The pride of the Street—"Is this your little brother?"
"Yes, he is, and he's de smartest kid on de street."
"Is he, indeed?"
"You bet he is. He's had the measles tree times."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

From the Lone Star state comes the following letter, written by W. F. Gass, editor of the Mt. Vernon, (Tex.) Herald: "I have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in my family for the past year, and find it the best remedy for colic and diarrhoea that I have ever tried. Its effects are instantaneous and satisfactory, and I cheerfully recommend it, especially for cramp colic and diarrhoea. Indeed, we shall try and keep a bottle of it on our medicine shelf as long as we keep house." For sale by P. C. Corrigan, druggist.

It often happens that the doctor is out of town when most needed. The two year old daughter of J. Y. Schenck, of Caddo, Ind. Ter., was threatened with croup. He writes: "My wife insisted that I go for the doctor at once, but as he was out of town, I purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which relieved the child immediately." A bottle of that remedy in the house will often save the expense of a doctor's bill, besides the anxiety always occasioned by serious sickness. When it is given as soon as the croupy cough appears, it will prevent the attack. Thousands of mothers always keep it in their homes. The 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by P. C. Corrigan, druggist.

HOW TO FIND OUT.

Fill a bottle or common glass with urine and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys. When urine stains linen it is positive evidence of kidney trouble. Too frequent desire to urinate, or pain in the back, is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

WHAT TO DO.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in relieving pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder, and every part of the urinary passages. It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pains in passing it, or bad effects following the use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to get up many times during the night to urinate. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists, price fifty cents and one dollar. You may have a sample bottle and pamphlet both sent free by mail. Mention THE FRONTIER and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The proprietors of this paper guarantee the genuineness of this offer.

ALL WOMEN

Nine-tenths of all the pain and discomfort from which women suffer is caused by weakness or derangement in the organs of menstruation. Nearly always when a woman is not well these organs are affected. But when they are strong and healthy a woman is very seldom sick.

DR. KELLEY'S
Wine of Cardui

is nature's provision for the regulation of the menstrual function. It cures all "female troubles." It is equally effective for the girl in her teens, the young wife with domestic and maternal cares, and the woman approaching the period known as the "Change of Life." They all need it. They are all benefited by it.

For advice in cases requiring special directions, address, giving symptoms, the Ladies' Advisory Department, The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

WILLIAM L. GOSWELL, Trade, Mass., says "My sister suffered from very irregular and painful menstruation and nothing could relieve her. When of course she cured her and she helped my mother through the Change of Life."

TOO MEAN TO LIVE.

A Brutish Fellow Who Did Not Deserve to Have a Wife.

She was a pale, quaint, quiet old woman who did washing for a living, relates the Chicago Times. One day she was paler than usual, and her hands trembled. Her mistress asked her the reason. She said:

"I been thinkin' of a lady I helped to nurse once—out in Colorado 'twas. She was took bad sudden an' they sent for me. The house was only kind of roofed in, an' the rainy season was on them. I set tubs to ketch the water, else it would have dripped on her. I'd heard tell about her before I went there, an' him, too."

"She was used to things fine back East. Her folks had warned her not to marry him. When she did, an' found out her foolishness, she was too proud to make moan. He was a man o' means, but stingy! Great Jerusalem! Child, the good Lord couldn't never have made him. He hadn't the print of a doctor's fingers on him!"

"Get a doctur!" says I, seeing how bad she was.

"No," he answers cool, "it's a useless expense. I've got a book here I do."

"Bimeby the hired girl come to the door."

"What for dinner, sir?" she asked.

"Graham bread and potato balls," he says.

"But the children wants to know if they can have a bit o' ham. There's two hams in the cellar—"

"By no means. Meat is not hygienic for children. But you kin cook one slice—jus' one thick slice—fur me."

"David," begged her weak voice from the bed, kin I have a cup of tea?"

"Certainly not!" he replies promptly.

"'Twould affect your heart?"

"Coffee then?"

"No, indeed! In your nervous condition I am surprised Idella!"

"Everything was the same way. There wasn't nuthin he thought might'n injure her but crackers an' water. The children couldn't have but one helpin' at meals. That wasn't a big one. But his plate was piled while a bit would go on it. Fust day she was up I made some rolls. Mighty nice rolls they was, too. She eat one. Then the baby cried. She went to tend to it. When she comes back she took up another roll."

"Drop that!" he says.

"Why?"

"He was after swallerin' seven himself in about the time you'd be sayin' Jack Robinson."

"You've been away from the table three minutes an' a half. Do you want to begin eatin' again? You'd ruin your digestion."

"But—I'm hungry, David! An' they're so good—"

"Did you hear me?"

"She looked as if she was goin' to cry. But she put the roll back."

"Dried corn an' crackers for dinner," he says. "I can't be back in time. I'll take my frugal bite down town."

"I followed him to the door."

"She ain't strong. An' a-nursing that big baby. What for her?"

"What's wholesome for the rest," he growls.

"But if she had a bit o' meat—or some chicken broth—"

"He looked at me awful mad."

"D'ye think I'm Vanderbilt?" he asks.

"The letter my grandson brought me over just now? Yea, 'twas from my niece, who lives out there. She's dead—the sweet, starved little creature! An' the children—mostly the baby—I'm suddin' the clothes clean, man—don't mind me—is what I am thinkin' about!"
