Success

Women who use Yeast Foam are always successful in the art of bread-making. Their bread is light, toothsome, sweet as a nut, and full of nutriment. Their families have well-nourished bodies and good digestions.

Nine times out of ten when bread goes wrong the fault is in the yeast. If you seem to have lost the knack of good bread, or are anxious to improve, try the yeast that's made of wholesome and healthful malt, hops and corn; the yeast that's free from brewery waste or other harmful ingredients; the yeast that smells different, tastes different and never grows stale; the yeast that holds the secret of the best bread you ever tasted. Remember—

YEAST

The secret is in the yeast.

Yeast Foam is sold by all grocers at 5c a package. Each package contains 7 cakes—enough to make 40 loaves. "How to Make Bread," free. Just a postal.

I. A. Lutz, from Jewell county, Kansas, called at the Reporter office and says he expects to take up his residence in Holt county.

Miss Florence Mullen left for Big-timber, Montana, Tuesday evening, where she will visit with her brother, Jim, for some time. She also intends to teach school in Montana for the ensuing year.—The Reporter

CHAMBERS

Mrs. Peginstacker and Mrs. Kelly from the southern part of Nebraska, part of Nebraska, daughters of Mr. Otto, of this place, are visiting in Chambers.

A swell little function was given by the young ladies of Chambers in the hall last Friday evening. Progressive games were played till 11 o'clock, when the daintiest of refreshments were served.—The Bugle.

EWING.

J. A. Trommershauser has placed a new windmill and irrigation tank at his residence.

Herb Campbell and family returned from Washington last Friday, feeling satisfied that Nebraska is by far the best state to live in.

Nero, the famous Newfoundland dog belonging to E. J. Spittler, died last week. He was more than an ordinary dog, being exceptionally large and much devoted to all the members of Mr. Spittler's family.—The Advocate.

STUART

A. J. Weaver and J. H. Morehead of Fall city, Neb., are in Stuart buying up cattle for the home market. Mr. Weaver is a brother of L. M. Weaver and is interested in the bank at Fall City.

Mrs. Dr. Hunt was taken suddenly ill Monday evening and Dr. Gilligan was summoned from O'Neill. He pronounced the case appendicitis and Dr. Lord of Omaha was telegraphed for and came up on the evening train. An operation was performed, Dr. Lord, Dr. Dodd of Newport and Colburn officiating. Mrs. Hunt stood the operation well and is doing nicely at the present time.—The Ledger.

ATKINSON.

W. E. Conklin and family returned to their home at O'Neill Tuesday morning after a few days visit with Mrs. Conklin's brother, Claude Wicks. Doc Middleton, an old timer of these parts, was in town a few hours Wednesday. He expects to open a saloon in one of the new towns on the reservation.

Last Friday the Sunday schools of town united in a picnic at O'Connell's grove and enjoyed the day in a good old fashioned way. At the noon hour table cloths were spread on the grass and soon every one was enjoying themselves to their fullest extent. The remainder of the day was given to bathing, ball playing, foot races, by old and young, resting in the shade, etc. Foot racing on the slippery grass by the older people were some of the most amusing features.

Through an act of courage and strength what might have been a serious accident was averted by Lewis Miller Tuesday afternoon. Just as the train was pulling in at full speed a lady from the country whose name we could not learn, with her little daughter were trying to get across the track ahead of the train but Lewis seeing the danger stepped in front of the train, stopped them and in turning them around saved the occupants from certain death. Lewis is suffering from a bruised arm now.—The Graphic.

Emergency Medicines.

It is a great convenience to have at hand reliable remedies for use in cases of accident and for slight injuries and ailments. A good liniment and one that is fast becoming a favorite if not a household necessity is Chamberlain's Pain Balm. By applying it promptly to a cut, bruise or burn it allays the pain and causes the injury to heal in about one-third the time usually required, and as it is an antiseptic it prevents any danger of blood poisoning. When Pain Balm is kept at hand a sprain may be treated before inflammation sets in which insures a quick recovery. For sale by P. C. Corrigan.

