

TO EXTERMINATE THE VICIOUS PULAJANES

Governor Curry Was Not Captured In the Recent Outbreak in Samar.

REPORTS THE TREACHERY

Under Flag of Truce Fugitives Opened Fire—When Federal Troops Arrived Expedition Against Outlaws Will Begin.

Manila, March 28.—Governor Curry is safe and well, but particulars of his rescue are not available at this hour.

General Buchanan, commanding the department of Visayas, has left for Cebu, capital of the island of Samar to lend the aid of the federal government to the insular authorities if desirable. Small detachments of federal troops are now assisting constabulary in pursuit of the fugitive Pulajanes. The insular government has not yet requested federal aid.

Major General Wood has loaned the constabulary 500 Krag-Jorgensen rifles to supplant the single shot Springfield they have been using.

Tried to Capture Him.

Governor Curry in a report to the government on the recent engagement with the Pulajanes says:

"Had a hard fight in which Captain Jones of the constabulary lost half of his command, gaining a magnificent victory in the face of overwhelming odds.

"The Pulajanes, under a flag of truce and while promising to surrender, immediately opened fire, charging the constabulary. The leader of the Pulajanes ordered his men first to wipe out the constabulary and then to capture myself and other Americans.

"I have requested a company of federal troops immediately, and later on when joined by this additional force I will prepare to wage a war of extermination against the fugitives, which is the only alternative.

Praise Constabulary.

"The constabulary did splendidly though their inferior firearms which were minus bayonets, placed them at a disadvantage. With the assistance of federal troops we will be able to exterminate the fugitives who are now in the mountains and will destroy crops.

"Natives of Samar with the exception of the Pulajanes are in sympathy with and assisting us. Every town is endeavoring to assist in the extermination of the fugitives.

"Several prominent Filipinos were present and witnessed the treacherous action of the Pulajanes.

"Judge Lobinger and all other Americans are safe."

About Fifty Killed.

Washington, D. C., March 28.—The official account of the fight with the Pulajanes on the island of Samar, was received at the war department today from Governor General Ide, as follows:

"On the morning of March 24, Governor Curry had arranged to receive the surrender of the remaining Pulajanes and leaders at Magtoon, island of Samar. The leaders and 100 Pulajanes with fourteen guns, presented themselves in the morning, and the surrender was to occur. The Pulajanes leader signaled and all made a bold rush. Judge Lobinger and the district school inspector escaped in one direction, and Curry in another, swimming the river and escaping in the brush. Other Americans were killed.

"The constabulary lost sixteen killed and wounded. Some guns were lost. Thirty Pulajanes were buried. The Pulajanes were pursued. Curry was lost thirty-six hours, but was presently found in a road to the camp.

"He withdraws his application for leave of absence and proposes to finish the pacification. He reports that the natives in the province are actively assisting him. Each town is zealous to exterminate the Pulajanes."

TWO IOWA MEN ARE ROASTED ALIVE

Appalling Death Comes to Them When Exploding Lantern in Closed Car Sets Fire.

Fargo, N. D., March 28.—Two men, eight horses and a cow were roasted to death in a freight car near Gardner station, twenty miles north of here yesterday. The men were en route from their homes in Arryshire, Ia., to Williams county, N. D., where one of the party, P. S. McGuire, had bought a farm, last fall.

Owing to the inclement weather, the doors of the car had been kept closed, and light was obtained from a lantern suspended from the ceiling of the car. In some manner the lantern became unfastened and falling to the floor exploded. Instantly the hay on the floor of the car caught fire, and the car was transformed into a roaring furnace, and the two men made an effort to open the side doors of the car, but without avail. A son of P. S. McGuire, fought his way through the flames to end of the door and escaped, seriously injured. He was hit by a hot iron and the car was cut out of the train.

Efforts of the train crew to extinguish the flames were unavailing. Great difficulty was experienced in opening the car doors and when the bodies were finally taken out they were burned almost beyond recognition.

The dead are P. S. McGuire and E. M. Vanhorem. The bodies and the injured boy were brought to this city.

COSTLY FOUL TIP.

One That Hit August Auerbach Cost American Baseball League $10,000.

Chicago, March 28.—August Auerbach, who sued the American Baseball league for $25,000 damages for injuries received by being hit by a batted ball, has been awarded $10,000 damages by a jury in Judge Frost's court.

