STATE OF OREGON.

SALEM, May 9, 1898. The Peru-na Medicine Co., Columbus, O.: Dear Sirs—I have had occasion to use your Pe-ru-na medicine in my family for colds, and it proved to be an excel-lent remedy. I have not had occasion

Yours very truly, W. M. Lord. It will be noticed that the Governor says he has not had occasion to use Peru-na for other ailments. The reason for this is, most other ailments begin with a cold. Using Pe-ru-na to promptly cure colds, he protects his family against other ailments. This is exactly what every other family in the United States should do. Keep Pe-ru-na in the house. Use it for coughs, colds, la grippe, and other climatic affections of winter, and there will be no other ailments in the house.

Such families should provide themselves with a copy of Dr. Hartman's free book, entitled "Winter Catarrh." Address

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,

Pe-ru-na is known from the Atlantic, admirer of Pe-ru-na. He keeps it con-to the Pacific. Letters of congratula- tinually in the house. In a recent let tion and commendation testifying to the merits of Pe-ru-na as a catarrh remedy are pouring in from every State in the Dr. Hartman is receiving hundreds of such letters daily. All classes write these letters, from the highest to the lowest.

The outdoor laborer, the indoor artisan, the clerk, the editor, the statesman, the preacher-all agree that Pe-ru-na is the catarrh remedy of the age. The stage and rostrum, recognizing catarrh as their greatest enemy, are especially enthusiastic in their praise and testimony.

Any man who wishes perfect health must be entirely free from catarrh. Catarrh is well-nigh universal; almost omnipresent. Pe-ru-na is the only absolute safeguard known. A cold is the beginning of catarrh. To prevent colds, to cure colds, is to cheat catarrh out of its victims. Pe-ru-na not only cures catarrh, but prevents. Every household should be supplied with this great remfor coughs, colds and so forth.

DEPARTMENT LIKELY TO STAND BY THE INSPECTOR.

TO PROTECT HOMESTEADERS

The Department is Held to Have No Discretion in the Matter, but Must Enforce the Law-Site for Yankton's Federal Building.

WASHINGTON-Colonel John S. Mosby, special agent of the interior department, on Thursday called upon Secretary Hitchcock and laid before him the results of his investigations of the illegal occupany of public lands Preliminary Arrangements for Starting in Nebraska and other states by stock saisers. Secretary Hitchcock will take up Colonel Mosby's report at an early date. It is said at the land office that it has been estimated that millions of acres of public land that ought rightfully to be open to homestead setthers is now occupied by cattlemen. Land Commissioner Hermann is most emphatic in his statement that he will make every effort to enforce the law and remove the fencing and give every assistance to the homesteader to enter peacefully upon the lands now fenced and rightfully a part of the public domain. Mr. Hermann maintains that if cattlemen are unlawfully occupying public lands they should and will be ousted. If the law is obnoxious to them, the only appeal is to congress. The law is clear and it will be most rigidly enforced against such cattlemen as are found to be illegally upon public domain. Colonel Mosby will remain in Washington to be at hand to aid the secretary of the interior in solving the present contention between the fenced-in cattle raisers, small cattlemen and homesteaders.

James P. Lowe of the supervising architect's office, who was sent to Yankton, S. D., to look over the various sites offered for the proposed new government building, has submitted his report. Under recent orders of Secretary Shaw thirty days will be allowed before announcing the property the government will purchase. During this period Secretary Shaw invites all information from citizens generally regarding location of the new building and will consider all such communications and announce his decision November 22.

Miners Formally Accept Arbitration Plan.

WILKESBARRE, Pa .- By a unanimous viva voce vote the convention of United Mine Workers on Tuesday. after much discussion, vigorous at times, accepted President Roosevelt's arbitration plan. The resolution as adopted carries with it a declaration that the strike is off and provides for an immediate resumption of work in the coal mines throughout the anthracite region.

THE WORK BEGINS.

Operations.

WILKESBARRE, Pa .- Thousands of men began work on Wednesday in accordance with the resolution adopted Tuesday, repairing the mines and placing the colleries in condition for the general resumption of coal mining, which will take place throughout the anthracite region Thursday. Those men who are directly engaged in cutting and handling coal will not under the decision of the convention return to the mines until Thursday.

