An O'Neill benedict, whose wife is away spending the summer, received the following poetic effusion:

"She sat on the spacious veranda, that jutted out over the sea,
And said to the fellow beside her, 'Ah, some one is thinking of me!'"

"The maiden whom he was engaged to was away, and he thought, as they sped: 'I suppose she is sitting and thinking, in her loneliness down by the sea, how utterly cheerless the world is for her when she isn't with me.'"

An exchange says a lady died and while the pall bearers were conveying the remains to their last resting place by some mishap they stumbled and dropped the casket. The jolt brought the deceased back to life, and she lived six or seven years and died again. On the way to the cemetery they passed over the same ground, and when the pall bearers reached the identical spot where the tumble had been at the previous funeral, the stricken husband stepped in front of those bearing the remains of his lamented wife and said: "Steady, boys, steady."

BALL TEAM WINNERS

Sioux City Defeated By The Hard Hitters From O'Neill.

SIoux CITY PEOPLE DELIGHTED

With The Professional Ball Played By The Boys From Nebraska.

Sioux City Times, Aug. 7: Yesterday was a day after the baseball fan's own heart. Two rattling good games, full of brilliant plays and exciting situations, were served up to him red hot at Riverside park, and he had a chance to root and yell to his soul's full content.

The Riversides were on the slate for both games, but they could do no better than break even. They met with a Waterloo in the first game, O'Neill defeating them by good stick work by a score of 11 to 4. But in the game with Coleridge the Sioux Cityans had things their own way as far as scores are concerned, and they evened up Saturday's defeat by this team to the tune of 6 to 1.

A big crowd swarmed out to the park to see the games, and it recalled the good old times of league ball in Sioux City. It was an enthusiastic crowd, and it yelled until the grand stand roof raised from its supports, and it amused itself with good natured joshing. Everybody was satisfied, for with the exception of an inning or two the playing was fast and remarkably free from errors. The O'Neill and Coleridge aggregations were largely constituted of the same players, among them several of northeastern Nebraska's stars.

A lucky lot of hits at the very opening of the first game of the afternoon gave O'Neill a lead pipe cinch on the victory. The Riversides were unable to hit Noyes effectively, but when the visitors came to bat in their very first inning they jumped on Jack Messerly's delivery and swatted the ball for a whole handful of hits. When the clouds of dust that the base runners tore up as they raced around the diamond had cleared away, and the yelling of the rooters had ceased, the visitors had five runs to their credit. But this wasn't all; they repeated the performance in the third and slugged Messerly's curves for four scores more, a total of nine, while the Riversides could count only a meagre little single.

Messerly was in the box for the first time this season, going there because of the scarcity of box material in the ranks of the Riversides. He stayed for only four innings, and in this time the Nebraskans pounded out nine hits and scored four runs. On the other hand Noyes was effective, and kept his hits well scattered throughout the game, permitting only nine altogether off of his delivery during the nine innings. After the fourth inning Paul Hoffman went into the box, doing good work and keeping the hits down to less than a half dozen.

The Riversides made their first run in the second, when it looked for a time as though they had on a batting streak; but their joy was of only short duration. They scored again in the fifth and sixth. In the seventh Bruggeman saved a shut-out by an elegant steal from second to home on Gretchel's out at first base. After the fatal first and third innings, the visitors were unable to get in more than two runs.

Brilliant plays abounded all through the game, and the fielding was close and clean. Long flies were handled on the run in elegant style, and the shortstop and third baseman for both teams made repeated good stops and quick throws. O'Donnell carried off the batting honors with two doubles and two singles. Wood captured a double and a single. Alberts made four singles and two runs. Hanley got two singles.

In speaking of the Sunday excursion the Sioux City Times has the following to say about the O'Neill contingent that accompanied the ball team: "O'Neill turned out the biggest crowd. Nearly 150 of its people came in to accompany the crack O'Neill ball team and root for it as it tried conclusions with the Riverside aggregation. They filled a section of the grand stand and yelled like mad while their team pounded out a victory. The remaining 250 excursionists were pretty evenly divided among the other towns along the line of railway."

HERBINE will aid and assist nature in her work, and ensure a skin clear and beautiful, entirely free from all imperfections. Price 50 cts. P. C. Corrigan.

The ball game yesterday afternoon between O'Neill and Atkinson was so slow and uninteresting that many of the spectators went to sleep watching it. Three of the Atkinson team were absent and their places were filled by outsiders. Atkinson played poor ball, so did O'Neill and at the end of the eighth inning the score was as follows: O'Neill.....3 3 0 1 2 6 1—16 Atkinson.....1 0 0 0 0 2—4

Sioux City Times: Will Whitfield, formerly of Sioux City, was shaking hands with some of his many friends in this city yesterday, having come over with the O'Neill base ball team. Mr. Whitfield has not forgotten what he knew about base ball when he played with the Little Sioux and the Tutti Frutti, and he plays every once in a while with the O'Neill team. He was formerly in the employ of Davidson Bros. and went to O'Neill for his health.