Auerbach occupied a seat in the bleachers at the American league grounds, while the Washington and Chicago teams were practicing, previous to the game in which a batted ball of the Washington team, batted a long fly, which hit Auerbach in the head.

Auerbach claims he has been a physical wreck since. The defense contended that Auerbach should have been watching the ball, and quoted a New York decision, wherein failure of a spectator to do so is held to show contributory negligence.

RUNAWAY IS CAUGHT.

Clinton, Ia., March 28.—Edmund Welch, aged 12 years, said to be a runaway from Norfolk, Neb., was picked up here by the police.

BLAMES THE WOMAN.

Prominent Lawyer Claims That Lives Cause Fully 80 Per Cent. of the Separations.

Philadelphia, Pa., March 28.—Divorce, its evils and its effects, were considered by the social science section of the New Century club. As an authority on divorce by virtue of his having been chairman of the recent national congress in Washington, Walter George Smith, the lawyer, was invited to instruct the women of the club on this subject, and did so.

He started them by asserting that 80 per cent. of the 50,000 divorces granted last year in the United States were initiated by women.

"The divorce evil does not so much need remedial legislation as good, pure, sensible women, who will realize that in marriage the guiding star should be duty and not selfishness," he said.

Mr. Smith began his address by quoting from an English author, who said: "Surely the divorce laws of the United States would not be as lax as they are now if the influence of women were against them. It is a melancholy reflection that among the grown-up women have been given the individual rights of property and of legal recognition that seem their natural heritage."

Emancipation Is Dangerous.

Mr. Smith continued: "If modern social evolution, in giving to women the right of property and a recognition of her individual dignity, is to result in the destruction of the family and the lowering of the moral tone of society to the plane of the Roman empire, we shall be paying dearly for her emancipation, and she shall have lost more than she will have gained."

"All the legislative expedients that may be adopted will serve only as a check upon this growing evil until the women themselves seek to abolish it."

There are 3,000 tribunals in the United States where the complaints of mistreated husbands and wives may be heard. The divorce rate has increased in a year three times as fast as the population.

"It does not seem Utopian to believe that a uniform statute will be agreed upon eventually by all the states," he concluded. "There will likely be a falling off in the number of divorces when it becomes operative. It will bring fair trials, elimination of migratory divorces, prevention of hasty marriages, and a way to do away with fraud. The evil itself, however, will never be eradicated until the hearts of the people are turned back to a higher conception of the meaning of matrimony."

WRECK KILLS NINE.

Caboose Full of Men in a Washout Is Crushed by a Big Steel Machine.

Casper, Wyo., March 28.—An accommodation train on the Chicago and Northwestern railway's new branch ran into a washout on the prairie twenty-six miles west of here this morning.

Nine persons were killed and thirty injured.

Most of the killed were in the caboose, which was at the rear of the train. Back of the caboose was a ponderous steel water tank car. The caboose sank deep into the mud and the tank plunged into the caboose and crushed it like an egg shell, catching the people in a trap.

At about the same time this accident occurred the middle span of the big railroad bridge across the Platte river near this city went out, as the result of the floods and it became impossible to send trains to the scene. Superintendent Cantillon and three physicians crossed the river by the wagon bridge and secured a handcar and started for the scene.

A severe snowstorm came up after they had gone six miles and the handcar was blocked. The physicians then drove to the wreck.

Most of the persons killed and injured were workmen on the way to the grading camps.

STILL TRUE TO GIRL WIFE

Father Gapon Answers His Detractors and Will Sue Them for Damages.

St. Petersburg, March 28.—Father Gapon in a frank open letter today replies to the attacks on his public and private life, and announces he has instructed his lawyers to bring an action for defamation of character against his detractors. He denies the charge of betraying and abandoning a girl while she was a prison chaplain.

Gapon explains that, refusing to follow the rule of the orthodox church prohibiting the remarriage of priests, which he declares drives the clergy to secret immorality, he took to his bosom as his wife a girl whom he loved and that she is still living with him.

KILEY SKIDOOS WITH HIS LEGAL WIFE

Millionaire Bigamist Gets Away from Law Which Interferes With His "Private Affairs."

New York, March 27.—Thomas W. Kiley, the missing millionaire banker and self-confessed bigamist of Brooklyn, will live abroad with his legal wife, who is the widow of his late brother. He has effected a complete reconciliation with the distinct understanding that he will forever abandon Mrs. Brown-Tousey-Cole-Kiley, the much married woman to whom he was wedded three years ago at Hammond, Ind.

