German papers state that the "Great Grocery Exhibition," an association of large dealers in groceries in England, has now, for the fifth time, offered a prize for a safety lamp for using mineral oil. A lamp is wanted which shall not cost more than 50 cents and which, regardless of any ignorance or carelessness, must not be more dangerous than a common candle.

In 1900 the population of Chemnitz, Germany, was 206,913. On September 1, 1905, it numbered 244,019. No city in Europe has proportionately grown so fast in recent years as has Chemnitz, and with respect to cities of this size, its record of growth, with the possible exception of Minneapolis, Kansas City and Indianapolis, has had no equal.

Great pains are being laid in England to make the young men of that island good rifle shots. Many shooting clubs are being organized. In this connection the mayor of Westminster has presented to the Westminster employes one of the best equipped miniature rifle ranges in London. The range is in the vaults under St. Martin's church.

Several bugles are on exhibition here and there in England as the one that "sounded the charge of Balaklava." Now comes Lord Tredegar, who was one of the Six Hundred, and says the charge was not sounded on that occasion. He says the troopers were "among the guns" before anybody thought about bugles.

MILK SITUATION AROUSES OMAHA

Startling Disclosures Concerning the Impurity of the Supply Expected.

TESTS ARE TO BE MADE

The Investigation Was Begun After Movement Was Instituted by a Woman's Club in Regard to Sanitation of Dairies.

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 25.—Startling disclosures concerning the impurity of Omaha's milk supply are expected to come to light when the returns of analytical tests of milk which have been caused by private persons become known.

The attention of the public was first called to the lax manner in which the regulations governing the milk supply are being enforced by an investigation into the sanitary conditions of the dairies by the Omaha Women's club. Local papers took up the fight and now the city has become thoroughly aroused.

Health Commissioner Ralph contends that as many experiments as the board's fund will permit have been carried on. A local chemist performed the experiments charging $3 each.

It was shown that the city chemist has never been requested to make the experiments. City Chemist Kirschbraun stated that he could perform the experiment to disclose the practice of adulteration for 2 cents a test. He said that an expenditure of $100 would add sufficiently to the city laboratory for these tests and that 200 could be made monthly. The law requires that milk be tested regularly but the record of the health board shows but five tests have been made in ten months.

A new phase has been put on the situation by the statement of City Comptroller Lobeck. It now appears that money for the tests can be had despite the contention of the health board that it was unable to secure funds to carry the experiments further this year. The city comptroller declared that the money needed to equip the laboratory as outlined by the city chemist can be drawn from the miscellaneous fund if the council will adopt a resolution ordering it to be done.

The case has disclosed many interesting situations. One particularly so is the charge brought against Milk Inspector Hutton by John Steele, a prominent insurance man. Steele in a signed statement alleges that the milk inspector accompanied an insurance agent on several trips to insure dairymen. He intimates that Milk Inspector Hutton received a part of the agent's commission and that dairymen were either intimidated by the presence of the milk inspector with the insurance agent or wishing to gain his favor in many instances took out policies.

Milk Inspector Hutton admits to having visited dairymen with the agent but declares he accepted no remuneration and that he did so merely out of friendship for the agent.

The attitude of the city council with regard to the adoption of a resolution for the transfer of the funds necessary for the laboratory equipment is being canvassed.

FOUR HORNED ANTELOPE.

Entire Skeleton of a Primitive Animal Unearthed.

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 24.—Professor Barbour, state geologist, is exhibiting the skeleton of a four-horned antelope, Syndoceros cooki, which is the great find of the Morrill Geological expedition of 1905. This skeleton is said to be a great addition to science. It is the first one ever discovered. So important is the discovery of the new animal deemed by scientists that Professor Williston, of Chicago university, had the publication of his new book stopped in order to insert a page describing the four-horned antelope.

This primitive antelope was a trifle less in size than the modern Nebraska antelope and this discovery warrants the statement that Nebraska was really the home and starting place of the antelope. The skull of the primitive animal shows one pair of horns just back of the nostrils, while another pair is located behind the eyes, which evidently protruded from the head. Just back of the front pair of horns is a circular blow hole, the function of which is not yet known.

The antelope had a broad, stout neck, and unlike the Rocky mountain sheep, and from its muscular scars must have been a fleet and agile creature, rivaling any living antelope in grace and beauty of outline. The animal evidently did not roam some open, warm or lake by a freshet. Here it floated for a time and then dropped to the bottom, where its bones were found doubled together in such a way that the entire skeleton was secured.

FOOTBALL TEAM DISSANDS.

Injury to Kansas City Player Dishearts Lincoln High School Boys.

