When Bryan Came to Town.

The pops were out in double file. When Bryan came to town. The bellowing crowd stretched a mile—When Bryan came to town.

The dogs all barked, the mules all brayed. When Bryan came to town. You should have seen the pop's parade. When Bryan came to town.

The streets were full of tooting lads—When Bryan came to town—But were soon outdone by their whooping. When Bryan came to town. [dads,

The ladies too—the fair, the sweet; When Bryan came to town, Squealed like panthers on the street, When Bryan came to town.

The people all, both small and great. When Bryan came to town, They did not see a president. When Bryan came to town.

Our working men, who cheered so loud, When Bryan came to town, Will have to work now just as hard, Since Bryan left the town.

But they who did stand by our flag, Before Bryan came to town, Will not be found to slack or lag Because Bryan came to town.

Rushville Standard: A base ball game was played at Chadron last Sunday between the boys from O'Neill, Neb., and Pine Ridge, S. D. As reported here the score stood 17 to 0 in favor of O'Neill. This would indicate that the winning team certainly have players worth traveling with.

One John Doe, real name unknown, was caught last Monday while attempting to appropriate to his own use, without paying the necessary revenue therefor, some of J. P. Mann's clothing. Atkinson Republican: Sometime during the early hours of yesterday morning, Mr. Con Cannon, whose home is a few miles east of Atkinson, was found lying beside the railroad track, about three miles east of this place, in an insensible condition, with his head and face badly lacerated. Reports are conflicting as to the exact hour that the accident occurred, and also as to the cause and conditions governing this deplorable result. He was brought to Atkinson immediately after being discovered, and Dr. McDonald, the railroad company's surgeon at this place, was summoned and skillfully rendered relief to the sufferer. Whether the injuries are fatal or not is still problematical—but they are more than ordinarily serious. Mr. Cannon had been an appreciated, trusted employee of the Elkhorn company for a number of years, but whether he still holds a position under that management we are not advised. His speedy recovery is sincerely invoked by all.

A Wonderful Cure of Diarrhoea. A prominent Virginia Editor had almost given up, but was brought back to perfect health by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Read his editorial from the Times, Hillside, Va. I suffered with diarrhoea for a long time and thought I was past being cured. I had spent much time and money and suffered so much misery that I had almost decided to give up all hopes of recovery and await the result, but noticing the advertisement of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and also some testimonials stating how some wonderful cures had been wrought by this remedy, I decided to try it. After taking a few doses I was entirely well of that trouble, and I wish to say further to my readers and fellow sufferers that I am a hale and hearty man today and feel as well as I ever did in my life.—O. R. Moore. Sold by P. C. Corrigan.

BRYAN BLOWOUT.

Well, Bryan has come and gone and the local popocrats are not rejoicing as they would have done a few years ago had this apostle of popo-democracy addressed the people here. The coming of Mr. Bryan was heralded far and near and a good sized crowd came to town that day to see the man who led democracy to defeat in 1896 and who will follow suit in 1900. The size of the crowd has been estimated by various people at from 2,000 to 4,500. Mr. Fieherly, of Ogallala, one of the howling pops of that section, who was in O'Neill that day, estimated the crowd at 2,500, and we believe 3,000 would cover it.

A public reception was held at the courthouse in the morning where all who desired to meet Mr. Bryan were given an opportunity to do so. When the carriage containing Mr. Bryan was passing up Fourth street, Bill Fallon tried to enliven the crowd by proposing three cheers for Bryan, but the people that lined the sidewalks would not cheer and Bill's deep basso voice was about the only one in evidence. When the procession reached Douglas street, Ben DeArman thought it too closely resembled a funeral procession and he got into the street and proposed three cheers for Bryan, which were given by a few of the spectators.

After dinner a procession was formed headed by the O'Neill, Chambers, Newport, Neligh and Ainsworth bands consolidated, immediately followed by a carriage containing Mr. Bryan, Mr. Harrington and a few other local popocratic stars, and escorted by a reception committee of about 100. They paraded the principal streets a couple of times, then marched to the grand stand, which had been erected upon the vacant lots north of Sniggs' blacksmith shop, where the crowd had assembled to hear him.

Mr. Bryan was introduced by T. V. Golden, who lauded his democracy so highly that we are almost forced to believe that Tom has returned to his first love, the democratic party.