Mr. Kiley is now believed by the police to have already sailed for Europe and to have taken with him drafts for $100,000. His legal wife is to meet him abroad and they will there spend the remainder of their lives in ease and affluence.

Coincidentally with the disappearance of Kiley is the absence of Mrs. Cole-Kiley from her home in a residence in Brooklyn avenue. It was impossible to secure an entrance into her home yesterday and neighbors stated that Mrs. Cole-Kiley had left the city for a secluded retreat until the scandal with the revelations regarding Kiley's marital troubles had blown over.

The flight of Kiley and the apparent disposition of the Indiana authorities to proceed against the millionaire bigamist now makes it certain that no criminal proceedings will be instituted against him.

DEATH WELCOMED.

Awful Cruelties Russian Girl Was Subjected To Told by Her.

Moscow, March 28.—M. Teslinski, counsel for Mlle. Spiridonova, the 17-year-old girl who shot M. Luzhenoffsky, chief of the secret police at Tamboff, has returned here from Tamboff, where his client was found guilty of the charge brought against her. He declares that the tortures of the Spanish Inquisition were tame when compared with the cruelty Mlle. Spiridonova has been subjected to. He gives a thrilling account of her proud and spirited speech to the judges who condemned her, telling them that the victory of the oppressors of the people would be short lived and saying: "You can kill me, but death will be welcomed after what I have suffered."

COMPLETE SURRENDER OF THE STANDARD OIL

Whipped Into Submission, the Great Trust Lets Hadley Dictate Terms.

A FAR REACHING VICTORY

Rogers and Counsel Make Admissions Which Would Permit State of Missouri to Confiscate Standard's Property There.

New York, March 28.—John D. Archbold, vice president of the Standard Oil company, testifying at the hearing in the ouster proceedings brought against the Standard Oil company by the state of Missouri, said:

"John D. Rockefeller has no desire to evade any questions. "He dislikes very much notoriety and cartooning," said Archbold. "If Hadley wants to go to Lakewood to question him I am sure he will find him willing to answer any questions."

"There's only one way to examine witnesses here, and that is by attorney general interrupted, 'only one way.'"

New York, March 28.—It was last Saturday in a plain, bare office at "74 Broadway," with no spectacular settings and only forty unofficial spectators, who were of no importance at all, that the Standard Oil company surrendered unconditionally to the young fellow from Missouri, whose name was unknown in New York a year ago. Because the surrender was unconditional there were certain terms of capitulation asked for by the state, but they were mere formalities.

So far as the state of Missouri is concerned the Standard Oil monopoly has passed into history. That is admitted. Not one of the many no head terms of capitulation asked for by the state. One of them a rugged and honest man—Standard Oil has made honest men its servants, too, sometimes—is tired and heartbroken with the whole business. Months ago he commenced to fight for a surrender and had to wait. It did not come until he had held out to a companion and muttered: "I'm glad it's over."

Standard Oil Was Beaten.

It took some time, though, to understand that it had happened even. It was as sudden and unexpected as a calamity. To conceive it meant an intellectual readjustment almost beyond reach. Not checked or delayed or confused, but beaten. Its attorney had said so. A plain man, standing by a cheap table in an almost bare room, the attorney had spoken in a clear, strained voice the words that meant capitulation. Herbert Hadley was standing up, too, his face white and drawn, his body bent forward, his hand gripping the back of a chair. Henry H. Rogers sat in his chair blinking like an owl in the sunlight.

"We admit that the majority of the stock of the Standard Oil company of Indiana is held by the Standard Oil company of New Jersey and that all the stock on the books of the Waters-Pierce Oil company of Missouri in the name of N. N. Van Buren is held by him in trust for the Standard Oil company of New Jersey also."

Hadley Dictated Terms.

John D. Johnson of St. Louis interjected "for the purpose of this litigation" for the purpose of this litigation and his voice was dry and hard as he rasped the sharp retort. "No, no, no, that, I want more, I want more, I want more."

They wrangled then in public about that table as they have without the least doubt been wrangling in private for the last three months; wrangled about the mere words. And at every new submission Hadley rasped out, "No, no, no, I want more, I want it to be complete." His voice had grown hoarse. His hand was thumping the table impatiently. He was more angry in this moment of great victory than he had ever been before.

