VOLUME XXIII.

O'NEILL, NEBRASKA, THURSDAY, AUGUST 21, 1902.

NUMBER 8.

MINOR MENTION.

For Sale—A good fresh cow. T. A. Pickering

George Lamberson, was over from Amelia, Saturday.

Remember the picnic at Howard's grove next Tuesday.

E. S. Myers and F. M. Pike of Newport were in the city Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed F. Gallagher are visiting friends at Hot Springs, S. D.

The man or firm that does the advertising are the ones that get the business.

Steph McDermot, of Stuart, came down the road Saturday, returning home Sunday.

Barney Jones, farmer near Amelia, came to town Friday on business at the county seat.

G. W. Smith left for Danville, Ill., Monday morning to look after some business interests.

Jacob L. Kaley, a prominent attorney of Omaha was in O'Neill last Friday on legal business.

Mr. E. R. Adams, left for Erie, Pa., Monday morning for a protracted visit with relatives.

Fred Swain, of Inman and Jessie Townsend, of Stafford, were married by Judge Morgan last Sunday.

John C. Thompson, who formerly resided near Amelia, but now in Cedar county, was in town Saturday.

William Buckley, formerly of this city but now of South Omaha, is in the city visiting old-time friends.

Frank Dobney, of Stuart was in town Saturday as a witness in a contest before the local land office.

J. B. Murnan, the present owner of the Kelly ranch, was in town Tuesday transacting business at the court house.

Mrs. M. J. Daley, after protracted visit with her parents and friends here, left for her home in Park City, Utah, Monday.

George Hills, Edward McCombs and Charles Meador, of Knox county, were over this week looking after a contest before the local land office.

Lost—Between M. O'Malley's and Slocum postoffice, a gold filed watch. A suitable reward will be paid for its return to The Frontier office.

Medical Journal desires a representative in this locality—permanent employment. Salary and commission. Address 154 east 72st., New York City.

Sioux City will have an Elks Carnival next month. If the carnival will be as "flashy" as some of their advertising matter, it will be a hummer.

Mrs. Clarence Selah and son, Dean, returned last Thursday evening after a protracted visit with relatives and friends in the eastern part of the state.

Carl Edholm, of Marysville, Mo., was in Holt county this week looking up a location for a stock ranch. Mr. Edholm was well pleased with Nebraska and expects to return soon.

It is something unusual for Holt county farmers to be wishing for dry weather. But dry weather to ripen the corn and sun to cure the hay is what is most needed now.

Timothy Duggan, who about ten years ago, lived on a farm north of Emmet, but who now resides in Illinois has been in O'Neill, and vicinity the past week visiting relatives.

Joseph N. Johnson, a farmer near Swan, was in town Thursday making proof on his homestead. Mr. Johnson says the hay crop is No. 1 in his part of the county.

Winter Wheat—I have 500 bushels winter seed wheat for sale. Grown this season four miles north of O'Neill. Price $1 per bushel. William Flovum O'Neill, Neb. 8-2pd

The only objection landseekers have to Holt county this year is that the corn fields are so numerous and the corn so high that a good view of the country cannot be procured. They have good grounds for complaint.

Columbus B. Jackson, residing in east part of the county, came to the county seat Monday, returning home Tuesday. Mr. Jackson reports the crop outlook as of the best and says stock of all kinds are in the best condition.

Jacob Pfund is now mayor of O'Neill. As Mayor Gallagher is away taking a vacation, Jake, as president of the council, is acting mayor. The affairs of the city seem to run along smoothly and Jake is evidently not overburdened with the responsibilities of the position.

C. W. Moss, of Amelia, was in town last Sunday.

W. W. Betha and Lew Combs were up from Ewing last Saturday.

The Graphic bean pole is recovering his senses. He was fairly passive last week.

F. J. Cashin, one of the most popular knights of the grip on the road, was in O'Neill last Friday.

Henry Voss, of Bassett and Annie Franky, of Chambers, were granted a marriage license by Judge Morgan, Wednesday.

John Daly, was over from Spencer the first of the week looking after the unloading of a carload of wagons for the implement house of Coffey & Daly at Spencer. Mr. Daly says business is booming in Boyd county and that the Spencerites expect to see the varnished cars pull in there in a few weeks.

S. J. Weekes, left for Tecamah, Saturday morning to spend Sunday with relatives. Monday he will join a party at Omaha for a two weeks fishing trip in the lakes of Northern Minnesota. When John returns he will probably have a sufficient supply of fish stories to last a year or two.

The case of the State of Nebraska vs. L. W. Newell, who was arrested at Chambers, Neb., about a month ago for selling jewelry without a license, and which was set for August 18 in the county court was upon application of the defendant continued until August 30th.

Guy Hamilton, left for Emmetsburg, Ia., Tuesday morning to attend the annual meeting of the Iowa State Field Trial association and to scatter some advertising matter for the Nebraska Field Trials which are to be held here September 11, 12 and 13. The prospects for a large attendance at the meet here grows brighter every day and a good successful meeting is assured.

