

MISERABLE

You're not feeling just right this spring, are you? Somehow, you haven't your old-time strength, cannot take hold of things with your usual push and energy. You just drag around, fairly well one day, not so well the next. You are wretched, disconsolate, discouraged; you are miserable.

That's Nerve Poverty

To be rich in nerve power you should take a good spring medicine, something that will give you pure and rich blood. A perfect Sarsaparilla will do this every time; not a cheap Sarsaparilla, not one that promises you a great deal of bulk for your money; but a highly concentrated Sarsaparilla, one that has more cure in it than any other Sarsaparilla in the world.

That's AYER'S

"The only Sarsaparilla made under the personal supervision of three graduates: a graduate in pharmacy, a graduate in chemistry, and a graduate in medicine."

$1.00 a bottle. All druggists.

"For thirty-five years I have used Ayer's Sarsaparilla. There are many other kinds on the market, but I have great faith in that word 'Ayer's.'"—N. MESSICK, St. Anthony, Iowa.

A school teacher lately put the question: "What is the highest form of animal life?" "The giraffe," responded a bright member of the class.—Tit-Bits.

New Binding Twine, 98c Lb.

The only reason that we could possibly obtain this twine was that a party needed not cash. We had no expectation of being able to get any twine at anything like this price, for if you will think of it a minute, our friends and customers, feeling that when they know that we are always willing to treat them right and give them the benefit of our one basis on which we do business, namely large sales and small profits, that they will appreciate it, and in the end we will make more by favoring them with something of the kind than we would by charging them the regular market value. Consequently we divide this profit with you and will say that when this twine is out you can rest assured that we will try to make you as low prices as possible, but, nevertheless, we would suggest that you get your order in at once for any part that you may want of the lot. The civil service commissioners being unable to supply a girl in response to Mr. Donovan's request, he chose his own messenger.

The quarantine officers boarded the Meade and it was headed toward the quarantine station at Angel Island. General Otis will not land tonight. A number of officers detailed by General Shafter went out in a tug to greet General Otis and consult him about having a detachment of troops escort him from the landing to his hotel.

MEN LIKE BARGAINS.

A Tailor Confesses Tricks of the "Misfit" Clothing Trade.

A downtown tailor who charges large prices for his clothes has profited by the system of the misfit clothing stores, this winter, and on the strength of it he has had work enough to keep his employes busy all winter, says the New York Sun. "Just after the holidays," he said, in explaining his scheme, "my business is usually dull. I had a lot of good hands whom I didn't want to discharge, and I thought I would employ them in making up overcoats that would fit the average man and take my chances of disposing of them. I have a lot of regular customers who did not get new overcoats this year. I had the measurements of a number of such men in mind when I had the coats cut out. When one was finished I dropped a note to a man whom I knew it would fit, telling him I had a misfit coat which I thought would suit him. He came around promptly and bought it for $65. I would have made him the same coat to order early in the season for $70, but that wouldn't have pleased him half so much as getting a misfit that just fitted him. Men are just as fond of bargains as women. I could afford to sell the clothes which I made in this way cheaper than if they had been made to order during the rush season. The men worked on them between regular jobs. Nearly all the clothes which I have thus far manufactured on speculation I have sold for good prices. Men who wouldn't order a coat have bought coats which they have thought were misfits, but which, in reality, were made after their own measurements. Each of these customers has felt that I was doing him a favor in notifying him of the misfit."

SCARED A GIRL

Into Hysterics and Is Sued For $5,000 Damages By Her Father.

Wallingford (Conn.) special to the New York Journal: Charles I. Parmalee, president of the Wallingford Golf Club, society leader and prominent business man of Wallingford, one dark evening ran at Ethel Bartholomew, the sixteen-year-old daughter of another prominent business man, and cried "Boo!" to startle her. He frightened the girl in real earnest, and when he said, "Why, don't you know me, Ethel? It's all a joke," the girl was in a dead faint. The fainting fit was followed by an attack of hysterics. With Miss Bartholomew at the time was her school chum, Clara Booth. Parmalee apologized for his act, and took the two girls to Miss Booth's home. Ethel Bartholomew did not recover there. The hysterical attacks continued, and according to the papers in a suit for $5,000 damages that has been brought by the girl's father, James Bartholomew, against Parmalee, she is now on the verge of nervous prostration, and lies in a critical condition in a sanitarium, in danger of never recovering her health and sanity. Parmalee has expressed his sorrow at the result of his joke, and his friends have tried to pacify Bartholomew, but the father will listen to no peace overtures. The formal suit for damages was filed to-day.

Ghost Played Piano.

West Point correspondent New York Herald: Residents of Rugertown, a suburb of the post, are interested in a weird concert which was given one night this week in the parlor of the home of Andrew Kuhn, a private of the army service detachment. The performance did not begin until just as the old clock in the tower of the academic building had struck the hour of midnight, the artist was invisible, and ghostly sonatas, symphonies and the like were rendered in wonderful style. It seems that Kuhn, who is an old resident of the post, had retired with his family for the night, when they were aroused by very loud and thrilling piano playing. The sound seemed to be coming from the parlor. Upon their entering the room they found it quite deserted. The piano lid was closed, but some invisible agency was sounding the keys. They were badly frightened. It might have been a cat, but the piano was closed, or it might have been rats nibbling the strings, but the strings have been found to be uninjured.

A Glimpse at Lloyds.

The general public, even in London itself, needs to be told what Lloyds is, and so it will be better to state at the outset that it is the greatest center of the shipping interest all over the world and it is surprising that, unlike its near neighbor, the Stock Exchange, it is so little known. Mr. Frederick M. Kenward contributes to Harmsworth's Magazine an exceedingly interesting article descriptive of the old institution. Lloyds owes its name to its founder, a Mr. Edward Lloyd, the proprietor of a coffee house at Tower street, the earliest mention of which is about 1668. It was to this coffee house that persons connected with shipping used regularly to resort; and Mr. Lloyd, who seems to have been a man of considerable enterprise, took care to collect all news and information he possibly could in connection with his customers' business until his coffee-house gradually came to be looked upon as the headquarters of all maritime business, and especially of marine insurance.
