Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Hanley departed this morning for Omaha for a visit with relatives. Mrs. Hanley will also take treatment while in Omaha for injuries sustained many years ago from a stroke of lightning and which have been troubling her much lately.

Mrs. Wetzel of Chicago, a sister of Mrs. W. E. West, arrived in the city last evening on a visit to the West family, all of whom, excepting Mr. West, she found out of town, they having been in Minnesota the past three weeks. Mrs. Wetzel will remain until her sister returns, which will be in a few days.

The wheels of industry have been very active around this department for several days and editorial duties have had to be almost wholly abandoned. The Frontier doesn't like to have to excuse a somewhat shabby paper, but when more work is piled onto us than we are able to do some of it has to go undone.

The case against Bert, and Charles Miller brought in county court by Clifford Thompson alleging that the defendants stole a heifer belonging to Thompson, was heard yesterday, County Attorney Mullen appearing on behalf of the state and R. R. Dickson for the Millers. They were bound over to district court.

The sandhills over south can produce something besides grass and blowouts. In demonstration of this a load of cabbage came in from that section the other day and was unloaded at Leek & Gatz' meat market that had some enormous heads. Many of the heads would, when weighed singly, tip the scales at twenty pounds.

A change of temperature of something like 50 degrees was experienced yesterday. The previous day—and many days for that matter—was more like to August than October weather. Tuesday night brought a blast from the north that made us all dig up our last winter's overcoats and build fires. Winds and clouds kept away frost and up to date there has been no frost of any consequence.

This item is sent out from Bartlett, Wheeler county: Miss Cora Cheyney, aged 17 years, living in a lonely district near the west line of the county, was assaulted by an unknown man driving cattle toward Deloit, in Holt county. She lives with her parents and family, but at the time of the assault had been left alone. The father of the girl and the sheriff are following on the trail and expect to overhaul the culprit at Deloit.

It's a nice thing for the farmer to get a dollar for his wheat, but it isn't so nice when you come to a dollar seventy-five for a sack of flour.

The Graphic says that "R. R. Dickson, Ed F. Gallagher, M. F. and Judge Harrington, Tom Golden and D. J. Cronin were in Stuart last week working for division." The esteemed Graphic would probably like to create such an impression, but it dare not tell these gentlemen so face to face.

Stray or stolen, on Sept. 8, 1904, from Harry Weekes' place 2 miles south of O'Neill, one bay mare 8 years old, weight about 1200; scar on left shoulder caused from thistle; one brown gelding coming three years old, weight about 850. Liberal reward for their return or information leading to their recovery.—John Skirving. 13-3

M. D. Cameron came down from Atkinson Tuesday and is putting in a stretch of cement sidewalk for W. Lavolette in front of his buildings on Fourth street. There will probably be considerable more of this work done here this fall, among which the most needy places is the first half block to the right of the ascent to the court-house.

O'Neill citizens had planned to attend the Chambers fair several hundred strong on last Friday but were hindered from doing so by a continuous downpour of rain all day. The band had also made arrangements to go but stayed at home for the same reason. Those who attended the fair the two days previous report a fine display of products and a good attendance.

The Omaha Bee's New Color Magazine

For real, genuine enterprise The Omaha Bee leads the procession. It has just added new color magazine features to The Sunday Bee which compare favorably with the best New York and Chicago papers. The enormous expense involved in giving its readers the benefit of the latest innovations in artistic color press work may not be fully understood, but it should be richly rewarded with greatly increased patronage. It is certainly gratifying to know that we have such an enterprising newspaper in the west, and it must be equally gratifying to The Bee to know that it is recognized as the only really metropolitan paper published in this section. If you have not seen the new feature, buy a Bee next Sunday.

National Light kerosene at Golden & Hodgkin's. We guarantee it. Think it over. 15-2