The pickering was so preposterous and trifling. He had them beaten. Down to the very terms of the penalty that the supreme court of Missouri may exact, fine and absolute confiscation, he has them beaten. And they know it. They knew it a week ago. And yet they wrangled about the mere words. They have served them well for twenty years.

The Great Rogers Blinks.

"Can't we go in?" said Rogers, plaintively blinking at Hadley. Hadley barely replied to him. The attorney stood up again. He submitted another set of phrases. Almost fiercely Hadley refused to make any concession. The attorney general of Missouri dictated the terms of the surrender and each of the five attorneys for Standard Oil and its instruments repeated his own name in assent.

"And we acknowledge this admission," said Hadley, facing them with his white, stained face, "as attorneys for the Standard Oil company of New Jersey; the Standard Oil company of Indiana; the Waters-Pierce Oil company of Missouri; and the Republic Oil company of New York. And then they repeated their names: "John D. Johnson," "Alfred L. Eddy," "H. S. Priest," "Frank Hagerman," "William Rowe."

Then Hadley turned to Rogers again. But the interest had left the case. To Rogers further was like trying to get music from a broken drum. Rogers blinked punctuations to the next questions and smiled in a sly way. William G. Rockefeller followed him, lisping foolishly, and the inquiry adjourned.

Victory Overshadowed Individuals.

"Awfully good of you to let me down the path," the nephew of John D. Rockefeller, testified to the attorney general as he left the room. Nobody noticed his going. Nobody paid any attention to Rogers even. He stood blinking in a corner for a few minutes and then slipped out the back way to cheat the crowd in a great, staid, look at him. Hadley looked white and weary. Rush Lake, his assistant, who has worked with almost persistent genius to prepare all the evidence for the attorney general, was just as tired. The fight was over. They wanted to go home. But Monday and Tuesday will be spent in New York completing the testimony as to many technical details unless Standard Oil again surrenders and admits everything that the attorney general has asked for.

H. Clay Pierce of St. Louis will come next and he, too, probably will admit everything. He cannot well help himself. After that Commissioner Robert E. Anthony will submit his report to the supreme court of Missouri. There Standard Oil will make its last stand; not on the question of guilt, but on the question of penalty. For it has come to that at last.

The facts that for twenty years have baffled America have been laid bare.

MEXICAN REDS AGAIN GO ON THE WAR PATH

Outlaw Indians Engage in an Awful Slaughter of Men and Women.

FIVE OF LATTER PERISH

Left in the Road Near Their Own Homes Until Sufficient Troops Arrived to Drive Away the Murderous Band.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 27.—News has reached the city of the murder of five members of the family of Pedro Meza, president of LaDura, in Sonora, Mexico, and brother-in-law Frederick Hartman, president of the William Hoeg company, of Los Angeles, who were massacred by Indians within a few miles of their homes.

The bodies were left in the roadway between Ortiz and LaDura until a sufficient number of Mexican troops could be sent over to avenge the raiding outrages that killed in the victims.

Those killed were: Senor Meza, his wife, and three daughters, aged 18, 20 and 23. Frederick Hartman. Mrs. Wenceslaus Hoff, an old friend of Meza.

Theodore Hoff, aged 24, and three members of the Meza family survive.

PUT IN PROVISIO.

Otherwise the 28-Hour Law Will Remain as It Was Originally Passed.

Washington, D. C., March 27.—The house interstate commerce committee considered the bill to extend from 23 to 36 hours the time live stock may be kept in transit without food water or unloading for rest. While no action was taken the committee has about reached a compromise. This will leave the law as it stands, but a proviso will be added a proviso that the Interstate Commerce commission or perhaps the secretary of agriculture shall have power in his discretion and on a proper showing of necessity to suspend the law and grant a 36-hour limit for particular schedules. This is considered an entirely satisfactory compromise in view of the fact that the bill could not possibly have passed granting the 36-hour limit without restriction.

FOUR MEET DEATH IN NEW YORK FIRE

Buried Under Falling Walls—Hundreds of Factory Girls Were Rescued.

