Healthy Mothers.

Mothers should always keep in good bodily health. They owe it to their children. Yet it is no unusual sight to see a mother, with babe in arms, coughing violently and exhibiting all the symptoms of a consumptive tendency. And why should this dangerous condition exist, dangerous alike to mother and child, when Dr. Bochee's German Syrup would put a stop to it once? No mother should be without this old and tried remedy in the house—for its timely use will promptly cure any lung, throat or bronchial trouble in herself or her children. The worst cough or cold can be speedily cured by German Syrup; so can hoarseness and congestion of the bronchial tubes. It makes expectoration easy, and gives instant relief and re-freshing rest to the cough-racked consumptive. New trial bottles, 25c; large size, 75c. At all druggists.

Wanted

Men and women in this and adjoining counties for home or traveling work, representing and advertising the Wholesale and Educational Departments of an old established Manufacturing House. Salary $3.50 per day with expenses advanced. Rig furnished when necessary; position permanent. Address, Blew Brothers & Co., Dept. H., Chicago, Ill. 48-6

A Continual Strain

Many men and women are constantly subjected to what they commonly term "a continual strain" because of some financial or family trouble. It wears and distresses them both mentally and physically, affecting their nerves badly and bringing on liver and kidney ailments, with the attendant evils of constipation, loss of appetite, sleeplessness, low vitality and despondency. They cannot, as a rule, get rid of this "continual strain," but they can remedy its healthdestroying effects by taking frequent doses of Green's August Flower. It tones up the liver, stimulates the kidneys, insures healthy body functions, gives vim and spirit to one's whole being, and eventually dispels the physical or mental distress caused by that "continual strain." Trial bottle of August Flower 25c; regular size, 75c. At all druggists.

Public is Aroused.

The public is aroused to a knowledge of the curative merits of that great medicinal tonic, Electric Bitters, for sick stomach, liver and kidneys. Mary H. Walters of 546 St. Clair Ave., Columbus, O., writes: "For several months, I was given up to die. I had fever and ague, my nerves were wrecked; I could not sleep, and my stomach was so weak from useless drugs that I could not eat. Soon after beginning to take Electric Bitters, I obtained relief, and in a short time I was entirely cured." Guaranteed at P. C. Corrigan's drug store; price 50c.

Mrs. Emeline Malone returned from Kansas last week, where she has been visiting for the past four months.

A representative of the Williams-Murphy Wholesale Grocery Co., of Omaha who sells groceries exclusively to the consumer, delivered a part of a car load of goods to the farmers of this vicinity last Saturday.

Miss Violet Phelps of Rochester, Minn., and Lois Fawcett of Stewartville, Minn., nieces of Mrs. Blain, visited here last week. The old folks were almost young again during the three days; they drove around the country and visited relatives and friends. The young ladies took the Friday morning train for Mason City, Iowa, where they expected to spend the Sabbath with relatives and go to their homes in the North Star State early this week.—The Reporter.

EWING.

Loren Bailey of Orchard unloaded eight carload of 237 head of western horses at the Ewing stockyards on Tuesday evening and Wednesday morning, with the assistance of several others, drove them west of town to feed. While passing by W. N. Dawson's residence the "historical yellow dog" ran out and stamped the whole bunch, causing them to run through several pasture fences, lifting out the posts in their mad rush with the wire cutting and tearing their flesh in a horrible manner, and as is generally the case the best were the ones that received the worse cuts. The amount of damage cannot be estimated at this writing owing to their nervous condition making it impossible to examine them very closely. They were rounded up after some hard riding and are being watched

Wash Chapman's large herd of cattle got exposed to the scab and he has wisely concluded not to take any more chances and will henceforth dip before shipping.

The stock yard here was ordered to be disinfected by the governor inspector Wednesday on his finding a case of scab on a bunch of cattle which were in the yards.

H. W. Phillips went to Omaha last Friday and returned Monday evening. While away he closed a deal for the sale of his half section of land three miles west of town which brought him $25 per acre.

Mesdames Friel of St. Louis and Cronin of O'Neill and the Misses Paul of New York City and M. S. Graw of O'Neill returned to O'Neill last Monday after a few days visit at the home of J. F. Hayes and Dennis Hunt.

The friends of Julius Dohman, the staunch populist of Atkinson township, are trying to induce him to allow his name to come before the populist nomination convention for county clerk. If there is any merit in fidelity to the cause Julius ought not to have any opposition.

W. P. Simar has consented to have his name presented to the republican county convention for county clerk, which meets at O'Neill September 9. This meets with the approval of his many friends, who claim that if nominated the largest vote ever given to any candidate will be rolled up for him in November by the voters of western Holt county.

Unnecessary Expense.

Acute attacks of colic and diarrhoea come on without warning and prompt relief must be obtained. There is no necessity of incurring the expense of a physician's service in such cases if Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is at hand. A dose of this remedy will relieve the patient before a doctor could arrive. It has never been known to fail, even in the most severe and dangerous cases and no family should be without it. For sale by P. C. Corrigan, druggist.

