Closing out jewelry at cost—Matheny. Editor Coombs of Spencer was in the city Monday. Peter Greeley of Atkinson was in the city Friday last. P. C. McCarthy returned home from Fremont last night. Order some of those nice visiting cards of The Frontier. C. L. Bright was in Omaha the first of the week on business. Visiting cards just like an engraving, 50c for 50 at The Frontier. When you are hungry a good, square meal at Merriman's will fix you out. W. C. Alley returned Wednesday last from a protracted stay in Minnesota. S. J. Weekes left for Hot Springs Saturday night for a week's outing. Aching teeth filled or extracted with-out pain, by Dr. Corbett, 23rd to 30th. E. H. Benedict has first-class Building and Loan stock for sale or can make you a loan. N. J. Hill, operator at the F. E., is spending a two weeks' vacation at West Point. The Dewey hog waterer is the best in the market, call and see them at Biglin's. John Skirving went down to Lincoln Tuesday morning to attend the Grand Army reunion. Rafe King and Clarence Campbell went up to the Long Pine Chautauquus Sunday evening. Are you going to school this fall? If so how about attending the Omaha Commercial College. Go to Matheny's with your jewelry repair work. Remember that Mr. Hamlin does the work. A. L. Towle passed through the city yesterday enroute to Lincoln to attend the Grand Army reunion. The railroad fare from O'Neill to Long Pine Chautauquus August 2 to 15, will be one fare for the round trip. G. W. Smith is away from duty at the Short Line attending to business in Omaha, Lincoln and other points. A ball game last Sunday between Scottville and O'Neill's second nine resulted in a score of 7 to 10 for O'Neill. The fall term of the Omaha commercial College opens Monday, September 3. Catalogue sent free to any address. Miss Mary Seanton of Ceresco arrived in the city Saturday night and is visiting friends, Mrs. Mary O'Sullivan and Mrs. Kirwin. Neil Brennan has the finest line of stoves ever seen in this section of the country. Call and see him before you purchase. The Miseses Belle and Edna King returned Friday evening from Pilger, where they had been visiting the past six weeks. STRAYED—From my place in O'Neill a horse, light bay, one white hind foot, weight about 1,000. Notify Den Hunt and receive reward.

A grand ball, to which everybody is invited, will be given at the opera-house on the evening of the 31st. Arrangements are being made for a grand time.

During the month of August I will give free with each dozen of cabinet photos at $3.50 per dozen, one life-size portrait. A. D. Matheny.

The Frontier acknowledges receipt of invitation with ticket of admittance to the Boone county fair, which will be held September 19 to 21.

Lynch Sun: Mrs. Dr. Trueblood and son from O'Neill, mother and brother of Dr. Homer Newell of this place, drove in town last evening and are stopping at the Walters hotel.

Miss Nella Bacon of Elmira, N. Y., arrived in the city Tuesday evening and will spend the fall and winter with her sister, Mrs. A. C. King, and family.

It is stated that several of the smaller stations along the Short Line will be closed up. They don't furnish business to pay for keeping them in operation.

Pat McManus dedicated his new clothing room Monday night by giving a dance to the public. The affair was largely attended and a pleasant time had.

Garrett Doyle arrived in the city Monday evening on a short visit. Garrett is now located at Park City, Utah, and had been east. He stopped here on his return to Utah.

D. J. J. Hornback, of Spencer, was in the city the first of the week and called renewing to the Frontier for one year. Mr. Hornback says that the republicans are going to carry Boyd county this fall.

Tom Coyne returned home Sunday evening, having resigned his position at the state penitentiary. Dominick McCaffrey also came up at the same time on a visit. Mr. Coyne is expecting to attend school at Fremont.

The Omaha Commercial College located between 300 and 400 students in good mercantile positions last year. How is that for a record? If you want a good position the O. C. C. can fit you for it and then give it to you.

Michael Lynch died at his home near Emmet and was buried in O'Neill Tuesday, the funeral being held at the Catholic church. Deceased was about sixty years of age and leaves a family. He had been sick for two months.

