

HOLT'S SUNDAY SCHOOLS

Profitable Gathering at Atkinson Last Week.

ELECT NEW OFFICERS FOR YEAR

Delegates and Visitors Listen to Able and Instructive Lectures and Addresses.

The Holt County Sunday school convention was held in Atkinson commencing Thursday evening of last week and continuing over Friday.

The meeting was opened by an address from the president, E. E. Dillon. Miss Mannie Haines, state field worker, gave a short and interesting account of the international convention held in Toronto, Canada, after which Rev. G. F. Mead of O'Neill, gave a lesson in Bible study, illustrating his work by use of the blackboard.

On Friday the time was occupied with very interesting and helpful talks by Prof. Steidley, Miss Haines, W. H. Kimberley, Rev. Samuel Light of Stuart, and Rev. T. W. Bowen of O'Neill. Mrs. Jennie Beek read a carefully prepared paper, giving a very interesting report of the doings of the state Sunday school convention.

Friday evening was given up to Prof. Steidley and Miss Haines, who by special request, gave her lecture on "Her Jerusalem Trip."

The convention was the most successful ever held in the county. There were over thirty delegates from all over the county, besides many visitors. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President, E. E. Dillon, O'Neill; Vice President, Rev. S. Light, Stuart; Secretary, J. T. Carson, Ewing; Assistant Secretary, Miss W. Mitchell, Ewing; Treasurer, E. H. Benedict, O'Neill; Superintendent Home Department, E. P. Stevens, Orchard; Superintendent Temperance Department, T. M. Elder, Atkinson; Superintendent Primary Department, Lena Campbell, Page; Superintendent normal training, G. F. Mead, O'Neill.

Page was selected as the place of meeting for next year.

FIRST ANNUAL RACE MEETING AND BASE BALL TOURNAMENT, AT O'NEILL ON WEDNESDAY, THURSDAY & FRIDAY, OCT. 4-5-6

The First Day as Good as the Last. $1400 in purses for Speed, $120 for Base Ball

This event promises to be, without exception, the best of its kind ever held in north Nebraska. Among the notable horses that will compete for the purses are: Coney, record 2:02, and Count De Kaville, record 2:17, the fastest 3-year old in Nebraska, together with a long list of other good trotting and pacing horses. The great running horse, Pat Oran, together with a large field of other fast jumpers will go in the running races. Ball games each day by fast ball teams, among them is Spencer, Clearwater, Atkinson and the Irish Peelers. Ball games called at 10:30 a. m., races at 1:30 p. m. Other amusements and attractions each day and night. Everybody should take a vacation for three days and enjoy the sports.

LOCAL MATTERS.

For farm loans see Lyman Waterman, O'Neill. 45-1f

Miss Maud Gillespie went to Omaha Sunday.

Rev. Father Dolan was a Ewing visitor Tuesday.

Mose Campbell of Atkinson was in town Tuesday.

Editor Akin of the Graphic was down from Atkinson Tuesday.

Frank Dishner made a business trip to Iowa the first of the week.

The cement walks at the courthouse were about finished up yesterday.

John and Will McNichols departed yesterday on their return to Butte, Montana.

Frank and Mrs. Pixley are the proud and happy parents of a son, born Saturday last.

Judge Simmons went to Chambers yesterday to do a little campaigning on behalf of his candidacy.

Joe Sullivan left yesterday for Omaha, where he went to take the medical course and Creighton's.

An addition is being built onto the rear end of C. C. Reka's building occupied by the Racket store.

Mrs. E. T. Bowen returned home last Saturday after a two months' visit with friends in Omaha.

Mrs. Slocum of South Omaha, a former resident of this county, is visiting at the home of Mrs. C. E. Howe.

J. H. Riggs came up from Waterloo Friday last and spent a few days among old friends and familiar scenes.

Editor Benson of the Ewing Advocate was in town Tuesday. The Frontier acknowledges a fraternal call.

License to wed was issued Monday by Judge Morgan to Frank Gapter of Emmet and Alta Blackmere of Atkinson.

City warrants to register No. 654 are now payable. Interest ceases after Sept. 28, 1905.—J. F. Gallagher, city treasurer.

S. J. Weekes and D. H. Cronin went to Randolph yesterday in the interests of the race meeting to be held here next week.

Frank Phillips, chairman of the republican county central committee, was in from Star Tuesday making plans for the campaign.

Fred Gatz landed at 12-pound carp down at the Elkhorn last night, the story of the capture of which he tells with a smile of satisfaction.

Paul Butler came down Tuesday from the Rosebud agency in South Dakota where he is managing a store. He expects to return in a few days.

W. T. Evans is feeling more important since he got word that he is a grandfather. Ralph and wife report a girl at their home down at Ulysses.

The old lady Redden was treated to a happy surprise by friends and neighbors last Saturday, the occasion being her birthday anniversary. They came in upon her with arms filled with presents and the provisions for an elaborate supper, which was served after a pleasant afternoon's visit.

Miss Shearer of Chambers was a Northwestern passenger yesterday for Chicago, where she goes to enter a hospital to take up the work of a nurse.

