"SAVED MY LIFE"

—That's what a prominent druggist said of Scott's Emulsion a short time ago. As a rule we don't use or refer to testimonials in addressing the public, but the above remark and similar expressions are made so often in connection with Scott's Emulsion that they are worthy of occasional note. From infancy to old age Scott's Emulsion offers a reliable means of remedying improper and weak development, restoring lost flesh and vitality, and repairing waste. The action of Scott's Emulsion is no more of a secret than the composition of the Emulsion itself. What it does it does through nourishment—the kind of nourishment that cannot be obtained in ordinary food. No system is too weak or delicate to retain Scott's Emulsion and gather good from it.

We will send you a sample free. Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.

CHILD IS KILLED.

Little Boy Runs Between Wheels to be Ground to Death.

Lynch Journal: Little Roland Dean Pickering, son of William Pickering of Dorsey, was run over and fatally injured last Friday afternoon while in the field with his father and mother who were gathering corn.

Little Roland had been riding on the wagon but when the box was almost full he wanted down and was helped out. After running around the wagon from one to the other of his parents he must have started through under the wagon and have been caught by the wheel which passed over his body, breaking the ribs and crushing him quite badly but not breaking the skin. Though everything possible was done for the sufferer he died in a few hours and was buried Saturday afternoon in the Dorsey cemetery, Rev. Hornady conducting the services in the Dorsey church. The heartbroken parents have the sympathy of all in their sorrow.

is often as great as woman's. But T. S. Austin, manager of the Republican of Leavenworth, Indiana, was not unreasonable, when he refused to allow the doctors to operate on his wife for female trouble, "Instead," he says, "we concluded to try Electric Bitters. My wife was then so sick, she could hardly leave her bed, and five (5) physicians had failed to relieve her. After taking Electric Bitters she was perfectly cured, and can now perform all her household duties." Guaranteed by P. C. Corrigan, druggist, price 60c.

The state game warden gives out the information to those who are not provided with copies of the law that the open season for quail began November 15, according to the provisions of the amended law, and will close November 30, at which the open season for prairie chickens also closes. While it is lawful to kill quail for the next two weeks, fishing cannot be indulged in until April 1. The season for fish closed the 15th. Hunters may not kill squirrels at any time during the year, but the law permits the killing of wolves and coyotes and authorized a bounty for their destruction and permits the killing of foxes, wildcats, skunks and rabbits at any time. The open season for water fowl closes April 15, except for snipe, which closes May 15.

Obituary.

Mrs. Isabella S. DeYarman was born in Fayette County, Pennsylvania January 6th 1825, and died at the home of her son-in-law, Harry Spindler, Meek, Nebraska, October 22nd, 1905, thus being at the time of her death 80 years of age. In early womanhood she united with the Methodist Episcopal church and for over 60 years was a constant member of that church. About a year ago she transferred her membership to the Blackbird Presbyterian Church, and was a member of that church at the time of her death. The change was made because it was more convenient for her to attend that church and she loved to be in fellowship with the people of God. She was always faithful in the support of the gospel and one of the last acts of her life was to hand a donation to her Pastor saying, it was "the widow's mite toward the pastor's salary." She was united in marriage to Hugo DeYarman January 16th, 1847, and the union which was a very happy one terminated by his death when 42 years of age. Mrs. DeYarman's death was very sudden but she was found prepared to enter upon those joys which are eternal. She was a most devoted mother and grandmother. Her children rise up and call her blessed. The funeral sermon was preached from the words "He giveth His beloved sleep. Psalm 127: 2, by the Rev. Thomas Bowen of O'Neill, and the remains interred in the Pleasant Valley Cemetery.
