Rev. MacLean filled the pulpit at the M. E. church last Sunday at morning and evening services. These were his last sermons and were listened to by a large and appreciative audience. Rev. and Mrs. MacLean left on Monday for their new field of work and a host of friends wish them success and prosperity for the future.

Monday George E. Collins of the State bank purchased the fine ranch belonging to Tull and Ballou containing section of as good land as there is in Holt county 12 miles southwest of Atkinson. Mr. Collins paid the neat sum of eight thousand dollars for the place, and will stock it up this spring. The place was well improved, having four flowing wells and two sets of good buildings, fences and trees of all descriptions. Good luck to him in his new venture.—The Graphic.

STUART.
Ad Rice has sold out his dray interests and will soon remove his family to Cour d'Alene, Idaho.

There are a few youthful Alexanders in Stuart who amuse themselves by performing petty acts of thievery after night. When windows are broken open, or safes hammered in, and personal property and money stolen, it is time to call on the majesty of the law.

The end of the petty reformer is invariably found in a bag of boodle. Sam Eves, the head light of Holt county's "reform forces" has gone to Arizona with his pockets full of reform currency. He made enough out of his blatant cries to buy out a copper mine in the Rocky mountains.

George L. Bastedo, a pioneer resident of this county, was in Stuart recently on business connected with the Cripple Creek mining interests of Colorado. Mr. Bastedo was one of Holt county's early supervisors and was identified with the interests of the west end of the county. It is interesting to hear him tell of the many changes which have taken place in the last fifteen years.—The Ledger.

EWING.
P. M. Conger has bought out the Edwards & Bradford Lumber Company's interest at this place, and in the future Mr. Conger will run the business as may please himself and his customers.

Ivo Vandernickt and Joseph Bonars returned from their trip to Belgium on last Monday night. The salt water or good liquor has improved their appearance very much. Joe brought his wife with him, and we expect he will now be able to make a perfect success of farming out on the Cache Creek as he will not have to lose any time keeping away from some of his lady admirers.

Since the rural route has been established from Ewing, the importance and great benefit derived is becoming more apparent. And the amount of mail received and sent has increased from the same patrons, proving that the U. S. mail, like all other business, can be increased by being pushed. But for mail carriers to furnish team, wagon and the many other necessary connections for perfect service, at $50 per month is in our opinion not enough, and we hope the time is not far distant when a better salary will be paid, for services that to be in proportion to the amount of labor and responsibility few men can depend upon for the support of a family.—The Advocate.
