The Plain-Dealer says Atkinson's world's fair "wasn't a howling success." It must have been pretty flat when a paper will talk like the Plain-Dealer did.

Lew Chapman was down from Atkinson Saturday feeling the pulse of the O'Neill voters. Lew has many friends in this city who will assist in swelling his majority at the coming election.

Those owing us on subscription are requested to call and pay up. We have several hundred dollars on our books which we desire to collect during this month. Call in and pay up.

Manager Smith of the operahouse has engaged the Schubert Symphony Club for entertainment the 28th. The entertainment is on the high class musical order with a lady quartet and other attractions.

James Davis and Bob Williams have the contract for building the Standard Oil Company plant in O'Neill, which will be erected on the grounds of the Elkhorn railway.

While raking hay last Friday Thomas Cain was kicked by a horse and suffered a fracture of the left leg, just below the knee. Dr. Gilligan set the broken limb and the patient is getting along nicely.

Will Mullen expects to leave for Chicago Sunday to re-enter the Northwestern Dental school. After two more years spent in that institution Will expect to be a genuine tooth carpenter.

Stuart Herald: Lon Brundage was up from O'Neill Wednesday evening. Lon is going to start a barber shop here in the near future. He is a first-class man at his business and one who will make friends rapidly.

Miss Alice Coykendall wishes to announce to the public that she has opened her dress making parlors in her residence in the western part of the city and she is now prepared to furnish her customers costumes cut and made in the latest style.

C. M. Smith, of Chambers, was in O'Neill Tuesday and left that morning for Buffalo to view the sights at the exposition and to visit relatives at his old home in Pennsylvania for a few weeks.

John Tremmershauser was in town Monday evening making goo-goo eyes at several of his late republican companions in arms. No use John the boys won't know you when it comes time to make an X on the ballot.

Frank Currie of Whitney, Neb., one of the leading politicians and cattle men of Dawes county was in O'Neill yesterday. Mr. Currie was in this section buying cattle to ship to his ranch in the western portion of the state.

Mrs. Emma Talbot, of South Omaha, president of the Rebecka Assembly for the state of Nebraska, visited the local Rebecka lodge last Friday evening holding a district meeting. Delegates were present from lodges on the Elkhorn east and west of O'Neill. After the business of the evening was transacted the ladies of the local lodge tendered a banquet to their visitors.

The Frontier unintentionally neglected in last week to mention the sad death of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wagers' baby. This is the third child they have been called upon to follow to the grave within the year, the tragic end of the two bright little ones a year ago being still fresh in the memory of O'Neill people. Their baby died last week after suffering many days from a summer complaint that had become epidemic among O'Neill children.

Diamond Willow Camp, modern Woodmen of American of Inman will give a picnic at Sam Davis' grove one-half mile northwest of Inman on Wednesday, September 18, 1901. Representation will be the same as at the county convention.

R. E. Bewden, Secretary. T. B. Harrison, Chairman.

A certain young lady stepped into a local dry goods store the other day and said: "It is my desire to obtain a pair of circular elastic appendages capable of being expanded and contracted by oscillating burnished steel appliances that sparkle like particles of gold leaf set with Alaska diamonds which are utilized for keeping in position the habiliments of the lower extremities of which innately delicate forbids me to mention." She had just purchased a pair of loud stockings and wanted some garters to go around her calves.

Working Night and Day. The busiest and mightiest little thing that ever was made is Dr. King's New Life Pills. These pills change weakness into strength, listlessness into energy, brain-fog into mental power. They're wonderful in building up health. Only 25c per box. Sold by P. C. Corrigan.

Neligh Leader: "Roy Ashton, who was in Gates academy last year, was recently notified that he had been selected to fill a responsible position in the pension office at Washington, D. C., at a salary of $900 for first year. Mr. Ashton passed the civil service examination some time ago, and was once before assured a position, at a less salary, but the notice miscarried in the mails, and was not received until too late for acceptance. He left Tuesday to enter upon his new duties." Mr. Ashton is a son of A. B. Ashton of Emmet, and his O'Neill friends are pleased at his good fortune.

A very pretty marriage occurred at the home of Mrs. and Mr. C. Selah, of O'Neill, Neb., Thursday, Sept. 5 1901, at 8:30 p. m., when Myrtle M. Anderson, the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Anderson, of Star, Neb., and George M. Thierolf, the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Thierolf, of Star, Neb., who formerly live in Plattsmouth, Neb. were united. The ceremony was performed by Judge Selah, after which they returned to the home of the groom, where a grand supper was served at 12 o'clock p. m. and the rest of the evening was enjoyed by music and dancing. Numerous beautiful gifts were received from friends and relatives.

