Is It Right For an Editor to Recommend Patent Medicines?

From Sylvan Valley News, Brevard, N. C.: It may be a question whether the editor of a newspaper has the right to publicly recommend any of the various proprietary medicines which flood the market, yet as a preventive of suffering we feel it a duty to say a good word for Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea remedy. We have known and used this medicine in our family for twenty years and have always found it reliable. In many cases a dose of this remedy would save hours of suffering while a physician is awaited. We do not believe in depending implicitly on any medicine for a cure, but we do believe that if a bottle of Chamberlain's Diarrhoea remedy were kept on hand and administered at the inception of an attack, much suffering might be avoided and in very many cases the presence of a physician would not be required. At least this has been our experience during the past twenty years. For sale by Corrigan.

Festivities in a Crematory.

The new building of a New York cremation company was opened recently with an entertainment in the apartment which will be used as a chapel. The exercises began with prayer, followed by singing, recitations and performances on the banjo, mandolin and xylophone. Then came a lecture on liquid air and a collation was served before the audience dispersed.

White Man Turned Yellow.

Great consternation was felt by the friends of M. A. Hogarty of Lexington, Ky., when they saw he was turning yellow. His skin slowly changed color, also his eyes, and he suffered terribly. His malady was yellow jaundice. He was treated by the best doctors, but without benefit. Then he was advised to try Electric Bitters, the wonderful stomach and liver remedy, and he writes: "After taking two bottles I was wholly cured." A trial proves its matchless merit for all stomach, liver and kidney troubles. Only 50c. Sold by Corrigan, druggist.

An Epidemic of Diarrhoea.

Mr. A. Sanders, writing from Coconut Grove, Fla., says there has been quite an epidemic of diarrhoea there. He had a severe attack and was cured by four doses of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea remedy. He says he also recommended it to others and they say it is the best medicine they ever used. For sale by Corrigan.

It Saves His Leg.

P. A. Danforth of LaGrange, Ga., suffered for six months with a frightful running sore on his leg; but writes that Bucklen's Arnica Salve wholly cured it in five days. For ulcers, wounds, piles, it's the best salve in the world. Cure guaranteed. Only 25c. Sold by Corrigan, druggist.

Wounded Burglars Story.

A wounded man went to the Red Cross hospital in New York and said he was a soldier and had been shot in the Philippines. It turned out that he was a burglar, and had been shot in the hip.

Travelling Libraries.

Travelling libraries are to be established in Pennsylvania by the free library commission recently authorized. For the present the libraries are to be supported by private contributions.

Floating Variety Theater.

A floating variety theater, to be towed from one watering place to another along the coast, is an English idea for the coming summer season.

The Appetite of a Goat.

Is envied by all whose stomach and liver are out of order. But such should know that Dr. King's New Life Pills, give a splendid appetite, sound digestion and a regular bodily habit that insures perfect health and great energy. Only 25c. at Corrigan's drug store.

Children often cry, not from pain, but from hunger, although fed abundantly. The trouble arises from inactivity; their food is not assimilated, but devoured by worms. A few doses of White's Cream Vermifuge will destroy the worms, when the children will begin to thrive at once. Price, 25 cents.—Corrigan.

Millet's "Angelus."

There are few pictures which have so stirred the heart of humanity as Millet's "Angelus." The girl who supplied the model for the woman's figure was Adele Marler, who constantly reappears in the famous French artist's pictures. It is stated that she retained no resemblance of the man who posed with her. He was a mere "waif and stray," who probably little suspected that his assumed attitude of prayer was to be thus immortalized.

Tested by Trifles.

Filles are great tests of character. A man may be cool as an iceberg under extraordinary circumstances of danger or times of intense excitement; he may be calm when, at another man's order he is facing a six-gun battery and getting ready to try if he can push a bayonet through a cannoner before the gunner shoves eight pounds of assorted ironmongery through him; he may assume command and act nobly and quietly when the ship is sinking; he may preserve an even mind when the hotel is on fire; he may even speak grammatically when the ghost enters his room at midnight. But let that man upset a very small inkstand, with only very little ink in it, on his desk. He upsets his chair on the office cat as he leaps to his feet with a howl like a wild Indian or a baseball coach; he makes a desperate grab at the inkstand and swoops it half way across the desk before he sweeps it off into an open drawer full of unanswered letters, then he claws after his papers, and drags them through a little puddle of ink that wasn't doing a bit of harm before he mopped it zigzag and crooked all over everything with his white handkerchief; and, finally, after he has smeared the top of the desk, his hands and his gray pantaloons with ink, he discovers that at the first dash he had knocked a much larger bottle of red ink clear off the desk on to the floor, where it has lain, draining its crimson life away in the very heart of the lightest figure on a blue and white carpet. Then he says things at the files of life, and wonders why a man always makes an idiot of himself when he upsets a little bottle of ink. And he may keep on wondering, because he will never know why. Nobody knows. He just does it; that is all.—Robert J. Burdette in Los Angeles Times.

