

For Thin Babies

Fat is of great account to a baby; that is why babies are fat. If your baby is scrawny, Scott's Emulsion is what he wants. The healthy baby stores as fat what it does not need immediately for bone and muscle. Fat babies are happy; they do not cry; they are rich; their fat is laid up for time of need. They are happy because they are comfortable. The fat surrounds their little nerves and cushions them. When they are scrawny those nerves are hurt at every ungentle touch. They delight in Scott's Emulsion. It is as sweet as wholesome to them.

RIVERS OF OIL

Believed to Flow Beneath Nebraska Prairies.

Sioux City Tribune: Rivers of oil flowing beneath the surface of Nebraska prairies and merely waiting for development before a Beaumont rush shall prevail and wealth abound! That, according to theories of enthusiasts here who have been studying the matter for a number of years past, is the condition of affairs which exists today. The whole territory between Pierre, S. D., and Beaumont, Tex., is, for that matter, pronounced to belong to one and the same oil-producing stratum, and the clines and anti-clines at Polot Knob, Madison county, Neb., would indicate, it is claimed, that not far beneath the surface oil is to be found.

It is set forth that Nebraska belongs to the same geological class as Kansas, the richest oil country in the world, and that the uplift that drained its surface culminates in the Laramie mountains and that the dip in Nebraska is identical, with the same formation, as in the state to the south. South Dakota is said to belong in the same field, with the Black Hills as its oldest formation.

At Pierre, S. D., on the north gas springs from artesian wells and the city is lighted by it. On a direct line south of Norfolk, all through Kansas, Indian territory and Texas, in a territory contiguous to the waterway of the Missouri, oil is found. The eastern uplift is the Ozark mountains and the high table of western Iowa, extending through Minnesota and into North Dakota, dividing the Missouri from the Mississippi. This territory is said to lie in an ancient basin with a long inclined dip from the west and a short dip from the east, bringing the bottom of the basin fifty or sixty miles west of the Missouri river.

Efforts are being made to investigate by digging wells.

In regard to the above report Professor Barbour, the department of geology at the state university, said yesterday that samples of sand from Rock county and other locations near Norfolk, have been sent to him for testing which showed evidence of oil. Artesian water from Red Willow county has also indicated the presence of oil in that part of the state. He declared that in his opinion the slightest indications of either coal or oil anywhere in the state should be followed up immediately, although he could say nothing as to the possibility of either being found in paying quantities. The geological conditions described in the above dispatch are correct in the essential details, he said. The possibility of finding either coal, oil or gas or artesian water in Nebraska is strong enough, he declared, to warrant extensive investigations wherever condition seemed especially promising, and believed that the state should assist in the work.

An interurban party working with a sounding pipe a mile west of Ashland found evidence of gas yesterday. The pipe was sunk to a depth of about forty feet. One of the men happened to strike a match to light his pipe and the flame burst up from the top of the pipe to a height of several feet. After burning a short time the flame gradually began to die down and finally burned to the tube and went out. The pipe was set in three different places about twenty-five feet from each other and in each place gas which would burn was found. In each place the flame burned high for a few minutes and then gradually died down.

The party was in charge of G. W. Temple and besides him consisted of A. B. Beach, C. A. Biggerstaff, and J. D. Hurd. The place where the gas was accidentally found is in a valley through which Salt creek runs. The holes were bored about ten feet from the edge of the water for the purpose of determining how deep it would be necessary to go to strike a firm base for bridge piling. At the point where gas was found the pipe was driven through a deep sand then through layers of gumbo and sandstone. According to a member of the party the gas seemed to come from a stratum of coarse sand under the sandstone. He said it was easily distinguishable on account of its strong odor. It has been suggested that it was marsh gas, but Mr. Beach thinks that the force with which it came out on the pipe and the heat the flame gave forth discredits that theory. When the party left they lit small jets in the holes where the pipe had been driven.

More Riots.

Disturbances of strikers are not nearly as grave as an individual disorder of the system. Overwork, loss of sleep, nervous tension will be followed by utter collapse, unless a reliable remedy is immediately employed. There's nothing so efficient to cure disorders of the Liver or Kidneys as Electric Bitters. It's a wonderful tonic, and effective nerve and the greatest all around medicine for run down systems. It dispels Nervousness, Rheumatism and Neuralgia and expels Malaria germs. Only 50c, and satisfaction guaranteed by P. C. Corrigan, druggist.