Examine Your Mail

The authorities at Washington have fixed a penalty of $200 on any person taking out of the postoffice mail other than their own. All postmasters are liable to make mistakes and get the mail in the wrong boxes, and the law says that the people must examine their mail before leaving the office, and if they have mail other than their own, it must be returned at once. That it is the fault of the postmaster makes no difference. This law includes newspapers as well as first-class mail. There are a class of curious people everywhere, and they are, as a rule, contemptibly curious about letters and other mail matter which they chance to get hold of. They will open all letters coming into their possession, and often when knowing full well they do not belong to them. They will, after reading the letters, write on the envelope, "opened by mistake," and, without signing their name, drop it back in the post-office box at night or during the day time when not observed. This class of curious individuals are warned to be careful in the future. If they open a letter hereafter which does not belong to them, they must sign their name and state why they opened same, whether by accident or design.

Like marvelous cures of Consumption, Pneumonia, Bronchitis, Coughs, Colds and Grip prove its matchless merit for all Throat and Lung troubles. Guaranteed bottles 50c and $1.00. Japanese Health Medical Record: The Japanese have taught Europeans and Americans a lesson, and quenched, in some degree, the conceit of the Caucasian in his superior capacity to do all things. Even in the matter of diet, our long-cherished theory that the energy and vitality of the white man is largely due to the amount of animal food consumed, must undergo revision.

The Japanese are allowed to be among the very strongest people on the earth. They are strong mentally and physically, and yet, practically, they eat no meat at all. The diet which enables them to develop such hardy frames and such well-balanced and keen brains, consists almost wholly of rice, steamed or boiled, while the "better-to-do" add to this Spartan fare fish, eggs, vegetables, and fruit. For beverages, they use weak tea without sugar or milk, pure water, alcoholic stimulants being but rarely indulged in. Water is imbibed in what we should consider prodigious quantities—to an Englishman, indeed, the drinking of so much water would be regarded as madness. The average Japanese individual swallows about a gallons daily in divided doses.

The Japanese recognize the beneficial effects of flushing the system through the medium of the kidneys, and they also cleanse the exterior of their bodies to an extent undreamed of in Europe or in America.

Another—and perhaps this is the usage on which the Japanese lay the greatest stress—is that deep, habitual, forcible inhalation of fresh air as an essential for the acquisition of strength, and this method is sedulously practised until it becomes a part of their nature.

The Japanese have proved that a frugal manner of living is consistent with great bodily strength—indeed, is perhaps more so than the meat diet of the white man. As to the water-drinking habit, which is so distinctive a custom with them, it is probably an aid to keeping the system free from blood impurities, and might be followed with advantage in European countries, to a far greater extent than is at present the case. Hydrotherapy and exercise seem to be the sheet anchors of the Japanese training regimen, and, judging from results, have been eminently satisfactory.

When trouble with constipation try Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They are easy to take and produce no griping or other unpleasant effect. For sale by P. C. Corrigan.

Young Plants

Every farmer knows that some plants grow better than others. Soil may be the same and seed may seem the same but some plants are weak and others strong.

And that's the way with children. They are like young plants. Same food, same home, same care but some grow big and strong while others stay small and weak.

Scott's Emulsion offers an easy way out of the difficulty. Child weakness often means starvation, not because of lack of food, but because the food does not feed.

Scott's Emulsion really feeds and gives the child growing strength.

Whatever the cause of weakness and failure to grow—Scott's Emulsion seems to find it and set the matter right.

"Do It To-Day"

The time-worn injunction, "Never put off 'til tomorrow what you can do to-day," is now generally presented in this form: "Do it to-day!" That is the terse advice we want to give you about that hacking cough or demoralizing cold with which you have been struggling for several days, perhaps weeks. Take some reliable remedy for it to-day—and let that remedy be Dr. Boschee's German Syrup, which has been in use for over thirty-five years. A few doses of it will undoubtedly relieve your cough or cold, and its continued use for a few days will cure you completely. No matter how deep-seated your cough, even if dread consumption has attacked your lungs, German Syrup will surely effect a cure—as it has done before in thousands of apparently hopeless cases of lung trouble. New trial bottles, 25c; regular size, 75c. At all druggists.