Stood Death Off. E. B. Munday, a lawyer of Henrietta, Tex., once fooled a grave-digger. He says: "My brother was very low with malarial fever and jaundice, I persuaded him to try Electric Bitters, and he was soon much better, but continued their use until he was wholly cured. I am sure Electric Bitters saved his life." This remedy expels malaria, kills disease germs and purifies the blood; aids digestion, regulates liver, kidneys and bowels, cures constipation, dyspepsia, nervous diseases, kidney troubles, female complaints; gives perfect health. Only 50c at P. C. Corrigan's drug store.

Dr. Berry and Frank Hopkins were held up last Sunday night, near the Graham farm about seven miles northwest of O'Neill. The vandals relieved the Doctor of a watch and $10 or $15 in coin of the realm, entirely ignoring Hopkins. Since the commission of the offense it has developed that the whole deal was a put-up job and that the perpetrators of the joke are three leading young men of Shields township. Jokes are all right in their way and when used in the right place but jokes of this kind and character are entirely out of place and if persisted it may lead in a procession in which the would-be perpetrators would occupy the front end of the procession. Cut it out boys! It's the safest.

Notice to A. O. U. W. Deputy Grand Master Workman Vandike will deliver a lecture at the hall of the A. O. U. W. Lodge Saturday evening September 14th. All workmen, members of A. O. U. Ed Alberts has gone to Alliance to play the balance of the season.

Father Muenich was down from Stuart today.

M. R. Sullivan is in Omaha this week.

The Pope and His Picture. The Paris correspondent of London Truth writes: "I said that Leo XIII, as presented by M. Benjamin Constant, was a vain man. The painter would like the judgment to be slightly softened. But he confesses that his holiness is not exempt from coquetry. When he was sitting, he from time to time asked to see how the portrait was progressing. It is said he whispered into the painter's ear: 'Do not try to make me look too old.'"

Sox City Tribune: A. W. Sovereign of Savage, Neb., was to Sioux City today and told a most revolting story of the death of Silas Durkee, living near that place. The mutilation of his body by a drove of hogs, the struggle of his wife, first to save his body, and later to save her own life, and of her rescue by a neighbor woman who, in turn nearly fell victim to the infuriated beasts.

Mr. Durkee lived two miles north of Savage, on a farm. Going out early in the morning to feed his hogs, he climbed into the pen and is supposed to have dropped dead from heart disease, with which he had been afflicted. His wife delayed the family breakfast for his return. As he did not appear she went to search and found his body in the hog lot, the drove of now infuriated swine fighting over it and eating the flesh. They had torn away the flesh from face, arms and neck and would soon have entirely denuded the skeleton of all its flesh.

Mrs. Durkee seized a club and climbed into the yard to drive away the hogs and save the remains. Instantly she was attacked by the beasts, fairly wild with the desire for more blood. Instead of rescuing her husband's remains she found herself in a struggle for her own life. Unable to escape from the yard, she fought desperately with the club in her hands, for almost two hours. By that time she was on the verge of complete exhaustion, when Mrs. Herring, the wife of a neighbor, passed the place and heard calls for help. She rushed to the rescue and climbed into the hog pen with a heavy club took her place beside Mrs. Durkee. The two beat back the infuriated hogs momentarily but had no more than done this when Mrs. Durkee fell at her rescuer's feet in a dead faint. The hogs redoubled their attack and Mrs. Herring found herself in a desperate plight. The mutilated body of the dead man and the seemingly lifeless one of his wife must be protected, and her own life was in imminent danger. She called to her little boy, who was with her, and sent him to a neighbor's house. It was over an hour before he returned. The rescuers found the brave woman still making good her battle; she could have escaped, but preferred to take her own chances in order to save Mrs. Durkee, who had partially revived but was not able to help herself out of the enclosure. The women were promptly rescued. The mangled remains of Mr. Durkee were taken from the place, and the two determined women were cared for by kind friends.

Mr. Durkee was one of the oldest settlers in this neighborhood, having lived at Savage seventeen years. The funeral was held there yesterday.

Last cheap excursion this season. O'Neill to Sioux City and return, fare $2 for round trip on Sunday Sept. 15th, account base ball game between Randolph and Sioux City. Train leaves O'Neill 6:00 a. m. returning leaves Sioux City 8 p. m.