Mr. Bryan seemed to have a personal interest in the candidacy of would-be congressman Neville, for he pleaded with the people to support him, not because he was well qualified for the position, but because he wanted him there so that he could vote no. His championship of Neville's candidacy did not seem to enthrall his auditors very much for cheers were as scarce as "house-rent" money in the state treasury when Slippery Si Holcomb got through with it.

He reaffirmed his allegiance to free silver and said it had been buried semi-annually and annually every year for the past eight years and that another funeral would be necessary this year.

Speaking of the Philippine question Mr. Bryan did not say he was in favor of withdrawing the troops now on the island, as he has been reported as saying in the eastern states. He said the first mistake was made in the treaty of peace, in not giving the Philippines the same right given to the Cubans. After the war is over he favored establishing a stable government and then allowing them to look out for themselves.

Throughout his speech, as in the parade in the earlier hours, there was a noticeable lack of enthusiasm and applause which must have been disappointing to the orator. His speech was flowery, filled with witticisms and jokes but lacked the sound, logical reasoning of the statesman.

O'Neill vs Spencer.

An aggregation of ball players headed by Josiah Coombs, editor of the Spencer Advocate, manager of the team, came over from Spencer last Saturday to try conclusions with the O'Neill ball tossers in games to be played Sunday and Monday afternoons.

The game Sunday was strictly a battle of pitchers and Steele had the best of it by a good many points. In fact he pitched a phenomenal game, allowing the Spencer boys only one hit and making 17 of them fan the air in their vain endeavor to connect with the ball. Zink caught for O'Neill and done splendid work in that position. Zink and Steele make a battery that is hard to beat and many O'Neillites and several traveling men who witnessed the games were anxious to see the O'Neill team go up against the Omaha brewers, but as the season is about over the boys will probably not defeat the Omaha aggregation this season. The Spencer boys played good ball and held down the score splendidly. Cheetwood, who pitched for the Boyd county team, put up a good article of ball and gives promise of making a first class twirler. Following is the score by innings:

Hits—O'Neill 7, Spencer 1. Struck out—Steele 17, Cheetwood 4. Passed balls—Downs 1.

Monday afternoon the same teams played a second game, with the same batteries. It was a repetition of the first game. Steele had the boys at his mercy and could fan any of them whenever he took a notion to do so. A great crowd was on the grounds to witness the games and they recognizing the superior ability of the O'Neill team, the majority of them howled for the Spencer boys whenever the opportunity occurred. But seven innings were played during which time Steele fanned twelve men. He is by long odds the best twirler that ever shot a ball across a plate in O'Neill. He has splendid curves, terrific speed and perfect control, making him almost invincible to most of the amateur ball players. The score Monday was as follows:

O'Neill.....1 0 2 0 2 2-10
Spencer.....0 0 1 0 0 2-3

Base Ball Notes. From the Chadron Journal. Only one of the Pine Ridge boys ever reached third.

Well, well, did you see that curve? O'Neill's man thoroughly understood his business.

Now for an organized, picked nine to return the compliment of the O'Neill boys.

Two games of ball this week were played to the amusement and pleasure of good crowds each game. The one on Saturday between O'Neill and Chadron was interesting, especially to the home boys, who, while they played good ball, were easily outclassed by the sturdy ball tossers from O'Neill. The Chadron boys were expecting a Waterloo and were not disappointed to receive it. The score was 12 to 20 in favor of O'Neill.

The game Sunday between O'Neill and Pine Ridge drew even a larger crowd than the day before, as it was expected to be the game of the season. Before many innings had been played, it was very evident that the copper colored boys from the Ridge would have to play stronger ball, or be completely shut out. It was a battle of pitchers, with Steele an easy winner. His pitching was superb. Not in any stage of the game did he lose control of the ball. Each inning was a repetition of the preceding one and when 8 innings had passed and not a solitary redskin had touched his shoe on the home plate, they seemed to lose hope and gave up in despair. The score was 16 to 0 in favor of O'Neill.

Charley Hamilton was down from Stuart the first of the week.

The republican state convention is being held in Omaha today.

Owing to the lateness of the date set for holding the Holt County Fair, it has been decided to postpone the Fair until next year.

Several grafters follow Bryan through the country to ply their vocations on the crowds that turn out to hear him. They had quite a harvest in this city several people being minus their pocket-books when they emerged from the crowd that surrounded the speakers stand.

Lost—One big red inside pocket book, containing seven $5 bills, two $1 bills and one $2 bill, also one note of $40.00, payable to Jno. Brown, and a lot of Woodmen and other receipts. Fender leave same at this office and receive a reward. J. R. Brown, Atkinson, Neb.