Walt Keeler brought The Frontier a notice last week for publication to the effect that the O'Neill barber shops will be closed Sunday hereafter. The notice escaped somehow without getting into the paper. No more Sunday shaves.

The Madison band had been appointed the First Nebraska regimental band by Colonel Killin and will make its appearance with the regiment at Hastings at the encampment. The notice of appointment was received last evening.

The Robinson-Blinco violation of the game law suit which The Frontier has spoken of the past two weeks and which was to have been tried on Monday, was dismissed by the county court for the reason that the prosecution failed to appear.

A new roof is being put upon the school-house. Considerable other improvements will be necessary before school opens. Much of the plastering is off and some new flooring will be laid. School, however, is expected to begin the first Monday in September.

It is probably not generally known that O'Neill has become an ice supplying point. But this is so. Since the 1st of May F. C. Gatz has shipped a car of ice each week over the Short Line to towns down that way. Mr. Gatz says he has plenty of ice this year.

Plain Dealer: Arthur F. Mullen, of O'Neill, who recently returned from Ann Arbor, Mich., where he graduated from the law department of that famous university, was a very pleasant caller at this sanctum one day this week. Art is a candidate before the fusion county convention for the office of county attorney.

Charles Petersen's Concert company will appear in O'Neill next Tuesday evening. Hans Albert as violinist and Mue. Wagner-Thomas as soprano. Mr. Albert is a great artist, one of the leading in the country, and his playing alone makes a rich musical treat. The soprano is a sweet singer, with a liquid, fervent and powerful voice.

Stuart Ledger: Ed Walker, who has been rusticated in Montana for a few weeks, returned Thursday mornig accompanied by his brother-in-law, Walter Bowring. They did not stop at Stuart, but went on to O'Neill whither they had been summoned to the bedside of Mrs. Bowring, who is quite sick. Mr. Bowring is employed as a brakeman in the passenger service of the Burlington system.

EXTEND SHORT LINE TO ALLIANCE

Sioux City Tribune: The extension of the Sioux City, O'Neill and Western road from O'Neill to Alliance, Neb., to connect with the Burlington and Missouri river system, has been determined upon by the Great Northern management.

It is expected that the extension will be built next season, though in contracting and railroad circles it is understood the work would be let sooner if there should come a period of more reasonable prices on steel. At any rate, the extension has been finally determined, and the formal announcement of it is expected in the near future. Not only has the extension been determined, but the arrangements have been made between the Great Northern and the Burlington systems for an exchange of traffic. The alliance is of the defensive and offensive kind.

The Great Northern has the O'Neill and Western on its hands, and must make some use of it. An extension toward the Black Hills country is the natural conclusion. Alliance is in Box Butte county, about 290 miles west of O'Neill, on the Black Hills line of the Burlington and Missouri River system. Such an extension, it is needless to point out, would not be made by President Hill unless he was assured of such traffic arrangements as would make it a good property. The relations between President C. E. Perkins, of the Burlington, and President Hill, of the Great Northern, are, both personally and in a business way, of the most friendly. There is understood to be an alliance between the two systems for protection of territory in which both systems are interested. Thus, if the two companies have agreed, as seems to be pretty certain, to effect a junction at Alliance, it must mean an interchange of business which would give Sioux City a direct connection and through rates to the Hills country.

The Judges Caught.

State Journal: The recent order of Governor Poynter sent to the various counties to enforce the game laws was intended purely for political capital, but in some localities it did not work right. At Norfolk the first man nabbed was a prominent fusionist who had in his possession twenty-five prairie chickens, which called for a fine of $125. At O'Neill two district judges were detected slaying "stubble ducks." An agent of the state sportsmen's association was after them, and it is said that they had hard work bluffing him. In the talk, if reports are correct, Judge Westover said: "If you arrest me Harrington will let me out on habeas corpus, and if you arrest him I will let him out. If you take both of us, we will see that you go to the penitentiary."