Low Rates to State Fair at Lincoln.

Via the North-Western Line. Excursion tickets will be sold at one fare for round trip, plus 50 cents with admission coupon to the Fair grounds. Dates of sale September 4 to 8, inclusive, tickets limited to return until September 9, inclusive. Apply to agents Chicago & North-Western R'y.

Summer Diarrhoea in Children.

During the hot weather of the summer months the first unnatural looseness of a child's bowels should have immediate attention, so as to check the disease before it becomes serious. All that is necessary is a few doses of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy followed by a dose of castor oil to cleanse the system. Rev. M. O. Stockland, pastor of the first M. E. church, Little Falls, Minn., writes: "We have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for several years and find it a very valuable remedy, especially for summer disorders of children. Sold by P. C. Corrigan, druggist."

FOOR TROMBETTI

The Sad Tale of the Professor and the Journalist.

Professor Trombetti, whose praises were so much sung in the foreign press as knowing the greatest number of languages of any one ever born, relates an anecdote of himself which occurred just after he was "discovered." In Rome he was so pestered by journalists that his patience at last gave way, and when cornered by the gentlemen of the press his language became distinctly lurid.

One day as he was coming out of the central postoffice a frank looking young man stepped up to him, and, holding out his hand, said: "I am so glad to make your acquaintance; I have been trying to find you for days." "And may I inquire with whom I am speaking?" "Why, I am X! Not a near relation to be sure, but near enough to offer you congratulations," etc. Professor Trombetti, reassured, and glad to get hold of some one to unburden himself to, took the stranger's arm, and as they went down the street, gave, in emphatic terms, a description of his sufferings, his opinion of journalists, and, incidentally, much information about himself which the papers had been vainly sighing for. Finally they parted with an engagement for dinner the next evening.

That night the professor was sitting tranquilly in a restaurant, the observed of all observers, when suddenly he was seen to spring to his feet with a smothered exclamation. His friends crowded about for an explanation, but he could only sit down weakly and point to his newspaper, the Giornale d'Italia. There, in large print, were his impudent revelations of the afternoon. He had been "done" by a journalist.—Fall Mall Gazette.

THE PERFECT NUMBER.

From Time Immemorial Three Has Had Unusual Significance.

The perfect number of the Pythagorean system, expressive of beginning, middle and end, was the number three. From time immemorial greater prominence has been given to it than to any other except seven. And as the symbol of the Trinity its influence has waxed more potent in recent times. It appears over and over again in both the New and Old Testaments. At the creation of the world we find land, water and sky, sun, moon and stars. Jonah was three days and nights in the whale's belly, Christ three days in the tomb. There were three patriarchs, Abraham, Isaac and Jacob. Abraham entertained three angels. Job had three friends. Samuel was called three times. Samson deceived Delilah three times.

Three times Saul tried to kill David with a javelin. Jonathan shot three arrows on David's behalf. Daniel was thrown into a den of three lions because he prayed three times a day. Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego were rescued from a fiery furnace. The commandments of the Lord were delivered on the third day. St. Paul speaks of faith, hope and charity. Three wise men came to worship Christ with presents three. Christ spoke three times to Satan when he was tempted. He prayed three times before he was betrayed. Peter denied him three times. He suffered three hours of agony on the cross. The superscription was in three languages, and three men were crucified. Christ appeared three times to his disciples and rose the third day.—New York Herald.

Have You Got Them!

Do you feel anxious and preoccupied when the gas man goes by?
Do you sleep badly?
Do you go to bed hungry?
Does your heart palpitate when you see a steak?
Is there an all gone feeling in your pocket?
Do you have nightmares?
Do you do mental arithmetic every time you contemplate the purchase of "coffee and?"
Have you a hunted look?
Do you walk down dark alleys when you go downtown?
Beware! These are the symptoms. You're busted.—San Francisco Bulletin.

French Concoit.

Etienne Dumont, writing in the early part of the last century, said: "The prevailing character of the French is that of conceit. Every member of the assembly considered himself capable of undertaking everything. I often said that if you proposed to the first hundred men you met in the streets of Paris and to the same number in the streets of London to undertake the charge of the government ninety-nine of them would accept in Paris and ninety-nine would refuse in London."

The Tibetan Conscience.

The Tibetans offer daily prayers for the minute insects which they have swallowed inadvertently in their meat and drink, and the formula insures the rebirth of these microbes in heaven. Yet they eat meat freely and square their conscience with their appetite by the pretext that the sin rests with the outcast assassin, the public butcher, who will be born in the next incarnation as some tantalized spirit or agonized demon. That, however, is this own affair.

Optical Indecision.

The Daughter—No, mother, dear, I could not marry Mr. Smith. He squints. The Mother—My dear girl, a man who has $20,000 a year may be affected with a slight optical indecision, but a squint, never!—London Tatler.

It is said that rats may be driven from the premises by the playing of bagpipes. Rats have a great many human traits after all.—Chicago Journal.
