HON. LOREZO CROUNSE
Ex-Governor of Nebraska,
Will address the people of O'Neill and vicinity, in the
COURTHOUSE IN O'NEILL
Wednesday eve, Oct. 18, 1899.

Governor Crouse is one of the ablest speakers in the state, and was one of the best governors the state ever had. Come out and hear him.

The republican rally at the court house last Saturday night was an eye opener to the popocratic hosts in this county. It was one of the best and most enthusiastic meetings held in this city for many days. That patriotism and love of county was much in evidence was evident by the cheers that greeted the speakers throughout their addresses. The meeting was called to order by R. R. Dickson and after music by the band he, in a few well chosen words, introduced Hon. W. W. Wood, of Rushville, republican candidate for District Judge. Mr. Wood said he did not come to O'Neill to make a partisan political speech as he believed that a man who aspired to a seat upon the bench where members of all political parties would probably be litigants, should not go before the people making partisan political addresses. This was in marked contrast to the remarks of attorney Harrington, when he received the pop nomination for judge, when he said if McKinley and Mark Hanna were placed upon the firing line the war would end shortly. At the conclusion of Judge Wood's address he was loudly cheered. The chairman then introduced Hon. Norris Brown, who made the race for congress against W. L. Greene, a year ago. Mr. Brown was loudly cheered as he stepped to the front, and faced the audience. He said it was one year ago tonight since he addressed a gathering in O'Neill, it being the Green-Brown debate. He then paid an eloquent tribute to the late congressman Green couched in the beautiful eloquent language of the polished orator. Mr. Brown then got down to a discussion of the issues of the day, quoting at some length from the speeches of ex Senator Allen, who, when in the senate advocated the policy that is now used by the administration in the Philippine Islands. A pop thought to display his smartness by interrupting the speaker but he only displayed his ignorance, and felt sorry he had murmured before the speaker was through with him. Mr. Brown made a good, forceful and logical address and was liberally applauded. Wm. Fallon, one of the strongest democrats in the city, says it was the best he ever heard from a republican stand point, the soundest, most logical and convincing. Mr. Brown as on the occasion of his former visit made many friends in O'Neill who will be pleased to welcome him back at any time.

FREE To our customers New Years a first class piano. 15-5 J. P. Mann.
Have you seen that $10.00 Jacket at J. P. Mann's? It is a wonder for the house, fine Kersey Heavy Satin lined nicely trimmed well made and as well finished as any high priced cloak in the market. Black blue Red tan or Mode.
T. B. Maring, of Emmett, has been nominated by the republicans of his district for supervisor. This was a happy choice as no better selection could have been made. Mr. Maring is not a politician and has never sought an office, but his sterling worth and pre-eminent qualifications for the position were recognized by the republicans of the Sixth district and he was nominated. He will be elected by a good majority.

Gen. Coburn Post, No. 251, will hold their annual bean dinner at Marquette Chapel, one-half mile east of Blackbird postoffice, Oct. 14, 1899. Everybody is invited, and all old soldiers with their families. Bill of fare—Beans and Pumpkin Pie for dinner.
T. B. Harrison, Adjt.

25 cents for the campaign.
The Twice-a-week State Journal, printed every Tuesday and Friday, will be sent postpaid with all of the news of the world from now until the election for only 25 cents. It is worth that much to read about the Fighting First regiment's return. The Journal, printed at the state capital, is the leading Nebraska paper and it's mighty cheap at a quarter.

Olaf Wilson, who was for seven years section boss on the Short Line at this place, and who was transferred to Jackson a couple of months ago, has been appointed road master of the road to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of M. H. Sheeley. Olaf's many friends in O'Neill are pleased at his promotion, and hope he will be as successful in looking after his new duties as he was in caring for the old.

C. Wetlaufer, of Shields township, has been nominated for supervisor by the republicans of the second district. It is a good nomination. Mr. Wetlaufer is a strong man as was evidenced by his election as assessor of Shields township when the populists had a majority of about fifty. He made a good officer, many populists claiming him to have been the best assessor ever elected in the township. He will be elected and make a good officer.

On the 10th of December, 1897, Rev. S. A. Donahoe, pastor M. E. church, South, Pt Pleasant, W. Va., contracted a severe cold which was attended from the beginning by violent coughing. He says: "After resorting to a number of so-called 'specifics,' usually kept in the house, to no purpose, I purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which acted like a charm. I most cheerfully recommend it to the public." For sale by P. C. Corrigan, druggist.