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 24.—The Lincoln high school football team has cancelled the game with the Iowa team, because of the serious injury incurred by Homer Gibson, the Kansas City player, in the game last Saturday. Gibson is improving since the trepanning operation on the head, but the blood clot was removed from the cerebral cavity, but the accident has placed a damper on the spirits of the Lincoln lads, who were intensely anxious over the early reports that the young man would die.

Gibson's close call has had its effect in awakening the opposition to high school football into activity and there is more or less talk against the game. Should the accident have terminated fatally anxious parents were ready to take stringent measures to combat the game. As it is, with the Kansas City player lying in a hospital with a very grave injury, many parents are manifesting a disposition to take their sons out of the game, and to that influence the cancellation of the remaining games will be responsible in a measure, although ostensibly out of respect for Gibson.

The man was injured in fair play. It is explained that the accident was unavoidable and due to the rash of the contending players for a fumbled ball.

DEATH FROM A RIFLE.

T. P. Sykes, Wealthy Farmer Near Hastings Commits Suicide.

Hastings, Neb., Nov. 24.—T. P. Sykes, a Mason and wealthy farmer, killed himself with a small rifle. He left a note asking his friends and neighbors not to blame him for his act, as he "could not help it." The only plausible conjecture as to the reason is that near trouble, with which he had long been afflicted, caused mental depression. Mr. Sykes was 65 years of age.

SHOOTS HIMSELF TWICE

Nebraska Editor Takes His Own Life in the Arcade Hotel at Omaha Today.

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 24.—Lying in a room at the Arcade hotel, the body of P. J. Rademan, manager of the Palladium Times, with bullet holes in the left breast and head, was found at 8:10 this morning, when the police broke open the door. Rademan registered at the Arcade Tuesday morning and was not seen again alive. Ill health caused suicide.

FAINTING BERTHA FAILS

Omaha's Famous Female Crook Tries in Vain to Burn Herself in Cell in Jail.

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 23.—Two prisoners at the city jail attempted suicide today, a woman by cremation and a man by hanging. Both were resuscitated after some difficulty. The woman is "Fainting Bertha" Liebeck, known in police departments as "Cover the counter." Believing that she would about to be taken to an insane asylum she set fire to her clothing. The unconscious form of Charles Harris, a negro, was found dangling from the end of a pair of suspenders in his cell. Harris was cut down and revived.

RAILROADS MAKE DEAL

Milwaukee and Rock Island Agree to Use Their Own Tracks Jointly West of Neola.

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 23.—By a new traffic arrangement the Rock Island and Milwaukee roads will use their parallel tracks between Council Bluffs and Neola, Ia., jointly as a double track. The arrangement will likely include the abandonment of the Milwaukee passenger station at Council Bluffs and joint use of the Rock Island station, a more modern structure. The station of one road will be abandoned at Weston also.

MAN DIED FROM STARVATION.

When Found in Basement He Was Too Far Gone to Be Saved.

Madison, Neb., Nov. 23.—Nellig Carry, a poor man, who for some time past has been living in the basement of the Thomas theater, was found nearly dead from starvation and cold. He was immediately taken to the I. O. O. F. hall and cared for by two citizens, but the man's condition was such that he died a short time after being taken to the hall.

CUT SMALL VEINS.

York Woman Used Razor on Her Throat but Failed to Kill Herself.

York, Neb., Nov. 22.—An attempt to commit suicide by Mrs. John P. Beard of this city nearly terminated successfully. She has been mentally unbalanced for some time, and yesterday got hold of a razor and drew it across her throat, but only succeeded in cutting through the skin below the Adam's apple, severing the small veins only. Had it not been for the presence of her mother who might have succeeded in ending her life, the daughter just happened to be in the next room, and the unnatural cries from her mother caused her to go into the bedroom, where she found her mother seeking self-destruction, and was just in time to prevent it.

THIEVES STEAL TEAM.

Laurel, Neb., Nov. 23.—A team of horse harness and buggy was stolen from Post, four miles southwest of Laurel Monday night. Mr. Post's hired man heard a team about midnight, and the supposition is that it was the thieves as they were departing. Several of the neighbors heard a team pass their house some time in the night at a very rapid rate. As near as could be learned they were headed for the Rosebud country, where they can easily get among the hills and keep away from telephone connection.

Farmers are hurrying towards the latter part of their corn picking, and some of them have finished. The yield was fully as good as was expected, and in some cases better. The Catholic church contract has been let and is to be completed by the first of January. In the past the society has been compelled to hold its services in the Odd Fellows hall, and right glad the members will be when they can worship in their own edifice.

KILLED UNDER WAGON.

Dorsey, Neb., Nov. 22.—Little Roland Pickering, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Pickering of this town, was killed in a tragic manner by being crushed to death beneath the wheels of a wagon while playing near his mother and father. The family were in the corn field husking corn. The lad had been riding on the wagon. Then he jumped down and ran from one side in under the wagon, en route to his mother on the other side of a wagon while darning between the wheels of the vehicle. In his little body ground down by the heavy weight before his parents' eyes.

