Fairfax Review: R. B. Dykeman went to O'Neill Saturday returning Monday morning. We understand that he has secured the contract for the building of an $8,000.00 mill at the mouth of Brush Creek and will commence work on the same as soon as he completes Judge Starcher's drug store building.

A little excitement was created Wednesday evening by some children attempting to use the telephone connecting Dr. Gilligan's house with the drug store. They started to yell and the boys at the store thought they were shouting fire and the alarm was turned in. The fire department reached the court-house before the cause of the alarm was known.

The two chaps that were nabbed by the authorities for stealing clothing from J. P. Mann's store last Thursday, were given a hearing before Justice Slattery, who fined them $1 each and costs and sentenced them to thirty days hard labor. They have not been able to do any work owing to the wet weather and were held in the county jail until yesterday when they were released.

Rev. S. F. Sharpless at Norfolk held services at Dorsey and Scottville last Sunday. At Scottville a Sunday school was organized with the following officers: Mrs. Ferguson, superintendent; B. W. Postlewait, assistant; Jennie Ferguson, secretary and treasurer. Samuel Diller of Sterling, Ill., who has been in the city the past three months was present and assisted in the work.

What are known as reservoir declaratory statements are a new departure in the land office business. Right is granted to file an unlimited number on government lands by one person. Under the law it is required that a reservoir be constructed on each tract filed upon. The new feature is a great benefit to ranchmen, who use reservoirs for watering stock. A great many of these claims have been filed at the O'Neill land office the past week.

F. A. Harrison, manager of the Lincoln department of the Omaha Bee, was in the city last Friday. While here he looked up the financial condition of the people in this section and the article from his pen in the Sunday Bee—published on another page of The Frontier—is conclusive proof that prosperity has reached this portion of Nebraska and that it is admitted by many of the leading pops. It is said that Mr. Harrison will be private secretary to Senator Hayward and his numerous friends throughout the state will rejoice at his good fortune.

State Journal, May 19: Governor Poynter has decided to appoint J. H. Hopkins of O'Neill as warden of the penitentiary to succeed Warden Leidigh. The appointment has not been announced by the governor, but the change will take place within two months. Mr. Hopkins is a member of the board of supervisors of Holt county and has taken a prominent part in populist politics in that county. Warden Leidigh will be compelled to tear himself loose from the state pay roll under the four year rule that is enforced occasionally by the governor.

The Frontier is in receipt of two newspapers from Manila and to one is pasted the following note: "Nebraska boys have done fine work here on the islands and are at the front now. I am an old Holt county boy myself and now belong to the Eighteenth infantry. We all hope to see the states again after the trouble here is over. Hurrah for the good old town of Dorsey!" It is dated April 17, but has no signature. The papers are much like American publications but not so neatly gotten up. A prominent part of them is the large and numerous beer advertisements.

The commencement exercises Saturday evening were very liberally attended, although the weather was such as to incline one to remain at home. The exercises varied some from the published program, the orchestra not taking part and one or two other slight changes. The opening number was a piano selection by Miss Galbraith. Rev. Haner offered prayer and Prof. Whelan read a report of the standing of students in the high school. Miss Galbraith rendered another selection on the piano and Miss Letty Gillespie came next with an oration, "What Shall the Harvest Be?" which she delivered in her usual clear and entertaining way. Miss Gillespie spoke on the line of national commercial and political affairs. She said that riches were accumulating in the hands of a few and the poor were increasing in numbers and there poverty becoming more abject. She feared the country was drifting toward the European system of lords and peasants, and asked, "What shall the harvest be?" Miss M. Angela Martin was the next with an oration, on the subject, "Human Affinity." The subject is a difficult one, but Miss

Martin got much out of it and presented some good thoughts in clear and forceful language, showing that she has more than a superficial knowledge of human nature. Mr. James J. McCarthy spoke on the "Filipino Struggle for Liberty." He held that the United States should not prosecute war upon the Filipinos nor exercise governing authority over them. Mr. McCarthy made a very favorable impression on the audience, who cheered loud and long at the conclusion. A solo by Mrs. Minnick, duets by Willie and Rose Fallon and Ruth Evans and Susie Gillespie each received encore. Mr. T. V. Golden presented the diplomas and addressed the class.