While there were thousands of men who were able to again begin earning their daily bread, there were hundreds who were disappointed when they applied to the superintendents of the colleries where they were formerly employed. They were principally steam men, engineers, firemen and pump runners who struck on June 2 for an eight-hour day and also to help the miners win their battle. These men wanted their old places back, but in many instances the company officials refused to discharge those who stood by them during the strike. There were many in the Wyoming valley, however, who were fortunate enough to find employment. The company officials maintain they will not discriminate against union or non-union men and that work will be given all when there are vacancies. During the strike the companies were compelled to employ many incompetent men to help keep the mines free from water or from "squeezing," as a result of the lack of proper timbering. The strikers feel that the majority of these workmen will gradually be dismissed and the more competent men engaged. A mine worker who came into the union headquarters from South Wilkesbarre, said:

"The superintendents are turning down a good many men on the ground that they are not needed. This is only a "bluff" and they will be glad to get our men in a day or two. The workmen they have are in most cases green and won't be tolerated about the colleries when the miners begin working full time to catch up with the demand for coal. The companies will not take the risk of having men killed or mines wrecked through the mistake of some new men."

Although the strike is over, the path of the nonunion workman is still a

tion that President Roosevelt had informed him that he would call a meeting of the arbitration commission immediately after the convention's acceptance of his proposal and gave it as his opinion that the findings of the arbitrators would be announced within a month.

The end of the convention and of the great strike which had lasted five months suddenly appeared close at hand. President Mitchell, after the convention had given itself over to heated debate for an hour and a half, arose and calmly told the delegates that it must be apparent to all of them that there was no doubt whatever that the president's proposal would be adopted.

There had been a renewal of the serious opposition of the steam men and heated words had passed between delegates. Explanations of the president's proposal had been made in four languages. There seemed to be more opposition that ever to settlement, when suddenly there was a break in the clouds when a motion was put by a delegate down in front, near the presiding officer. In a clear voice the strike leader called for a vote on the all-important question and instantly there was a roar of ayes.

The next instant messengers were flying in all directions from the convention to give the news to the world through the newspapers.

The resolution to resume at once means that the pumpmen will go to work Wednesday and that the mining of coal will be started at 7 a. m. Thursday.

After it was all over and President Roosevelt had been notified, the following directions to the strikers were issued:

"You are hereby officially notified that it was unanimously decided today by the delegates attending the special convention that all mine workers should report for work Thursday morning, October 23, and that the issues which culminated in the strike should be referred for readjustment to the commission apopinted by the president of the United tSates. "We are authorized by the execuunionists and it is not expected the relations between them will be improved when they get into mines together. Reports were received here union men have given up their positions and are leaving the region.

He will be the leading exceptions from two to four inches representative of the workmen before the tribunal and will gather around him such experts in anthracite mining as will be necessary to properly present his case to the commission. He said he did not know when he would merger, as it is said to mean the make his first appearance before the commission.

WILKESBARRE, Pa .- The resumption of mining throughout the anthracite region Thursday was not as general as was expected. Unlooked for difficulties were encountered in the shape of water and accumulated gas and dangerous roofs which threatened to fall and entomb the miners were also discovered in many of the collieries. The mine superintendents would take no chances and mining of coal was put off until all parts of the underground workings can be made safe. This will take a few days and in some cases weeks.

DISCUSS ROOSEVELT'S ESCAPE.

Commission Blames Motorman, Passengers and Company.

BOSTON-The official report into the trolley accident which so nearly cost President Roosevelt his life was issued Wednesday.

The commissioners find that the car was going at reckless speed and hold the management of the street railway at fault in not establishing rules to regulate speed at dangerous points. The grade crossing is declared one of the worst of its kind.

The report adds: "The motorman had good reason to believe the effort he was plainly making to reach the Country club before the president's carriage met with the approval of the passengers, including a prominent director of the company."

"Nearly the whole rainfall of the President Mitchell began the work month occurred in the last ten days. The rainfall of the 20th, 21st and 22d fell during the three days."
