his eyes and tears in his voice and told the people that the money power had conspired to crush him by loaning him $1,500 on a $700 farm, and that therefore he wanted to go to congress, these wild people raised themselves up, threw their arms into the air and let forth such a wild yell that the wary coyote on the distant hill stirred the prairie grass with his nimble feet and the bob cat in the cannon, crouching low, said to himself, "they are after me." They were not after the wildcat, but after the wildcat statesman and his wildcat politics and they wanted him for his very wildness and they've been wild ever since. They went wild over Bill McKelgan, Bill Allen, Bill Green, and why shouldn't they go wild over Bill Bryan? What are all these Bills galavantiing over the country for if not to arouse wild demonstrations from that portion of the community that has been wild for years without knowing what it was all about?

They went wild over Dennis Kearney, the sand lot agitator, and carried him around on their shoulders twenty years ago in San Francisco. They went wild over Kelly as he floated his army of tramps down the Des Moines river. They went wild over Coxy when he rode his snorting sorrel stallion into the national capital. There are a good many people who go wild on small provocation. A Punch and Judy show will throw them into fits of boisterous applause. But they're not all wild at Broken Bow. Some of them are sane enough to attend to the business which is pretty good up there now.

"As Bryan mounted the stand the air was rent with joyous shouts from 8,000 throats." Well, what does that all amount to? They rent the air in Chicago last summer and a good many of them have been rending their garments in repentance every since. They rent the air for the state-house gang last fall but there's more rents now in the fusion ticket than they can ever patch up. The people of this state have to much sense to rend the air to any great extent for Bill Bryan, Bill Green, Bill Allen, or any other Bill who is trying to organize an opposition to this returning prosperity.

Nero fiddled while Rome was burning, and the world has despised him for his selfishness every since. Governor Holcomb and his cronies at the state-house played seven up with their annual passes while the eastern press was begging them to tell the eastern people something about Nebraska's prosperity. And now comes this wild free silver fanatic, dancing like a jumping jack, and saying to the public, "look at me." He wants to prolong these wild demonstrations in his own igterest and wants the people to stop their business and rend the air.

But I must close with one more sentence. Whether fusion fuses or fizzles, Judge Post, the republican nominee, honored for his honorable record, respected for his unquestioned integrity, will get every republican vote and that means his election by a safe majority: This is not my opinion alone, but the opinion of the best informed men here at the state capital. J. W. JOHNSON.

SUPERVISOR CONVENTION.

The convention for the purpose of placing in nomination a supervisor for the second supervisor district, will be held at the Minneola school house on Saturday, September, 4, 1897, at 2 p. m. The representation will be the same as that to the county convention.

WM. GRIFFITHS, Chairman.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

I have been in the drug business for twelve years, and during that time have sold nearly all the cough medicines manufactured; and from my personal knowledge of such remedies, I say that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy gives better satisfaction than any on the market.—W. M. TERRY, Elkton, Ky. Sold P. C. Corrigan, druggist.

NOTICE.

O'NEILL, NEB., August 28, 1897. To Whom it May Concern: Notice is hereby given that in accordance with commissioner's letter "C", of August 18, 1897, this office will, on and after Monday, October 4, 1897, allow homestead entries to go of record, on any and all even numbered sections in that portion of the Fort Randall military reservation lying within the state of Nebraska. Odd numbered sections, or that portion of them that may hereafter be selected, are granted to the state of Nebraska as school indemnity lands, and the state has until November 27, 1897, in which to make its selections.

S. J. WEEKES, Register. ELMER WILLIAMS, Receiver.

Fall Opening.

On Monday Sept. 13, J. P. Mann will have on exhibition his mammoth fall stock.

This promises to be the finest opening ever given by this firm. No effort will be spared to make it a grand success in every particular.

All are cordially invited to attend as the day will be entirely devoted to entertainment of customers. 8-2.

Reasons Why Chamberlain's Colic Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is the Best.

- 1. Because it affords instant relief in case of pain in the stomach, colic and cholera morbus.
2. Because it is the only remedy that never fails in the most severe cases of dysentery and diarrhoea.
3. Because it is the only remedy that will cure chronic diarrhoea.
4. Because it is the only remedy that will prevent bilious colic.
5. Because it is the only remedy that will cure epidemical dysentery.
6. Because it is the only remedy that can always be depended upon in cases of cholera infantum.
7. Because it is the most prompt and reliable medicine in use for bowel complaints.
8. Because it produces no bad results.
9. Because it is pleasant and safe to take.
10. Because it has saved the lives of more people than any other medicine in the world.

The 25 and 50c sizes for sale by P. C. Corrigan.

Electric Bitters.

Electric Bitters is a medicine suited for any season, but perhaps more generally needed, when the languid exhausted feelings prevail, when the liver is torpid and sluggish and the need of a tonic and alterative is felt. A prompt use of this medicine has often averted long and perhaps fatal bilious fevers. No medicine will act more surely in counteracting and freeing the system from the malarial poison. Headaches, indigestion, constipation, dizziness, yield to Electric Bitters. 50 cents and $1.00 per bottle at P. C. Corrigan's Drug Store.

Ballard's Snow Lintment.

This invaluable remedy is one that ought to be in every household. It will cure your rheumatism, neuralgia, sprains, cuts, bruises, burns, frosted feet and ears, sore throat and sore chest. If you have lame back it will cure it. It penetrates to the seat of the disease. It will cure stiff joints and contracted muscles after all other remedies have failed. Those who have been crippled for years have used Ballard's Snow Lintment and thrown away their crutches and been able to walk as well as ever. It will cure you. Price 50 cents. Free trial bottles at P. C. Corrigan's.

The Discovery Saved His

Mr. G. Caillouette, druggist, Beaversville, Ill., says: "To Dr. King's New Discovery I owe my life. Was taken with lagrippe and tried all the physicians for miles about, but was of no avail and was given up and told I could not live. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in my store I sent for a bottle and began its use and from the first dose began to get better, and after using three bottles was up and about again. It is worth its weight in gold. We won't keep store or house without it." Get a free trial at Corrigan's drug store.

Condensed Testimony.

Chas. B. Hood, broker and manufacturer's agent, Columbus, Ohio, certifies that Dr. King's new discovery has no equal as a cough remedy. J. D. Brown, proprietor St. James hotel, Ft. Wayne, Ind., testified that he was cured of a cough of two years' standing, caused by a grippé, by Dr. King's New Discovery. B. F. Merrill, Baldwinville, Mass., says that he has used and recommended it and never knew it to fail and would rather have it than any doctor, because it always cures. Mrs. Hemming 232 E 25th St., Chicago, always keeps it at hand and has no fear of croup, because it instantly relieves. Free trial bottles at P. C. Corrigan's drug store.

Running sores, indolent ulcers and similar troubles, even though of many years standing, may be cured by using DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. It soothes, strengthens and heals. It is the great pile cure. HERSHISER & GILLIGAN.

If you have ever seen a little child in a paroxysm of whooping cough, or if you have been annoyed by a constant tickling in the throat, you can appreciate the value of One Minute Cough Cure, which gives quick relief.

HERSHISER & GILLIGAN.

The "Bicyclist's Best Friend" is a familiar name for DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, always ready for emergencies. While a specific for piles, it also instantly relieves and cures cuts, bruises, salt rheum, eczema and all affections of the skin. It never fails.

HERSHISER & GILLIGAN.

"Last summer one of our grand-children was sick with a severe bowel trouble," says Mrs. E. G. Gregory, of Fredericktown, Mo. "Our doctor's remedy had failed, then we tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which gave very speedy relief." For sale by P. C. Corrigan.