SHOCK KILLS WITNESS.

Becomes Ill on Hearing Disgraceful Testimony.

New York, Nov. 24.—Mrs. Rudolph Heinrich, a witness in a sensational divorce case before Chancellor Stevens, of Jersey City, fell unconscious in the court room last yesterday. She died in a cab on the way to her home. The tragedy was caused by the shock on hearing that a witness had sworn that the home of Mrs. Heinrich was a secret place of meeting between the accused wife and co-respondent.

Mrs. Heinrich was waiting in the anteroom of the court in readiness to take the witness stand. A court official nodded significantly in her direction, whispered the substance of the evidence reflecting upon her in the ear of a friend, Mrs. Heinrich, with apprehension aroused started forward with a flood of questions. Then, as she learned the truth, the woman swayed, staggered forward, and fell face downward on the floor.

When every effort failed to revive her, she was placed in a cab, attended by two friends, and a start was made for her home. Long before the cab had completed the journey, her heart had ceased to beat. The shock of that discovery in the court room had broken a blood vessel in the woman's brain.

CLOSE CALL FOR GIRLS.

Lawrence, Mass., Nov. 22.—Four hundred school girls had a narrow escape today from a fire which broke out in a French parochial school. Twenty-five girls dropped from the third story and all but one were caught without injury.

KING CHARLES IN PARIS.

Paris, Nov. 22.—King Charles of Portugal arrived here today to return President Loubet's visit to Lisbon. He was accorded a most cordial reception.

NEBRASKA CITIZENS ARE HELD IN RUSSIA

McCook Man and Wife Visit Czar's Country and Return Is Denied.

ARE MADE TO SEPARATE

Wife Sent to One Province and Husband to Another, While Their Children in Nebraska Long for Their Home Coming.

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 21.—Word has been received here from two Nebraska citizens who went to visit Russia, that they have been refused the privilege of returning by the authorities in the czar's country.

Mr. and Mrs. George Schmidt of McCook, American citizens, for a long time planned to visit the land of the czar. They set sail for Russia. When they reached that country they were apprehended and the woman was sent to one colony while her husband was sent to another.

The marriage certificate was taken from the couple and now the license clerk at Lincoln has been asked for a copy of the license.

The matter will be taken up with the authorities in Washington.

DIED AT 114 YEARS OF AGE.

John Flanagan, Oldest Negro in Omaha, Succumbs to Heart Failure.

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 23.—John Flanagan, colored, one of the best known characters of Omaha, and who claimed to be 114 years of age, died Monday night of heart failure in his room after he had returned from a walk.

Flanagan said that he had been in slavery for 69 years, being sold nine times, the last time to John Bell of Tennessee. He said that the third time he was sold he brought $6,000.

Flanagan's back was covered with ugly scars which he claimed were made by a throng whip in the hands of one of his masters who whipped him because he would not tell where he got some brandy which a man had sent him for.

Flanagan came to Omaha in 1865, after failing in an attempt to enlist in the federal army. He had "tended" General Grant's horses at Fort Donelson and wanted to enlist, but was told that he was "too old, being 74 at the time."

CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR.

Friends May Induce McKillop to Be Placed on Ticket.

Norfolk, Neb., Nov. 22.—Northern Nebraska democrats and fusionists generally are hoping and expecting to make one of their number the next gubernatorial candidate in Nebraska. They are planning and working for the nomination of George McKillop, of Norfolk, of Hannu, who was the candidate against Congressman McCarthy for representative from the Third district a year ago. Mr. McKillop has not declared himself as a candidate, but from an interview here it is evident that if the nomination were tendered he would accept it.

Asked as to the rumors that he would be his party nominee for governor next year, Mr. McKillop said: "Yes, a friend did ask me if I would accept the nomination for governor if it could be secured for me. And I told him this: 'I am not now a candidate for any office. I would a little prefer, I think, to attend to my business interests and keep them going, for to make the race for governor means giving up one's whole time. I don't know whether, on that account, I could afford to make the race.'"

"It has been a long time since a governor in your party was nominated from this territory," was suggested.

"Yes, that is true," admitted Mr. McKillop. "It would be quite an extraordinary thing in that way."

"Would you prefer the race for governorship to a second one for congress?"

"In some ways it would be preferable," said the prospective candidate.

EVA BOOTH AT OMAHA.

Noted Salvation Army Leader Is Accredited Great Ovation.

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 23.—Eva Booth, commander of the Salvation Army, was given a hearty reception by 6,000 Omahans at the Auditorium here. On the stage were a large number of field officers and other army personages who have been accompanying Miss Booth on her tour.

