

GOOD CLOTHING for LITTLE MONEY

WE are frank to admit that of some clothing there is little good to be said. In some cases this good may be the making; in other cases, the materials; others, of the design, style and character effect given.

Whatever it may be, if you are a progressive man there is no garment worth mentioning to you unless it contains these combined good qualities. Our Crouse & Brandegee Nuscac has them. It is all well enough to tell about what the inside of a garment amounts to, but that usually tells its own story. Character which results from clothing skill is what a thing a suit must have. We believe in tangible facts and have gone into the clothes subject to satisfy ourselves and you that we are right.

Good clothes mean something to every young man. A well-dressed man demands respect and denotes self-respect, both of which are important.

Jack Sullivan of Anaconda, Mo. t., has been giving some sparring exhibitions at the firemen's hall during his visit here when anyone can be induced to put the mits on with him. Jack is a handy man with gloves and has done some ring work with professionals.

For the first time in many months the fire alarm was heard Friday last. It proved to be not a very extensive conflagration. A barn belonging to Charles Thornton was consumed.

A. W. Knapp and Samuel Beavers and their wives and Dave Moler went down to Ewing on Tuesday to attend an anniversary gathering of old soldiers given in honor of James Stanton's eighty-fourth birthday.

The annual Congregational meeting for the election of officers and other business will be held in the Presbyterian church on Thursday evening, April 6, 1905, at 8 p. m. The members and friends are all requested to be present.

Among a list of projected railroad extension for Iowa, Nebraska and South Dakota, published in the Railway age the Great Northern extension from O'Neill to Dunning, a distance of ninety miles, is mentioned as already being surveyed.

Tuesday morning quite a company of O'Neill women were up earlier than usual. They were members of the Rebekah lodge and arose early to catch the 7 o'clock train on the Great Northern for Orchard, where they went to institute a lodge.

Dr. Flynn received a telephone call about nine o'clock last night to hurry to the home of William Robinson, who lives near the south line of the county, as their daughter was dangerously ill. Guy Green accompanied the doctor at the request of Mr. Robinson.

O'Neill implement men are stocking up with machinery extensively this spring. There has always been a healthy demand for farm machinery in this section and with the setting up of the vacant places the demand for tools to till the virgin soil increases.

T. T. Waid advertises a sale at the M. J. Sullivan place three miles east and one mile south on April 5. Mr. Waid is preparing to move to Tennessee, where he has traded for a farm. He says, however, he will not burn the bridges on the route so he can not get back.

In last Saturday's Norfolk News we noted this item concerning a former O'Neill boy: "Norval Pfunder, a brakeman on a freight train running between Norfolk and Long Pine, was struck on the head at Inman with a huge chunk of coal, sustaining painful injuries."

A change in the deputyship at the county treasurer's office occurred Tuesday. P. J. O'Donnell, who has been Treasurer Cronin's deputy since he has been in office, has resigned and R. E. Gallagher takes his place. Mr. Gallagher has been in the office long enough to be familiar with the records and make an efficient deputy.

The Frontier is in receipt of a card announcing the marriage of Editor Shively of the Oakdale Sentinel to Miss Mable Snider of that place, which occurred Friday last. The Sentinel is one of the best little papers in the Elkhorn country, but Editor Shively probably thought he could do still better with an amiable bride by his side.

A social function The Frontier failed to note last week was a surprise party given Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Pfund on the evening of March 20, the occasion being the twentieth anniversary of their marriage. It was made a notable and pleasant occasion, a large number of the friends of this estimble family being present. Mr. and Mrs. Pfund were the recipients of a handsome rocking chair as a token of friendship and esteem.

Thomas Crow, one of Steel Creek's most prominent residents was in the city Wednesday.

Mrs. Valentine Gerber of Reading, Minn., formerly a resident of this county, is visiting friends in O'Neill and vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Zimmerman's eldest son, Emil, who left here some two years ago, is now a member of the hospital corps in the United States navy at Norfolk, Va., having enlisted in the service as a druggist. Emil put in about a year in a drug store at Spencer, then went to school at Norfolk, this state, and later went to Omaha from where he joined the navy. His pay on the start is $45 a month, clothing and rations. Mr. and Mrs. Zimmerman feel a commendable pride in their son who is pushing himself to the front.

The case of the American Type Founders company against the Atkinson Graphic was tried to a jury in Justice Golden's court last Friday, the type founders obtaining a judgment for $153.58. The Graphic company endeavored to show that the material for which they were being sued for payment was bought by a former manager of the Graphic and for whose acts the company was not responsible. The jury, however, were but a few minutes in coming to a verdict for the plaintiffs, who were represented by E. H. Whelan, the Graphic company being represented by Mr. Dickson.

The municipal ticket has been completed by the announcement of J. S. Harrington and William Fallon as candidates for alderman in the Second ward. It is also understood that John Carton has withdrawn from the alderman race in the First, leaving the contest between P. J. Biglin and Peter Kelly. As stated in our last issue the rest of the ticket is as follows: For mayor, D. A. Doyle and Frank Campbell; clerk, R. R. Morrison and Romaine Saunders; treasurer, James F. Gallagher; Third ward alderman, J. A. Cowperthwaite and James Davidson.

Mr. Edwin Harris of Star and Miss Eunice Eills of Dorsey were joined in wedlock Saturday last at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Millard in this city. Rev. G. F. Mead, pastor of the Methodist church officiated. A few intimate friends of the contracting parties were present. The bride wore a gown of mauve princess cloth, trimmed with white. The hat matched the gown, being of mauve panne velvet. The groom was attired in the customary black. After the ceremony a wedding dinner was served in three courses. The newly married couple will make their home near Dorsey.

Hay McClure was in from his ranch Monday and informed The Frontier that he had recently been down at Albany, Mo., and invested in 50 heifers and 26 bulls, all thoroughbred Herefords, and was making arrangements to hereafter handle only thoroughbreds. He says he has some 300 head of common cattle which he expects to sell off and breed up a herd of thoroughbreds from his young Herefords. Hay thinks he has the best obtainable in the country as his thoroughbreds are all related to the prize winners at the St. Louis fair. One of his bulls, he says, cost him $500, and the heifers run over $150 each. He is firmly convinced that the thoroughbred is the thing for this country.

Tuesday evening the fire department held their regular monthly meeting and made a few changes in the regulations of the gymnasium. Every Friday evening is given over to boys under thirteen years of age. The rules adopted regarding basket ball have not been changed. The boys are raising a fund to buy a first class mat for the use of patrons of the gym and the ladies of the basket ball teams are asked, in consideration of the courtesy extended to them by the department, to cut the price of their spring hats and donate a few dimes towards the fund. The business men are invited to attend Friday evenings and they will be royally entertained by the little fellows. The fire department ask the citizens of O'Neill to help make the gym a success.