Parties about town who have rooms to let during the races next week will confer a favor on the fair association by notifying either J. R. Gallagher, Joe Mann or O. F. Biglin.

The local stock market yesterday were: Stock steers $3.00 to $3.25; hogs $4.60; corn shelled 38 cents; ear 37c; oats 18c; wheat 65c; rye 41c; potatoes 40c; eggs 10c; butter 14c.

Miss Nellie McCafferty, who has been visiting here from Arcola, Ill., for some time, left Sunday morning for Omaha where she will take in the Ak-Sar-Ben and visit friends for a few days.

Strayed from the Northwestern stock yards in O'Neill, a 3-year old partly roan steer, brand WF on left hip, on Sunday, Sept. 24. Information concerning the same send to Wm. Fallon, O'Neill. 14-1p

The fair management invite and request the public to do all the driving possible on the fair ground track. The gates are open. The more driving there is the better it will make the track for the fast racing.

O'Connors saloon was the scene of a gasoline explosion Tuesday evening. While the gasoline lamps were being generated the tin pipe conveying the gasoline from the tank to the lamp exploded. No damage was done aside from the bursted pipe.

Walt O'Mally made a trip to Inman yesterday that he was not planning on. He went to the forenoon Northwestern passenger train to put his little cousin, Harry O'Mally, aboard to send him to Omaha for treatment for appendicitis. The train pulled out before Walt could get off and he had to ride to Inman.

These are active days on the steer market. The Northwestern yards were crowded to the limit Sunday night. Several cattle men brought their herds in that day to get them into market for Monday's buying. In fact the rails are kept hot nearly night and day now by trains of cattle speeding over them, loaded from all points along the Elkhorn and up into the Black Hills. Some 500 head were loaded here Sunday night.

The racing and fair events Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of next week are looked forward to with considerable interest by the public and O'Neill will doubtless have a chance to show herself in entertaining a big crowd. The management of the fair have been tireless workers to make the event a success and without doubt they will give visitors to the fair grounds their money's worth. A number of horses are now in town to enter the races and we are informed by the management that Kay Bros. of Neligh will bring up a car load of their fast trotters and pacers next week to go in the races. It will be an event, the like of which the people of this community have not had the opportunity of witnessing before at home. Interest is being aroused everywhere in the races, and a committee of business men have taken in hand the task of providing suitable lodging for the crowds that are sure to come to O'Neill.

The following epistle, signed by plain "Jack" and probably designed for some fair dame who pines o'er unrequited love, was picked up on the street and handed in for the editor to find the owner, which we hope to do by giving it publicity:

"Why do you talk to me? Why need I listen? I am wiser than a kid of 7. I have frustrated thirty-seven distinct and separate attempts to break my heart by as many fair ladies. I am now roof against so-called winning smiles, goo-goo eyes, graceful poises, love taps, broad hints, compliments and divers other great and terrible weapons used by young women (and even widows) as well as the imploring wail of maidens over 30 years of age, and I further declare that I have withdrawn myself from the market and am not open to negotiations on any terms or conditions and I prefer to reside in the town of Freedom, county of Independence, and pay the state tax for bachelors, rather than be taxed by a wife.—Jack."

EXAMINER FILES ANSWER

Document Has Been in Hands of the Clerk Awaiting Ruling of Court.

McGreevy Swore to Statement

Whittemore Makes Various Allegations Concerning Elkhorn Valley Bank Examination.

The answer of Fred Whittemore, state bank examiner, in the cases in district court brought against him and the Fidelity and Guarantee company of Maryland, was filed with the clerk of the district court last week, after the ruling of the court on the defendant's demurrer wherein the plaintiff's petition was asked to be amended.

The examiner's answer, as heretofore alluded to by The Frontier, sets forth that at the time of his examination of the Elkhorn Valley bank in December, 1903, he required the president of the bank, B. McGreevy, according to law and the rules of the state banking board, to make his oath as to the financial condition of the bank, which statement and oath of the president showed assets of the bank aggregating $88,953.24. He alleges that he made a personal and careful investigation of the books and papers of the bank, reporting to the banking board "that a good deal of this paper is not first rate. They pay high rates for deposits and loan considerable at usurious rates, and as a consequence had accumulated a lot of notes that are not kept up to date."

The examiner further says that he reported "that they had nine notes, amounting to $409.23, which they had charged off at the suggestion of this defendant; that they had forty-two past due notes delinquent longer than November 1, and amounting to $3,657.90," and requested the said banking board to write them urging that that paper be kept paid up, and that people who do not pay their notes promptly, be not allowed to borrow, saying, "also make such suggestions as are proper for holding real estate contrary to banking act, and that overdrafts be curtailed."

The petition has been in the hands of the clerk since the beginning of the suits, but was only filed last week, the ruling of the court directing the plaintiffs to amend their petitions as asked in the defendants' demurrer being made on September 18.

When these cases will be brought to trial, if at all, is still a matter of conjecture with the public. Court was in session last Saturday disposing of some equity matters and adjourned until the 30th.
