<complex-block></complex-block>	MEN WHO WORK OVERTIME. ! Actors, Clergymen, School Teachers and Newspaper Men. Harper's Weekly: Recently I have alked with a number of men who works and in their various professions. The omedian of a stock company in a well known New York theater said: "To bt-in with, we have a new play every week, am always at the theater every afler, boon at about 2 o'clock, and am often un- the to leave till 6:30 or even later, espe- ially on Mondays and Tuesdays, when he new play has not begun to you moothly. Similar long hours prevail, of course, evenings. My mornings are taken up with rehearsais for the play that is other day, with a friend who had just some in from playing one-night stands, congratulated myself on having a com- paratively easy lot in life. The ordinary weekly routine of a prom- nent out-of-town clergyman with whom <complex-block>A set of the set o</complex-block>	I talked is as follows: "All day Sunday is taken up with the regular routine of church work. Every night in the week there is some kind of a meeting which requires my presence. On Saturday I prepare my sermon. During the month or quarter come the conferences and other meetings at which I am expected to be present. The church conducts an em- ployment bureau, a free dispensary, a kindergarten and other auxiliaries, all of which I visit once or twice a week. This, by the way, does not include meet- ings of educational, fraternal, political and other organizations for which I often have to prepare addresses; nor the calls on the eleven hundred members of my congregation. Last year some of my time was employed in marrying eighty-two couples, attending nearly one hundred fn- erals and making about one thousand walls."

	I have a friend who is a school teacher ind he says that he earns every cent of his salary: "I average about twileye neurs' work a days," said he, "and dur- ng my vacation I devote about half my time to special reading in connection with buture school work. The introduction of supplementary work in the schools, the taking up of special subjects one or two hours a week, require extra reading and