The Fremont Tribune contains the following about an O'Neill boy who spoke at an oratorical contest at Fremont Wednesday of last week and won second honors: "The last speaker in the contest was P. J. Donohoe and he spoke on 'Spirit of Liberty.' He went over the history of the world from ancient times and showed how the growth of liberty had come to such a point that the great republic of the United States was made a possibility. Of the changes that had been wrought in American affairs Mr. Donohoe spoke with eloquence. His presence was good and his voice well placed. He was one of the favorites with his hearers."

R. E. Jenness and wife, who have been visiting here with their son, R. H. Jenness, for the last month, left for Chandler, Okla., yesterday morning. They will stop one night and a day visit relatives in Omaha and one night in El Reno, Okla., arriving home Saturday noon. Mr. Jenness came here very much broken down in health, but with ten days in Hot Springs, together with our invigorating climate and pure water, he has entirely recovered. He was very much pleased with this country. They were accompanied by their daughter and grand-daughter, who will visit for a time, after which they will return to their home in Seattle, Wash.

Crawford Gazette: Hon M. P. Kincaid, republican nominee for congress in this Sixth district, passed through this part of the country this week. He stopped off in Crawford on Thursday for a few hours, and met several of his old friends. The judge will arrange to make use a more lengthy visit before the campaign closes. There is not the least doubt but that the judge will roll up a big majority in this judicial district, and in that case his election is certain.

Morrison-Kilmurry.

The nuptials of Mr. Robert R. Morrison and Miss Nellie Kilmurry were celebrated in this city last Monday morning at 6 o'clock at St. Patrick's Catholic church, Rev. Father Jennett of Omaha officiating. Although the marriage was performed at an unusually early hour, nevertheless, a large concourse of friends were present to witness the ceremony which joined together the destinies of two of the popular young people of O'Neill.

The bride was beautifully attired in a rich, white organdie, carrying a handsome cluster of bride's roses and presented a charming appearance. The bridesmaid, Miss Margaret Hurley, wore a dainty pink organdie and carried pink roses. The groom and groomsmen, Mr. James Morrison, wore the conventional black. After the ceremony the bridal couple repaired to the home of the bride's parents, where a delightful wedding breakfast was served. Only relatives and intimate friends of the contracting parties were present.

These young people are too well and favorably known to call for any extended comment at our hands. The bride is the daughter of R. R. Kilmurry, one of Holt county's most enterprising farmers. She is a young lady of many virtues and accomplishments, having resided in O'Neill from infancy. The groom is head clerk at Neil Brennan's hardware store, and is a young man of exemplary habits and business ability. Mr. and Mrs. Morrison boarded the morning train, amid showers of rice and good wishes, for Omaha where they will visit for a few days and on their return home will be tendered a reception. The Frontier congratulates this worthy young couple and wishes them naught of ill, and all of good that their fondest dreams conceive.

HANS ALBERT.*

Mannheim Tageblatt, Germany: The full, warm, soul-inspiring tone with which he played a romance by Wagner, the dash, fire and technical surety exhibited in Raff's Cavatina and the "Hungarian Airs" by Ernst justly brought him long continued applause.

San Francisco Chronicle: Albert surely deserves a place among the greatest violinists of the world. Although evidently a master of technique his great success with the audience last evening was chiefly due to his large, sympathetic tone and passionate playing.

American Musician: Hans Albert met with a reception which amounted almost to an ovation. He has a broad and sympathetic tone, pure intonation and a wonderful facility in the management of the bow. His playing, moreover, is imbued with an intensity and warmth of expression and poetic feeling which characterizes him as an artist in the truest sense of the word.

*At opera-house, O'Neill, Tuesday evening, August 21.

Drs. Kinslow and Kinslow.

Osteopathic physicians, have established office rooms over Frank Campbell's store and their ad appears in another column. The doctor and his wife are learned and successful practitioners in osteopathy and have located here permanently, prepared to treat all diseases amenable to that science.

The Atkinson base ballists are not expected in O'Neill today to play the game arranged for. Atkinson thinks she was insulted on her last visit to the hub, but the probabilities are that there is some termidity at facing the O'Neill aggregation in the ball arena the third time. Says Atkinson to O'Neill: "We wont play in your yard— We don't like you any more. You'll be sorry when you hear it For we wont play ball any more."