A Favorite Remedy for Babies

Its pleasant taste and prompt cures have made Chamberlain's Cough Remedy a favorite with the mothers of small children. It quickly cures their coughs and colds and prevents any danger of pneumonia or other serious consequences. It not only cures croup, but when given as soon as the croupy cough appears will prevent the attack. For sale by P. C. Corrigan.

Inflammatory Rheumatism Cured

William Shaffer, a brakeman of Dennison, Ohio, was confined to his bed for several weeks with inflammatory rheumatism. "I used many remedies," he says. "Finally I sent to McCaw's drug store for a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm, at which time I was unable to use hand or foot, and in one week's time was able to go to work as happy as a clam." ### STUART

The clerks employed in the store of H. Shank & Co. remembered the birthday of Mr. Shank Saturday by presenting him an elegant birthday cake.

Mr. Lattig left Tuesday for his home in Missouri. Mr. Lattig has been in poor health for several months, and was much improved by his visit in Nebraska.

James Stepforth arrived here Friday from Lincoln to attend the funeral of his father-in-law, Joseph Root. Mrs. Stepforth and children had been here for some time. They left Tuesday for Lincoln.

A little son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Burnett died at the home of Mr. Hart Sunday. The remains were sent to Ewing for burial. The Burnetts were on their way to Rapid City, South Dakota.

The Fireman's dance, given Friday evening at the opera-house, under the management of the Hose and Engine company, was a great success. A number of Atkinson young people were in attendance. The Atkinson orchestra furnished the music.—The Ledger.

ATKINSON.

Fred Kolterman, who recently purchased a half section northeast of town, is erecting a commodious and substantial residence thereon.

Denny Hunt has traded the residence property he lately purchased from J. M. Stuart for the J. M. Bennett residence, now occupied by I. E. Deck. By this deal Denny gets one of the finest homes in the city.

C. W. Hicks of Omaha was in town Wednesday adjusting the loss on the Purdy & Millar stock caused by the fire last Sunday night. Five hundred dollars was the amount agreed upon which was satisfactory to all parties concerned.

Col. Isidore Hammerly left for Plainview on last Wednesday morning, where he will engage in business. Mrs. Hammerly waited till Thursday before leaving. We are sorry to lose this estimable family from our midst but wish them success in their new location.

S. W. Ball of Shelby, Nebraska, who purchased several fine quarters of hay land last fall ten miles south of town, was in town the first of the week and informs us that he has acquired another quarter adjoining his previous purchase, with the intention of establishing a stock farm. He says land near Shelby has brought $80 per acre and the prospects are good for it to go to the $100 mark in another year. He thinks Holt county land at the present price is a good investment, and looks for higher prices in the near future.—The Graphic.

INMAN

Mrs. Ernest Harmon and daughter Ruth left for DeWitt, Neb., today.

Miss Samantha Finch left this morning for Plainview, Minn., where she has been summoned as a nurse.

Harry Clauson has purchased the house on the old Honey farm and has moved the same on a lot in town.

Mr. Ross from the eastern part of the state has rented Chas. Knapp's farm northwest of town. Mrs. Ross arrived Thursday.

A. D. Pond and family have arrived from Burt county where they have been the last three years and will live on their farm here.

Rev. Mead of O'Neill and Rev. Griffith of Chambers will, deo volente, begin revival meetings in the M. E. church next Sunday night.

Miss Younkun of O'Neill has organized a class here in vocal music. The lady is very social and from what little we have seen has very high qualifications for her avocation. Nothing preventing she will meet her pupils on Wednesday night of each week.—The News.

EWING.

Jud Robinson, who lives near Deloit, has a ten months old colt that weighs 900 pounds. How is that for size?

The organization of a fire company is being made and we may expect to see the hose cart on the street in the near future doing a little practice work.

Solon R. Towne M. D., state health inspector, was here yesterday, and he heartily endorses every action taken by our board of health in quarantining the different families adjacent to the town.

Hon. J. R. Herron and wife went to Lincoln the first of the week, to visit with their son Leonard, who is attending the State Agricultural College, where he has recently been promoted to the highest rank to be obtained by any student in that institution.

