The attention of the marshal is called to the fact that a horse has been running at large all the past week in the western part of town, breaking sidewalks and making a general nuisance of himself. There is a herd law inscribed on the city ordinance book that forbids stock running at liberty in the city, and we would most respectfully suggest that it be enforced.

The boys say Ed Stansberry is one of the nerviest boys in town. While out hunting stubble "duck" last Thursday evening in company with two more O'Neillites, they attracted the attention of a passerby, who rushed toward them, gesticulating wildly and calling upon them to stop shooting or he would have them arrested. The boys say Ed thought he saw a covey of birds light about 300 yards away and he made such speed toward the spot, away from the aforesaid passerby, that the others are willing to gamble that he can cover 300 yards in 34 seconds.

The ball team went up the road last Saturday evening to play a series of games with South Dakota teams. Sunday they played the Lead City team, the O'Neill boys winning the game by a score of 21 to 8. Monday they again defeated the same team by a score of 7 to 5. On Tuesday the O'Neill boys were defeated, the score standing 11 to 17 in favor of Lead City. There was no game Wednesday, but today they try conclusions with the Deadwood team. They will play Deadwood a second game Friday, play Rapid City Saturday and the Chadron boys Sunday, returning home Monday morning.

The postoffice department has announced that a new form of domestic money order and advice, has been adopted and was issued September 4. The dimensions of the new order are those of an ordinary bank draft, and the advice is a reproduction of the money order through the use of carbonized paper; also there is a receipt to be executed by the same process and furnished by the issuing postmaster to the remitter. This is surely a decided improvement over any order hitherto adopted by the department, as the simultaneous production of the advice with the order both saves time and lessens the liability to mistakes and discrepancies. Its size and shape will render it more easy to handle when mixed with other commercial papers.

At the council meeting last Monday night, Alderman Jenness introduced an ordinance providing for and imposing an occupation tax on the various businesses and occupations in the city of O'Neill. The occupation tax provided for is as follows: For the business of agricultural implement dealer, $6; hardware dealer, $10; furniture dealer, $6; book and stationery stores, $5; drug stores, $15; billiard halls, $6; banks, $25 coal and lumber dealers, $25; carriage and buggy dealers, $12; dry goods and clothing, $15; dentists, $6; contractors, $5; express companies, $15; electric light companies, $15; flour and feed stores, $6; general merchandise stores, $15; grocery stores, $12; harness shops, $6; hotels, 1st class, $12, 2d class, $6; jewelry store, $10; insurance and real estate, $6; livery stables, $25, steam laundries, $5; lawyers, $10; millinery stores, $5; meat markets, $10; printing offices, $5; photograph galleries, $10; physicians, $10; sewing machine agents, $5; saloons, $300; restaurants, $5; railroad companies, $15; ice dealers, $6; telegraph companies, $15; undertakers, $10; insurance companies, $6; draymen, $5; barber shops, $5; blacksmith shops, $5; boarding houses, $5; bottling works, $6; marble works, $5; boot and shoe cobbler, $5.

A special session of the district court was called Tuesday of this week, by Judge Kinkaid, at the request of the county attorney and numerous petitioners, for the purpose of trying the Begley-Welsh-Yonke rape case. Nothing of interest transpired Tuesday, and after a short session court adjourned till 2:40 Wednesday afternoon to give the defense time to prepare for trial. When court convened Wednesday the defense filed a motion for a continuance, and in reply the state filed, or attempted to file, a demurrer, but the county attorney was not equal to the task, and after filing one and having it rejected, owing to numerous errors, he called upon Would-be-District-Judge Jim Harrington to assist him. Neither one being right sure how a demurrer should be worded, they decided they would each write one, in the hopes that one or the other would stumble onto the right form, but they didn't, and after having both their efforts turned down they went down to the county judge's office and made a verbatim copy of a form given in Maxwell's "Pleadings and Practice." This was accepted, and they thought their troubles were over, but before they had finished congratulating each other the defense filed a demurrer against the information on which the case was founded. This, the court said he would have to sustain, but upon Butlers claiming that he could cite competent authority to substantiate his position, the court took a recess of one hour to give him the necessary time to look up his authority, but he couldn't find it, for it existed only in his imagination, and when court re-convened he was sorrowfully compelled to admit that they had the whole thing so hopelessly tangled up that they would have to file a new information and begin proceedings all over again. This morning when court convened the state asked for, and received, an order from the court remanding the defendants back to the custody of the sheriff until proceedings could be instituted in a justice court—the county judge being out of town—and at this writing a new preliminary hearing is being held before Justice Slattery. It is to be hoped Butler will get more competent assistance in the future, and save the county the cost of trying a case over several times in an effort to get it started right.