Declaration of Independence.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Independent writes: I thought there was one thing in Washington that an Englishman ought to see—namely, the declaration of independence. So I took my friend to the state department and showed him that instrument, which, for its better preservation, is now kept in a safe away from the light. So far as its matter and substance are concerned, the instrument will much better bear the light of day than some passed since, but while the body of the text is fairly legible, the names of a large part of them have faded away. Hancock used a great deal of ink to write his name, and must have wielded his quill like a brush, but there is not a trace of his signature now on the paper, and one must go to the facsimile to tell who the signers were. The original draft of the declaration in the handwriting of Jefferson and Franklin is much better preserved than the declaration itself. Where did Jefferson buy his ink? This fading of public documents on account of bad ink has led to the passage by the state of Massachusetts of a law prescribing the use of standard ink for public records, and imposing a fine of $50 in case any other ink is used for such purpose than that prescribed by the secretary of the commonwealth.

Business men who lack the vim, snap and vigor they once had, should use Herbine, it will purify the blood, strengthen and invigorate the system. Price, 50c.—Corrigan.

Those who live on farms are especially liable to many accidental cuts, burns and bruises which heal rapidly when Ballard's Snow Liniment is applied. Price, 25 and 50 cents.—Corrigan.

Herbine clears the complexion, gives buoyancy to the mind, cures headache, regulates the stomach and bowels, stimulates the liver, and is, in fact, a perfect guardian of the health. Price, 50 cents, Corrigan.

More Deadly Than War.

There were 2,431 train accidents in the United States in 1899, against 2,238 in 1898. The killing numbered 689 and the injured 2,061. This exceeds the number killed and wounded in the Philippines during the eighteen months ended December 31, 1899, the excess in killed being 24 per cent and in wounded 11 per cent.

If the stomach, liver and bowels fail to perform their functions regularly and naturally, the blood becomes contaminated with impurities, and the whole system is in consequence debilitated. Herbine is remarkable for its efficacy in curing the ailments of summer, and the disorders prevalent during hot weather. Price, 50 cents.—Corrigan.

THE COUNTY PRESS

Chambers Eagle: It is proposed to get up a car load of exhibits to send to the state fair at Lincoln. The South Fork country will be in a position to furnish a large share of exhibits. It is hoped that every farmer will take hold of the matter enthusiastically.

Atkinson Plain-Dealer: While playing with some other lads last Saturday in the hay loft of his father's barn, Thomas, the 10-year old son of T. E. Doolittle, fell from near the roof and broke his right arm near the elbow. At last reports the little fellow was getting along nicely. . . . At a meeting held Friday evening for the purpose of reorganizing the Atkinson gun club the following business was transacted: John Brady was made temporary chairman. Lee Henry was made permanent secretary and John Brady permanent treasurer. On motion it was decided to have a shooting tournament here this fall, and the date was set for Wednesday and Thursday, August 8 and 9. Membership fee was set at $2, and members solicited. On motion committee of three was selected to locate new grounds. A committee of three was also appointed to arrange program for the shoot.

Talked of Lynching.

Butte Gazette: What came near proving a neck-tie festival happened at Lynch last Wednesday night, and only the lack of a leader is all that saved Fred Brailey from dangling from the end of a rope.

Late that night he tore the wire netting from the bedroom window of the room occupied by May Allgor, at the Walters hotel, and with a knife in his hand entered the room and got in bed with the sleeping girl.

She awoke, and seeing the intruder, screamed at the top of her voice. He placed the knife against her breast and swore he would kill her unless he kept still. Instead, she continued to scream, and he skipped out the way he got in.

The racket awoke the hotel people and Landlord Walters and the marshal soon had the culprit in custody, finding him in bed at the Central hotel with clothes and shoes on. We understand that when the citizens gathered and found out what he had attempted to do they were inclined to take summary vengeance, but wiser counsel prevailed and it was decided to let the law take its course.

His preliminary trial was held in Lynch yesterday, County Attorney Tingle going down to prosecute, and resulted in his being bound over to the district court. His bond was placed at $1,000, which he has so far failed to get and is now in charge of officers here.

Brailey lives near Alford. His chance for a term in the penitentiary is good.

Miss Allgor is the daughter of Henry Allgor, who formerly lived near the Badger bridge, and is a young lady of irreproachable character.

St. Paul Republican: The nomination of Stevenson spikes democracy's guns so far as criticism of the international monetary commission is concerned. The democratic candidate for vice-president was a member of that body. We do not expect to hear much about "the fellows who thook a pleasure trip to Europe at the expense of the government to see what the queen of England thought about free silver" during this campaign.

The public for the 'teenth time is reliably informed that the foreigners at Pekin have and have not been murdered.

There is no longer an excuse for any one to endure the torture inflicted by piles when Tabler's Buckeye Pile ointment will cure them, a remedy so moderate in price and so effective. Price, 50 cents in bottles. Tubes, 75 cents.—Corrigan.