New York, March 28.—Four firemen perished and about a score of firemen and citizens were injured in a fire followed by a series of explosions that demolished a six-story factory building at Bedford and Downing streets, in the Greenwich village district, on the lower west side of the city. That the damage, which is estimated at from $300,000 to $400,000, if not far greater, was declared by Chief Croker to be due to the explosion of a gas engine No. 14, which was crushed and buried under the building and crushed the building between the debris at the moment when the flames were completely beyond control and threatening to sweep the entire block. One fireman was taken out of the building alive, but died shortly thereafter. The bodies of his three comrades were recovered after the fire was over, crushed under the wreckage of floors and walls that followed the explosion.

The dead: SCOTLAND JOHN WALSH, FIREMAN GEORGE C. CHRISTMAN, FIREMAN THOMAS L. HALPIN, FIREMAN J. HEALEY, all of engine No. 14.

Fireman Jacob Cohen and Lewis F. Cahill, also on engine No. 14, were also burned and bruised and removed to the hospital.

The other persons injured were for the most part employes of the factory, dwellers in adjacent tenements and persons passing in the street who were struck by falling bricks or fragments of glass. None of these were seriously hurt.

Three hundred men and women were in the factory during the lunch hour when a slight explosion occurred, followed by a succession of more, the last of such violence as to shake the buildings for blocks around. With the last detonation what remained of the walls fell inward, smothering the flames which a moment before were shooting 300 feet into the air. In forty minutes the blaze showed itself all that remained of the huge building was a glowing heap of shattered floors, walls and beams, beneath which were buried the bodies of the four firemen.

President of Nicaragua Withdraws Objection to American Union.

Washington, March 28.—Alphonse Zelaya, son of President Zelaya of Nicaragua, and Miss Margaret Baker, daughter of W. W. Baker, an official of the postoffice department, were married Saturday at the home of the bride's parents on North Capitol street. The wedding was a very quiet affair and is the culmination of a series of romances dating back to last November, in one of which young Zelaya was kidnapped at the instance, it is said, of Minister Corea, who was his guardian.

DYNAMITER CONFESSES.

New York Iron Worker Implicates Unions and Walking Delegates.

New York, March 27.—Charles L. Moran, a member of the Bridgemen's and Housepainters' unions, who was arrested several weeks ago with two other iron workers, charged with attempting to dynamite the Bliss building being erected in East Twenty-third street by Post & McCord, made a complete confession to Assistant District Attorney Train.

Mr. Train says he implicated several walking delegates and the New York and New Jersey branches of the union, declaring that they furnished the money to have not only the Bliss building, but other buildings, destroyed and the work of construction halted. The district attorney's office has refused to divulge the names of the walking delegates involved.

TO MEET APRIL 4.

Republican Congressional Committee to Be Selected Soon.

Washington, March 24.—A joint caucus of the republican members of the senate and house, called today, will be held in the hall of the house April 4 for the purpose of selecting a congressional committee to serve during the campaign of 1906. OPEN PUBLICITY THE BEST GUARANTY OF MERIT.

When the maker of a medicine, sold through druggists for family use, takes his patients fully into his confidence, frankly and fearlessly publishing broadcast as well as on its bottle wrappers, a full list of all its ingredients in plain English, this action on his part is the best possible evidence that he is not afraid to have the scientific light of investigation turned full upon his formula and that it will bear the fullest scrutiny and the most thorough investigation.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for the cure of the weaknesses, periodical pains and functional derangements of the organs distinctly feminine, is the only medicine put up for sale through druggists for woman's special use, the maker of which is not afraid to take his patients into his full confidence by such open and honest publicity.

A glance at the published ingredients on each bottle wrapper, will show that it is made wholly from native, American, medicinal roots, that it contains no poisonous or habit-forming drugs, no narcotics and no alcohol—pure, triple-refined glycerine, of proper strength being used instead of the commonly employed alcohol, both for extracting and preserving the active medicinal properties found in the roots. Now, glycerine is perfectly harmless, and serves a valuable purpose by possessing intrinsic value all its own, and besides it enhances the curative effect of the other ingredients entering into its "Favorite Prescription."

Some of the ablest medical writers and teachers endorse these views and praise all the several ingredients of which "Favorite Prescription" is composed—recommending them for the cure of the very same diseases for which this world-famed medicine is advised. No other medicine for women has any such professional endorsement—worth more than any number of ordinary testimonials. If interested, send name and address to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for his little book of extracts from the works of eminent medical writers and teachers, endorsing the several ingredients and telling just what Dr. Pierce's medicines are made of. It's free for the asking.