Judge and Mrs. C. Selah have been enjoying a visit from Washington and Omaha relatives. Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Selah and children, Marion and Ruth, of Washington city and Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Bartlett of Omaha. Mrs. F. A. Harm and daughter of Chadron were also guests of Judge and Mrs. Selah. H. W. Selah and family departed Tuesday evening for Chadron and the Black Hills.

"Gregg" is the name of a new system of shorthand now taught at the Omaha Commercial College. It has but one slant one position, no shades, less than 200 word-signs, is extremely legible, and admits of the highest good. It can be learned in half the time required for Pitman. Write for particulars. Rev. J. M. Bates will preach in the Episcopal church next Sunday. Morning services will be held at 10:30 and evening 8 o'clock. Subject for morning will be "China." These are interesting subjects at the present time, and it is hoped that a large attendance will be present. Pat O'Donnell returned from Alliance this morning.

RUN INTO BY A PASSENGER TRAIN

Intelligence of an accident on the Elkhorn road at the crossing near John Coffey's about three miles west of town on Tuesday night was received here yesterday.

The particulars are hard to get at as the ones injured were taken to Atkinson and no one in the community of the accident knows anything about it. John Rotherham and brother were returning to their home west of Emmet from O'Neill between ten and eleven o'clock that night. Just as they drove onto the crossing the Black Hills passenger going west struck them. The engineer brought his engine to a stop as quickly as possible and the trainmen hurried to the scene of the accident. Both men were alive and were taken aboard the train and conveyed to Atkinson. One of them was pretty badly hurt, but the other received only slight bruises. Such is the word that comes from Atkinson concerning the two men. O'Neill people who visited the scene of the accident yesterday saw that both horses had been killed, one lying on each side of the track, and the wagon was smashed to flinters.

McCaffrey Items.

Hailstones of enormous size fell here Sunday. Charley Saunders of Scottville is working on the Gilman ranch. Mrs. Hansen and Rachel Ballingtime were at Atkinson Friday last. Warner Gilman had business in Atkinson last Friday.

Peter Hansen, one of our industrious young men, bought him a fine piece of land here last week.

John Horriskey, Dick O'Malley and Felix Sullivan visited at their respective homes Sunday. The ball game between Amelia and McCaffrey did not come off Sunday, as Amelia played with Chambers. Score: Amelia, 14; Chambers, 19.

Albert Newell was out from O'Neill one day this week.

Domnick McCaffrey, who is up from Lincoln, is visiting here.

Excursion Rates, F., E. & M. V. Nebraska state fair, Lincoln, excursion tickets will be sold on September 3, 4, 5, 6 and 7 to Lincoln and return at one fare for the round trip, good returning until and including September 8. Slashed! Twenty five choice dress patterns and a lot of remnants reduced-- 25 to 50 per cent. to close. Excellent for suits, skirts or children's dresses. Cut to suit. J. P. Mann

A Summer Trip. The trip to Salt Lake City by way of the Rio Grande Western railway in connection with the Denver & Rio Grande or Colorado Midland roads is the grandest in America. No European railroad of equal length can compare with it in grandeur of scenery or wealth of novel interest. Then Salt Lake City itself is a most quaint and picturesque place and well worth the journey to see. Its Mormon temple, tabernacle, tithing office and church institutions; its hot and warm sulphur springs within the city limits; its delightfully temperate sunny climate and its Great Salt Lake—deader and denser than the Dead Sea in Palestine—are but a few features of Salt Lake City's countless attractions. There are parks, drives, canyons, and beautiful outlying mountain and lake resorts. Imagine, if you can, a bath in salt water a mile above sea level and in water in which the human body cannot sink. Inquire of your nearest ticket agent for low tourist rate to Salt Lake City or write for information and copy of "Salt Lake City—the city of the saints" to E. Copland, general agent, 215 Dearborn st. Chicago, or George W. Heintz, general passenger agent, Salt Lake City.