The republican county central committee met in Chairman Dickson's office last Saturday and issued a call for the republican county convention to be held in O'Neill, Saturday, September 6, 1902. It is recommended that the caucuses in the several townships and wards be held August 30. Attend the caucus and see that a full delegation is sent to the convention from your precinct.

John Brady and Al Miller were down from Atkinson last Friday. They both claimed to have been well entertained while attending the heavy weight ball game. Al says he thoroughly enjoyed himself and we know Brady took charge of a little loose silver some of the boys wanted to get rid of, so of course he was entertained. Poor Church, he is about the only one that mourns, and refuses to be comforted.

Carrie L. Ross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. Ross, of Ray, died in the insane asylum at Hastings, Neb., August 17. The remains were shipped to this city and interred in the Protestant cemetery, Wednesday, the funeral being held from the M. E. church. Deceased was thirty-six years old and had been an inmate of insane asylums for seventeen years, the last thirteen at Hastings. The funeral was attended by the father, mother, brother and two sisters of the deceased, and the brother-in-law, Josiah Coombs, postmaster at Spencer, Neb.

John M. Stewart has purchased the bowling alley from Pat Sullivan and is having it repainted and fixed up for the rush of winter business. John has had the alleys planed over, bought new balls and pins and when he opens up for business will have as good an alley as there is in the state. Bowling was quite a fad in O'Neill last fall, winter and spring and in fact until some sport started the hand ball, since which time the latter game has been all the go. It's a great game, a good developer of muscle and a reducer of superfluous flesh. We would suggest that our erstwhile friend of the Atkinson Graphic try it.

E. F. Bowen came to Holt county from South Omaha a year ago last spring and moved onto the old Keeley farm, about eight miles northeast of O'Neill, which he had purchased a short time before. Last year Mr. Bowen raised a fairly good crop but not near as large as it would have been had not the drought nipped it a little. But he did not grumble, growl or curse the country, for he realized that in all farming countries they have off years. This year Mr. Bowen raised a splendid crop and in anticipation of the yield built a large granary to hold the grain. He commenced threshing, but when about half through, had to suspend operations to build an addition to his granary. This gives some idea of the small grain yield in this county. He is going to have more than twice as much grain as he expected. But he ain't kicking—no, he's not built that way. Stand up for Holt county.

FIVE YEARS IN THE PEN

The trial of William Barnett, accused of horse stealing, mention of which was made last week, was concluded and given to the jury Saturday evening. They were out but an hour bringing in a verdict of guilty. Judge Harrington sentenced the prisoner to five years in the penitentiary at hard labor. The trial was a hard fought battle. Attorney E. H. Whelan represented the defendant and made a hard fight to save his client from the pen. His plea to the jury was exceptionally strong and well delivered. But his eloquence was of no avail as the guilt was proven to the jury beyond a question of reasonable doubt. Barnett's mother, step-father and brother swore that he was home at Glenwood, Ia., April 30, the night the horse was stolen, while representative citizens of southern Holt testified that they had seen him in that part of the county on that date, which was the day the horse was stolen. After the trial Thomas, step-father of Barnett, was arrested upon complaint of the county attorney charged with perjury. He was given a preliminary hearing Tuesday and was bound over to the district court in the sum of $300. The county attorney says he has a strong case against him.

The Market.

Cattle receipts largest of the year, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday over 20,000. Beef cattle steady. Desirable cows, stockers and feeders firm and in good demand. Common stuff weak and lower. Best feeders and killers $1.80 to $5.60, fair $4.25 to $4.80; stockers $3.00 to $4.00, common $2.50 to $3.25; canners and cutters $1.75 to $2.50; stock calves $3.25 to $4.50, veal $4.50 to $5.50, choice cows and heifers $4.00 to $4.50.

Hog receipts light but market still weak and lower until past two days, days, when there was a 10 cent advance. Range $6.60 to $6.85.

Three days of this week bring nearly 44,000 sheep. Mutton sheep began declining a few days ago but feeders became stronger, and all are quoted in one range now, as follows: Yearlings $3.40 to $4.00, weathers $3.30 to $3.75, ewes $2.75 to $3.50, lambs $5.00 to $6.00 stock lambs $3.50 to $4.00, culls $1.00 to $2.00. Good demand for feeders.

Nye & Buchanan Co.

Guy Green was over to Inman Saturday night.

Gilligan & Stout have a change of address this week.

Haymakers are busily dodging the rain nowadays.

Miss Tessie Dykeman went to Omaha last week to complete a course in physical training.

Several of our sporting fraternity will attend the carnival at Atkinson tomorrow and Saturday.

John Berger, was a caller the past week and left $1.50 to be credited on his subscription account.

Judge Kinkaid, is making the acquaintance of the voters in the southern part of the district this week.

Corn is so large this year that there is some talk of organizing a company to manufacture ball bats from the cobs.

Sheriff Hall left for Lincoln Tuesday having in custody William Barnett, who goes to serve five years for horse stealing.