A Wonderful Cure of Diarrhoea.
A prominent Virginia Editor had almost given up, but was brought back to perfect health by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Read his editorial from the Times, Hillside, Va. I suffered with diarrhoea for a long time and thought I was past being cured. I had spent much time and money and suffered so much misery that I had almost decided to give up all hopes of recovery and await the result, but noticing the advertisement of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and also some testimonials stating how some wonderful cures had been wrought by this remedy, I decided to try it. After taking a few doses I was entirely well of that trouble, and I wish to say further to my readers and fellow sufferers that I am a hale and hearty man today and feel as well as I ever did in my life.—O. R. Moore. Sold by P. C. Corrigan.

Prohibition Convention.

The prohibitionists of Holt county met in convention in O'Neill Tuesday. Delegates were in attendance from various parts of the county. Sixty votes were cast in the county for prohibition last year and each vote represented the honest conviction of a voter that the saloon is hateful to God and hurtful to man.

The following ticket was put in nomination:
County treasurer, John Moffit, Page.
County clerk, T. M. Elder, of Atkinson.
County judge, M. Miller, of Turner.
County superintendent, Mrs. Marietta Prouty, of Paddock.
Clerk of the district court, Wilson Brodie, Cleveland.
Sheriff, C. F. Johnson, of Stuart.
Coroner, William Humphrey, of Atkinson.
Surveyor, V. V. Rosenkrans, Dorsey.

The following platform was unanimously adopted:

1. We recognize the sovereignty of the Supreme Ruler of the Universe, and appeal to Him for the rectitude of our intentions and we here pledge anew our allegiance to Him and humbly invoke His guidance and grace in all our efforts to further the cause of prohibition and suppress the saloon power which alone can be done by the power of the Christian vote.
 2. We fully recognize the power of the liquor traffic, for we have seen its blighting and withering effects in society and the nation. We have seen homes destroyed, hopes blighted, character blasted and mothers in tears. We have heard the cry of orphans and the wail of broken hearts caused by the licensed saloon.
 3. We ask the aid of all Christian people and good citizens in bringing about such social and political reforms as are consistent with the Holy Scriptures and the authority of Jesus Christ.
 4. We recognize the right of women to be equal to men in the use of the ballot.
 5. We favor the initiative and referendum.
 6. We stand for our American Sabbath and view with alarm its open and shameful desecration, and we call upon all good citizens to do all in their power to save it from complete secularization.
- Wilson Brodie, Pres.
E. G. Hutchinson, Sec.

Colossal Monument.

The most colossal monument on the continent of Europe and second alone in dimensions to the Liberty statue in New York, is that of the fabulous Turull bird recently erected on the summit of the Banhida mountain in County Komorn, Hungary, in commemoration of the Hungarian millennium, which was celebrated with a stupendous amount of patriotic influence in 1896 in all portions of the kingdom. The site is well chosen, seeing that the monument occupies the spot where Arpad slew Swatopluk, the Slavic chieftain, on his invasion of the Hungary of today. It was mainly due to the exertions of the famous Magyar romancer, Jokai Mor, that the collection for the monument was started. This bird, fable has it, has played an extraordinary part in the destinies of the nation, so that the poorest moved to enthusiasm by the eloquence of the popular poet, contributed the copper he could ill afford to spare to the general fund. The conception of the monument is that of the Magyar sculptor, Donath Gyula, the metals used being copper and iron. The height from the claw to the tip of the wing is sixty-eight feet, the outspread wings are forty-six feet long, and the sword of Arpad, which the monster bird holds in its claws, measures forty feet.

Make an Interesting Find.

Some chalk diggers have made an interesting find of a skeleton at Swanscombe, Kent, England. It was that of a short, very thick-set man, and it is thought he was probably a Roman. A careful search was made for coins or weapons, or anything that could give a clue to the period or nationality of the skeleton, but nothing was found except some flints, rudely shaped with some kind of splitting or chipping implement. The skeleton must have been where it was found for many hundreds of years. It was in the heart of a chalk hill which had never been excavated before.
