

"What Shall the Harvest Be?"

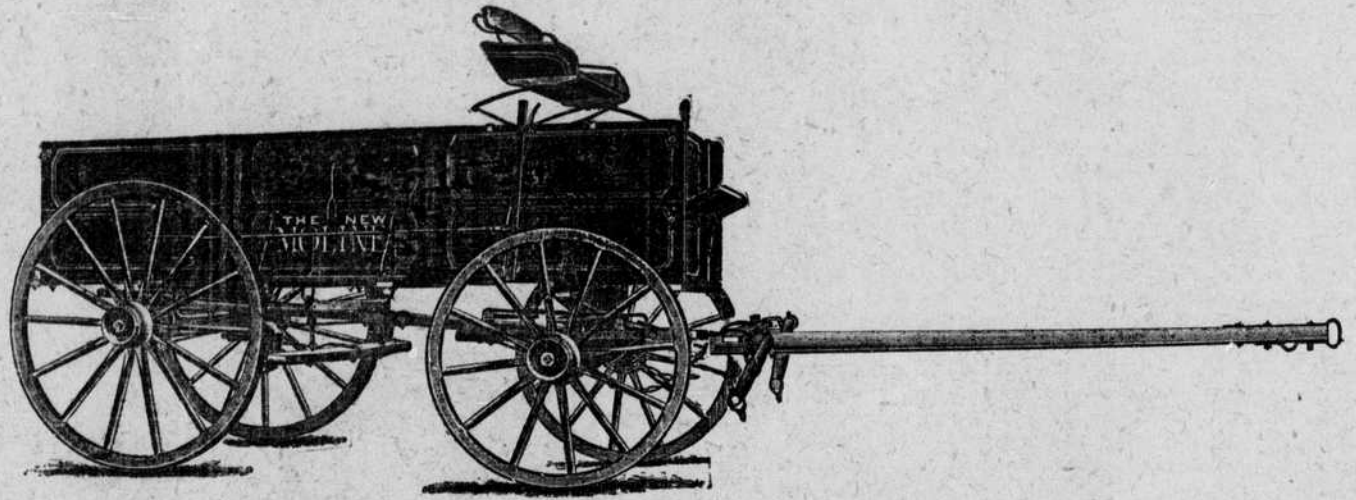

That depends largely on Good Cultivation and Good Management. Just now as the season is about to open is when the farmer should prepare for the season's work. Naturally he is looking forward anticipating as to how the harvest will yield or "What Shall the Harvest Be?" To be successful good, thorough cultivation is necessary and as the saying is "As You Sow, You Will Reap." There is no excuse for poor cultivation these days, with modern machinery this can be accomplished without a fault, besides you can do your work with less expense, less labor and in less time. The most successful farmer is the enterprising farmer. Prepare for your work now, call and look over our stock. We make it a point to introduce nothing but the newest and best inventions in machinery. Our experience of 25 years in the business and 29 years residence in O'Neill has enabled us to become acquainted with the best line of machinery on the market for this country and we have them in stock. A call will convince you.

President Roosevelt is becoming recognized as something of a trust buster hustler himself.

If newspapers could build railroads the O'Neill-Dunning line would be in operation before September 1.

From the evidence so far adduced it seems that the members of the Missouri legislature were "shown" several thousand dollars worth.

If Bro. Bryan can purify the Missouri politicians he would be doing his party more good than continually trying to read out Grover the Great.

If you celebrated Arbor day by planting trees you should devote about ten minutes a day to see that they are kept in a good growing condition. It is the only way to observe the true spirit of the day.

Bryan is still talking harmony with hot shots at Cleveland. If Bryan don't look out he will force the democratic party to nominate Cleveland, a contingency not considered possible a few months ago, but growing more and more likely now.—Ord Quiz.

A man named Groff was arrested at Seward last week charged with illegal voting at the recent municipal election. He was compelled to give bond in the sum of $500 pending his trial this week. In this county the amount of bond for like offenses was fixed by Judge Morgan at $50 and $100. No wonder people have little respect for the election laws.

Our sister city of Atkinson will entertain the Elkhorn Valley Editorial Association next month. The Frontier assures the members of the craft that they will receive a royal welcome from the hospitable citizens of the second best town on the Elkhorn road and they will miss a profitable session of the association and a royal good time if they fail to attend.

Frank Moores is the regular nominee of the republican party for mayor of Omaha and it is the duty of all loyal republicans of that city to give him their support and see that he is elected. Party differences should be fought inside and not on the outside where their quarrelling may be inimical to party success, not only in Omaha but the state. Get together boys, so we can defeat the enemy next November.

Those peanut politicians who think that the tariff could be manipulated so as to put down the trusts are invited to calculate how long it would take a tariff fixer to make the impression on the Northern Securities merger that was made in a few days plain talk before the federal circuit court by the attorney general and his assistants. Imagine Governor Cummings chasing Jim Hill and Pierpont Morgan to their lair with a tariff schedule. It would be Mrs. Partington and her splint broom rolling back the tides of the Atlantic. When the president arrives at Des Moines on his return from the Yellowstone park the tail of his eye will have a smile in it for the local statesmen of that a balwick, whose gigantic trustbusting scheme has nearly raised the roof off Iowa. Teddy has other ideas about pursuing big game. He doesn't get his bears and mountain lions by putting salt on their tails.—State Journal.

Has Relics of Barbarism. With all his western predilections, the sultan of Morocco has retained certain barbarous customs in his treatment of prisoners, with a view to terrorizing the insurgents. Heads are still nailed to the city wall and prisoners driven along in public by mounted guards, are linked together by heavy chains and are sometimes attached in a long string to the horsemen.

Wanted—Horses to pasture for season of 1093. Buffalo grass of running water. Price $2.50 per head for the season. J. B. Donohoe. 2-43 pd

RULES FOR SUCCESS.

A prominent merchant gives the following advice to boys beginning life: "My policy in life has been to stick to what I set out to do. I never rolled around from one thing to another. To boys who want to accumulate money, I would offer the following suggestions: "Get a plan in your head. "Stick to that plan. "Indulge no bad habits. "Avoid the company of those who do indulge in bad habits. "Cultivate your own abilities. "Help yourself. "Rely upon yourself. "Study common sense."

It Doesn't Scare Folks to be told the truth about Lion Coffee. The scare-crow coffees are those that hide under a glazing of factory eggs, glue and such stuff. Lion Coffee is pure, wholesome, unglazed, rich in flavor and uniform in strength.
