For Mothers!

THE discomforts and dangers of child-birth can be almost entirely avoided. Wine of Cardui relieves expectant mothers. It gives tone to the genital organs, and puts them in condition to do their work perfectly. That makes pregnancy less painful, shortens labor and hastens recovery after child-birth. It helps a woman bear strong healthy children.

McElree's Wine of Cardui has also brought happiness to thousands of homes barren for years. A few doses often brings joy to loving hearts that long for a darling baby. No woman should neglect to try it for this trouble. It cures nine cases out of ten. All druggists sell Wine of Cardui. $1.00 per bottle.

For advice in cases requiring special directions, address, giving symptoms, The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

Mrs. LOUISA HALE, of Jefferson, Ga., says: "When I first took Wine of Cardui we had been married three years, but could not have any children. Nine months later I had a fine girl baby."

The Discovery Saved His

Mr. G. Caillouette, druggist, Beaverville, Ill., says: "To Dr. King's New Discovery I owe my life. Was taken with lagrippe and tried all the physicians for miles about, but was of no avail and was given up and told I could not live. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in my store I sent for a bottle and began its use and from the first dose began to get better, and after using three bottles was up and about again. It is worth its weight in gold. We won't keep store or house without it." Get a free trial at Corrigan's drug store.

NOVELIST'S FIRST EFFORTS.

Mr. Barrie's "Recollections of a Schoolmaster Written at an Early Age." Having regard to Mr. J. M. Barrie's visit to Dumfries Academy, the Courier and Herald of that place prints some extracts from the novelist's early contributions to a school magazine called the Clown, which he and some friends started. Young Barrie writes some "Recollections" in the assumed role of a "schoolmaster" whose spelling is Artemus-Wardian. In his second installment he complains that the editor "spelt sum of the wurd in my last recollections rong," and he adds: "Altho, of coars, I mark jew allowance for your edukation not being equal to mine, I hop you will be more careful." Resuming the "Recollections," he writes:

"I always open the school with prair, as I think it a very good thing to do, and I got two skollars by it. Now, my skollars have generally very dirty faces. Well, one day in the middle of my prair won of the boys crept in belo the tabel, and when he was there another boy cam in at the door with a clean face. This was too mutch for the boy in belo the tabel, and, just as I had finished saying 'And may they orie from the botom of their hart—,' he shouted out 'Lord Almohti, there's Jock Smith w' his face washed!'"

Here is an instance of how effectively the lad could reproduce a conversation. Relating a railway journey the schoolmaster says: "On my rode we passed the river 'Aye.' A gentleman asked me, 'What river is that?' 'I was meditat'in', so I answered abruptly, 'Aye.' 'The gentleman repeated his question, and I, thinkin' he had not heard me, again replied 'Aye.' ' 'Could—you—tell—me—what—river—that—is?' he roared into my ear. 'I again answered 'Aye.' ' 'Sir, said he, 'I see you want to insult me!'"

"I couldn't comprehend what he said till another person in the train informed me that he thoat that I meant 'eh' when I said 'aye.'" Here is another example well worth giving: "The minister of the town was sed to be a good preacher, and so I went to hear him on the first Sabbath of the month. I went early, and their wer only one person there who I saw was a nelder. I sed to him, 'When does service begin?' 'The man staired. ' 'When does service begin?' I agen asked. 'To my surprize the elder exclaimed: 'What abounnabl impurtence. Pray, sur, do you know oor respectk't ministr?'"

" 'Me no him? No,' sed I. 'Then get out o' this,' he replied. 'You impuraant skoundral git out o' this; an' if I see you here agen I'll kick you out myself!'" "Of course I was gratoly astonished at the man, not noing anything I had sed about the ministr; but it struck me at wonce that the ministr's name was Service!"

Admiral de Horsey and the Sentry.

When Admiral de Horsey, who some years ago had command of the British fleet in the Pacific, was the admiral of the North Atlantic squadron, he was one evening dining on shore at Port Royal, Jamaica. On returning to his flag-ship alone after dinner, his way to the boat led across the barrack square. A black sentry, of one of the West India regiments, halted him at the gate with, "Who goes dar?" Great was the admiral's annoyance to find he had neglected to get the pass-word before leaving the ship. "That's all right," he said carelessly, hoping to overcome the man's scruples by indifference; "you know who I am." "Dunno nobody, sar," replied the nigger, pompously; "you can't go in dar." "Why, I'm Admiral de Horsey." "Well, you can't go in, I don't care if you's Admiral de Donkey."—Argonaut.

Learned by Experience.

A certain judge in Chicago, who rather prides himself on his vast and varied knowledge of law, was compelled not long ago to listen to a case that had been appealed from a justice of the peace. The young practitioner who appeared for the appellant was long and tedious; he brought in all the elementary text-books and quoted the fundamental propositions of law. At last, the judge thought it was time to make an effort to hurry him up. "Can't we assume," he said, blandly, "that the court knows a little law itself?" "That's the very mistake I made in the lower court," answered the young man, "I don't want to let it defeat me twice."—Argonaut.

A Relative in Need.

Half a century ago, when "subjects" were bought by the surgeons, a poor man, writes James Payn, fell dead in Fleet street. Without a moment's hesitation, a young fellow who was passing threw himself on his knees beside the corpse, exclaiming: "My father, my dear father!" A crowd gathered round, their sympathy was excited, and money was subscribed to enable the pious youth to take away his father's body in a hackney coach. He did so, and took it to a surgeon, who gave him a hundred dollars for it.

Four Little Things.

"What's the matter, Molly?" asked Colonel Yergor of his little 6-year-old daughter. "Pa, my moeking bird is dead." "Well, never mind, Molly, I'll buy you another one." "I am calm enough now, but when I saw that poor little dead bird I could have cried like a child," said Molly.—Texas Siftings.

HOW TO FIND OUT.

Fill a bottle or common glass with urine and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys. When urine stains linen it is positive evidence of kidney trouble. Too frequent desire to urinate, or pain in the back, is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

WHAT TO DO.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in relieving pain in the back, kidney, liver, bladder, and every part of the urinary passages. It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pains in passing it, or bad effects following the use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to get up many times during the night to urinate. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists, price fifty cents and one dollar. You may have a sample bottle and pamphlet both sent free by mail. Mention THE FRONTIER and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The proprietors of this paper guarantee the genuineness of this offer.
