R. R. Dickson, Chairman.

McKinley day at Canton will certainly be a sad day for the president if he reads the Amelia poets' "rebuks."

Honesty, like charity, begins at home. Don't expect treatment according to the golden rule unless you practice it yourself.

It has been figured out that the world's wars have cost $6 a minute since the creation of Adam. 'Bout time to quit fighting.

And now Bro. Henry threatens to embark in poetry writing. Whither drifts the high and mighty calling of the newspaper man?

If the railroads that forbid their employees to visit saloons or drink liquor would cut off the refrigerator cars they would greatly expedite matters.

Washington boasts of a 25,000,000 bushel wheat crop. Nebraska never made any pretensions at raising wheat, but she beats that several millions.

The syndicate sheet is getting hard up for campaign thunder when it will publish deliberate falsehoods in an attempt to bolster up a hopeless cause.

The indications are that the syndicate editorial bureau has taken the Stuart Herald under its wing. The bureau had better establish a censure lest Bill makes some bad break.

The Butte Gazette is urging to the front the proposition of voting bonds in Boyd county for a railroad. Usually people are willing to pay pretty high to get a railroad into their territory but a community now-a-days without a railroad is no better than the "back-woods." Butte people think they have a tangible railroad proposition. Boyd county will never come to the front as its natural resources warrant until a railroad taps that territory.

If populist argument has been reduced to the twaddle about republicans claiming the credit for good crops, populists have reached a stage of silliness too silly for serious consideration.

A half column of rot that made the pages of the World-Herald stink last Thursday went in from O'Neill. The reform camp is sending up a horrible stench and should be cast out of the city in the interest of good health.

When the esteemed Independent has acquired a little better reputation for truthfulness perhaps the public will lend an attentive ear to the reading of its double-headed shrieks about the dishonesty of others.

Stuart Ledger: O'Neill is not as good as Stuart. We have had plenty of rain while O'Neill has not enough moisture to lay the dust.

On the theory that Lucifer, "prince of the power of the air," controls the elements adjacent to this mundane sphere, Stuart evidently stands in with the devil.

The commissioners of Cherry county have ordered Treasurer Thacker to collect back taxes by distress warrant and the treasury is being flooded. Some people don't pay taxes because they can't while other don't want to. Its the latter class that distress warrants are designed to reach.

For the past month the oracle of populism of Holt county, the Independent, the paper of the esteemed poet from Amelia, has devoted about all of its space to The Frontier and Lincoln Journal while its former readers have been coming to The Frontier for the news. If the pops begin to tear their hair this early in the game some of them will have to be conveyed to Norfolk before The Frontier gets through with them this fall.

A Denver special says: In view of the interest taken in the question of whether or not animal tuberculosis can be communicated to human beings, T. L. Monson, state dairy commissioner of Colorado, offers himself as a subject for a thorough test of the matter, providing a suitable annuity for his family is assured in case of fatal results. Mr. Monson has made a study of the matter and is a strong believer in Dr. Koch's theory.

Stuart Herald: The question is arising daily what course or upon what issue the republicans will stand on this fall.

If the question "is arising daily" it ought to be "risen" pretty soon. The republican side of this fall's campaign is worrying populists a whole lot more than it is republicans. That there was once an unfortunate man by the name of Barrett Scott will be harped upon as long as there is a pop to breathe. Among Holt county's noble reformers are men yet at large upon whose fingers is the smell of county money and republicans are ready for the mud batteries of the craven hypocrites who sit in high places in the populist party.

Nobody in "advance of his time" with Moses-like leadership has yet arisen to champion the cause of matrimonial reform in respect to educational test. While civilization is marching on it would be a mark of advancement to require of men and women a degree of intellectual attainments sufficient at least to read, write and comprehend straight English before they become fathers and mothers. Look into the faces of the children whose parents have to draw on the learning of others to read and write for them! The stamp of ignorance is there. They are the kind of children that roam the streets with garments unkempt, disheveled hair and dirt covered skin bearing more resemblance to the savages than the children of civilized man. They are the kind that form that strata of society called the "tough element." There is nothing so unfits a man or woman for the sombre destinies of life, the rearing of children and the duties of husband and wife as an intellect grown to weeds.

"Buffalo Bill."

The new $16 silver certificate will be christened "Buffalo bill," because its distinct characteristic will be the figure of a gigantic buffalo. A Washington dispatch says:

On the note the buffalo is headed westward, his shaggy head well down for a charge, his tail in a pugnacious attitude, and his matted mane sweeping the ground. To obtain the sketch for this note the artist visited the National museum, where there are several stuffed specimens of the bison species. The finest was selected and the drawing made from him. On the reverse of the note will be an artistic design. In this note, as in the others of the series, it is intended to leave as much open work as possible with a handsome design, the silk threads in the paper forming one of the greatest safeguards against counterfeiting. In many of the older notes the threads were obscured almost entirely by the scroll work. The subjects for this series will be confined to American life, hence the name "American series." On the $1 bill is the eagle; on the $2 George Washington, and on the $5 the handsome head of the Indian chief Onepapa. It was suggested that a picture of the battleship Maine be used on the $10 notes and the idea at first was adopted. Later it was rejected, as not distinctly American, and not to be distinguished from any other battleship. The department is still searching for a suitable subject for the $20 and $50 bills.

It is well to keep a weather eye on the fellow who prates loudly about honesty and a good character.

Emmet Items.

Mrs. L. Enbody, in company with her two children, met with quite a serious accident while on their way to the house of worship Sunday a week ago. Their horse became frightened and ran away, throwing them from the cart, breaking Mrs. Enbody's arm and dislocating a bone. Dr. McDonald of Atkinson was at once called and dressed the wounds. The children were not hurt.

Lee Jones of Garfield county is visiting at the home of John Maring.

Mrs. M. Lyons returned last week from a protracted visit in California.

Charley Hubby, who has been employed by the irrigation company, has moved to a place near O'Neill.

Ed Olson, Wright Hitchcock and David Ish were guests at the John Carey place Sunday evening.

Thrust at Youth's Pride.

Dr. Joseph Parker, the noted London preacher, was recently lecturing on "Eternity" in a provincial town and was much annoyed by a young dandy who was seated near the platform. The youth, proud of a new watch, was continually pulling it out to see what time it was. Finally the lecturer could stand it no longer. Looking full at the offender he said: "Put up your watch, young man. We are considering eternity, not time."

A Giant Gorilla.

Herr Paschen has just presented to the Hamburg museum a splendid specimen of a giant gorilla, which he himself shot in the Cameroon hinterland. The gorilla is seven feet long from the crown of the head to the tip of its middle toe, and the span of its arms is slightly greater than its height. The weight is adjudged at about 500 pounds. It is said that this is the largest specimen possessed by any museum in the world.