At the Auditorium here she was introduced by Governor Mickey, who delivered a brief welcoming address. On the stage was a chorus of 500 voices, led by Ben Stanley, which participated in the program.

Miss Booth's address was warmly received, and at several periods she was loudly cheered. She spoke briefly of the purpose of her tour of the country, which she said, was being made for the purpose of getting acquainted.

At the close of the meeting the little leader held a brief reception, during which hundreds of Omaha citizens flocked to the stage to shake the hand of Miss Booth.

TRAMPLED BY HIS CATTLE.

U. T. Carl, Farmer Near Hoskins, Badly Injured.

Norfolk, Neb., Nov. 23.—U. T. Carl, a farmer living two miles west and five miles north of Hoskins, was badly injured by being trampled under the feet of a herd of wild cattle. His face was terribly gashed and slashed by the hoofs of the cattle and he may have sustained internal injuries, although that is not as yet certain.

Mr. Carl went into the cattle yard to feed the brutes. Wild and panic stricken, they started after the man, and not being able to get out of their reach, he was run over by the stampeding steers.

His face and forehead were badly cut up.

BRYAN WINS A MEDAL.

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 22.—Friends of W. J. Bryan have been notified that a gold medal will soon be awarded the Fairview statesman. He won the medal at Portland for the best sheaf of rye.

HORSE GAVE WARNING OF FIRE

Rope Was Burned Off and It Hobbled to the Farm House Door.

Wilder, Neb., Nov. 22.—A horse barn on the farm of the estate of Frank Slepicka was burned, together with all its contents. There were two horses, about 1,200 bushels of oats, some corn, eleven sets of double harness, and some ten or twelve tons of hay besides the barn. At the time the fire started the family were at dinner and the first alarm was given by one of the horses that had come to the kitchen door after its rope had been burned off, and its flesh was so badly burned that it was falling off in it.

TO HOLD AN AUTOPSY.

Body of Midshipman Branch, Who Was Killed by Meriwether, Is Ordered Exhumed.

Annapolis, Md., Nov. 28.—The court-martial proceedings in the case of Midshipman Minor Meriwether, charged with manslaughter in causing the death of Midshipman Branch in a flat fight, was resumed this morning.

Judge Advocate Marix has telegraphed to the secretary of the navy, requesting permission to disinter the body of Branch and have an autopsy performed in order to settle, as far as possible, doubts raised during the trial as to the physical condition of Branch prior to his fight and the possibility of death from causes other than blows received on the head. This request was granted by Secretary Bonaparte.

Midshipman Corstien, of the first-class, for the defense, testified that at the end of the last term, while on duty, he had reported Meriwether for breach of regulations. Branch had manifested great interest in seeing the report was made. He seemed to have a deep-seated grudge against Meriwether.

Corstien testified that the attitude of midshipmen toward fighting was regarded as the only means of settling certain disputes.

Lieut. Commander H. J. Ziegler testified that as executive officer of the Hartford he had received a report from Midshipman Branch against Meriwether for general disorder, insubordination, and not turning in promptly on being ordered by Branch, who was on duty. Witness found that the charge of not turning in promptly was the only one sustained. He considered there was a personal feeling between the two.

Midshipman William T. Page, classmate of Meriwether, testified that Meriwether would have been "an outcast in his class" if he had not fought and "worse than an outcast" if he had refused Branch's challenge.

PORTE UP AGAINST IT.

Indications Point to Him Bowing to the Inevitable and Finding a Scapegoat.

Athens, Nov. 28.—The international fleet assembled at Piræus for the purpose of making a naval demonstration against Turkey in support of demands of the powers for financial control of Macedonia, sailed at noon today under sealed orders. British and French torpedo boats were left behind to keep up communication with the fleet.

SULTAN FINDS A SCAPEGOAT.

Constantinople, Nov. 28.—It is persistently reported but not confirmed that Grand Visar Ferid Pasha has been dismissed and replaced by Abidin Pasha as governor general of the archipelago. As the acceptance of the demands of the powers requires a scapegoat, there is a disposition in some quarters to credit the report as being the precursor of the abandonment by the porte of its present attitude.

GERMANY DENIES STORY.

Berlin, Nov. 28.—The foreign office emphatically denies that Turkey's attitude is due to German influences. So far from this being true, it is said the sultan is actually angry at Germany because the foreign office has repeatedly advised him to accept the powers' demands.

Austria Greatly Interested.

Vienna, Nov. 25.—Austria will continue to take part in the international action against Turkey so long as the powers act unanimously. But if any power withdraws, Austria will withdraw also.

The possibilities of serious complications are not ignored here. The government still expects the sultan will accede to the demands of the powers. Austria is not moving troops toward the southern frontier, despite reports of a military convention. The sultan, it is contended, is contemplating a movement on Salonica is categorically denied.
