A MISSIONARY MEETING

Methodist People Will Hold World-Wide Convention.

TWELVE HUNDRED DELEGATES

Will Gather at Omaha Next Week From All Over the Country for Three Day's Session.

A convention that promises to bring together twelve hundred accredited delegates and as many more visitors in the Inter-Conference Missionary convention of the Methodist church is scheduled to be held in Omaha April 3-5.

This convention is one of a number being held under the auspices of the missionary society of the Methodist church, from Maine to California. The Methodist church spends nearly a million and a half every year on its mission work at home and in the foreign field and these conventions are to stimulate further interest in their world-wide work.

The convention will be composed of laymen and ministers, Epworth League presidents, Sunday school superintendents and other lay workers from the charges in the state of Nebraska and the Des Moines conference in Iowa.

The theme of the convention will be: "A view of the world-wide field and how to make plain its significance to the home church." Those attending the convention will hear workers from nearly all the mission fields.

In connection with the convention and serving as one of its chief attractions will be an educational exhibit. An opportunity to study this exhibit under Executive Secretary Dr. Gamewell and his corps of trained workers will be worth a trip across the state. This exhibit is probably the finest prepared by any church organization.

The convention will be self-entertaining. Arrangements have been made whereby delegates may secure entertainment at hotels, boarding houses and private homes at very reasonable rates.

A special rate of one fare and one third plus twenty-five cents, on the certificate plan, has been granted on roads in the convention territory. Delegates will pay one full fare when purchasing tickets to the convention.

The Rev. Dr. John Randolph Smith, Omaha, Neb., is the secretary of the executive committee and he and his office force are busy preparing for the reception of the delegates.

Persons desiring to serve as delegates are expected to forward to Dr. Smith their credential card and one dollar to help to defray the local expenses.

The local committee have arranged for post office and check room facilities.

ties. This convention will bring together a large number of speakers and workers of world-wide reputation and a great number of people from western Iowa and the state of Nebraska.

DOCTOR'S BOY LOST.

An Appeal From Indiana In Behalf of Anxious Parents.

Dr. S. L. Byers of Seelyville, Ind., has been endeavoring to locate his lost son since May, 1904, and newspapers in various localities are lending what aid they can by publishing the following facts:

Richmond Byers, if alive, was 6 years old in July, is of light complexion, has grey eyes, left eye noticeably crossed, has a small V shaped nick in the edge of the left ear, has a sharp chin and a narrow, projecting forehead. He is rather small for his age and is unusually bright and intelligent, taken after the manner of a boy much older.

Dr. Byers has searched among the roving bands that frequent the United States and believes that his son can be found among traveling junk dealers, so called horse traders or movers. He does not think the boy was stolen by genuine gypsies. He thinks he was taken by a wandering band that used him for the purpose of begging in the towns along the route.

A Favorite Remedy for Babies. Its pleasant taste and prompt cures have made Chamberlain's Cough Remedy a favorite with the mothers of small children. It quickly cures their coughs and colds and prevents any danger of pneumonia or other serious consequences.

Some times it is the grocer-man who wears a scornful frown, because the glib-tongued box-car man is selling goods in town; and then again the hardware-man is feeling rather sore, because his neighbor grocer won't buy goods at his store; and the keeper of the clothing house in silence mentally swears, for the season that the hardware-man sends 'way for duds he wears; and the man who runs the jewelry shop is feeling somewhat blue, for the clothing-man has sent away for diamonds just a few, and the dry-goods man is wrothy as for customers he strives, for the other merchants sent a way for dresses for their wives. But the Lord be with the editor, most patient man in town; he quiets the troubled waters, and never wears a frown, even though the grocer when he sends his little bill, has on it advertising for "Smith's Dopey Liver Pill," and the letter from the hardware man in which he makes complaint of people sending 'way for goods from pocket-knives to paint, is written on a letterhead that cost him not a sou—he got 'em free with twenty gross of "Bauter's Patent Screw."