State Superintendent Jackson requests to be published that state examination will be held June 13 and 14 at Lincoln, Wayne, Fremont, North Platte, Holdrege and Grand Island. The examination will be under the supervision of the state board of examiners and other competent persons, and will be given as follows: Tuesday, June 13—8:30 a. m., general history; 10:30 a. m., zoology; 1:30 p. m., trigonometry; 3:15 p. m., rhetoric. Wednesday, June 14—8:30 a. m., chemistry; 10:15 a. m., English literature; 1:30 p. m., intellectual philosophy; 3:15 p. m., geology; 4:30 p. m., physical geography. Further information may be had by addressing the state superintendent at Lincoln.

Tuesday evening two of Mike Englehaupt's boys had a narrow escape from a fatal accident. While attempting to drive across the Short Line track their wagon was run into by a car and badly smashed, though the boys and horse escaped uninjured. A freight train was switching in the yards and had made a double flying switch, sending one car up the south switch track and another up the north track. The boys were on the north track waiting for the car to pass on the south track and did not notice the car coming up where they stood. It was one of the disasters which have a fortunate ending.

Now is the time to have your name enrolled with the hundreds of other Holt county citizens upon The Frontier subscription books. Five new names added since our last issue and more coming.

'Punchers' in Battle Array

All is not sweet harmony among the cattle kings of Dry creek valley. The Frontier has it from reliable source that trouble is imminent. The dispute is over range, but just who are concerned we are not at liberty to state at present. A large tract of range has been fenced by a ranchman and other ranchmen claim that he is intruding on their range. Hence they are on the verge of war. The parties having the land fenced, it is stated, have a force of herders heavily armed and constantly on guard, ready "to shoot" if their property is molested. One man, of the long hair and sure shot clan, has been brought into that territory as additional force.

The other ranchmen are preparing to run them out, so The Frontier is informed, and if things continue as they have blood will drench the valley. The outcome cannot be conjectured, but it is hoped serious results may yet be averted.

Save your health

Nothing is more essential to comfortable homekeeping than plenty of wholesome food, and a good healthy place to keep it during the hot weather. We have the goods—quality and prices right; we are agents for the celebrated....

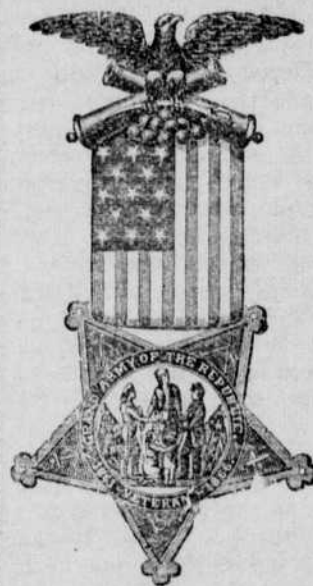

Herrick Refrigerator always dry, pure, sweet and clean. Come and see it.

O'Neill Grocery Co. F. M. Raymond, Mgr.

The Frontier wants someone it can rely upon at every postoffice in the county to send in items of news for publication; correspondents who can represent their localities every week or as often as possible. To such we can offer inducements.

Annual Tribute to Veterans of the 60's on May 30.

HEADQUARTERS General John O'Neill Post No. 86, Grand Army of the Republic, Department of Nebraska, O'Neill, May 22, 1899.—Comrades: Another year has been numbered with the past and again we take up our march to the silent bivouac of the dead to renew our veneration and esteem of the dead comrades. Our memorial day is one of sacred memories—a day in which a grateful people pay loving tribute to the men who died that the nation might live. Since last this post met on an occasion of this kind some of our comrades have fallen by the wayside and now await the last long roll call. This reminds us that we, too, are rapidly marching to our last camping ground and soon will have heard the last order of the Great Commander.

Let us, then, perform our duties to our dead comrades, remembering that the time is not far distant when we who now survive will have been laid away under the blue sky of heaven and have had earth's fairest emblems strewn upon our graves.

GENERAL ORDER NO. 1.—Post will meet at hall on Tuesday, May 30, at 2 p. m. sharp, forming on Fourth street with other visiting organizations, under the control of the officer of the day, and will march to the cemeteries, where the usual Grand Army ceremonies will be held.

GENERAL ORDER NO. 2.—A cordial invitation is extended to all old soldiers not members of the post, Company M, Third Nebraska, comrades of the late war, public schools, fire company and all other societies and lodges and citizens generally; honorable mayor and city council, and band. Let the day be appropriately observed in the sacred memories that cling around it.

The following details are made: Marking graves and flags—Thompson, Slattery, Wagers. Flowers—Kinch, Harding, Skirving, Uhler, Maring. Oration at court-house at 2:30 by Hon. M. F. Harrington. E. S. KINCH, Adjutant. JOHN SKIRVING, Commander.
