Tornado season is now here; have your property insured at once. C. L. Bright will write it, and hand you the policy at once—no delay. Ask him about terms, etc. 51-2

C. L. Bright returned Thursday last from a trip to Illinois and Wisconsin. Charley says vegetation in Nebraska is far ahead of that country. They have been suffering from a long period of dry weather.

The Valentine Republican says Cherry county stockmen are preparing to harvest the hay crop by July 1. Grass in this section would make good hay now and in all probability mowers will be running earlier than usual.

C. L. McElhaney of Dorsey, an old friend of The Frontier, was in Tuesday and called, leaving an order for job work and renewing his subscription. Mr. McElhaney says its "pretty wet" out his way.

Jim Pinkerman went to Omaha Tuesday to receive treatment for blood poison at a hospital. He has a bad hand and arm, the result of a slight wound on one finger. He was doctoring a horses teeth and accidentally punctured the end of a finger on a tooth. The bad hand and arm are the result.

Electrical currents were dashing around pretty close last Saturday while the floods of water were falling. W. M. Lockard received a shock that made him cringe by taking hold of rainpipe. A calf was also killed out in Frank Campbell's pasture. There was no unusual display of lightning and thunder, but the atmosphere seemed to be laden with electricity.

Ten candidates were initiated into the mysteries of Woodcraft Tuesday evening. After the candidates had successfully passed through the forest they accompanied the members of the camp to the Ogdin hotel, where Host Anderson had a spread prepared. And the way the boys did eat was conclusive evidence that they had been laboring in the forest.

Married at Dorsey June 12, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. James E. Wiley to Miss Amanda E. Binkard, Rev. Rosenkrans officiating. The contracting parties have lived at Dorsey from childhood and are held in high esteem by all. A delicious wedding dinner was served and a very pleasant day spent by a number of invited guests. Music and a grand social time was indulged in. Many presents were received by the young couple, who have the hearty congratulations and best wishes of all.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Whelan and son arrived in O'Neill Tuesday evening. The professor a few weeks ago graduated from the law department of the state university and is thinking some of putting out his shingle for the practice of his chosen profession in the city. His time will be occupied for the next few weeks, however, as one of the instructors in the O'Neill Summer school which opens Monday. Mr. Whelan has the ability to make a successful lawyer and we predict his ascent in his chosen profession will be rapid and permanent.

While lightning was ripping chunks from the atmosphere and thunders crashed with boisterous sounds last night Casper Englehaup's house was struck by a bolt and the inmates nearly prostrated with fright and electricity. The flash was caught by old electric light wire that were in the house but had fallen into disuse and carried to apparently every viber in the room which Mr. and Mrs. Englehaup were occupying. Casper says a sudden glare flashed through the house and immediately the whole place was filled with smoke and sulphur fumes. He was dazed by the shock and coming to his senses found his wife in a similar condition but nothing serious resulting. He hastened to the bedroom of his three sleeping children and found them safe. Paper was ripped from the wall, the lightning leaving a burnt track as it went. The total damage was found to be slight.

A Lincoln special of last Friday says: Michael Begley, a "trusty" convict at the state penitentiary, escaped at about 10 o'clock this morning, and at a late hour tonight has not been recaptured. Begley accompanied the steward of the institution to the city and was left outside a grocery store in charge of the prison team. When the steward came out the team was tied and Begley was gone. Lincoln police tonight received information which led them to think that Begley hired a rig and driver at Raymond and drove northwest in the direction of York. Begley was sent up two years ago from Holt county for a ten years term for criminal assault.

Died, of heart trouble, at her home five miles northwest of O'Neill, on the evening of June 10, 1901, Mrs. Annie Stanton, age eighty-five years. She was born in county Galway, Ireland, in the year 1816 and came to America in 1870, and locating in Youngstown, Ohio, soon after coming to Holt county, Nebraska, where she resided until death. The funeral was held at St. Patrick's church on June 12, requiem high mass being held. Mrs. Stanton leaves three daughters, Mrs. William Joyce and Mrs. Patrick Madden of O'Neill and Mrs. Martin Welsh of South Omaha, twenty grand children and eighteen great-grand children. Deceased was a devout Christian, a loving mother and a kind and sociable neighbor.

Trains have been coming in from one to two hours late the fore part of the past week. Very heavy rains fell all along the Elkhorn valley and the roadbeds were waterlogged and rendered dangerous to the fast running of trains, which were unable to make their usual time. The Elkhorn river itself has been swollen to a great river over a half mile in width. It has been a number of year since the river carried the volume of water that it has now and was never so large at this season of the year within the memory of most of our people. The irrigation ditch and mill race furnished outlets for much of the surplus water and prevented damage to bridges and road grades in the vicinity of O'Neill.

Auction Sale.

Last .. Call

No doubt you intend to settle your account with me before I leave O'Neill, as I don't want to have a single good account unsettled. For the few remaining days I will be in O'Neill I will be very busy invoicing and arranging my affairs for the change and you will do me a great favor if you will do me respond promptly to this notice, as it will be impossible for me to see or notify you personally. If you have been accomodated, you can now reciprocate; and rest assured it will be fully appreciated by, yours truly,
