For a quarter of a century I have been in O'Neill in the Hardware and Implement business, and am here yet, with a carload of new Implements for the spring trade. Following is a partial list of goods carried by me:

John Deere Plows; Buggies, Planters, New Pivot Tongued Cultivators, Riding and Walking Listers, Discs and Seeders

These goods are beautiful in construction, durable and have no equal. The Moline wagon, none better on wheels, having many points superior to any wagon on the market. The celebrated Champion binders, mowers and hay rakes. I also handle bale ties. In the stove line I carry the best known steel range, the great Majestic; also many other makes of stoves and ranges. I am the only dealer west of Norfolk who carries the Stransky Steel Ware, every piece warranted for five years. I also handle enameled ware. I have the Lisk and Elliott anti rust tinware, none better. For any rusty piece returned I will gladly give a new piece. Nickel plated copperware, such as tea and coffee pots, tea kettles and other articles in profusion. Anything you want in silverware, cut glass, glassware or Rogers 1847 table cutlery. In the cutlery line I carry no imported goods, nothing but the products of American factories and American workmanship. I have all grades, from the cheapest to the best. I have the Sioux City garden seeds; also other garden and field seeds, such as millet, clover, etc. I have the best kerosene, the "Eocene," gasoline, machine oil, and axle grease. A very nice line of sewing machines. In barb wire I have the genuine Glidden, no imitation, every pound warranted to run one rod.

It is always my aim to treat customers in the best possible manner and to give them honest labor and good goods for every dollar they may think well to turn my way. Charles Phelps of Page was in the city Monday in the interest of the Holt County Sunday School association. The association will hold its annual convention at the Methodist church in this city March 18, 19 and 20. Mr. Phelps is superintendent of the normal department of the association work.

The docket for the March term of district court is now in the hands of the printers at The Frontier office and will be ready for the bindery in a day or two. The docket for this term is the largest ever issued in the county there being 643 cases. The larger per cent of these are tax liens. There are no criminal cases.

Carl Jones, of Beaver Crossing, Neb., purchased Frank Brennan's farm northeast of town and moved his family thereon last week. Mr. Jones paid $1,600 for this place. Mr. Brennan left Wednesday morning for Vesta, Minn., where he expects to make his future home. The Frontier will visit him weekly and keep him posted on events in this county.

Jackson Criterion: John Leis and family arrived here from O'Neill, last week to make Jackson their future home and are living in the Hall house. Mr. Leis on January 11st retired from the clerkship of Holt county, being elected to the office on the fusion ticket. The O'Neill papers, both fusion and republican, on his retiring from office, spoke of him and his administration of the office in the highest terms. Mr. Leis is a halfowner of the Jackson mills and will now help his brother Steve to run the business. They will give the mill business their entire attention and will give their patrons the very best of service.

Saturday is the 22d day of February, therefore it is the anniversary of the birth of George Washington, whose name has been revered by Americans and hated by Englishmen for more than a hundred years, therefore it is a legal holiday, therefore county and government offices will be closed. People desiring to do business in the same will do well to regulate their conduct accordingly.

There is a type of a girl every body likes. She is the girl who is sweet and womanly to look at and listen to, the girl who appreciates the fact that she cannot always have the first choice of every thing in this world; who is not "too bright and good" to be able to find joy and pleasure everywhere. She is the girl who whether it is warm or cold, clear or stormy, finds no fault with the weather, who when you invite her anywhere compliments you by looking the best, who makes this world pleasant because she is so pleasant herself and who has tact enough not to say the very thing that would cause the skeleton in the friends cupboard to rattle its bones.—Minneapolis Tribune.

