Miss Augusta Myers, aged 16, a daughter of Fred Myers, a prominent farmer living ten miles north of Hay Springs, was found dead four miles north of the house in a canyon. There is a great deal of mystery attached to her death, as she was in a delicate condition and there are signs that a criminal operation was performed. By her side was found a bottle that contained whisky and a small bottle labeled "Strychinne." Many are of the opinion that these were placed there by other hands after life was extinct. ENGLAND FAVORS IT.

AS TO SETTLEMENT OF INTER-NATIONAL QUESTIONS.

Great Britain Is Not Jealous of the United States-Trusts To Canadian Loyalty to Protect Her Interests-Many Subjects at Issue in Which it is Not Concerned.

Endorsed By England. WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—There is good reason to believe that the British government will view with favor the formation of a commission to clear up vexatious questions between the United States and Canada. The attitude will be important in the consummation of the commission plan, for the best efforts of the United States and Canada toward a general settlement could come to naught unless th imperial government approved the efforts and stood ready to give them official execution in the form of a

At first the sharp differences aroused by the recent Bering sea meeting led to the belief that Great Britain might stand in the way of a commission which would discuss, among other questions, such imperial subjects as the tariff. England has been tenacious in holding the advantage secured by Canada's preferential British tariff, and it is thought the colonial office at London would not view with favor any movement by a commission which would disturb this peaceful preferen-

It appears, however, that the Britclose up the various irritating ques-tions which have long existed beween Canada and the United States through the medium of a commission or otherwise, and that no idea is entertained that when the commission dealt with the imperial subject of the tariff it would involve any disturbances of the British-Canadian tariff relations. There are said to be many articles, such as coal and fish, which are exchanged between Great Britain and Canada. On such articles, therefore, any reciprocal arrangement be tween the United States and Canada would have no influence in British trade in Canada.

The home government is said to be fully conscious of the advantages which Canada may secure in the extensive American market lying along its borders and there is understood to be every desire to aid Canada in the enjoyment of reciprocal trade with this country.

Already the British ambassador has been authorized from London to begin negotiations for reciprocity treaties between the United States and the British West Indian colonies. This is cited to show the favor which the London authorities exhibit toward securing the best reciprocal advantages for British colonies. It is said the same view would prevail as to Canadian rec iprocity. In any event, the work of a commission would be preliminary only and it would remain for the British government to give it effect by formal

The subjects other than the tariff such as border immigration, fishing in the lakes, etc., are not of an imperial character and concern only United States and Canada. In these it is said that Great Britain has no interest whatever, except to see them settled on terms satisfactory to Canada. The lake fisheries have been a prolific source of trouble. It is claimed that the fish of the lakes, particularly the white fish, are being exter minated by the lax laws of some of the states bordereing on the lakes. The destruction of the fish is said to be analogous to the destruction of the seals in Bering sea, and one of the subjects which Canada would urge before the commission would be the protection of the fisheries of the lakes.

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., Nov. 22.—A special to the Republican from Seattle, Wash., says: Charles Wood, who recently came here from Vinton, Ia., walked into the police station stated that he had met and talked with Edward Murray, for whose murder Frank Novak is now being tried in Iowa. Wood said there could be no mistake about it; that he not only saw Murray but met and shook hands and talked with him in a saloon. They had talked but a few minutes together when Murray stepped to the door, as if to call a friend, and went out and failed to return. Though Wood searched all over town he could find no trace of the man again. He at once reported the matter to a man whom he believed to be a police of-ficer, but he was not, and did not give it to the police until tonight. The police are looking for Murray. Chief of Police Read wired the sheriff of Benton county for full particulars of the case and got several telegrams in return. Every effort will be made to discover Murray. Wood says he has known Murray for years and he was there at the time of the burning of Novak's store and knows all the particulars. Wood is apparently a man of standing and his word is believed.