H. W. Porter, who came up from St. Edwards, Neb., to attend the funeral of his sister Mrs. Geo. Little, returned home this morning.

Are you going to the picnic Tuesday? Sure. Everyone is going. It will be the picnic of the year, you cannot afford to miss it.

If those owing us on subscription want to make us happy just let them call and pay up their back subscription and a year in advance.

According to the Valdez, Alaska, papers M. T. Rowland, formerly county clerk of Boyd county, has struck it rich in the Alaskan gold fields. The many friends of Mr. Rowland in O'Neill hope that the reports have not been exaggerated.

Sam Wolf, sold a Durac Jersey hog the other day for $50, shipping him to a fancy hog breeder in the eastern part of the state. A drove of hogs that would bring that figure each would be as good as a gold mine. Stand up for Holt county.

The young people of the Catholic church will have a picnic in Howards grove south of town next Tuesday, August 26. There will be foot races, base ball and hand ball games. Dinner and supper will be served and cream and cake whenever wanted during the day and evening. You are cordially invited to attend.

A. B. Newell, went to Stuart today.

Several O'Neillites left on the Great Northern excursion yesterday morning to attend the A. O. U. W. picnic at Crystal Lake.

J. P. Mann, arrived from Chicago, last night and will remain a few days visiting relatives and looking after business interests here.

Roy Spindler has left the employ of the O. O. Snyder Co., and has returned home to help care for the enormous crops raised by his father this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Josiah Coombs came over from Spencer, Tuesday, to attend the funeral of Mrs. Coombs' sister, which was held in this city Wednesday.

E. G. Owens, Colorado's pioneer gunsmith, as he terms himself, has opened up a general novelty and repair shop in the building formerly occupied by Smith Merrill's feed store.

A prairie fire in the sand hills west of Ainsworth burned a bridge and a lot of ties on the Elkhorn road Monday night and the east-bound passenger was four hours late Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Albert, entertained her friends with "a regular old fashioned quilting bee" on Wednesday of this week. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served. All report a pleasant time.

For biliousness use Chamberlain's Stomach & Liver Tablets. They cleanse the stomach and regulate the liver and bowels, effecting a quick and permanent cure. For sale by P. C. Corrigan.

The subscribers to the local telephone exchange have increased to such a number that the officers of the company says they will have to put in a new switchboard and cable those in use at present time are not large enough to handle the business.

Some Wandering Willies, or perhaps local light-fingered gentlemen, broke into the Storz Brewing Company's beer vault one night last week and when they left several cases of beer accompanied them. Wm. Lavoilette, who is the local agent for the company, says the beer is so popular that people break into the vault to get it in the dead hours of night. They cannot wait until morning. That may be but it was more likely an unquenchable thirst for the foamy beverage that caused them to risk the penitentiary to get it.

The steel range canvassers have stirred up the local dealers a little and they are now telling the people what they handle in the line of ranges and the prices asked. That's the way to do it. If you have anything to sell let the people know it through the columns of your local papers. Write your ads and give prices. The printers will set them in an artistic manner and the prospective purchaser when he sees prices quoted will call and see you when in need of anything in that line. It's the way to get business, no matter what line you handle. Try it awhile and be convinced.

Mrs. Linda Little, wife of George Little, died at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Porter, in this city Monday afternoon about 5 o'clock, of congestion of the lungs, after an illness of but a few days. Deceased was born in Iowa, June 14, 1880, and was but little over 22 years old at the time of her death. She had been a resident of O'Neill about a year, coming here with her parents when they leased the Dewey House a little over a year ago. On the second of last month she was married to George Little, who with her parents, brothers and sisters are left to mourn her sudden demise. She was a very pleasant and sociable young lady, with many friends in this city who extend their sympathy to the sorrowing relatives in this the hour of their affliction. The funeral was held from the M. E. church, Wednesday afternoon, the remains being interred in the Protestant cemetery.

John M. Severson, who lives on the old John Leis farm south of Emmet, appeared before County Judge Morgan Monday and swore out a warrant for the arrest of C. H. Goethje for the purpose of having him placed under bonds to keep the peace, alleging that he feared Goethje would do him bodily injury. It appears that on or about August 13, 100 head of cattle belonging to Severson got onto the land and crops belonging to Goethje and the latter impounded them. When the farmer went after his cattle they were unable to agree on the amount of damages and Goethje retained four head to reimburse him for the damages he alleges the cattle did him. The amount he claims is $89.50, and he received a judgment for this amount in county court Tuesday. On account of the damages growing out of the cattle deal Severson wished Goethje bound over to keep the peace. The case is on the docket for August 27.

A Cure for Cholera Infantum.

"Last May," says Mrs. Curtis Baker, of Bookwalter, Ohio, "an infant child of ours neighbor's was suffering from cholera infantum. The doctor had given up all hopes of recovery. I took a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy to the house, telling them I felt sure it would do good if used according to directions. In two days' time the child had fully recovered, and is now (nearly a year since) a vigorous, healthy girl. I have recommended this Remedy frequently and have never known it to fail in any single instance." For sale by P. C. Corrigan.