P. J. McManus returned from Chicago the first of the week and as usual is showing the largest and best selected stock of merchandise ever brought to this city. Watch for his advertisement next week.

The telephone company has a force of men busily engaged putting in the poles and it will only be a few weeks until O'Neill will be connected with the outside world by telephone.

Miss Ord, a young lady eighteen years of age died at her home near Page last Sunday after a lingering illness, of consumption. The remains were interred in the Page cemetery Monday.

Mrs. William Joyce and daughter, Miss Mary, left last Monday for Cleveland, Ohio, for a protracted visit with relatives.

P. J. Donohoe, of the Willmar & Sioux Falls is in the city today advertising the excursion to Sioux City Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Else, of Litchfield, Neb., are in the city visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Pickering.

J. Coykendall built an addition to his residence in the western part of town.

Over three inches of rain fell in O'Neill the past week. If—well, what's the use of repining?

The Frontier is still doing good printing at moderate price. Let us figure your next order.

Mortgage blanks at The Frontier.

A Monster Sturgeon. A record catch of sturgeon on the Volga has just been made by an Astrakhan fishing firm, one fish weighing more than 46 pood, or about 1,700 pounds. The head weighed about 450 pounds, and the roe, from which the famous caviare is prepared, came to about 220 pounds. The sturgeon was valued at 800 roubles (£80).

A Petrified Diluvial Man. Prof. Gorganovic Kramberger of Agra university, claims to be the discoverer of the "missing link" in the shape of the bones of a petrified diluvial man. The bones found, he contends, would be bones and crania of ten men who all probably were ape-like, but show the exclusive characteristics of man.

Marcus Daly Was Liberal. Mrs. Marcus Daly explains the recent marriage of her daughter by an Episcopal bishop by saying that although Mr. Daly was himself a Catholic he was liberal and allowed his children to be brought up in their mother's faith. He gave, says Mrs. Daly, to all denominations.

Scripture Back of the Klecker. The Chicago News points out that the use of the word "kick" in the sense of protesting or complaining, has the authority of the Bible. In 1 Samuel 11:29, Jehovah is made to say: "Wherefore kick ye at my sacrifice and at mine offering, which I have commanded in mine habitation?"

A Night of Terror. "Awful anxiety was left for the widow of the brave General Burnham of Marchias, Me., when the doctors said she would die from Pneumonia before morning" writes Mrs. S. H. Lincoln, who attended her that fearful night, but she begged for Dr. King's New Discovery, which had more than once saved her life, and cured her of Consumption. After taking, she slept all night. Further use entirely cured her." This marvellous medicine is guaranteed to cure all Throat, Chest and Lung Diseases. Only 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at P. C. Corrigan's drug store.

Building for Electrical Engineering. George A. Gardner, a member of the corporation of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, has given $10,000 toward the erection of a building for electrical engineering, with the suggestion that the building bear the name of Augustus Lovell, a member of the corporation who recently deceased.

China's Canal System. The canal system in China is the most extensive in the world, with the possible exception of that of Holland. Whenever the lay of the land permits the thrifty native has made a canal. Thus he is enabled to carry the products of his labor to market with the minimum expense.

A Shocking Calamity. "Lately befell a railroad laborer," writes Dr. A. Kellert, of Williford, Ark. "His foot was badly brushed, but Bucklen's Arnica Salve quickly cured him. It's simply wonderful for Burns, Boils, Piles and all skin eruptions. It's the world's champion healer. Cure guaranteed. 25c. Sold by P. C. Corrigan.

Kentucky Rich in Oil. Oil hunters are flocking to the Kentucky mountains in search of fortunes. Experts declare the fields to be very rich in oil. The oil district comprises about 4,000 acres in Wayne county and a smaller section in Feutness county, Tenn. The output of the wells is nearly 1,000 barrels a day.

Oil for the Children. Give them oil—cod-liver oil. It's curious to see the result. Give it to the peevish, fretful child, and he laughs. Give it to the pale, anæmic child, and his face becomes rosy and full of health. Take a flat-chested child, or a child that has stopped growing, give him the oil, and he will grow big and strong like the rest.

This is not a new scheme. It has been done for years. Of course you must use the right oil. Scott's Emulsion is the one.

Scott's Emulsion neither looks nor tastes like oil because we are so careful in making it pleasant to take.

Send for free sample. SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, 409 Pearl St., N. Y. 50c and $1.00 al. druggists.