Col. Brennan showed us through his mammoth hardware establishment the other day. Mr. Brennan has been one of the leading hardware and implement men of north Nebraska for many years and has won an enviable reputation. He has always been a believer in printers' ink and is one of the heaviest advertisers in Holt county. Aside from the regular line of hardware and farm machinery he has lately unloaded several cars of machinery and barb wire and broadened his domain to include another building across the street. The machinery department shows more machinery than one not familiar with the business would think could be employed in a life time. The rear half of the store is devoted to this department besides a building to the west and another across the street and a large quantity outside. Men of Mr. Brennan's business enterprise are worth much to a community and The Frontier is glad to note his continued commercial expansion.

IRRIGATE THE WEST.

Suggests Experiment Stations in Nebraska.

The Bee's Lincoln correspondent says: Chancellor Andrews and other university authorities are preparing to give their united support to the suggestion of Senator Dietrich that irrigation experiment stations be established in the semi-arid regions of Nebraska. The real estate dealers of the state, in their annual convention in Fremont last week, adopted resolutions endorsing the idea and directed a communication to the Nebraska delegation in congress asking their co-operation in the project. Chancellor Andrews will probably ask the next state legislature to provide the means necessary for the organization of stations. Senator Dietrich briefly outlines his plan as follows:

"At the present time, not only Nebraska but all states in the semi-arid districts of the west, are bending every effort towards securing favorable legislation for a suitable system of irrigation. They are encouraged in this because it has, at last, become apparent to the people of the east, that the whole country is made to suffer so long as the vast area of wasteland of the central and Pacific portions of our natural commonwealth are permitted to remain unutilized and uninhabited. With this realization comes the hope that such steps will be taken, such measures adopted, as will make irrigation in the west an extended practice as well as a universal blessing.

"Another vital subject in this connection, and one in which the real estate men of Nebraska should be interested, is that of guarding and strengthening the Agricultural department of the State university. As the department stands today, it possesses an unusually able corps of instructors and investigators, but is restricted in its usefulness by impoverished facilities. Its greatest need is a building commensurate with its work. Unfortunately the United States government has ruled against aiding the various states in this one respect. But it will, however, cooperate in every way after the state themselves have provided the necessary buildings. Nebraska should not hesitate at this responsibility, but should forthwith procure the quarters required and assist the university in placing her department on a par, or even above the now ablest agricultural colleges in the Union.

"When this is done, it will be an easy and a natural consequence to have experimental stations established in the western part of the state, belonging to and managed in conjunction with the department at Lincoln. The services of these experimental stations will be of untold value. Through them may be tried the different theories of soil, culture and enrichment, and likewise forestation by means of plants and trees. Whatever knowledge is gained in this direction contributes an hundredfold to the betterment of the state."

The Market.

South Omaha, Feb. 19.—There was a heavy marketing of unfinished and half-fatted cattle last week, while there was a very marked scarcity of good finished beefs. Buyers were able to pound the market for a decline of from 15c to 25c in prices. This week starts out with a fair run of cattle, about 10,000 for three days. Prices are about steady. Fair to good 1100 to 1300 beefs sold at $5.50; with common to fair warmed-up stuff at $3.75 to $4.50. Cows and mixed stuff, fair to good butcher stock, $3. to $3.75, and good beef grades $3.80 to $4.50.

Receipts of hogs were very heavy all last week at all points, and the market has been a continual surprise and puzzle to buyers and sellers alike. Prices steadily declined until they reached the lowest point in many weeks, and nobody knows what to expect. There is just one redeeming feature about it; the provision market is holding up remarkably well with such heavy receipts. With any let-up in receipts prices should react for the balance of this week.

A liberal supply of sheep was offered so far this week, 15,000 for the first three days, with market steady and some kinds strong. Good to choice lambs $6.25 to $6.60; good heavy yearlings $5.25 to $5.65; choice weth $4.90 to $5.25, and ewes $4.50 to $4.75. Nye and Buchanan Co.

Get your lamp oil at Brennan's for he keeps the highest standard grades of any one in town; he keeps the Eocene oil.

If you buy a pair of shoes at Harrington's that is defective in any way he is always ready to make it good. 31-3.