OBITUARY.
Mr. John Dailey died at his home in Emmett township, Oct. 3, 1899, and was buried from the Catholic church at O'Neill, October 5, Rev. M. F. Cassidy celebrating high mass. Mr. Dailey was taken sick about the middle of September with sore throat, which after a few days broke on the inside, and it was thought that he would soon be well; but other complications set in, and although everything that medical skill, loving hearts and willing hands could do to prolong his life, he peacefully passed away on the above date.
John Dailey was born in Ireland in 1836. In 1862 he married Miss Ellen Curry; shortly thereafter coming to America, and locating at Silverbrook, Schuylkill county, Pa., where he resided for a number of years. In 1879 Mr. Dailey came to Holt county, and located in the northeastern part of Emmett township, where he resided until his death.
Mr. Dailey was a man possessing the most sterling qualities of honorable, honest manhood; upright in his dealings with his fellowmen. His word was an absolute guarantee that whatever he said he would do was sure to be done in strict accordance with his promise. That he was held in high esteem by all who had the pleasure of his acquaintance was best attested to by one of the largest funerals ever seen in O'Neill. His death is universally regretted by all who knew him, but he is especially mourned in the neighborhood, where for twenty years he had been one of the most desirable neighbors, and where, by his unceasing labors and industrious habits the comfortable home, the commodious out-buildings and well-cultivated farms will be lasting reminders of a kind friend and neighbor.
Mr. Dailey leaves a disconsolate wife and seven grown children to mourn the loss of an affectionate husband and a kind, indulgent parent; a brother in Schuylkill county, Pa., and a sister in California. The children are M. J. Dailey, superintendent of the Silver King mine, Park City, Utah; Mrs. P. J. Biglin, of O'Neill; Patrick; Nellie, Mary; John and Willie, all of whom were present during the sickness of Mr. Dailey, except Patrick, who is in Alaska. **

In Memoriam.
Harvey Herbert Bentley, aged 28, died suddenly and peacefully of tuberculosis at the home of his parents in O'Neill, Wednesday, Oct. 4, 1899, at 9:30 a. m.
Taken away in early life, in the strength and vigor of manhood, his death was particularly sad, yet he lived well those few short years, and they are full of blessed and hallowed memories.
He was born in Floyd county, Iowa, and when ten years old united with the Presbyterian church. Moving to O'Neill a few years later he connected himself with the Presbyterian church here, and attended the O'Neill High School, from which he graduated in 1888. Afterwards he spent some time in Bellevue college, where he was especially commended for his studious habits and high scholarship.
While employed for the past three years as bookkeeper for the William Krotter Lumber Company, at Stuart, he was chosen superintendent of the [Sunday school, and president of the Christian Endeavor, and also elder of the Presbyterian church in O'Neill. Feeling oftentimes that the work was too burdensome, he still did not shirk the responsibility but labored on till God called him higher to a more abundant life.
The large concourse of people who attended his funeral, and the floral tributes testified to the esteem in which he was held in the community. Rev. Lowrie preached the sermon, assisted by Revs. Hainer, Clinton Lowrie and Hutchinson, after which the Highlander Fraternity bore his body to the grave, and pronounced the impressive words of its burial rite.
We watch with expectant interest the swelling of a rose-bud in the Spring, we luxuriate in the possession of a full-blown flower while it lasts, and we sigh in sadness when its glory departs; but we find, even in the leaves—withered and seared—the fragrance of the rose; so, when a good man dies, all is not lost; his character, his example remains to bless and comfort.
No more devoted son or brother could have been found, and while his death is mourned with a deep and sacred grief, it is a sorrow mingled with joy that is not like those that have no hope; but rests upon a blessed confidence in an eternal rest and glorious immortality.
A. L.

Card of Thanks.
We desire to express our heart-felt thanks and gratitude to the kind friends who so ably assisted us in caring for our son and brother during his sickness, and at the time of his death,

During the winter of 1897 Mr. James Reed, one of the leading citizens and merchants of Clay, Clay county, W. V., struck his leg against a cake of ice in such a manner as to bruise it severely. It became very much swollen and pained him so badly that he could not walk without the aid of crutches. He was treated by physicians, also used several kinds of liniment and two and a half gallons of whiskey in bathing it, but nothing gave any relief until he began using Chamberlain's Pain Balm. This brought almost a complete cure in a week's time and he believes that had he not used this remedy his leg would have had to be amputated. Pain Balm is unequalled for sprains, bruises and rheumatism. For sale by P. C. Corrigan, druggist.