R. J. Armstrong, having sold his farm, moved to Peru, Nemaha county, the first of the week, where he and his family expect to make their future home. Their leaving the neighborhood in which they have lived for several years, is regretted by their many friends and it is hoped that they may return fully satisfied that this part of the state is better suited to their liking.—The Advocate.

A Continual Strain

Many men and women are constantly subjected to what they commonly term "a continual strain" because of some financial or family trouble. It wears and distresses them both mentally and physically, affecting their nerves badly and bringing on liver and kidney ailments, with the attendant evils of constipation, loss of appetite, sleeplessness, low vitality and despondency. They cannot, as a rule, get rid of this "continual strain," but they can remedy its health destroying effects by taking frequent doses of Green's August Flower. It tones up the liver, stimulates the kidneys, insures healthy body functions, gives vim and spirit to one's whole being, and eventually dispels the physical or mental distress caused by that "continual strain." Trial bottle of August Flower 25c; regular size, 75c. At all druggists.

The first necessity for the proper seeing of a picture is to try to see it through the eyes of the artist who painted it. This is not a usual method. Generally people look only through their own eyes and like or dislike a picture according as it does or does not suit their particular fancy. These people will tell you, "Oh, I don't know anything about painting, but I know what I like," which is their way of saying, "If I don't like it right off I don't care to be bothered to like it at all."

Such an attitude of mind cuts one off from growth and development, for it is as much as to say, "I am very well satisfied with myself and quite indifferent to the experiences and feelings of other men." Yet it is just this feeling and experience of another man which a picture gives us. If you consider a moment you will understand why. The world itself is a vast panorama, and from it the painter selects his subject—not the copy of it exactly, since it would be impossible for him to do this even if he tried. How could he represent, for example, each blade of grass, each leaf upon a tree? So what he does is to represent the subject as he sees it, as it appeals to his sympathy or interest, and if twelve artists painted the same landscape the result would be twelve different pictures, differing according to the way in which each man had been impressed by the scene—in fact, according to his separate point of view or separate way of seeing it, influenced by his individual experience and feeling.—Charles H. Coffin in St. Nicholas.

As the Child Saw It.

A New York tenement house child who had spent a happy day in the home of a settlement worker describes the visit in the following letter, according to Charities:

"Miss — lives in a big beautiful house. There are three floors and lots of rooms. I should think it would be hard for them to find each other, there are so many rooms. It is not so hard to find each other when you live in part of one floor. The floors were hard and shiny, with little pieces of carpet on them. No piece was big enough to cover a whole room."

Working Overtime.

Eight hour laws are ignored by those tireless, little workers—Dr. King's New Life Pills. Millions are always at work, night and day, curing Indigestion, Biliousness, Constipation, Sick headache and all Stomach, Liver and Bowel trouble. Easy, pleasant, safe, sure. Only 25c, at P. C. Corrigan, drug store.

Colchester's Thanksgiving Pies.

Many funny stories are told of the early Thanksgiving days. The town of Colchester, for instance, calmly ignored the day appointed by the governor and held its own Thanksgiving a week later, when the sloop from New York bringing a hoghead of molasses for pies had arrived. In Revolutionary times Thanksgiving was not forgotten. The council of Massachusetts recommended that Nov. 16, 1776, be set aside for "acknowledgments for mercies enjoyed." In the next year Samuel Adams recommended a form of Thanksgiving proclamation to the Continental congress.

Merely Existed.

A number of lawyers were exchanging stories of their experiences with witnesses under examination. One of the parties told the following: He was questioning a witness and said: "You have lived in New York a number of years. How long?" "Just twenty-five years." "Where did you live before that time?" asked the lawyer, hoping to prove an important point. "I didn't live," replied the witness. "I was single!"

Not a Bit Like a Cat.

Lady Visitor—Your little girl seems to be very much taken with me, Mrs. Stepwell. Mrs. Stepwell—Yes, and she doesn't often take to strangers. You think Mrs. Kippur is real nice, don't you, Agnes? Agnes—You said she was a cat, mamma, but she doesn't look a bit like one.—Exchange.

Paying Trials.

Gaggsby—Jones is very wealthy, but he says his life is full of trials. Waggsby—Yes; that's what makes him wealthy. "How so?" "He's a lawyer."—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.
