SATURDAY, MAY 14

O'NEILL

J. P. MANN

NEBR.

After twenty years of successful and continual growing business in O'Neill, we will on Saturday, May 14, hold an anniversary sale, giving a discount for that one day only of 20 per cent on every thing in all departments of our store. This twentieth year celebration is going to be made a notable day at our store and all our customers and friends are invited to come in.—J. P. Mann.

John Bellar, one of Grattan's most prosperous farmers, was a pleasant caller at these headquarters. John has been a resident of this county about 16 years, coming to this county with but little of this world's goods, but by frugality and strict attention has acquired a goodly share of this world's goods. He now owns 480 acres of as good land as the sun ever shone upon and it is all well improved. He is now hauling lumber for an addition to his residence 16x22 and when it is completed will have one of the nicest farm homes in the county. The Frontier is pleased to chronicle his success.

J. S. White, of the well known wholesale lumber firm of H. F. Cady Lumber Co. of Omaha, was in our city Wednesday and Thursday of this week calling on the lumber dealers of this place. Mr. White has been out on the road for a couple of weeks visiting their many customers and renewing acquaintances, through Colorado, Wyoming and Nebraska. He is well pleased with his trip and says that trade conditions are good and that from all he can gather that this part of the state is in good condition for coming crops. Mr. White is one of those whole souled fellows which it is a pleasure to meet.

Austin Carey attempted suicide by hanging last Saturday at the home of his sister-in-law, Mrs. J. B. Carey, in this city. He was discovered hanging by a rope in the barn by some children, who gave the alarm and assistance was at once called from men working on the railroad near by. Assistance came just in time to save the man from self-destruction as he was on the verge of strangling when cut down. He was turned over to the care of Sheriff Hall, who placed him in jail and later the board of insanity adjudged the man insane. He was taken to the asylum at Lincoln Tuesday. He seemed to have a set purpose to end his life and frequently spoke of yet doing so during his confinement in jail.

The city council met on Tuesday evening and transacted a large amount of business. The bonds of the officials were approved, the various committees selected and appointments made. The mayor made the following appointments, which were confirmed by the council: Bennet Martin, marshal, street and water commissioner; William Gordon, weighmaster; P. F. Thompson, poundmaster; Thomas Tierney, night watch. The soloon occupation tax was fixed at $1,000, and license granted to William Laviollette and W. J. O'Connor & Co. Protests were in against granting licenses to M. M. Sullivan, A. A. Stanton & Co. and Frank Leahy. The name of R. R. Dickson appeared as protestor in each instance, being joined by Paul and Johanna Sullivan in one. The protests allege violation of the state liquor laws. The council overruled the protests on the grounds that no evidence was introduced on behalf of the protests. Licenses were accordingly granted the three saloons. It is understood the matter will be taken to the courts. Gilligan & Stout and P. C. Corrigan were granted druggists permits.

Dr. Headrick's practice is limited to Chronic Diseases. See special notice.

Marriges

County Judge Morgan issued marriage license last week to Mr. Ray M. Erway of Valley, Neb., and Miss Ada Gertude Emerson of Catalpa, this county. The marriage ceremony occurred at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Emerson, and performed by Rev. Sharpless.

Judge Morgan also united in marriage Mr. Claude C. Drullinger of Chester, Neb., and Miss Mattie Deerham of Middle Branch.

Notice

The republicans of Grattan township are called to meet at the office of The Frontier in the city of O'Neill in said township on Thursday May 12, at 4 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of selecting four delegates to attend the republican county convention. I. R. Smith, Committeeman.

Text of New Homestead Law

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That from and sixty days after the approval of this Act entries made under the homestead law in the State of Nebraska west and north of the following line, to wit: Beginning at a point on the boundary line between the States of South Dakota and Nebraska where the first guide meridian west of the sixth principal meridian strikes said boundary; thence running south along said guide meridian to its intersection with the fourth standard parallel north of the base line between the States of Nebraska and Kansas; thence west along said fourth standard parallel to its intersection with the second guide meridian west of the sixth principal meridian; thence south along said second guide meridian to its intersection with the third standard parallel north of the said base line; thence west along said third standard parallel to its intersection with the range line between ranges twenty-five and twenty-six west of the sixth principal meridian; thence south along said line to its intersection with the second standard parallel north of the said base line; thence west on said base line; thence west on said standard parallel to its intersection with the range line between ranges thirty and thirty-one west; thence south along said line to its intersection with the boundary line between the States of Nebraska and Kansas, shall not exceed in area six hundred and forty acres, and shall be as nearly compact in form as possible, and in no event over two miles in extreme length: Provided, That there shall be excluded from the provisions of this Act such lands within the territory herein described as in the opinion of the Secretary of the Interior it may be reasonably practicable to irrigate under the national irrigation laws, or by private enterprise; and that said Secretary shall, prior to the date above mentioned, designate and exclude from entry under this Act the lands, particularly along the North Platte River, which in his opinion it may be possible to irrigate as aforesaid; and shall thereafter, from time to time, open to entry under this Act any of the lands so excluded, which, upon further investigation, he may conclude can not be practically irrigated in the manner aforesaid.

Sec. 2. That entrymen under the homestead laws of the United States within the territory above described who own and occupy the lands heretofore entered by them, may, under the provisions of this Act and subject to its conditions, enter other lands contiguous to their said homestead entry, which shall not, with the land so already entered, owned, and occupied, exceed in the aggregate six hundred and forty acres; and residence upon the original homestead shall be accepted as equivalent to residence upon the additional land so entered, but final entry shall not be allowed of such additional land until five years after first entering the same.

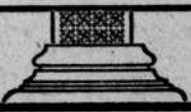

Sec. 3. That the fees and commission on all entries under this Act shall be uniformly the same as those charged under the present law for a maximum entry at the minimum price. That the commutation provisions of the homestead law shall not apply to entries under this Act, and at the time of making final proof the entryman must prove affirmatively that he has placed upon the lands entered permanent improvements of the value of not less than one dollar and twenty-five cents per acre for each acre included in his entry: Provided, That a former homestead entry shall not be a bar to the entry under the provisions of this Act of a tract which, together with the former entry, shall not exceed six hundred and forty acres: Provided, That any former homestead entryman who shall be entitled to an additional entry under section two of this Act shall have for ninety days after passage of this Act the preferential right to make additional entry as provided in said section.

Approved, April 28, 1904.
