For county surveyor:
R. E. BOWDEN, of Paddock.

Holt county and Nebraska will get back into the union this fall by electing the republican ticket.

The pops are on the run, and from present indications it looks as if they were about ready to throw up the sponge.

Is it not rather peculiar that the free silverites had to go into the ranks of the sound money men to secure their candidate for supreme judge? The brain of the country is enlisted in the sound money cause.

Judge Post is recognized as one of the ablest jurists in the state. He has served the people of Nebraska upon the supreme bench faithfully and impartially the past six years, and is deserving of re-election at the hands of the people.

A vote for J. C. Harnish is a vote for the upbuilding of the schools of Holt county, and there is not a parent or teacher in the county but what will agree with us when we say that there is great need of improvement. Vote for J. C. Harnish.

What can we say of Will Dickerson that is not already known? A man that has lived in Holt county for twenty years and bears an unsullied reputation, both in business and private life, does not need any further recommendation. He will win in a walk. Vote for him.

There will be no hesitancy on the part of the voter in Holt county this fall, when he comes to vote for surveyor, as to whether he will vote for R. E. Bowden, a competent civil engineer, or for a man that does not know a surveyor's compass from a galling gun. Vote for R. E. Bowden.

Populists, who are populists from principle, were forced to support a democratic candidate for president last fall, and this fall the democrats are trying to force them to support a democrat for supreme judge. It does seem as though the democrats were devouring the populist party. But will the populists allow them to do it?

Show us a man who is interested in the financial welfare of Holt county, and we will show you a man who will vote for John Alderson for treasurer. A man that can successfully conduct his private business is the man to select as guardian of our county funds, and not a constitutional office seeker. Vote for John Alderson.

Holt county republicans go into the battle of ballots this fall with the determination to win, and a ticket which commands the respect and admiration of all opponents. Perhaps never in the history of parties, in Holt, has a ticket been placed before the voters that has been so well received, and all citizens, irrespective of party affiliations, are invited to join with and assist in swelling the majority for the republican candidates. Let us clean the court-house of the populist ring politicians who have had full swing the past four years. Turn them out.

D. C. HARRISON is a man, who, if elected to the office of county judge, will make his decisions in any and all cases that may come before him, in strict accord with the evidence adduced, and the law governing, and without regard to party or any other outside influences—even if he has a precedent to do otherwise. Vote for D. C. Harrison.

WHERE is there a man in Holt county that has transacted business at the court-house that does not know O. M. Collins? And to know him is to know a man of unsullied reputation, an efficient clerk, as his record for the past four years has plainly shown, and a courteous and obliging gentleman, who will make it his endeavor to comply with the wishes of the public in every way that lays in his power, in his capacity as county clerk of Holt county. Vote for O. M. Collins.

It puzzles us to know why the pops raise such a howl about high priced breadstuff, when they were arguing last fall that free silver would benefit the farmer by enhancing the value of his products. They knew that high priced wheat for the farmer meant high priced bread for the miner, but were very careful not to mention it. And now that wheat has gone up they "cuss" the republicans for raising the price of the miners' food.—Hartington Herald.

A POPULIST from the country, who attended the Bryan rally here last week, stood in the crowd listening to the "boy orator." He was quite enthusiastic when the speaking began, but as the orator progressed his ardor was seen to dwindle considerably. Finally when Mr. Bryan reached that point where he tried to lead his hearers to believe that dollar wheat is a calamity, this particular populist threw up both hands and left the place, saying that he had been raising 80 cent wheat for the past four years, and he had no use for anyone who tried to make people believe that dollar wheat was a calamity.—Chadron Journal.

THE republicans of Holt county have nominated John M. Alderson for county treasurer and they have made no mistake. Mr. Alderson is brother of "our Tom" and formerly lived in this county on the place now owned by T. H. Webster, where he resided for seven years. Mr. Alderson is thoroughly competent to discharge the duties of the office to which he aspires, and he is above everything else an honest, upright man. If the people of Holt county want for their treasurer a man who is in every way worthy of their confidence and support, they will see it that John M. Alderson is triumphantly elected.—Madison Chronicle.

THE Independent would like to see the present local campaign conducted on matters at issue between the political parties rather than personalities. * * * * *

Of course it would. It is to the interest of the pop party to keep the minds of the voters fixed on any old thing rather than to have them compare the candidates on the two tickets, when the comparison is so unfavorable to the "ring" ticket. By all means keep the people filled with the sublime thoughts of reform—as advocated by the populist platform, not as practiced by the party leaders and officials—then they won't notice the workings of the court-house "ring."

Word is received here from O'Neill, Nebraska, announcing the good news that Oliver Collins has been nominated by acclamation in a republican convention held on the 23rd for county clerk in Holt county. OI, as he was familiarly called here was for many years known in our city as an upright, bright and intelligent young man, having learned to be a telegraph operator and station agent at our depot, which avocation he followed for a number of years after moving to the state of Nebraska. Upon his strict application to his work and showing an unusual ability in the clerical profession he was very successful in winning many influential friends all over Holt county, who in turn sought to give him a more lucrative position, and assisted to a great extent to his appointment to the deputy clerkship of the district court, which position he is very satisfactorily filling at the present time. OI has always been a staunch republican and a hard untiring worker in the interest of the party and it is but right that he be recognized—so say his many friends here and there with the utmost hope that he may be elected, notwithstanding the fact that he will have a large populist majority to overcome.—Lowell (Ind.) Tribune.

AS IT was in the populist convention in Holt county, so it is all over the state. The following, taken from the report of the Antelope county pop convention in the Neligh Leader, describes the proceedings in the populist conventions all over the state: "Probably no convention of any party was ever held in Antelope county that has brought out such a vigorous protest from its party as the one called for the purpose of nominating a populist ticket last Saturday. Apparently it was only necessary to mention the fact that a candidate had always been a consistent populist to ensure his defeat. By a combination of office seekers with a few populist statesmen with a standing grievance.

In each instance there were candidates of acknowledged worth and unquestioned populist principles opposed to them, but the new converts to populism in each case proved that the office was seeking them with a force that was equally satisfactory as agreeable.

A REVISION.
Owing to the unexpected turn of affairs the farmers of the democratic state platform beg leave to submit the following amendments and corrections in one of the clauses of that document:

Prosperity has not made its appearance; the mills and shops are closing down; the army of unemployed is growing ***larger and the farmers of Iowa since his election are marketing their products at a ****less price than ever before.

†The word "not" should be omitted.
††Substitute "opening up" for "closing down."
***Should be "smaller."
****Substitute "bigger" for less.
